[illegible] a while (might even say [illegible] a while) for that Chamber [illegible] committe to get at [illegible] signs at the north and [illegible] outskirts of town; but the [illegible] DID go up recently, and [illegible] swears that the north [illegible] be up before the end of [illegible]. Close to three feet of [illegible] the ground makes post[illegible] quite an undertaking.

[illegible] our honest opinion that [illegible] signs are the best [illegible]—and the "best"—with [illegible] Belmond has ever solic[illegible]ention of wayfarers to [illegible] that they're entering [illegible] city.

[illegible] with so many of life's little [illegible], the explanation was [illegible]. Mrs. Albers had been given [illegible] tree by a nephew as a [illegible] gift and was taking it [illegible] with her. It got battered up [illegible] the accident (we noted the [illegible] to have been torn off) [illegible] nephew was picking it up [illegible] it with him for repairs. [illegible] questioned about it at Bel[illegible] Community hospital, Mrs. Al[illegible] perplexed that it proved [illegible] of so much curiosity.

LAMB RITES HELD

[illegible] services were held a[illegible] Saturday at Johnston [illegible] Home for Andrew L. [illegible], a long-time resident of [illegible]. He died on Dec. 22. The [illegible] conducted by Rev. WINTER'S BEEN DEFIED by Percy Construction company of Mason City as the contracting firm has proceeded despite the weather in its work on Belmond Community School district's new shop building and bus barn. As the picture above shows, the builders have made remarkable headway on the two stuctures since work was started in November. Percy has simply erected temporary weather protection around the changing work site and as a result hopes to have the job completed early in April. Progress on the Goodell grade school hasn't been nearly so rapid, but last week it was finally closed in and the roof was to be finished sometime this week. Gilbert Building and Manufacturing company of Iowa Falls is contractor on this job, which was started last summer but has been periodically slowed down by delays for awaited materials. March completion is now the goal.

Northwood Basket in Last Half Minute Ruins Broncos' Near Upset of North Iowa Conference Leaders, 45-44

In as thrilling a game as has been played in the BHS gymnasium in several seasons, Belmond's Broncos failed Tuesday night by a hair in a brave attempt to send Northwood tumbling to its first North Iowa conference defeat of the year. Ahead 44-43 with only 45 seconds of time remaining, the Purple and White saw the Vikings come back with the deciding basket about 15 seconds later to take the decision, 45-44.

Belmond dominated throughout the first half as it hog-tied the Northwood offense, holding the Vikings to only three baskets up to the intermission and boasting a 19-12 halftime advantage. The tide began to turn late in the second stanza, though, when Jerry Forde — Northwood's starting center — acquired his fourth foul and Coach Lyle Bestul substituted Bruce Lee.

Lee Generates Rally

Tallest man on the Viking squad, Lee sparked a Northwood rally that saw Belmond overhauled in the first four minutes of the third quarter and the count tied at 23-all. However, at no time did the winners hold more that a two-point advantage in the stretch drive, whereas the Broncos spurted ahead 39-35 fairly late in the final period. With two minutes to go and the score even at 41-41, Jerry Chandler collected his fifth foul in a drive toward the basket but DuWayne Carnes missed the ensuing freethrow.

Dale Caquelin put Belmond ahead by hitting the first of a pair of charity shots, but Lee retaliated with a fielder to make it 43-42, Northwood. Caquelin then collected the Broncs' final tally, only to have Dick Halland come back with the clincher as about half minute remained.

Froshmores Also Edged

Lee led the scoring with 20 points while Chandler, Caquelin and Larry Schimp shared Belmond honors with 12 apiece.

It was an all-around unhappy night for Belmond rooters as the BHS froshmores lost in overtime to the Junior Vikings, 40-38. Belmond had trailed at the quarter stages 4-8, 15-22 and 28-34 but rallied to make it 36-all at the end of the regular playing time. Tom McNulty was the losers' big gun with 15 points, followed by Bill Kaufman and Jon Mehus with eight each.

Broncs Now Idle Until Jan. 13th

Following Tuesday night's game with Northwood, the Bronco basketeers faced a 10-day layoff before their schedule brings them into action again on Friday night of next week against Lake Mills on the Bulldog court. Reason for the lengthy "vacation" was postponement of the return game here with Britt from its customary date — the second Tuesday after the Christmas holiday — to Feb. 10.

It was decided by the Belmond and Britt school authorities to set back the Bronco-Eagle engagement to fill a void that would otherwise exist in the two schools' cage cards between the regular season's end and the start of tournament play. This year's boys sectional tourneys don't get underway until two weeks later than customary, because of the new tournament set-up.

It will be recalled that state champions in both A and B Classes will be determined this year. As a result, no sub-state meets will be required. For this reason, sectional tournament action won't get started until Feb. 20 whereas it was launched the week of Feb. 7 last year. When the Broncos schedule was drafted, the Britt contest and the tilt wih Holy Family of Mason City — here, on Feb. 14 — were carded for the pre-tourney period.

A full round of NIC games will be played tomorrow night. The spotlight attraction will be the Northwood-Lake Mills fracas at Lake Mills, which will go a long way towards deciding the 1956 championship. The Vikings nicked the Bulldogs 47-45 in their first meeting, but will have to show a greater margin of superiority to take the Lake Mills gang on their own court.

Forest City will be playing at Garner tomorrow, and Buffalo Center at Britt. On Tuesday night it will be Lake Mills at Forest City and Garner at Northwood.

Phil Schmitz Now Student at ISTC

Phil Schmitz, BHS football star of a couple of season's back, was in Belmond last week renewing acquaintances with old friends. He enrolled at Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, at the start of the winter quarter and has his eye on a career as a professional musician.

It will be recalled that he was an exceptionally fine French horn player. If he can't line up a connection with a symphony orchestra or concert band upon completing his schooling, he plans to teach music. He is occupying second chair in the Waterloo symphony's French horn section this season.

Andrew Loats Home Decoration Wins 1st Prize in C-of-C Annual Contest

By almost unanimous decision of the four judges, first prize in the second annual Christmas decoration contest of the Belmond Chamber of Commerce was awarded to the Nativity Scene that throughout the Yuletide drew attention to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Loats. Three of the judges put this entry in first place and the fourth rated it in a tie for second.

Prize for first place was $25 in cash and a handsome table lamp donated by Iowa Electric Light and Power company through its local office. Judges of the contest were Mrs. S. F. Leinbach, Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser, Don Faris and Pat Gallagher.

Rated high by all the judges and awarded second prize of $20 was the animated Santa Claus that disappeared into and emerged from a mock chimney at the Mrs. John Leebrick home. It was the handiwork of Mrs. Leebrick's son-in-law, Jim Peterson.

Not quite such [illegible] agreement prevailed in [illegible] third and fourth place winners, but a comparison of placings gave third prize of $15 to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Benson by a slight margin. A Creche that decorated the home of Mrs. Mary Polmateer won her the fourth award of $10.

Other entries that were given places by one or more of the judges were those of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Eccles, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wirtz.

Praise was also expressed for the decorations at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Klemme, Mr. and Mrs. Bill [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Clark McNeal (set up by their 11 year-old son, David), Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schaal, Mr. and Mrs. Clair [illegible] and Mr. and Mrs. Don Nolan, along with several others.

It was felt that the severely cold weather before Christmas reduced the number of special home decorations this year, but the judges regarded that there were some very excellent entries, nevertheless.

GILLIGAN, BEATTY LEASE SANDRY RECREATION PARLOR

J. M. Beatty of Des Moines and Leo Gilligan have leased Sandry's Recreation parlor from Francis Sandry and took over proprietorship of the business on Monday of this week. Mr. Sandry did not make known his future plans.

Don Thompson, who has been operating Uncle Don's Tavern, will manage the "west end" pool hall. Uncle Don's will continue in business under the management of Dave Robertson.

Now You May Fish Anyway You Wish At Morse—Almost

Morse Lake has been added by the state conservation commission to those Iowa water areas that have been opened to promiscuous fishing until March 1. This means that fish in that popular, Wright county lake may be taken by any means except dynamite, poison, electrical shocking or stupefying substances.

It is reported by the game commission that in spite of extensive fish rescue work by state fisheries crews, many fish are dying in shallow lakes and streams. Heavy ice cover, augmented by extremely low water conditions, has created a critical situation in some areas, commission spokesmen say.

Such winter fish kills are usually caused when ice and snow cover blocks sunlight from entering the water, and aquatic plants are unable to synthesize oxygen. Oxygen used by decaying organic materials is not replaced, and many fish suffocate under the ice.

Promiscuous fishing has been opened in such critical waters as Morse lake in an effort to utilize doomed fish and permit anglers to take fish that would otherwise be wasted. The fish may not be taken for commercial purposes.

Some Children Being Sadly Deprived By ADC Ceiling, Welfare Board Says

Members of the Iowa state board of social welfare are concerned over the fact that the existing $175 ceiling on Aid to Dependent Children has practically eliminated the customary "miscellaneous and recreation" allowance from family groups of four or more. In Wright county, there are 16 ADC cases that involve 64 recipients — which means that the "average" case in this county is among those possibly excluded from getting this allowance due to the legal ceiling.

Mrs. Mary Huncke of Des Moines, vice chairman of the social welfare board, says that all ADC, Old Age Assistance and Aid to Blind recipients are theoretically provided an allowance for miscellaneous and recreation expenses in the budget estimate of the board.

Allowance Schedule Told

She explains, "The amount allowed for this item is a state-set standard that is used in all counties. It must cover all the incidental expenses of daily living such as letter writing supplies, postage, newspapers, magazines, entertainment, Christmas and birthday gifts, contributions, children's allowances, radio upkeep, books, church and Sunday school collections, school events, transportation, garden seeds, telephone — and the yard work and snow shoveling which many of our aged must hire done."

Schedule of monthly allowances runs as follows: OAA recipients $4.00, Blind $5.25, parents under ADC (men or women) $2.50, children — 16-20 years $2.75, 13-15 years $2.25, 10-12 years $2.00, 4-9 years $1.75, under four years $1.25.

Ceiling Deprives Many

In regard to the ineligibility of many ADC recipients for the prescribed allowance on account of the monthly ceiling of $175 per case, Mrs. Hunke says, "We recognize the need, but the ceiling makes it impossible for us to meet it. This is of great concern to us because we know that it means that many of our children are not taking part in normal school, church and community activities [illegible] important to their preparation for good citizenship. We just hope that teachers and other civic leaders will understand what this deprivation means to children and try to make it up to them someway."

In November, in Wright county, there were 206 Old Age Assistance recipients receiving an average of $57.24 each, or a total of $11,791. In all of Iowa, individuals under OAA numbered 40,521 and they received $2,353,414, at an average of $58.08 each.

Last month, six blind persons in this county received an average of $53.50, or a total of $321. Blind Aid went to 1,448 persons, the state over, for a total of $106,981 and an average of $73.88 each.

As mentioned, Wright county's November ADC case load numbered 16, involving 64 individual recipients. Total aid came to $1,907.50 for $119.22 per case and an average of $29.80 per recipient. In the state as a whole, ADC went to 6,484 families including 23,468 individuals. Aid totaled $710,153 for an average of $109.52 per family and $30.26 per person.

Fertilizer Parley At Clarion Jan. 12

Two fo Iowa's top agronomists will present the latest research on commercial fertilizer experiments to Wright county farmers at a countywide meeting to be held Thursday evening of next week at the IOOF hall in Clarion starting at 8:00 o'clock.

John Pesek of the Iowa experiment station, who's in charge of field research on commercial fertilizer, will give the results of experiments conducted this past year, some of which were in Wright county.

E. R. Duncan, extension agronomist, will discuss other crop research and how it might apply to Wright county agriculture.

Oscar Hanson, ASC office manager, will explain the procedures farmers must follow to get ACP payments for commercial fertilizer employed in certain conservation practices.

Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director, will explain the procedure for getting complete soil tests at Iowa State college soil testing laboratory and also explain the field research that will be conducted in Wright county this year.

The countywide meeting on commercial fertilizer experiments is one of the most popular educational meetings held annually by the county extension service. Anyone who is interested is invited to attend the meeting.

Fertilizer dealers of the Clarion vicinity will serve free coffee and doughnuts following the meeting. The arrangements for the refreshments for this year are in the charge of McNeal Grain company, with all fertilizer dealers cooperating.

$225 Was Ladled Out

Two hundred and twenty-five Cash Gift Day dollars were claimed Tuesday, providing welcome balm for aching budgets. Raymond Nelson and Mrs. Harry Boelman of Klemme (Nos. 1,403 and 4,274) each took home $100 and $25 went to Mrs. Albert Smit (No. 1,630). That left SEVEN numbers that WOULD have been worth another $475, whose holders were not present to claim their prizes. These would have been worth $100 each: 2,956, 2,447, 3,482 and 3,925; and "misses" of $25 apiece were represented by: 1,079, 2,191 and 2,863. This coming Tuesday will find $600 bottled up for delivery — five $100's at 3:00 p. m. and four $25's at 2:00 o'clock. . . . Let's see — that FIRST income tax reckoning comes Jan. 15th does it not? 'Nuff said?

BEAVERS IN SHIP'S CREW

Word has been received by Mrs. Evelyn Beavers that her son, Dwight Beavers, has been assigned to the engineering division of the LCI USS North Hampton. Home port of the ship is Norfolk, Va. He was assigned to the North Hampton's crew for a period of 18 months.

Mrs. Homervold Among 6 Getting "Clover Awards"

"Awards of the Clover" were recently presented to six women who have served as leaders of Wright county 4-H clubs. Presentation of these awards is part of a national recognition program for 4-H leaders. Mrs. Otis Harris, leader of the Grant Go-Getters for 10 years, was presented with a gold award pin.

Silver award pin for five years of 4-H club work was presented to Mrs. Russell Delano, Blaine Blue Ribbon Winners; Mrs. Art Homervold, Belmond Busy Bees' leader and county music chairman; Mrs. James Groom, Iowa U-Go-I-Go and county committee woman; Mr. Mrs. Merle Poolman, county committee woman and Lincoln Lassies League; and Mrs. Don Lyons, Iowa U-Go-I-Go.

Nine 4-H girls were presented with medals for state awards. They were: Mary Alice Studebaker, Belmond Busy Bees, for leadership; Beth Robie, Dayton Dandies, outstanding record book; Karen Azeltine, Iowa U-Go-I-Go, health record; Jane Baker, Norway Jolly Joy Makers, clothing; Sharon Hilpipre, Lincoln Lassies League, clothing.

Marjorie Johnson, Belmond Busy Bees, clothing; Janis Kalkwarf, Belmond Busy Bees, clothing; and Glenda Wilson, Woolstock Willing Workers, state achievement; Kay Whitten, Iowa U-Go-I-Go, clothing record book.

The following clubs completed the requirements for a standard club and were presented with charters: Norway Jolly Joy Makers, Blaine Blue Ribbon Winners, Dayton Dandies and Grant Go-Getters.

Ted Behrends Only Newcomer as City Council Organizes for Another Term

Belmond's city council met Monday evening at the city hall to organize for its new term in office, with only one new name appearing among those of the elected officials. Ted Behrends joined the city administration as councilman from Ward 3, succeeding Don Nolan. All appointive officials and employees remain the same and a resolution was adopted fixing salaries of these officials and employees at the same figures as they have been.

Business included reappointment of R. A. Henderson as city attorney and Carrie L. Courtney as city clerk for another two years each, as well as the following reappointments: Glen Eccles, water and sewer superintendent; C. N. Hildebrand, installation superintendent; Al Stadtlander, street superintendent; Dr. G. J. Hruska, health physician; Dr. H. J. Classick, mayor pro tempore; A. C. Lieuwen, cemetery superintendent.

Albert Luick, assistant to water and sewer superintendent; August Trager, assistant to sewer superintendent and street commissioner; Art Awe, day marshal; G. L. Paxton, night marshal; Harold Erdman, temporary relief marshal.

Mayor Henry Hokel appointed the following council committees: finance and purchasing — Ted Behrends, chairman, Carl Robbins, L. C. Long; streets and alleys — H. J. Classick, chairman, Ted Behrends, A. W. Johnson; sewers — L. C. Long, chairman, H. J. Classick, A. W. Johnson; water, light and fire — A. W. Johnson, chairman, Carl Robbins, L. C. Long; buildings and grounds — Carl Robbins, chairman, Ted Behrends, H. J. Classick.

DR. STRAUSS TO SPEAK

Dr. John L. Strauss, expert on liquid fertilizers who is affiliated with the Ris-Van Fertilizer company, will be speaker at the adult education class in agriculture next Monday night at 8:00 o'clock at the BHS band room. He will talk about anhydrous ammonia and the uses of liquid fertilizers, in general. The public is invited.

Keeler to Close Out Drug Store

Jim Keeler announced this week that he intends to close the business he has operated here for the past seven months as Belmond Drug and he is currently holding a sale to reduce his stock of merchandise as much as possible. He and Mrs. Keeler purchased the drug store from J. A. Adams late in May of last year.

It is Mr. Keeler's plan to go into partnership with a former college classmate in running a suburban drug store in a new shopping center in westside Des Moines. He hopes to have his local business matters cleaned up by the end of the current month. His wife and two children planned to move to Des Moines before the end of this week.

With the closing of the Belmond Drug, it will mean the first time in nearly 40 years that the business location has not been occupied by a pharmacy. Mr. Adams moved to that site after an earlier store, standing where the First State bank is now situated, was destroyed by fire. It also breaks a chain of continuity that made Belmond Drug and its predecessors one of the community's oldest businesses. The pharmacy had been a going enterprise when Curran Brothers — from whom Mr. Adams purchased it — acquired it from D. D. Harr. The latter established the business in the 1880's.

Training School For 4-H Officers Attended by 140

One hundred and forty boys and girls' club officers, leaders and committee members attended the county officers' training school at Clarion on Tuesday afternoon of last week. All of the 13 girls' clubs were represented and 12 of 14 boys' clubs.

Two girls' clubs had 100 per cent of their officers present. These were the Blaine Blue Ribbon Winners with their leaders, Mrs. Russell DeLano and Mrs. Kenneth Brinkman; and Norway Jolly Joy Makers, with their leaders, Mrs. Clarence Johnson and Mrs. Abner Toftey.

Besides the club officers and county officers there were 15 4-H girls' leaders, six 4-H boys' leaders, seven girls' county committee members and three boys' county committee members present.

All officers were divided into groups according to their offices, with county officers in charge. Beth Robie, county girls' president, Jim Larick, county boys' president, John Hagie, past boys' president, met with club presidents. Arlene Boyington, county girls' vice president, Carol Kastler, past county boys' vice president, and Leslie Mechem, county boys' vice president, met with the vice presidents.

Melvene Weld, county girls' secretary, Mary Alice Studebaker, county girls' treasurer, Dean Duitscher, county boys' secretary, and Doug Bosworth, county boys' treasurer, met with the secretary and treasurers group. Karen Azeltine, county girls' historian, and Kenneth Loux, county boys' historian, met with the reporters and historians.

Marie Bishop, assistant state 4-H leader, took charge of teaching recreation to the recreation chairmen and to the whole group.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Clair McOllough, county girls' 4-H music chairman, with Jane Baker of the Norway Jolly Joy Makers was accompanist.

BELMOND POLICE CITED

At the latest meeting of the Wright County Peace Officers association, Belmond's police department was awarded a Certificate of Achievement for participating in the officer group's annual safety-check program. The certificate, presented to Chief Art Awe, was given jointly by Look magazine, the Green Cross for Safety organization and Inter-Industry Committee for Highway Safety.

S. Andrews Given Vice Presidency By General Mills

Sewall D. Andrews, Jr., who in recent years has visited Belmond periodically as general manager of General Mills' Chemical Division and is now general manager of the Soybean Division last week was made a vice president of the company.

President C. H. Bell announced the promotion of the personable Mr. Andrews, who has often championed the interests of the local soybean processing plant when administrative decisions affecting it were under consideration. Since the Soybean Division was set up separate from the Chemical Division a few months ago, Mr. Andrews has been even more closely associated with the Belmond operation.

A native of Minneapolis, the new vice president joined GMI in 1930 as a young man of 22. By 1937 he had attained the position of director of purchases. He was a Lieutenant Colonel in the U. S. Army from 1943 until 1945, earning five battle stars, the Bronze Star and Legion of Merit.

He became affiliated with the Chemical Division upon his return to GMI, became director of sales in 1946 and general manager in 1953. When the Belmond and Rossford, O., plants were divorced from the Kankankee, Ill., chemical plant in October of this year to form the Soybean Division, Mr. Andrews became manager of the newly formed unit.

Belmond Busy Bee Heads 4-H Chorus

Twelve 4-H clubs in Wright county have selected their members of the county 4-H chorus, which is under the direction of Mrs. Clair McOllough, county music chairman. First practice was held last Friday afternoon at the Clarion Legion hall, with 36 members present.

Election of chorus officers was held at this initial practice session, with Mary Alice Studebaker of the Belmond Busy Bees being named as president and Kathy Hagie, Dayton Dandies, secretary.

Chorus members chosen from the general Belmond vicinity were: Belmond Busy Bees — Miss Studebaker, Sara Simerson, Nancy Halfwassen and Myrna Strait; Iowa U-Go-I-Go — Mavis Sanders, Janet Andrews, Bonnie Frohling and Rosemary Trager.

Norway Jolly Joy Makers — Jane Baker, Ardith Christians, Marcia Russell and Jean Rietema; Grant Go-Getters — Jeanine Hardy, Ellen Smith, Carol Kennedy and Rachel Kennedy.

Karen Azeltine, Iowa U-Go-I-Go, and Arlene Boyington, Blaine Blue Ribbon Winners, members of the state 4-H chorus, will also practice with the county chorus.

It is the responsibility of the chorus members to take back to their respective clubs songs practiced at the chorus meetings.

BOELMANS ENTERTAIN

Guests at a Christmas evening gathering at the Will J. Boelman home were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Baker and family, Corwith; Mr. and Mrs. George Kuhlers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Boelman, Gary Dunton and Cleon Prestholt, Meservey; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Boelman and family, Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Boelman, Savanna, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bohning and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Abbas and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Boelman and son, all of Belmond.

FIRST PATIENT to make use of the new Rowen Room, recently added to Belmond Community hospital, was the robust-looking young fellow in an oxygen tent who is pictured above. Russell "Rusty" Peters, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peters of Kanawha, was admitted last Friday suffering from acute laryngeo-tracheo bronchitis. He was still in the hospital Wednesday, but well on his way to recovery. The hospital was near overflowing when "Rusty" arrived. He brought the patient load up to 25. Wednesday the total still stood at 25.

Fall Causes Man, 27, Broken Back

Ben Burma, a 27-year-old employee of the Olaf Elevator, about 2:00 p. m. Tuesday suffered a broken back in a 20-foot fall from a government grain bin. He had been examining the bin's contents with a probe when he lost his footing and fell.

Brought by ambulance to Belmond Community hospital, the young man was discovered to have suffered an extremely bad spinal fracture that left him paralyzed from the waist down. It was feared by the examining physicians that the spinal cord may have been severed, and he was rushed to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., to undergo neuro-surgery. He was accompanied on the trip by Dr. Arlo Pitcher.

Insofar as the Belmond physicians could determine, there was no evidence that Mr. Burma had fallen against anything as he plunged to the ground, but had merely lit in such a manner that his spine was snapped.

The young man is married and the father of two young children.

Star and Masons To Install Jointly

Joint public installation of Masonic and Eastern Star officers elected for the new year will be held at the Masonic hall next Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. As previously announced, Ervin Halverson of Dows will take office as Worshipful Master of the Masons, succeeding Walt Hotvet.

Heading the list of Star officers to be installed are Mrs. H. T. Williams as Worthy Matron and Lloyd Cunningham as Worthy Patron, replacing Mrs. Walt Hotvet and Helmer Svendsen, the latter of Kanawha.

Others who will be taking Eastern Star offices are: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. "Dick" Whitten of Rowan, as association patron and matron, respectively; Mrs. Clarence Hildebrand, secretary; Rhea Campbell, treasurer; Mrs. Cleo Wilson, conductress; Mrs. Helmer Svendsen, associate conductress.

Conducting the Star installation will be: Mrs. Hotvet, installing officer; Mrs. Hildebrand, marshal; and Mrs. C. C. Benson, organist. For the Masons, George Richards of Alexander will be installing officer and Mr. Hotvet, marshal.

Legion Auxiliary Making Available 14 Scholarships

Belmond High school seniors are urged by Mrs. John Christenson, president of Eimbrink Unit No. 35 of the American Legion Auxiliary, to make application for college scholarships that are being made available by the state department of the Auxiliary.

Any female kin of a veteran of World War I or II or the Korean conflict, and a resident of Iowa, may apply for the Mary Virginia MacRae Memorial Nurses Scholarship, which amounts to $400.

Twelve, $200 Iowa American Legion Auxiliary Scholarships for any vocational education in a standardized school in Iowa are also available. Any American Legion or Auxiliary member—or the son or daughter of a World War I or II or Korean Veteran — residing in Iowa may apply.

Similar to the above scholarship is one additional grant this year, known as the Grace Gilbert King Memorial Scholarship. Applications for any of these grants may be made any time up to July 15. In addition the National Auxiliary offers a $600 National President's Scholarship, open to the orphan of a veteran.

More complete information regarding any of the scholarships may be obtained from Mrs. William Sheriff, Sr., unit education chairman.

LABOR RETURN "NIL" FOR SOME FARMERS, ECONOMIST FINDS OUT

Some Iowa farmers aren't making as much for their labor as they might receive if they hired out to do the same work for someone else.

The reason may be that their farms are just too small and unproductive to produce much total income. Or maybe they don't have enough capital to get the best from their farms. In any case they face a growing problem of whether they should try to get a bigger farm, get a job in town, try to live on the farm and commute to a job in town—or just decide they like their farms so well they'll stay there even without much return.

Earl O. Heady, farm economist at Iowa State college, has been studying Iowa farm incomes for the year 1949 to see how much farmers are getting for their work. He points out that the productivity of your labor is important to you if you have to live on what you produce. He says you can get a fair idea of what your labor is worth by "paying"—on paper—a fair return to your other resources. "Pay" the interest on the value of your land and equipment. "Pay" the annual depreciation on your buildings and equipment. Add to these all the out-of-pocket expenses.

Subtract that total from the total gross income you get from all the farm produce you sell and you know what you and your family are getting for your work. Heady says many Iowans will find they are not receiving any pay for their work—are actually paying for the privilege of staying on the farm.

Losing $244 per Worker

Heady says he found that on Iowa farms averaging about 23 acres per worker and selling less than $1,200 worth of produce from the farm in a year, the farmer was losing an average of $244 per worker per year.

Farms averaging 121 acres per worker, from which the farmer sold $1,200 to $2,500 of produce, returned each worker an average of $117 for his year's effort.

It was not until the gross sales from the farm got up between $2,500 and $6,000 for the year that there began to be a return for labor on the farm. At that level there were about 144 acres per worker and the total investment per worker was more than $25,000. On those farms there was an average labor return of $720 a year per worker.

It took a gross sales of $10,000 to $25,000 of farm produce to bring an average labor return of more than $3,000 a year—equal to the city man making about $63 a week.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

What does it mean when you kill 13,700 people in traffic accidents as we have done in Iowa since 1930?

It means we've filled nearly 16 miles of graves if you allow each victim 6 feet and calculate in a straight line.

It means we've made one grave for every mile of our primary highway system with enough left over to get an impressive start on the secondary system.

It means we've set a death record that could completely wipe out the total population of any one of 83 of our county seat towns.

And it didn't actually take us 25 years to accomplish this slaughter. Probably it didn't take much more than 25 hours.

If you allot 10 seconds for the actual time it took for each victim to be killed or fatally injured, and allow for the multiple deaths, you will come up with something close to 25 hours total elapsed time for the deaths of the 13,700.

You could go on for pages drawing terrifying statistics from this death record, but it would never be more than a glimpse of what price we've paid for indifference and carelessness.

There are no adding machines that total up grief. There are no calculators that can tell us what the survivors have lost.

Farm Owners Not Always Covered By Social Security

Mere ownership of farm property does not mean that your net earnings from the property can be credited to your social security account, according to County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman. He says many Wright county farm people are asking about their coverage under social security. Wright county farm operators are to make social security reports along with their 1955 federal income tax reports.

Leo W. Smith, district manager of the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance at Des Moines, emphasizes that it is necessary that you actually engage in the operation of the farm if your income from that source is to count toward social security as income from self-employment.

Renting Doesn't Qualify

Smith reports you may do this alone or under a partnership or joint venture arrangement. You may operate the farm with or without hired help. If, as an owner, lessee or share-farmer you actually engage in the operation of the farm, you are a self-employed farmer for social security purposes, and your net earnings of $400 or more for any year after 1954 will be credited to your social security account.

On the other hand, if you own a farm but rent it out on a cash or share-crop rental arrangement, your income from that source cannot be counted as self-employment earnings for social security purposes. In such cases, the earnings the farm owner derives from the farm property are considered to be rentals from real estate. This is so, whether the rental is paid to him in cash or in a share of the crop.

Income from the rental of real estate of any kind is not "earnings from self-employment" for social security purposes—unless you are a real estate dealer. Of course, Smith says, you may rent part of your farm lands and actually operate other parts yourself. Your income from the part which you, yourself operate will count as earnings from self-employment.

Credit Up to $4,200

If you are a farm operator and also have self-employment earnings from a nonfarm enterprise covered by the law, the earnings from both enterprises up to a total of $4,200 in a year can be credited to your social security account.

Moreover, if, in addition to operating a farm, you also work part of the year in employment for wages, you will get social security credit from those earnings too. In such cases the wages will count first, and you will report and pay the social security self-employment tax on only enough of your farm earnings to bring the combined total for the year up to $4,200.

DOROTHY HOCRAFFER HAYDN JONES WED THURSDAY, DEC. 29

Miss Dorothy Kathleen Hocraffer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Hocraffer of Mason City, became the bride of Haydn E. Jones, son of Mrs. Grace Jones and the late John Jones, last Thursday morning at Holy Family Catholic church in Mason City, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Breen officiating.

The Rev. John T. Reed was organist and Harry Ross the soloist. Evergreen boughs and poinsettias formed a holiday setting for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace and nylon taffeta bridal gown with a finger-tip illusion veil, edged with French lace and fastened to a band of crystalized orange blossoms. She carried white roses on a white prayerbook with satin streamers tied with rosebuds, and a crystal rosary.

Monica Jones, as maid of honor, wore a gown of French rose lace and nylon tulle over rose taffeta with a shoulder-length veil attached to a Queen of Scots crown. She carried a colonial boquet of pink and white shattered carnations and a crystal rosary.

Charles Papousek of Chicago, Ill., was best man. Robert Lester of Manly and Robert Hocraffer of Clarion were ushers.

The bride's mother chose a royal blue, silk crepe gown with black accessories and the mother of the groom wore a navy blue dress with navy accessories. Both had corsages of pastel carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Oaks for the immediate families and close friends. Mrs. Robert Lester and Mrs. Robert Hocraffer were in charge of the guest book and the gift tables.

The bride is a graduate of Holy Family High school and Hamilton School of Commerce and has been employed as payroll clerk at the Standard Oil office, Mason City. The groom graduated from Belmond High school, served with the U. S. Army Engineers with a year and a half of duty in Germany and is employed by Rowat-Murray, Engineers.

After a short trip south, Mr. and Mrs. Jones are at home in Ames where he is working for his civil engineering degree at Iowa State college.

Schimp, Chandler In Tight Contest For Scoring Lead

As the Bronco cagers reached the holiday intermission in their 1955-56 season, the results of the Buffalo Center game turned what had been a pretty fair four-man scoring race into a two-man battle. Larry Schimp's 31-point splurge against the Bison sent him into the lead with 103 points for the first seven games. Jerry Chandler's 20 left him right on the heels of his guard companion with 100.

Inability of Dale Caquelin and Tom Lowenberg to find the range against Buffalo Center cut their per-game averages considerably. Caquelin still has slightly better than a 10-point average, on his total of 71, compared to the 14-plus sported by Schimp and Chandler; but Lowenberg's single point against the Bison left his total at 54, slightly under eight points per game.

Lake Mills Edge Biggest

Taking a look at the North Iowa conference proceedings in general, at the holiday break, one finds that Lake Mills has been showing the greatest superiority over its loop opposition, despite the fact that the Bulldogs trail Northwood in the standings. Lake Mills has averaged 66 points per game in its first five outings, while holding its foes to an average of 45 for a 21 point spread.

Northwood is the only other NIC team with a "plus" margin on the ledger. The Vikings have been hitting a 65-point scoring gait, an average of 12 more than their opposition. Actually, Belmond has an infinitesimal edge on its loop rivals, having scored 302 points to its foes' 301. But it adds up to a 60-60 standoff on offense and defense.

Indians' Defense Poorest

Garner has the next best scoring average, with 57-plus — but next to the worst defense, having yielded an average of 63 per start. Forest City's defense has been the leakiest of the lot, permitting 65 points per game or 10 more than the Indians have been able to produce themselves.

Britt's feisty crew has been averaging 55 points while holding its opponents to a shade less than 60. Buffalo Center has the third best defense in the loop, having held its opponents to an average of 56 points. On the other hand, the Bison have been the poorest point-producers with an average score of only 47 points.

Following is individual scoring summary for the Bronco squad members through their first seven games. Shown, in order, in the statistics are field goals, freethrows made, freethrows missed, personal fouls and total points:

Schimp	45	13	8	16	103
Chandler	42	16	15	25	100

Jacobsons Finding Madagascar Very Pleasant Place in Which to Live

(Following is the second installment of excerpts from a letter recently received from Rev. and Mrs. Arvild Jacobson regarding their voyage last fall to Madagascar from France and arrival at the Lutheran mission center at Ft. Dauphin.)

It took about 24 hours to sail [illegible] the Gulf of Aden and we hit some rough water as we entered the Indian Ocean. Amazingly enough, it didn't seem to have any bad effect on us this time. We crossed the equator Sept. 30 and had the usual initiation ceremony. Leila and I were both dunked in the swimming pool. Naomi thought it was awfully funny.

The next two ports were very beautiful and interesting. Mombasa in Kenya was the first one and Dar-es-Salaam the other. We went ashore both places and visited our Lutheran missionary briefly in Dar-es-Salaam.

Our next stop was Majunga, on the east coast of Madagascar. We were happy for our first look at the land where we were called to serve. The water was red as we approached shore. We could see why it was called the Red Island.

We sailed around the north end of the island, stopping at Noissi Be and Diago Suarez, and, finally, our port of debarkation, Tamatave. This is the largest seaport in Madagascar and we were a happy group of missionaries to finally reach our destination after 23 days at sea.

Madagascar "Beautiful"

This was a beautiful spot and we were convinced that Madagascar was everything we expected it to be. Since it was Saturday afternoon and we wouldn't be able to get our cars through customs until Monday, the women and children took a plane to Tananarive while the men waited five days to get the cars. They finally got them and started over a very rough road toward the capital city, driving from 6:00 in the morning until 9:00 at night.

Tananarive is a beautiful city and seemingly quite modern for this part of the world. The next day we were ready to start our three-day drive to Ft. Dauphin. We arranged to stay at the homes of missionaries each night. We are now settled in our new home in one of the mission houses.

New Way of Life

This is a new way of life, but we think we are adjusting to it quickly and like it very much. This a dry season so there is a shortage of water in Ft. Dauphin. All our water must be carried before 6:00 o'clock in the morning. We have some Bible students carry it for us. They carry it about half a mile, but we get all we need. The rainy season will soon begin, so we will have more water than we care for.

It was a thrilling experience for us to attend our first Malagasy Lutheran service here in Ft. Dauphin. It's a large congregation and completely self-supporting. The church is well filled each Sunday. We are experiencing a revival in several areas in our field, but at the same time face many problems.

(This letter was supplemented by one received later from Mrs. Jacobson, the former Leila Packard, from which some additional excerpts are herewith offered.)

During our year in Paris we were able to sandwich in many trips to other countries, including Germany. The highlight of the year came Jan. 22, when we returned from Germany with two of the sweetest little German orphans. Naomi and Dan are brother and sister and we were able to complete the final adoption after seven months and five trips into Germany..

The adoption center of the city of Frankfurt worked through our state and county welfare agencies of Iowa. Margaret Bailey was the agent contacted in our behalf. Needless to say, from that time on our household was nothing short of organized confusion.

Share Duplex Home

Naomi, then 18 months old, had a language barrier as she spoke and understood only German. Dan was suffering from malnutrition. After some good American Gerber's products and Carnation, he soon was a normal, healthy, six-month-old boy.

We arrived in Ft. Dauphin on Oct. 14. We are comfortably settled in a large duplex, which we share with another missionary family. Our house is situated on a hill overlooking the Indian ocean to the south and a mountain range to the north. We have two beautiful coconut palms in our front yard and papaya trees in the back.

The pineapple season is just starting. Yesterday I bought 12 large pineapples for 70 cents. The main course, of course, is rice; but we are able to get vegetables and many fruits.

(Space limitations will require that the balance of Mrs. Jacobson's letter be published in a final installment, which will appear in The Independent soon.)

THE OLD TIMER

"No family should have less than three children, so there will be two to support the genius!"

Selective Sevrice Deferment Only Temporary Status

"Classification is a continuing process," says Colonel Glenn R. Bowles, state director of Selective Service for Iowa. "Emphasis must be placed upon a registrant's duty to keep his local board informed on all changes such as change of school or course, change of address, change of employment, a change of occupation, birth or deaths in the registrant's family or any other change which might possibly affect his classification."

Local boards throughout Iowa are in the process of reviewing selective service registrants' files and are frequently finding it necessary to reclassify from a deferred classification into a class available for service because the registrant failed or neglected to keep his board informed. In the event registrants fail or neglect to report changes, in writing, as required by law, the local board has no alternative but to classify the registrant upon material contained in his file in the local board office.

No Classification Permanent

It must be emphasized that no classification is permanent, Colonel Bowles pointed out. If a registrant is placed in a deferred classification, actually such classification means only a temporary delay in the registrant's call to service and does not mean a permanent exemption. Registrants are, on occasion, found temporarily disqualified for induction because of physical, mental or moral reasons and upon re-examination these same registrants are found acceptable for service.

A registrant may be temporarily deferred because of his activity in school or in industry and a change in that activity makes him liable for service. A registrant may be temporarily deferred because his induction would result in extreme hardship and privation to members of his family and if that condition changes or is removed, such a registrant may be found to be available for service.

Keep Board Informed

From the time a young man registers with his local board until he reaches his maximum age of liability he is bound by law to keep his local board informed of any and all changes that might affect his classification.

Local boards are not bound by law to ferret out information for themselves; they must rely to a great extent on information supplied by the registrant.

Colonel Bowles says, "In no instance should a registrant assume that because he has been deferred once he will continue to be deferred. Deferments, for the most part, are given for a specific period of time, at the termination of which the registrant's classification is reopened and considered anew and unless the registrant's file contains current information there is no assurance that a temporary deferment will be renewed."

EXTENSION TRAINING SCHOOL

First Wright county home economics extension training school on "Salads" will be given on Tuesday of next week at the Legion hall in Clarion at 1:30 p. m. Miss Leslie Smith, food and nutrition specialist from Iowa State college, will give the lesson. Two local leaders from any homemakers' group in the country or city whose names are sent into the extension office before Jan. 10 may participate, if they wish, in this school. These leaders will, in turn, present this information to their own groups.

A THREE-MAN COUNTY BOARD ELECTED AT LARGE COULD BE WRIGHT SOLUTION

—o—

For more than five years now, The Independent has made the Wright county board of supervisors a regular target for criticism. We believe that our attentions have been at least partly responsible for achieving some improvements in the manner in which our county government is administered. We cannot but consider, though, that what limited gains have been made in the direction of greater efficiency and economy have been inspired by a wish to diminish criticism rather than a desire to make any basic improvements in the manner of administration. It's been a matter of slapping the mosquito rather than pouring oil on its breeding place.

In other words, we're convinced that the system of county administration that now exists is unlikely to produce any broad reforms in the foreseeable future. Wrong modes of operation have been so firmly established as "the way things are done" in Wright county that the only way that basic faults can possibly be overcome is to start afresh. That would mean wholly supplanting our system of administration with a new one that gives promise of eliminating some of the fundamental shortcomings that the present one possesses.

Representation on the board by districts has been one of the greatest causes of extravagance. It has led to the purchase of unnecessary road equipment as each supervisor vies with the others to see that his district gets its "share." It has led to the employment of a far larger than necessary labor force to work the roads. It has led to the district being put first, and the county as a whole second, in administrative considerations.

Perhaps even more unfortunate is the relationship that this system has created between the supervisor and his particular constituents. Illegal "favors" have been asked and granted as a matter of course under the district set-up. And when an elected official winks at the law in one connection, where is any clear-cut line of demarkation to be found beyond which he will scrupulously adhere to the spirit and the letter of the law?

Another shortcoming of the system of district representation lies in the impulse it seems to give each supervisor to assume authority and responsibility for road-work supervision that he's neither qualified or entitled by law to assume. Proper delegation of such supervision should make it unnecessary for a supervisor to spend any more personal time on road operations than required by occassional inspections to see that the results are satisfactory.

It is our firm belief that a three-man supervisory board, elected at-large, COULD correct many of the administrative faults that exist in the present system. It would not be subjected to the pressures that have contributed materially to making our couny administration the inexcusably extravagant and inefficient thing that it is today.

There is reason to believe that an awareness is growing among the citizens of Wright county that they're not getting their money's worth out of what they're investing in county government. If this awareness should inspire an effort to DO something about it, we earnestly recommend that the advantages of a three-man board be given serious study.

ANDREWS' PROMOTION GIVES BELMOND GOOD FRIEND AMONG GMI TOP CHIEFS

The many friends of Sewall D. Andrews, Jr., among local GMI personnel and others in the community who have had the privilege of making his acquaintance are all undoubtedly pleased to hear of his latest promotion by General Mills. Ever since Mr. Andrews became associated with GMI's Chemical Division in 1946, he has taken a sincere interest in the soybean processing plant here.

As general manager of the division since 1953, he has been in a position to "fight its battles" in the gigantic General Mills organization, when local needs arose, and we know he has done so ably. As a vice president of the company, his sound opinions will now carry even greater weight in decisions affecting the Belmond plant.

While the upper echelons of General Mills management seem to abound with men who have notably retained the "common touch" despite their personal successes, Mr. Andrews is an extraordinarily "regular fellow" for a man of such high executive position. He's just an all-around "good Joe," utterly devoid of pretensions and possessed of a knack for friendliness that leaves no questions of its sincerity.

We're happy that as top boss of "our" Soybean Division Mr. Andrews will now be in a position of even greater administrative influence than in the past. He's richly deserving of the added authority; and we're delighted to have such a good friend of the local plant — and of Belmond — ascend in the ranks.

CHICK CHATS

AFTER They Get Sick

When we kids were in grade school and measles were making the rounds, Maw made us take all kinds of precautions so her precious offspring wouldn't get 'em. We ate a lot of fruit, stayed away from "measly" kids and even gave up kissing the girls. Naturally, because we took all these precautions, we got the measles just like everybody else. There wasn't much for Maw and us to do but watch the measles come and go. Like hundreds of others, we lay in dark rooms and sweated and scratched the thing through.

You can take all kinds of precautions with your layers, too. But some flocks are just bound and determined to get sick. Once they do get sick, you just have to sweat it out with 'em.

Maw made us pretty comfortable after we were sick. As I remember it, we got pretty good food—stuff we liked. She served us in bed. She was practicing "supportive therapy" — nursing care, in plain language.

After the flock gets sick, that's about all you can do too. Of course, your serviceman can diagnose the disease. But he can't do any more than that — outside of recommending treatment for other conditions outside the disease.

After the flock gets sick, keep them eating as much as possible. Tonics, wet mash, souped-up pellets and milk products will often do the trick. Birds have to eat to repair the tissue injured by the disease. This takes food. So, stimulate the appetite. Give 'em higher quality feed than they need normally, too. Boost the protein level at least 2%.

Make it easy for the birds to eat and drink. Add feeders and waterers, cut the legs off the high, hard-to-reach feeders. Weaker birds should be put in a place by themselves so they don't have to compete for feed and water.

Keep the house comfortable. Do not crowd 'em. Keep the litter dry and well-stirred. Don't let the house get too cold or too hot.

Take care of any parasites—lice, mites, worms, coccidia. These bugs will hold up the recovery — and make it more expensive too.

Once a flock gets sick, you just have to nurse them back to health. Good nursing will bring 'em back faster. Just like Maw's efforts made measles shorter and more pleasant —if not downright fun.

Funeral Services For Hemmo Beek Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Hemmo Beek, 76, were held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Fulton Funeral Home at Belmond and 2:00 p.m. at the Reformed church at Klemme, with burial in the Klemme cemetery.

He was born in Germany in 1879 and came to the Goodell community when 13 year old. On Feb. 9, 1905, he was married to Johanna Weigmann at Aplington. Eleven children were born; Mary, at age four, and Henry, 23, preceding him in death.

The Beeks farmed in this vicinity for many years, later living on their acreage one mile east of Goodell. Five years ago they retired and purchased a property on main street in Goodell.

Survivors include his wife, and the following children: Carl of Ravilli, S. D. Bernard of Mason City. Mrs. John (Minnie) Trampel of Rockwell, Herman of Belmond, John of Clear Lake, George of Goodell, Mrs. Bill (Freda) Wessels of Kanawha, Mrs. John (Dena) Van Osten of Meservey, and Mrs. John (Katherine) Howell of Clarion.

Edith Sandberg and Mrs. Amos Hanson will be hostesses to the Robbins-Christenson Legion Auxiliary tonight at 8:00 o'clock in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Feistner visited Thursday in the parental Robert McNutt home en route from Madison, S. D., where they attended a Feistner family reunion on Wednesday. They live at Beverly Manors, Ill., where he is in charge of a church and she teaches 3rd grade.

Mrs. Anna O'Rourke of Belmond was a guest last week in the Mrs. Laton Avery home.

Mrs. Fred Albers, John and Johanna entertained in their home Monday Mr. and Mrs. Bob Churchouse and Joann, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Albers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. George Lieuwen, Michael Iorio and the Ed Albers family of Belmond, Mrs. Martha Diekhuis and Herbert of Garner and Alice Iorio of Mason City. The latter had spent a few days in the parental George Lieuwen home.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. L. Cline

Funeral services for Mrs. Lloyd Cline 53, were held on Monday at 1:00 p.m. in the Boughton Funeral Home at Britt and 2:00 p.m. in the Baptist church at Belmond — of which she was a member — with the Rev. A T. Rollene officiating. Burial was in Amsterdam cemetery. Goodell.

Mildred Bell was born Jan. 24, 1902, at Vail, daughter of the late David and Anna Hamilton Bell. She received her education at Vail and in 1940 was married to Lloyd Cline of Goodell at Denison. They made their home on the Cline farm west of Goodell.

Mrs. Cline was a diabetic patient and the past two years had spent much time in the hospitals. This fall Mr. and Mrs. Cline went to live at the Aslvig Nursing Home at Eagle Grove. Mrs. Cline passed away Dec. 29 in the hospital at Britt, where she had been a patient a week. Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Annabell Minnick of Blackduck, Minn., and Karen, 12, who is living at the Ed Beuttner home near Belmond; and a sister, Mrs. R. J. Stanek of Lanesboro.

A son, Kenneth, a sister and brother preceded her in death.

Pallbearers were Frank Francis of Britt, Arthur Zeigler, Harry Ruka, Herman Heginger, Merle Ruka and Ora Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lemke of Garner and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Selner of Milwaukee, Wis., visited Wednesday of last week in the home of the former's sister Mrs. W. F. Beier.

Saturday guests in the Sandberg home were Maj. and Mrs. Carl R. Sandberg, H. O. Sandberg of Clear Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hanson of Ames. Major Sandberg, who has enjoyed a two-week furlough, left Wednesday of this week for an army camp in Greenland.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Pettibone and Ann of Moravia were guests a few days last week in the Delwyn Brede home. Sunday evening the two families were dinner guests in the Henry Brede home.

Clyde Watkins and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Cedar Rapids, were guests Monday in the John Chapman home. The Watkins and Chapmans were old neighbors south of Belmond.

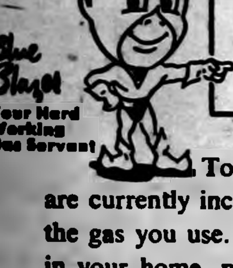
GAS Smells WORSE TO MAKE IT SAFER!



Blue Blazer
Your Hard Working Gas Servant

Gas Leaks Are Now Easier to Detect

To protect our gas customers, we are currently increasing the amount of odorant in the gas you use. Should you notice any gas odor in your home, please call us at once and one of our trained crews will inspect your home immediately. With this increase in odorant, even the most minute leak will show up.

We have done this because of a unique combination of the forces of nature. A period of extreme cold, and dry ground, may cause unusual ground movement with enough force to damage even our newest and most modern distribution pipes. It has placed great stress and strain on our entire system and this increased use of the odorant will make it easy to detect any break in your area. Since the top layer of ground is frozen, any gas released from a break travels underground, following natural or man-made faults in the earth. These faults often lead to the foundations and basements of homes, and the slightest crack in these walls will admit the gases.

We urge you to check your entire home and basement for any gas odors. If such an odor is present, call us immediately and we will have our experienced men on the spot at once to investigate the source of the odor.

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Classick received a letter last week from their daughter Carolyn (Mrs. Paul Watnem) telling of a snowstorm that was in progress where she and her husband are now living, Spenard, Alaska. Sergeant Watnem was spending the day at home, unable to get to his army base due to a 22.8-inch snowfall in 24 hours.

Mrs. Watnem wrote: "We shoveled a path around the house, about one foot wide, and the snow is up to our shins."

All cars had been ordered off the highways and downtown streets. The latest blizzard had brought the total snowfall for the season — up to Dec. 30 — to 63.7 inches. Even for Spenard, THAT was a new record. Carolyn added that the temperature was in the upper 30's during the day; but at the time of her writing had dropped somewhat — and it was snowing again!

—M-S—

An advertisement from an Anchorage newspaper that Mrs. Watnem enclosed in her letter indicated that "gold rush" prices apparently don't prevail in present-day Alaskan groceries. There was a special sale on pork — whole loins, 49c lb.; chops, 89c; roast, 39c; and whole smoked hams, 45c per lb. Other prices included: 25 lbs. sugar, $3.19; ice cream, ½ gal. 89c; pork n' beans, 4 No. 2½ cans $1; bacon, 45c lb.; Delicious apples, 19c lb.; Jell-o, 10 pkgs. 99c

We were inspired to obtain the story on "Cal" Thomas, that appears in this issue, when Ellis Elliott felt that Cal's retirement from staff of the hardware store called for recognition in the way of a "card of thanks." There is no question but what Cal was one of the friendliest and certainly among the best-liked clerks on Main street.

Waiting on the public wasn't just an assignment to Cal. It was a pleasure! He gave clerking all the dignity of a "profession." And his daily presence at Elliott's will be genuinely missed by a great many people.

As we interviewed Cal, it became very clear that the brightest days of his "retirement" will be those on which Ellis finds it necessary to call him back to help out. Like an old mill horse and his circle, Cal has a deeply ingrained habit of looking after his customer-friends — and he's going to miss those contacts of long standing.

SMALL WORLD DEPT. — Pvt. Lawrence Ziller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ziller, found himself in a veritable hotbed of kinfolk during the recent holidays, despite the fact that he is currently stationed at Hamburg, Germany. During his Christmas furlough he enjoyed a visit in the home of his grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Ziller, to say nothing of being a guest in the nearby homes of various uncles and aunts. There was one soldier boy who wasn't lonely!

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Larkin returned last Friday from a three-week trip to California to visit in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Rettig — with a pair of grandchildren, whom they get to see not nearly often enough, as feature attractions. "Larky" says he covered 2,066 miles going out and 2,078 coming back without a bit of car trouble except one flat. He adds that since the family buggy isn't one of the latest off the assembly line he figures he did a bit better than par for the course.

This time, that "first robin" of the season almost turned out to be the "last robin" of 1955. Mrs. Tom Harty called us last Thursday morning to inform us that she'd just spotted a pair of redbreasts out in her garden, pecking at seeds in the dead foilage. Just goes to show you that the pioneering spirit is not dead; certainly not in the hardy, robin clan.

Shock May Have Caused Bad Fall

It is reported that there is evidence that an electrical shock may have been responsible for the fall that Ben Burma took last week at Olaf Elevator that resulted in his suffering a broken back.

Burns had been discovered on his hands when he was examined at Belmond Community hospital, before he was taken by ambulance to Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. At the clinic, similar burns were found on his feet.

According to personnel at the elevator, a highline passes over the government bin on which Burma was standing to test grain with a 15-foot metal probe at the time he was injured.

It is conjectured that as he raised the tube aloft to insert it in the bin, the instrument may have come in contact with the electric wires.

Latest word from Rochester states that there is no change in the condition of the injured man. The spinal fracture left him paralyzed from the waist down.

St. John Elects Officers for '56

Officers of St. John Lutheran church were chosen for the new year at the church's annual meeting held last Sunday. Adolph Wenzel was elected as deacon and Harm Katuin, trustee. Others given offices were: Ed Ackerman, secretary; Clarence Steenhard, general treasurer; and Bert Kalkwarf, benevolence treasurer.

Sunday school officers had been elected a week earlier, as follows: [illegible] Schlamp, superintendent; Albert [illegible], assistant superintendent; Mrs. Harm Sandman, secretary; Mrs. George Hoppel treasurer.

These officers will be installed at the service this coming Sunday.

P.O. Misses 1st Class, Despite Record '55 Volume

Hopes that the Belmond post office would experience a large enough increase in business volume during 1955 to qualify as a First Class post office failed to materialize, although it showed the next-to-largest gain it has ever recorded in a year's time.

Acting Postmaster George Jenison reported this week that the office's business volume for last year came to $37,965.12, an increase of $4,601.10 over the preceding year. Insofar as is known, only the gain of $5,640.18 by which 1952 surpassed 1951 exceeds the one-year increase posted in 1955. However, the 1955 total still left the post office $2,034.88 short of $40,000, which gives an office First Class status.

Fourth Quarter "Off"

Sizable gains were registered in every 1955 quarter except the last one, Mr. Jenison says. A comparison of last year's quarterly figures with those of 1954 (the '55 volumes appearing first) show the following increases up to Oct. 1: 1st quarter — $8,553.77 and $6,312.24; 2nd $8,976.75 and $7,955.70; 3rd — $9,239.30 and $7,278.08. Mainly due to unanticipated drops in October and November business the volume in the last quarter fell from $11,818.06 to $11,195.30, a difference of $622.76.

Since the major effect of the various consolidations involving Tomahawk Hybrid Corn company was felt last year, it appears somewhat questionable now that the Belmond post office will attain First Class status in the immediate future. Growth in Tomahawk mailing volume has mainly accounted for the increase of almost $8,000 in postal revenue volume in the past two years.

$17,068.29 Rise Since '49

Don Bunnell of the Tomahawk office says that it does not seem probable that mailings of the hybrid corn company will be sufficiently higher during the current year to make up the $2,000-plus that in 1955 blocked the post office's rise in classification.

However, in recent years there has been a steady increase in postal volume from sources other than Tomahawk Hybrid; and if this continues, it should in due time elevate the post office to First Class. Following are the office volumes for the five years preceding 1954: 1949 — $20,896.83; 1950 — $21,572.41; 1951 — $21,910.18; 1952 — $27,550.36; 1953 — $30,087.69. Total increase since 1949 has been $17,068.29.

H&L to Display New IHC Trucks

Belmond will be visited by a caravan of new IHC trucks next Tuesday, under the auspicies of Helland and Long Implement company.

Proprietors of the firm, "Lunk" Helland and Lem Long, invite all their friends and customers to call at their store between the hours of 10:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. to see the new models in the International S-Line.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served during the six-hour period that the trucks will be on display.

Would Organize County NFO Unit At E. G. Meeting

Plans to form a Wright county unit of the National Farm Organization will be put in motion at a public meeting to be held this (Thursday) evening at 8:00 o'clock at Eagle Grove's Veterans Memorial hall. At an inadequately publicized and poorly attended meeting held recently in Clarion, Tom Whitty of Belmond township was named temporary NFO chairman.

According to Mr. Whitty, speaker of the evening will be a Williams farmer who took an active part in setting up an NFO unit in Hamilton county recently. Circulation of NFO petitions has already been started by interested farmers in Wright county, and they report keen, general interest in the organization. Petition signers are asked to donate $1.00 to help finance the organization's activities.

The National Farm Organization has its headquarters at Corning, where it came into being last fall. Its declared objective is "to get a fair share of the national income" for the farmer. It describes itself as a "non-partisan, non-political" organization.

Key resolutions which a petition-signer pledges to support include: a demand for 100 per cent parity; willingness to accept reasonable controls in event surpluses develop; cooperation with the USDA in a reasonable long-range program; disapproval of any type of violence.

Also, the NFO urges a floor of approximately $20 per cwt. on butcher hogs and $30 on good to choice cattle; adequate emergency farm credit; investigation by the government into "monopolistic market manipulations" by which it is claimed that meat packers are circumventing the operations of a free market; and declares opposition to expenditure of "vast sums of public money" to reclaim desert lands for agricultural purposes at this time.

Lonnevik St. Olaf Chairman for '56

Annual meeting of St. Olaf Lutheran church was held Monday evening, with the following officers being elected: Russell Lonnevik, chairman; Mrs. Gerhard Thompson, secretary; Chester Hill, treasurer; and Gerhard Thompson mission treasurer.

Board members were chosen as follows: deacons—Elling Ellingston, Nic A. Nelson, Henry Hill; trustees—Sherman Ekeland, Kermit Johnson, Robert Erickson; education—Carroll Bakken, Reuben Nelson and Thomas Mathre.

Mrs. Thomas Mathre was elected Sunday school superintendent. Delegate to the circuit and general conventions will be Clarence Johnson, with Ben Mehus and Otto Tegland as alternates. Delegate to the Waldorf college association is Mrs. Abner Toftey; Mrs. Kenneth Severson, alternate.

$255 in CGD Money "Went"

Considering the fact that Christmas IS past, and they HAVE spread round $850 within a period of just four weeks, members of the Cash Gift Day committee have decided the time has come for a bit of first-of-the-year retrenchment. Besides that, the CGD bank account is pretty well thinned out for the time being. Consequently, the boodle next Tuesday will amount to four $25 awards at 2:00 p. m. and a pair of $100's at 3:00. This Tuesday, S. S. Sarber (No. 2203) and Torkel Mehus (1,740) picked up $100 bundles of joy at 3:00 o'clock and H. H. Mennenga (1,364) picked off $25 at 2:00 p. m. Other $100 numbers were 2538, 3356 and 4342— and those that WOULD have been good for $25 apiece were 1119, 2877 and 3821.

Smith Takes Over As Head of Union

Luverne Smith, an employee of General Mills in the soybean processing plant's milling and extraction department, on Wednesday night of last week was installed as 1956 president of Local No. 25 of the American Federation of Grain Millers. Installation of new officers took place during a regular meeting of the union held at Veterans' Memorial hall. Mr. Smith succeeds Eldon Boyd as head of the Grain Millers local.

Others elected to office for the current year were: Walter Boyd, vice president; Harold Schobe, financial secretary; and Kenet Ginapp, recording secretary. Harold Wolfe was elected trustee for a three-year term.

Stewards who will represent the various departments are: Harm Meyers, milling and extraction; "Roach" Steenblock, refinery; Ed "Moke" Obrecht, maintenance; Don Smith, meal warehouse; Eldon Boyd, oil warehouse; Don Stoffer, elevator; Francis Ainger, safety and housekeeping.

Two stewards were elected to represent the Larro feed mill. They were Elias Klinefelter and Leroy Green.

Height Engaged To Give Recital

Mrs. L. W. Murray has announced that the Congregational church choir is sponsoring an appearance of Ralph Height, Jr., of Mason City in an organ concert here on Sunday, Jan. 22. It will be presented at the church at 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Height is organist for the St. James Lutheran church at Mason City and is regarded as one of the finest masters of the organ in north Iowa. His ability is familiar to a host of TV watchers due to his regular weekly KGLO-TV program, "Say it With Music."

"Cal" Thomas Retires Again, After 12-Year Stint as Hardware Store Clerk -- Or Does He?

Life completed a full turn of the wheel last week for T. C. "Cal" Thomas. Around the turn of the century, Cal was employed as a clerk in the general store operated by his grandfather — C. C. Farman — at Kanawha. Then, after his marriage on Oct. 19, 1904, to Helen Norby, he "retired" from the mercantile trade to become a farmer.

Farming provided his livelihood for 40 years. He gave up his occupation as a tiller of the soil in February of 1944. His "retirement" to a well-earned life of ease lasted approximately three weeks. Then C. J. Papousek asked if he would help him out at his hardware store a week or so.

"Quit" Last Tuesday

When Ellis Elliott bought the hardware and appliance store in September of that year, Cal was still employed as a "temporary" clerk. The fill-in job lasted through Tuesday of last week, nearly 12 years, when Cal resigned from the Elliott staff — with the understanding that Ellis is to call on him promptly any time he happens to be in need of an extra man behind the counter.

Cal's wife and two daughters, Verneda and Chloe, have a notion that he'll continue to find his place behind the counter at Elliott's as often as possible. But theoretically, at least, he's now "retired" for good.

Farmed "Home Place"

His clerking-to-farming-to-clerking career is not the only instance in which wheels have operated within wheels in his lifetime. Cal was born April 30, 1882, on the family farm three miles west and a half mile south of Goodell. After completing his country school education, he for a time attended Leander Clark college at Toledo — then went to work for Grandfather Farman.

Mr. Farman had a mercantile establishment at Goodell, as well as at Kanawha. Cal can remember hauling merchandise from Goodell to Kanawha by team and wagon in preparation for the opening of the latter store, before the railroad had reached Kanawha.

But about those wheels-within-wheels . . . Following his marriage, he farmed for three years on the place now owned by Garfield Halverson, Sr. — then went back with his bride to the old Thomas homestead, which he operated for the next 37 years. As you can see, Cal's beginnings and endings have gotten themselves pretty thoroughly tangled up.

Cal's family suspects that it's only the prospect that he may with fair frequency be called upon to help out at Elliott's that will make his retirement tolerable. He delighted in clerking, thoroughly enjoyed the regular contact it gave him with his host of friends, and thought that Ellis and the entire Elliott staff comprised the finest people a man could ever have the pleasure of working with.

Already he cocks an ear whenever the phone rings — hoping it's maybe Elliott's, needing help.

Purchase of Seals Hits Record High

Mrs. A. W. Johnson reports that final proceeds from the sale of 1955 Christmas Seals of the National Tuberculosis and Health association are certain to reach the highest total ever attained in Belmond. As campaign chairman, Mrs. Johnson by Monday of this week had had $631.05 remitted to her by seal purchasers. The highest previous sum of $628.55 was received from the sale of seals in 1954.

Since the Culture Study club assumed sponsorship of the Christmas Seal sale in 1949, an almost continual rise in annual proceeds has been witnessed. In prior years, the sale had been conducted through the Belmond school system and had to compete with a host of other Yuletide activities for time and attention.

In 1949, the Culture Study club reported seal purchases in the amount of $493.92. In the next two years, the total rose to $520.63 and then $581.03. Sales were off to $552.03 in 1952; but in 1953 exceeded $600 for the first time at $613.76.

Remittances were still straggling in during the past week, Mrs. Johnson says. Checks from any persons who have simply overlooked payment for their seals will still be welcomed, she adds.

Both the sale chairman and the members of the Culture Study club have asked that their thanks be expressed to the community for the generous manner in which the 1955 sale of seals was supported. Mrs. Johnson declared, "Belmond can take real pride in having broken all its previous records in purchases of seals this season."

Bank at Goodell Made Depository For Wright Funds

A. W. Christopher of Eagle Grove was elected chairman of the Wright county board of supervisors at its first meeting of the new year, held at the courthouse in Clarion on Tuesday of last week.

Mr. Christopher and Supervisor Roland Trotter of Goldfield were appointed to serve with Mrs. C. N. Hildebrand of Belmond on the county board of social welfare for the current year.

Routine business taken care of during the initial meeting included reappointment of the Belmond Independent, Wright County Monitor of Clarion and the Eagle Grove Eagle as official county newspapers.

Maximum amounts for which various banks can be used as depositories for county funds were increased by a total of $255,000, as the top figures for 10 banks were increased and Goodell State Savings bank was added to the list.

Maximum deposit amounts were raised as follows: for First State Bank of Clarion and Security Savings of Eagle Grove by $50,000 each, to $850,000; First State bank of Belmond by $25,000, to $275,000; Wright County State of Clarion, Eagle Grove State, Goldfield State and Farmers State of Dows by $25,000 each, to $150,000.

Bank of Galt by $10,000, to $50,000; Farmers State of Kanawha by $5,000, to $40,000; Renwick Savings by $5,000, to $30,000. Williams Savings and State Savings of Goodell were approved as depositories to the amount of $10,000 each.

Soil Commission Election Slated For February 14

Election of a Wright County Soil Conservation district commissioner has been scheduled for Feb. 14. Ballotting will be held in conjunction with the commissioners' annual dinner meeting at the Methodist church in Clarion on that date.

Boyd Patterson of Dows has been nominated by petition to have his name appear on the election ballot as a candidate. He has been serving as a commissioner by appointment, filling out the last year and a half of an unexpired term. Regular term of a commissioner is six years.

Any person residing in the county is eligible to participate in the election as either a candidate or a voter. If a person wishes to be a candidate, he can obtain the necessary nomination paper for 25 signatures from either the Soil Conservation office or the extension office in Clarion. These papers must be filled out and returned by Feb. 2.

RITES HELD AT HAMPTON FOR ELMER SCARROW, 74

Funeral services were held Sunday at Hampton for Elmer Scarrow, 74, father of Mrs. Harlan Faris of Alden. The latter and the Rev. Mr. Faris lived in Belmond about 14 years ago when he was pastor of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Scarrow had accompanied the Faris family to McAllen Tex., for a holiday visit in the homes of two other daughters of the Scarrows. He died very suddenly while there.

More than 600 persons paid their respects to Gladys Darrah when funeral services for the 70-year-old teacher were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist church at Hampton. She had won the respect and the hearts of many hundreds of children during a teaching career that covered a span of 44 years. Very Appropriately, the extraordinarily large crowd that attended the rites included some 130 youngsters who had been pupils of hers here at Belmond. Almost the entire Belmond faculty was present, also.

Miss Darrah came to Belmond in 1945 to teach in the junior high school and serve as its principal. She continued in that capacity until the fall of last year, when she was made principal of Ramsay Elementary school and put in charge of a special class in remedial reading.

"A Fine Teacher"

She had an unusual ability to keep the interest of children in her classes and far greater than normal skill as an instructor. It can be truly said that her presence in class room and the school halls will be sorely missed by the students and her fellow faculty members, alike. She was always patient, always kind and always understanding. Miss Darrah was a fine teacher.

Born at Alden on Aug. 16, 1885, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Darrah. After graduating from Iowa Falls High school, she prepared herself for a teaching career by attending Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls. During her years of teaching, she also took additional work at a school in Boston, Mass., and only last summer had taken a special course at Washington university, St. Louis, Mo., so she could better instruct the class in remedial reading.

27 Years at Hampton

She taught briefly in rural schools of Franklin county then taught for a time at Alden and Iowa Falls before joining the school faculty at Hampton. She spent 27 years teaching in that community before coming to Belmond.

Miss Darrah had been in failing health for a fairly extended period of time, suffering from an ailment that she knew was incurable. But except for relatively brief periods of time during the past two school years when she had to give up her classroom work temporarily, love of her job kept her at it until school was dismissed for Christmas vacation last Dec. 22. On Christmas Day, she entered the Mercy hospital at Des Moines and her condition steadily worsened until death came last Saturday, Jan. 7.

Father Still Living

Rev. D. M. Beggs, pastor of the Hampton Congregational church, and Rev. Ralph E. Baker, the Methodist minister, officiated over the funeral rites. Pallbearers included Supt. Don Faris, Principal Clair Hugh and Bob Churchouse. Burial was in the Hampton cemetery.

Classes were disbanded in the Belmond schools at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday in respect to Miss Darrah's memory, and bus transportation was offered to all students of hers — past and present — who wished to attend the funeral.

Miss Darrah leaves her father, a patient in Belmond Community hospital, who will be 99 years old on Feb. 11. Other survivors include three brothers — Merle, of Dallas, Tex.; R. J., of Silverton, Ore.; and Dr. Max Darrah, Des Moines.

KENNEDY'S TAKE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kennedy are spending from Monday until Friday of this week in Illinois dividing their time between a buying tour of the Furniture Mart at Chicago and visiting in the Roger Wagner home at Carpentersville. Dave's mother is returning with them after helping her daughter, Mrs. Wagner, and family get settled in their new home after a recent move from Pittsfield, Ill.

Dr. Neumann Dies Of Heart Attack

Dr. C. J. Neumann, 40, who for four years practiced chiropracty at Belmond, died very suddenly last Thursday evening at his home at Glenwood as a result of a heart attack. He had just returned from his office when stricken and reportedly had had no forewarning of the fatal attack.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Buffalo Center, the native home of Mrs. Neumann. Besides his wife, Dr. Neumann was survived by two daughters and his mother, Mrs. Anna Neumann, who had been making her home with her son.

The Neumanns had moved from Belmond to Glenwood last May. While they made their home here, Mrs. Neumann was a junior high school teacher in the local schools. Dr. Neumann was active in affairs of the Bethany Reformed church and also of the American Legion post, of which he served a term as commander.

A native of Cleveland, O., Dr. Neumann was a graduate of the Metropolitan College of Mechanotherapy at Cleveland and of the National College of Chiropractic, Chicago.

Rural Chest Will Hold Its Annual Meeting Tuesday

Annual meeting of the Wright County Rural Community Chest will be held Tuesday of next week at 1:30 p. m. at Hagie's conference room at Clarion. It is emphasized by Marc Ihm of Rowan, president, that all persons who contributed to the Chest are thereby members and their presence at the meeting is welcomed.

Officers and directors for the new year will be elected at this time. Besides Mr. Ihm, the present officers are: Jim Burt, Rowan, 1st vice president; Jack Rampleberg, Clarion, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Leo Woodley, Clarion, secretary; Dick Poundstone, Clarion, treasurer.

Township directors from the Belmond vicinity are: Belmond township, Mrs. Art Homervold; Pleasant, Mrs. Peter Kalkwarf; Iowa, Mrs. Tom Groom; Norway, Mrs. Clarence Johnson.

ON TRIP TO BAHAMAS

Mrs. Edith Hill and Mrs. Sema Helland left last Thursday for a two-week southern vacation. After going to Chicago by train, they took a plane to Miami, Fla., and planned to go from there to Nassau, Bahama Islands, via ship.

Wright Farmers Get Price Support ON 676,744 Bushels of 1955 Corn

A total of 676,744 bushels of corn produced in Wright county in 1955 was under price support by Dec. 15, it was reported this week by the county ASC committee. Of the total amount of '55 corn under support at that time, 662,694 bushels were under loans and 14,050 bushels were under purchase agreements.

At the corresponding time a year ago, 83,593 bushels of the 1954 crop were under price support loans and 3,900 bushels were covered by purchase agreements.

Producers have until May 31 to obtain price support loans and purchase agreements on '55 corn. However, only corn raised on farms in compliance with their corn allotments is eligible for price support.

The committee also reported that 113,939 bushels of 1955 oats and 152,777 bushels of new soybeans were under price support in this county by Dec. 15. By mid-December a year ago, the amounts of '54 crops of these commodities under support in Wright county came to 88,353 bushels of oats and 235,704 bushels of soybeans.

It should be kept in mind that less than a month remains for producers to obtain price support loans and purchase agreements on their '55 barley, flaxseed, oats and soybeans, the ASC committee emphasizes. Final date for approving loans and purchase agreements on these commodities is Jan. 31.

Loans and agreements on barley, flaxseed and oats will mature on April 31, and those on soybeans on May 31. Corn loans and purchase agreements, which may be obtained up to May 31, mature on July 31.

Price support rates in effect in Wright county on 1955 commodities are: barley, 95 cents per bushel; corn, $1.50; flaxseed, $2.94; oats, 59 cents; and soybeans, $2.03.

ANDERSON REASSIGNED

Pvt. George Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smock, was recently given a new Army assignment which took him to the Panama Canal Zone. He'd previously been based at Fort Belvoir, Va. He says he'd enjoy hearing from his friends and that his address is: Pvt. George A. Anderson RA16499923, 551st Engr. Co. (IAGS), Fort Clayton, Canal Zone.

1st Step: Control Building in East Part of Belmond

A committee from the civic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce will meet with the city council at its next session to present a suggestion that the city fathers give serious consideration to the adoption of a zoning ordinance and the establishment of a planning commission. Purpose of the proposed action would be to provide for the orderly growth of the city from the standpoints of residential, commercial and industrial development.

Months of study has been devoted to the matter of zoning by the Chamber committee, which is headed by Clair Hugh, high school principal. The other members are Don Bunnell and L. T. Trafford. After hearing a report by Mr. Hugh at a regular meeting Monday noon at Jones cafe, the civic bureau — of which Henry Stokke is chairman— urged prompt discussion of the problem with the council.

First Step Suggested

First objective of the C-of-C committee is to have the city designate the east part of Belmond as a restricted residence area. The district would include all property from the Rock Island tracks east to the farthest limits of the corporation and from the M. & St. L. tracks north to a line 300 feet beyond Seventh street NE.

Establishment of this area as a restricted residence area would: (1) limit construction or reconstruction in the area to homes, churches, schools and similar structures; (2) require a permit (no charge) for building in the area; (3) protect the community's most logical area for residential expansion from becoming a mixture of homes, commercial and service buildings.

Key to Orderly Growth

Ultimate hope of the Chamber's civic bureau is that a zoning law and planning commission be set up by the city. But Mr. Hugh says that a restricted residence ordinance is essential to assure orderly growth in key areas until a zoning and planning commission can complete the first phase of its job.

Things that a restrictive ordinance would NOT do, Mr. Hugh reported to the Chamber bureau, include the following: (1) it would not establish size, shape or minimum lot size, minimum cost or manner of placement of buildings on residential lots; (2) it would not provide for the long-term needs of the community.

Protection for Landowners

(3) It would not establish or locate future industrial or commercial building areas; (4) it would not protect any properties not included in the restrictive zones; (5) it would not take into account problems of traffic loads on streets, playground needs, or future community recreation projects.

On the other hand, Mr. Hugh's committee will point out to the council, a comprehensive zoning law — implemented by a planning commission — would provide a measure of protection for the property rights and investment of all landowners in the community. It would have the effect of increasing the value of both improved and unimproved properties.

Values Stabilized

Zoning, the committee has found, makes it easier to obtain mortgage loans on property as the investor can have greater assurance that the property will remain near its estimated value or increase in value, rather than diminish in value due to an unavoidable and possibly undesireable use of adjoining property.

Whereas in earlier days, it was to a large degree possible to protect property values by "gentleman's agreement" with the owners of adjacent tracts, the committee declares that buying and selling of property in Belmond has now reached a stage where this is no longer possible.

Besides protecting and possibly enhancing residential property values, the committee believes that an effective zoning ordinance will very possibly stimulate the industrial growth of the community. This would be achieved by designation of clearly defined areas for industrial development, where industries could be established without fear of encroachment by other types of building.

McGregor Rites Held Here Today

Final rites for Alexander P. "Alec" McGregor, 81, for many years a resident of the Belmond Community, were held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at Johnston Funeral Home. Rev. William Schorman officiated. Burial was in Belmond cemetery, accompanied by Masonic ceremonies. Mr. McGregor died Friday of last week at Loma Linda, Calif. He lived at nearby Yucaiba.

Before Mr. McGregor moved from Belmond between 25 and 30 years ago, he farmed west of town and also engaged quite extensively in the real estate business. He was married to Laura Pritchard, an aunt of Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser. Mrs. McGregor was killed in an auto accident near Belmond on Feb. 14, 1928.

For nearly 20 years, Mr. McGregor divided his time between Des Moines and California moving west in 1953 to make his permanent home. His body was brought back from California by a brother, Walter McGregor.

Survivors also include two daughters, Mrs. Herbert A. (Bloom) Meyer of Gainsville, Fla., and Mrs. Mary Laura Schmure of St. Louis, Mo. He is also survived by four brothers and four sisters.

Broncs to Oppose Bulldogs Friday

As the North Iowa conference race enters the final month of play, it is apparent that had Belmond managed to achieve that "almost" upset over Northwood last week, the achievement would have created the most wide open battle for loop laurels that had been witnessed in many a year. But the Vikings' win left them in a highly favorable position to carry on now to the championship. Britt's unexpected dumping of Lake Mills left the way comparatively clear, despite Northwood's subsequent loss to the Bulldogs.

Assuming a Northwood victory over Garner (this is written before Tuesday's round of play), the Vikings will have home court advantage in three of their final four games, facing only Buffalo Center on a foreign floor. Both Britt and Belmond would have to trim Northwood on its home grounds — and then one of the two would have to pull a shocker at Lake Mills — to get the Broncos back in the title picture.

Tomorrow night, Belmond will have its second chance at the Bulldogs. The Broncos' only apparent chance would be to run the Lake Mills gang into the floor — and the physical condition of the Belmond crew has not appeared good enough this season to measure up to that task. Other Friday games will see Forest City at Britt and Buffalo Center at Garner, with the home team in the favorite's seat in each case.

Next week the NIC teams will be busy with non-league foes. Belmond will play host to Clarion on Tuesday night. Although the Cowboys have racked up only a couple of wins this season, including a 57-45 decision over Clear Lake in North Central conference play, they have pushed several highly favored opponents to the limit and can be counted on to give the Broncos a busy evening.

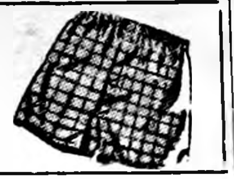
—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS



Northwood's defeat on the Lake Mills floor Friday night should have come as not much of a surprise — but the manner in which the Bulldogs did the trick should have caused some eyebrows to raise. It was commonly regarded in NIC circles that the Vikings had the height and ruggedness to hamstring big Loren Moen, if any loop foe was capable of doing so. But it was Moen who did in the league leaders, with the season's top scoring performance in conference play. He whipped the net for 36 of Lake Mills' 76 points. Britt had held the big boy to 26 — and Belmond allowed him only 24. here.

—PSS—

North Iowa conference cage fans (excepting those from Lake Mills) took delight in the surprising victory of Britt over the Bulldogs last week. The glee of the Broncos' followers was dampened a bit by contemplation of the challenging position Belmond would have been in, had the Broncs succeeded in dumping Northwood. Anyway, it was a good try.

Purple and White partisans would have liked to have seen the Broncos get that last shot at the hoop they'd been entitled to, if the Vikings' Bruce Lee hadn't "absent-mindedly" clung to the ball for several seconds after Dick Halland hit Northwood's clinching fielder. His delaying tactic only spoiled about four seconds; but that robbed Belmond of a final try.

Failure to convert on a satisfactory percentage of freethrows — except on the part of Jerry Chandler, who made eight out of 10 — hurt the Broncos' cause. Other members of the team cashed in on only six out of 14 chances. This year's outfit hasn't been hitting with the accuracy the Broncos maintained during the two seasons preceding, by a fairish margin.

—PSS—

During the 1953-54 and '54-55 campaigns, the Broncs clicked on free-throws about 70 per cent of the time. So far this season the team percentage is a shade under 58 — 114 made good, compared to 83 misses. Among the starting five, "Joe" Smith has the best mark with nine conversions against only three misses for 75 per cent. Next is Tom Lowenberg with 62.5 (30-18). Then come Larry Schimp, 59 per cent (13-9); Chandler, 58.5 (24-17); and Dale Caquelin, 56 (27-21).

—PSS—

It was freethrows that gave Britt its decision over Lake Mills. Both teams had 30 charity chances. The Eagles made good on 21, the Bulldogs on only 15. In that upset, Lake Mills led at the half 40-31. While Lake Mills was picking up 13 more points, the Eagles poured in 22 to knot the score at 53-all. Britt spurted ahead 61-55, only to see the Bulldogs tie it up again at 63-63 with two minutes to go. Dale Nielson then hit a fielder and Dave Rasmuson two gift shots, enabling the Eagles to give away a basket as the gun sounded, with no harm done.

—PSS—

With appearance last Friday of the first Associated Press high school basketball poll of the season, it becomes apparent that in the estimate of the "city" sports scribes there's no team in the North Iowa conference this year to compare with the Broncos of last year and the year before.

Belmond sailed along with high poll ratings during the greater part of both those seasons. In Friday's poll, not one NIC team earned any sort of mention. But Holy Family of Mason City, which beat Northwood by only two points in one encounter, placed in a tie for 7th among the Northeast District teams.

We'd just about bet that Jim VanHeel of the MC Globe-Gazette put the Maroons 1st, to account for 10 of their 20-point total. Yet he clearly didn't regard the Vikings as good enough to warrant even a 10th-place vote, worth one point. Does that figure?

Farmers Advised To Join in Fight Against Buckthorn

Iowa farmers can get added protection against rust losses in next year's oats crop by joining in a statewide effort to eradicate buckthorn. Part of the life cycle of crown rust of oats is spent on the leaves of the buckthorn plant, and buckthorn was declared a noxious weed during the last session of the Iowa general assembly.

E. P. Sylwester, extension weed control specialist at Iowa State college, suggests three control methods which can be started now during the slack work season. By applying any of these three methods of eradicating buckthorn, Sylwester says, you will not only reduce next year's crops losses due to crown rust but will reduce the need for compulsary clean-up of buckthorn under the noxious weed law.

Best Control Method

Best method of controlling buckthorn, Sylwester says, is to bulldoze it out or to pull it out with a tractor and chain. This can be done before the ground has frozen too deeply. After the plants have dried out, they should be turned. Next spring, the remaining roots and seedlings should be sprayed with a mixture of one quart of brush killer to 25 gallons of water. One pint of a common household detergent per 25 gallons of spray solution should also be included.

In areas where it is impossible to bulldoze or pull out the plants, Sylwester suggests cutting the plants and then spraying the remaining stumps. For this treatment, one quart of brush killer should be mixed with five gallons of fuel oil. If regrowths from the stumps occur next spring, repeat the treatment. Seedlings can be sprayed by using brush killer in water at the rate of one quart per 25 gallons of water.

Different from Buckhorn

Third method of eradicating buckthorn, according to Sylwester, is using a basal spray on the bottom 15 inches of the plant. The same spray solution recommended for the stump treatment should be used — one quart of brush killer to five gallons of fuel oil. While this method is effective, it is not recommended in areas where either of the other methods can be used, since it leaves the dead plant standing. Therefore, the basal spray is more applicable in pasture and outlying areas.

Sylwester says buckthorn should not be confused with buckhorn, another plant on the noxious weed list. Buckhorn is a lawn weed and is not a host for crown rust.

The common variety of buckthorn, which should be eradicated, is identified by its glossy, egg-shaped leaves with saw-tooth edges. The plant grows from one foot to 15 feet in height, has black berries when mature and has small spines which appear at the outer extremities of the branches. Wild buckthorn, also a host of crown rust, has longer leaves and black berries. It is found wild in timber land.

OAA Cases Drop Off During December, But New Allowances Send Cost Higher

There was a decrease in Iowa of 131 Old Age Assistance cases in December but the total cost increased $75,058.50 over November. L. L. Caffrey, chairman of the state board of social welfare, says the rise has been due mainly to an allowance of $1.50 added to all Old Age Assistance grants for miscellaneous and recreation expenses and a $5.00 increase in monthly nursing home allowances for the aged. The increase in average cost per case has been $2 04 monthly.

Federal funds met about $10,290 of the increase, and state funds were used for the balance. Caffrey explained, "It should be noted that the federal government participates in Old Age Assistance grants up to only $55. For example, for a person receiving a grant of $55 monthly, $35 will be paid from federal funds and $20 from state funds. If the grant is increased to $60, federal funds remain the same but the state pays $25 of the monthly grant."

In December, the state granted Old Age Assistance to 40,390 individuals, to a total of $2,428,472 50 or an average of $60.12 each. In Wright county there were 205 recipients having an average grant of $58.58 each or a total of $12,010. This was one under November's total of recipients, but the grants added up to $219 more than the month preceding.

Aid to Blind for December in the state totaled $107,269.50 and was paid to 1,453 persons at an average of $73.84 each. In Wright county the total was $320.50, paid to six individuals at an average of $53.40 each.

6,557 families including 23,711 individuals received Aid to Dependent Children grants in the state for the month of December at a total of $718,259.00. This averaged $109.54 per family or $30.29 per person. In Wright county the total cost was $1,907.50 and averaged $119.22 for each of the 16 families and $29.80 for each of the 64 individuals included.

WHO'S WHO IN BELMOND

Ted Behrends Now 'City Father'

• • •

When Belmond's city council organized for its new, two-year term last week, one new face was in evidence — the round, good-natured countenance of Ted Behrends. It was quite typical of Ted that when a problem arose in obtaining a councilman to represent Ward 3, he agreed to fill the spot.

In the 15 years that Ted has been shoe repairman to the Belmond community, he's been a ready volunteer in behalf of more than one civic project. He was particularly active in the campaign to give Belmond's veterans a "home" of their own, spent many an hour on the remodeling of what is now the Veterans' Memorial building and served on the initial board of the Veterans' Memorial corporation.

Came Here in 1940

A graduate of Seneca High school, where he played varsity basketball and baseball (Ted says he was "just a little shrimp" in those days), Ted decided not too long after he'd gotten his diploma that the shoe repair business would be a good one to get into. He got apprentice training in a shop at Emmetsburg.

Also at Emmetsburg, he acquired a wife in the person of Wanetta Walton, known to her many Belmond friends at "Nite" (pronounced "Neet"). They were married on Dec. 16, 1938. In 1940, Ted bought the shoe shop that had for many years been operated by the late August Foss. He was obliged to give up the shop when called for military duty in February of 1943, but returned to his old stand upon his discharge in the spring of 1946.

37 Months in Army

Altogether, Ted spent about 37 months in Army uniform, seeing duty with the USAAF, the Engineers and the Infantry. He served a year and a half in the European Theatre of Operations and saw combat duty as a rifle-grenadier. After hostilities ceased, he got in a stint as mess sergeant before his return to the States.

While he drive for the Vets' Memorial building was in progress, Ted served a term as commander of Eimbrink Post of the American Legion. He continues a Legion member and also belongs to the VFW.

TED BEHRENDS
Councilman Behrends, That Is

Other affiliations include membership in the Methodist church, Order of Odd Fellows, Chamber of Commerce and Gridiron club.

Adopted Two Boys

Childless after nearly 15 years of marriage, the Behrends in September of 1953 adopted a pair of boys — brothers — who are very much their pride and joy. Leon Dale is four years old today and Larry Gene will reach his 5th birthday on Thursday of next week.

Ted is an ardent sportsman and finds great enjoyment in both fishing and hunting. One of the high points of his career as a nimrod came during the deer season of 1954 when he succeeded in bagging a nice buck.

Appointments of Councilman Behrends for the term of office he is just beginning include chairmanship of the finance and purchasing committee and membership on the streets and alleys and the buildings and grounds committees. He takes his new responsibilities seriously and there is every reason to believe that Ted will make a first-rate "city father."

Money Still Available for Carrying On Conservation Practices in 1956

Requests may still be filed at the Wright county ASC office in Clarion for government cost-sharing on authorized soil and water conservation practices to be carried on in 1956 under the program commonly known as ACP. The program is administered on the local level by the county and community ASC committeemen.

In reviewing ACP plans for 1956, the county ASC committee states that this is an ideal time of the year for owners and operators to give serious thought to their individual farm conservation problems and to make up their minds as to what they intend to do about them.

Information Available

They especially urged farmers to study their conservation needs in relation to practices for which the government offers to share the cost through ACP. Complete information on practices offered in Wright county may be obtained at the county ASC office or from any county or community committeeman.

Wright county has been alloted [illegible],000 in ACP funds for 1956 and there is a possibility of additional funds being granted if needed to meet farmers' acceptable requests for participation in the program. Quite a few requests were filed during the advance sign-up conducted at township or neighborhood meetings in December, but funds are still available to handle more requests.

May File Anytime

The committee reports that a number of farmers delayed filing requests at the sign-up meetings because of their desire "to wait until after the first of the year" and they should now be in a position to file, so that requests may be reviewed at an early date.

It is pointed out, however, that under present ACP rules farmers have the privilege of filing cost-sharing requests at any time during the year, but that early filing has definite advantages. For one thing, the farmer who files an acceptable request early in the year while funds are ample can expect favorable and prompt consideration.

Work Delay Unnecessary

In the past, cost-sharing was not paid if the proposed practice was started before a request was formally approved. Under a new rule, cost-sharing will apply even if the work is done before the formal approval is given, providing a request is filed before the work is started.

This means that the farmer filing an early request of an acceptable nature can go ahead with his practice with reasonable assurance of cost-sharing being granted. Of course, if the practice is one calling for technical services, that requirement must be met before any work is started. Still another advantage of early filing is that it helps the county ASC committee make better plans for the year such as arranging for necessary technical services.

Time for Soil Tests

The committee calls attention to the rapidly growing use of pooling agreements in Iowa the past two years and urges Wright county farmers to study their needs of this type of ACP service. Under a pooling agreement, two or more farmers having a common conservation problem apply for cost-sharing on authorized practices required to help correct the situation.

Pointing out that several cost-sharing practices offered in Wright county call for soil tests, the committee urges that such tests be made as soon as possible. Farmers contemplating such practices may obtain complete information on soil testing from the county ASC office or the county extension office.

REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

Evangelist Guy Little of Des Moines started a revival campaign last Sunday at the White Full Gospel Schoolhouse southeast of Garner that will continue through Jan. 22. Services are held each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Roll States Needs Of Retarded Child Rest on "Interest"

Next regular meeting of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at Rowan High school. Speaker will be D. D. Lange, psychological consultant of the division of special education, state department of public instruction. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

January meeting of the association was held Wednesday of last week at Clarion High school. It was well attended by members of the group and others interested in better educational opportunities for the retarded children of Wright county.

Marlin Roll, director of training at the Woodward state hospital, discussed the educational needs of retarded children. He emphasized the need of greater community interest in the problem and more active participation of the public in the movement to provide these handicapped children with adequate educational facilities.

Weeter and Wife On Mexican Tour

Lowell Weeter, manager of the Belmond store of the North Iowa Sewing Machine and Appliance company, and his wife left on Friday of last week on a 10-day, expense-paid tour as guests of the General Electric company. He won the trip by his high sales volume in GE refrigerators, automatic washers and dryers during 1955.

According to Mr. Weeter, the tour will take the trip-winners by air to Mexico City, include travel through southern and western Mexico — with specially planned entertainment along the way, then take the party by plane to Las Vegas, Nev., and thence home. Cost of such a trip for a couple would normally be $1,300, he says.

CPL. BILL MEINTS TAKES PART IN MOCK "LANDING"

Cpl. William D. Meints, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Meints, recently took part in an amphibious landing exercise on Okinawa conducted by the 3rd Marine Division. He was a member of one of the Japan-based units of the Third Marines who captured inland objectives after storming ashore at Kin Beach, Okinawa.

Backed by close air support and naval gunfire, the Marines moved inland against an "enemy" battalion from the Okinawa-based 9th Marine Regiment. The week-long exercise was preceded by combat loading and transporting of personnel from ports in Japan.

RUN-AWAYS CAUGHT HERE

Two Faribault, Minn., girls, ages 17 and 15, were taken into custody about 3:30 a. m. Sunday at the Belmond hotel, where they had engaged a room on Friday. Suspicion on the part of the authorities that they were run-aways was confirmed when Sheriff Bob Blecker contacted their home town. Sunday afternoon, a social welfare worker for Faribault came to return them to their homes. She reported they were "trouble-makers" of long standing.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

The big laugh, the big slap on the back, the bonecrushing handshake—that was Jay. Big, everything about him, big, bluff and, sometimes, a little brutal when he was carried away with his own strength.

But Jay was liked for the most part. People know there was a wild sort of kindness in that giant frame, an intense desire to be a well-loved man, and they responded to it.

Jay was a traveling salesman. The sight of him shoving through a door with his sample cases, the sound of his booming voice in the lobby, were familiar to a dozen clerks in small hotels in small Iowa towns.

The clerk in a northeast Iowa hotel was the last to talk to Jay. "That night was the first time I ever saw him look tired," the clerk remembers. "He was even a little nervous and Jay was never a jumpy sort. Told me he'd had a hard day and still had 200 miles to drive.

"I tried to get him to stay over. Not just for business. He needed rest."

A motorist saw another part of the story. "I followed his business coupe for about 10 miles. Twice it went off the road and a couple of times clear to the wrong side. I was afraid to pass because I though he was drunk. I saw his head keep falling forward."

Twenty minutes later a highway patrolman looked at Jay and said: "A big man like that's hard to get out of a wreck. But I guess there's no hurry now." Fatigue is a quite killer.

MESERVEY NEWS

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

Girl Scouts Burn Christmas Greens

Traditional Burning of the Greens" was conducted Wednesday evening of last week by Meservey's Girl Scouts. After school on Tuesday the Brownie Scouts gathered the discarded Christmas trees from part of the town and the Intermediate Scouts collected from the rest of the town, Leland Koenen providing use of his truck to haul them to the burning site east of the post office.

Rev. E. Kampmann opened the evening ceremony with a prayer, which was followed by group singing of "Come All Ye Faithful." The girls then lit candles from a large, lighted taper held by Mrs. Kampmann and formed a circle around the heap of trees.

After the Rev. Mr. Kampmann read the poem, "The Christmas Tree," the Scouts touched their candles to the trees and the audience sang "Joy to the World" as the greens went up in flames. The ceremony was photographed by Mrs. Elmer Messelheiser. Singing of carols continued while the trees burned.

Invited guests were treated to lunch of sandwiches, hot cocoa and cupcakes and were entertained with a showing of a film that depicted last season's Scout activities at Camp Gaywood.

Elmer Messelheiser and George Kuhlers served as clean-up committee following the tree-burning.

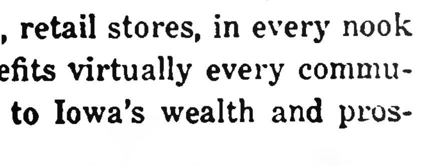
INVESTING IN IOWA'S FUTURE

$62,739,758—that is the sum which the brewing industry has already invested in Iowa, and more is being invested every day. This substantial sum has been spent for warehouses, land and buildings, manufacturing facilities, retail stores, in every nook and corner of the state. This benefits virtually every community, contributes that much more to Iowa's wealth and prosperity.

An Investment that Helps all Iowa



Large as this sum may be, it is only a small part of the investment the brewing industry makes in Iowa. For example—the industry has an Iowa payroll of over $30,000,000 per year, it pays annual taxes of nearly $24,000,000, and there is an item of more than $27,000,000 for such things as transportation, insurance, rent, electricity, and other needs. Yes, nearly every segment of our commonwealth benefits, because—

ONE 5-MILE DRIVE WILL PROVE IT

Your driving is easier—you feel safer—in THE BIG M

The stunning Mercury Montclair 2-door hardtop with distinctive low profile and Flo-Tone color styling.

Co-op

Easier riding and handling on sharp turns—new comfort on bumpy roads—widest choice of safety features in its field help explain why THE BIG M is the big buy for 1956.

Riding is so much better than reading. That's why we invite you to take a demonstration drive in our BIG M.

Then you'll feel THE BIG M's reflex action firsthand—how ball-joint front suspension adjusts itself instantly to rough roads, ruts, and curves.

And you'll experience the reflex-action response of THE BIG M's new SAFETY-SURGE V-8 engine—how it takes the tension out of passing, makes hill-climbing as effortless as breathing.

You'll discover the new peace of mind provided by THE BIG M's new Safety-First Design. For this year Mercury offers 10 new safety features, including the only impact-absorbing steering wheel in its field.

So see us for a test ride. Compare our prices and you'll find that THE BIG M is as easy to own as it is to drive.

BIG 4 OF THE BIG M

1 NEW REFLEX-ACTION PERFORMANCE. THE BIG M responds to your every command—go, stop, climb, pass—quick as an athlete's reflex. On all roads and curves, Mercury adjusts instantly, automatically, for your ease and comfort.

2 BIG M BEAUTY. New long, low profile. Distinctive Flo-Tone color styling. Clean-lined beauty for young-minded people.

3 NEW SAFETY-FIRST DESIGN. Widest choice of safety features; impact-absorbing steering wheel, safety door locks at no extra cost; padded instrument panel, safety belts, optional.

4 PROVABLE VALUE. Low price when you buy—low cost while you drive. For 4 years best resale value in its field. Many dividend features for greater performance and convenience.

For 1956—the big move is to THE BIG MERCURY

COSTLINESS OF A SUBSIDY IS WELL ILLUSTRATED BY THE "PORK LIFT"

We noted a recent editorial suggestion in the Forest City Summit that it would be to the point to conduct a "Pork Lift" in Chicago or New York, where millions of shoppers could be induced to make inroads on that pork surplus. On the face of it, this sounds like quite an idea. But there's one rather tricky detail that would have to be looked after first. Who's going to foot the bill?

These "Pork Lifts" are costly propositions. Garner's recent, very successful one cost a matter of $1,600 — about $1,250 to underwrite the loss to meat retailers for selling the pork below cost and another $350 for advertising and promotion. This sum was obtained by public subscription from farmers of the area and from Garner merchants and professional men. Altogether 55,000 pounds of pork were sold during the three-day event. We're told that another 25,000 pounds could have been disposed of easily, had there been funds to cover the additional loss.

Belmond's Chamber of Commerce investigated the possibility of conducting a "Pork Lift" here. The organization volunteered to absorb up to $400 of the expense involved; but it quickly became apparent that that amount would be only a drop in the bucket. Plans came to an abrupt halt when it was realized that the undertaking would be extremely costly — and actually amount to little more than a sympathy gesture towards he unhappy hog raiser.

The truth of the matter is, anything less than a "Pork Lift" on an national scale offers no hope of material aid to the pork producer. And we think the average citizen might do well to contemplate that fact. For what we're actually doing is talking in terms of a subsidy — a private one in this case rather than governmental.

Multiply the Garner experience on a national scale and some conception can be gained of the money involved in subsidizing just one segment of an industry. Let us bear in mind, also, that such a subsidy does NOTHING towards curing the actual cause of the "limp;" it simply provides a crutch. And while the ailment persists, the crutch-user is STILL destined to fall on his face if the support is taken away.

We don't want these comments to be interpreted as "sour grapes" belittling of such praiseworthy gestures as Garner's "Pork Lift." But viewed practically, it becomes apparent that such well intentioned efforts are most unlikely to achieve a scope that would actually influence hog prices. Which is just another way of saying that it takes the government to spend our money in quantities sufficiently large to comprise an effective subsidy. By and large, as individuals, we're disinclined to spend our money for a purpose which provides returns that are not only indirect but problematical.

NO PAY RAISES FOR CITY WORKERS AT THIS TIME; HOW ABOUT LATER?

It was probably to be expected that the city council would not see fit to increase the wages of our municipal employees when the pay scale was set at the initial council meeting of the year last week. No provision for such a step was made in budgeting for the general fund when tax needs for the year were contemplated last July.

We still feel, though, that pay for city employees is — with a few exceptions — out of line with the times. Salaries of our school teachers have been raised with regularity to assure that our school district continues in a position to bargain for GOOD teachers. We give credit to the school board and to Supt. Don Faris that this has been done.

As taxpayers, we are under similar obligation to see that our municipal employees are paid adequately. We've been fortunate in that our city workers have stuck loyally by their jobs, but it is taking advantage of loyalty not to see that the pay of ALL is brought up to a proper level competitive with jobs of corresponding responsibility in other branches of employment.

It's a generally undisputed truth that you "get what you pay for" in this life. A look at the city pay schedule suggests that we're expecting — and in more than a few instances GETTING — MORE than we're paying our city workers for. If nothing can be done about it now, at least plans can be made so the situation doesn't have to continue indefinitely.

PAY BY GOVERNMENT FOR ECONOMY IDEAS REVERSES "BOONDOGGLING"

Just about a year ago, the federal government started to pay individual employees for economy suggestions. It's a practice that has been popular in private industry for a good many years and has "paid-off" with important savings. It should come as no surprise that the idea has worked equally well for the government.

According to a report of the Civil Service Commission, in the first seven months an employee suggestion was submitted every half minute and one was adopted every two minutes. For 25,000 suggestions adopted, cash awards were paid in the amount of $1,510,000. That averages out slightly over $60 per idea — and sounds like quite a chunk of money.

But that million and a half plunked out was one of the best bargains ever bought with taxpayers' money. These efficiency proposals produced savings that added up to $40,734,215 — which figures out to nearly $1,165 for each proposal adopted.

We might suggest that this trend of efforts is in drastic contrast to the "boondoggling" that so often made two dollars of expense grow where one had existed before, when the "Deals" of the preceding Democratic administrations ruled our land. This marked change in attitude can best be preserved, we suspect, by seeing that the nation is NOT sold another "Deal" in the election this coming fall.

The HELL BOX

Filled by JRG

A generation ago it was called "la grippe" but we suspect from a description of the unpleasant ailment that appeared in the Belmond Herald-Press just 40 years back that the symptoms were more or less identical to today's "flu." Here is what the editor of the Herald-Press had to say after a bout with the bug:

"If you have not had the grippe you probably will have it. From intimate acquaintance, we can tell you what to expect. It usually starts with a bad cold, indicated by a leaky nose and considerable sneeze.

"In the next stage, there is an languid indifference to the tariff, preparedness and Mrs. Galt's wedding garments. (President Wilson had just married "Widow Galt," explaining that remark.) Accompanying these symptoms are a disposition like unto a circular saw and the geniality of a bobcat."

* * *

The discourse continues: "Then you go to bed and oh, how you sleep! For 12 or 15 hours you don't want to move — you just lie and snore wheezily and dream that you are trying to tie up a cyclone in a paper bag, or are running away with legs that refuse to move any faster than the hour hand of a clock — away from a persistent villain who wants to blow out your brains with a snowball.

"It is not at all uncommon to find yourself at some small function trying to hide your [illegible] behind palm trees.

"After you wake up and the dull ache has left your eyes, you begin to take a little more interest in life and soon resume your normal place among your fellow men. Then you know you have 'had it,' and for the next week you bore everyone around you with a minute description of just how it began and in a useless effort to tell how you felt."

* * *

Periodically your scribe receives letters from committees on this and that with names of officers, directors and committee members forming a solid column along the left hand side of the page. Invariably we wonder if all those prominent members even KNOW they're ON the committee — and if so whether they actually DO anything. Now we are going to be in a position to report before long on the facts of the matter.

Inspired by a combination of belief in the cause, plus curiosity, Ye Ed has agreed to serve on the Iowa Citizens Committee For The Hoover Report. After the first Hoover Commission reported its findings in 1949, about 72 per cent of the recommendations were adopted with resulting economies that produced savings to the government (AND us taxpayers) of 7½ BILLION dollars!

In 1955 the second Hoover Commission completed 775 investigations into governmental extravagance and inefficiency. Its final report estimated that five to seven billions in unnecessary expense could be saved ANNUALLY by adoption of the commission's recommendations PLUS another 15 billion by eliminating services which could be handled as efficiently by private enterprise, and sale of surplus property. With Congress wondering how it can cut taxes, this looks like a clue.

* * *

So apparently we've decided to join the committee-letterhead brigade. We already have a suspicion that, in this case, it may turn out to be a "working" committee. At least, we've received a letter from the chairman of the Iowa Committee — J. F. Lawler, president of the General Filter company of Ames — saying that a meeting of members is planned the end of the month "to plot a course of future action here in Iowa." . . . Maybe it'll turn out that the letterhead legion actually IS supposed to DO something.

* * *

Why should a John Doe like Ye Ed bother to lend his infinitesimal shoulder-push to such a gigantic wheel as The Committee For The Hoover Report? Well, if we don't like waste on a county scale (as we've tried to make clear we DON'T), why should we be any less concerned with similar waste, many times magnified on a national scale?

The Hoover Report is one of Uncle Sam's greatest hopes for the introduction of sounder methods in the conduct of government business. And goodness knows there's room for improvement.

For example, the First Commission found enough rope in government warehouses to stretch 2½ times AROUND THE WORLD — and no use for it! That paper weights costing 15 cents were being shipped to foreign service at a shipping cost of 35 cents (smart, huh?). That one million dollars could be saved in five months by driving vehicles for occupation troops from Bremerhaven to German bases rather than shipping them by railroad — as had been the practice!

* * *

Having been in the Navy during World War II, it came as no surprise to learn that the Hoover Commission discovered that our service alone [illegible] is running three years behind in checking bills of lading, although it has paid for the goods involved.

The Hoover investigators found that the Navy employs some 1,900 to do this work.

In contrast a civilian company, which actually ships MORE than the Navy, keeps up with its check on bills of lading against the goods actually shipped — with 75 people.

Looks as if John Q. Taxpayer might save a tidy chunk of dough if the CCPTHR can do a good job of selling.

CHICK CHATS
A Stirring Story,
Litter-aly Speaking

Several years ago, some real wise people thought up the idea of deep litter. This was a big labor saver. Whereas old time poultrymen were forced to clean out the chicken house once or twice a week, deep litter makes it possible to cut down this somewhat distasteful chore to once or twice a year.

The ideas behind deep litter are sound. It absorbs moisture readily. And through bacterial action, deep litter generates heat, keeping the house warm in winter and hot in summer (when you're supposed to keep the deep litter a little shallower). A good deep litter is easily kept dry with good ventilation. And deep litter dilutes disease bugs so that the birds won't pick them up as readily.

However, many poultrymen installed deep litter and just let it lie there. This isn't so good. Deep litter must be stirred to keep it working efficiently.

Stirring the litter regularly keeps the disease bugs spread around more. The longer they lie in the litter without getting eaten, the more they'll die. "Fluffy" litter absorbs moisture better, too. Stirring will also help dry out the litter by exposing more of the moist particles to the drying air.

There are several ways to stir deep litter. Some wild manufacturers make a powered litter stirrer. This works much the same as a rotary plow. I can't figure why one of these machines wouldn't scare the liver out of the birds. But evidently they don't.

Personally, I can't see one of these machines unless you're raising one heck of a lot of birds. You have built in litter stirrers in the chicken house right now. They are called chickens. Scatter a little grain in the litter every day—or pellets, if you're using a complete feed. The chickens will scratch like a dog at a flea circus. And the litter will stir efficiently and thoroughly. The only reason for not using this method with large flocks is because hand feeding all that grain might be a chore for a busy poultryman.

Be that as it may, remember — the litter must be stirred.

Mrs. V. E. Harris was hostess to the Contract Bridge club in her home, Wednesday evening.

Edith Sandberg and Mrs. Amos Hanson were hostesses to the Legion Auxiliary in their home last Thursday evening. The members voted $10 to the polio fund. Mrs. Clyde Hurst and Mrs. George Stille are February hostesses.

Several from here attended funeral rites for Hemmo Beek held at the Reformed church in Klemme a week ago Wednesday. Fifty relatives were served dinner that day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Beek.

VOL. 36 NO. 15 — OFFICIAL CITY PAPER — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA—THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1956 — OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER — THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

For the benefit of historical-minded persons who may be perusing this column of the Independent files in years to come, let it here be observed that first-robin weather came to an abrupt conclusion last Saturday night with arrival of the winter's worst blizzard (to date — springs' still a ways off).

Belmond's street department acquitted itself well with prompt action toward getting residential streets cleared of drifts and many tons of snow removed from downtown Main street.

Claude Larkin at Thompson's north plant reported the weather station there showed an early Monday morning low of five degrees below zero — reminiscent of the frigid, pre-Christmas period when the mercury nose-dived. Now, if the weatherman will kindly oblige with ANOTHER January thaw . . . .

—M-S—

If perceptive readers think they have caught the editor in an error in the story regarding out-of-town kin who attended "Alec" McGregor's funeral here last week, they're wrong. Mr. McGregor's name will be found spelled without an "a," whereas his brothers all spell theirs "MacGregor." The latter actually was the family name, but Alex simply regarded the "a" as superfluous and refused to use it. Incidentally, it was quite remarkable that his death at the age of 82 constituted the first break in a family of eight brothers and sisters. Ages of the survivors range from 65 to 87.

—M-S—

If the mother of the little girl who recently found a pair of glasses on downtown Main street will call at the Independent office, she will be given a reward left here for the youngster by the grateful owner of the spec's.

We knew we should have jotted down the name when the glasses were turned in — but we didn't.

The reason we ask for the mother to call is that she brought 'em in, so we'll recognize her. Loser of the glasses was Bill Skrabal, district sales manager for Tomahawk Hybrids, from Washington, Kans. Good guy, apparently.

—M-S—

Seems that the matrimonial road was a bit smoother for Wright county couples during 1955 than has been the case in recent years. Only a dozen divorces were granted in district court, at any rate. This appears to be better than par for the course. Last year there were 16; in 1953 there came a parting of the ways for 13 pairs; and in 1952 a total of 21 found double harness unbearable. In 1950-49-48 the totals were 17, 18 and 19. Several more than 12 divorce petitions were filed last year, but in all but the dozen cases matters got patched up.

—M-S—

Got a nice note from Mrs. [illegible] "Bill" Peters of Hawthorne, Calif., accompanying a check to renew the Peters' subscription to The Independent for another year. Sha informs the Mainstreeters that they "sure enjoy it" and that "it's worth the $4.00 to hear what the home folks are doing."

—M-S—

There's good reason to believe that a considerable number of Wright county pooches were exposed to the constant threat of a load of buckshot last year, by virtue of possessing no county dog license.

At least the records of County Auditor Myron Price showed tags issued for 60 less canines last year than in 1954.

At the same time, there was no apparent decrease in the dog population. . . . Come now, men, it doesn't cost THAT much to keep your pet on the right side of the law. Better do right by Rover this year.

Driver Training For Adults Slated To Begin Feb. 20

All Adult Education classes took up their studies on the first Monday of this month, as scheduled, except that in driver's training — which is being delayed so that "driving weather" may be expected for the later weeks of the course. Principal Clair Hugh, faculty representative on the Adult Education Council, says that enrollment is now open for that course, but that classes will not start until Feb. 20.

Registration for this year's Adult Education courses was quite disappointing. Sufficient interest was shown in only four subjects to justify setting up classes. The proposed course in pottery-making was abandoned in favor of one in oil painting — taught by L. T. Trafford, which attracted an enrollment of 10.

Only 18 formally enrolled for the class in agriculture and paid the fee required for the full course; but considerably larger numbers have attended the various class meetings, according to general interest in the evening's subject. Francis Kelly is in charge of this class. Twelve are taking bridge, under the instruction of Mrs. Jim Mariga; and DeOn Nelson has a class of eight in sewing.

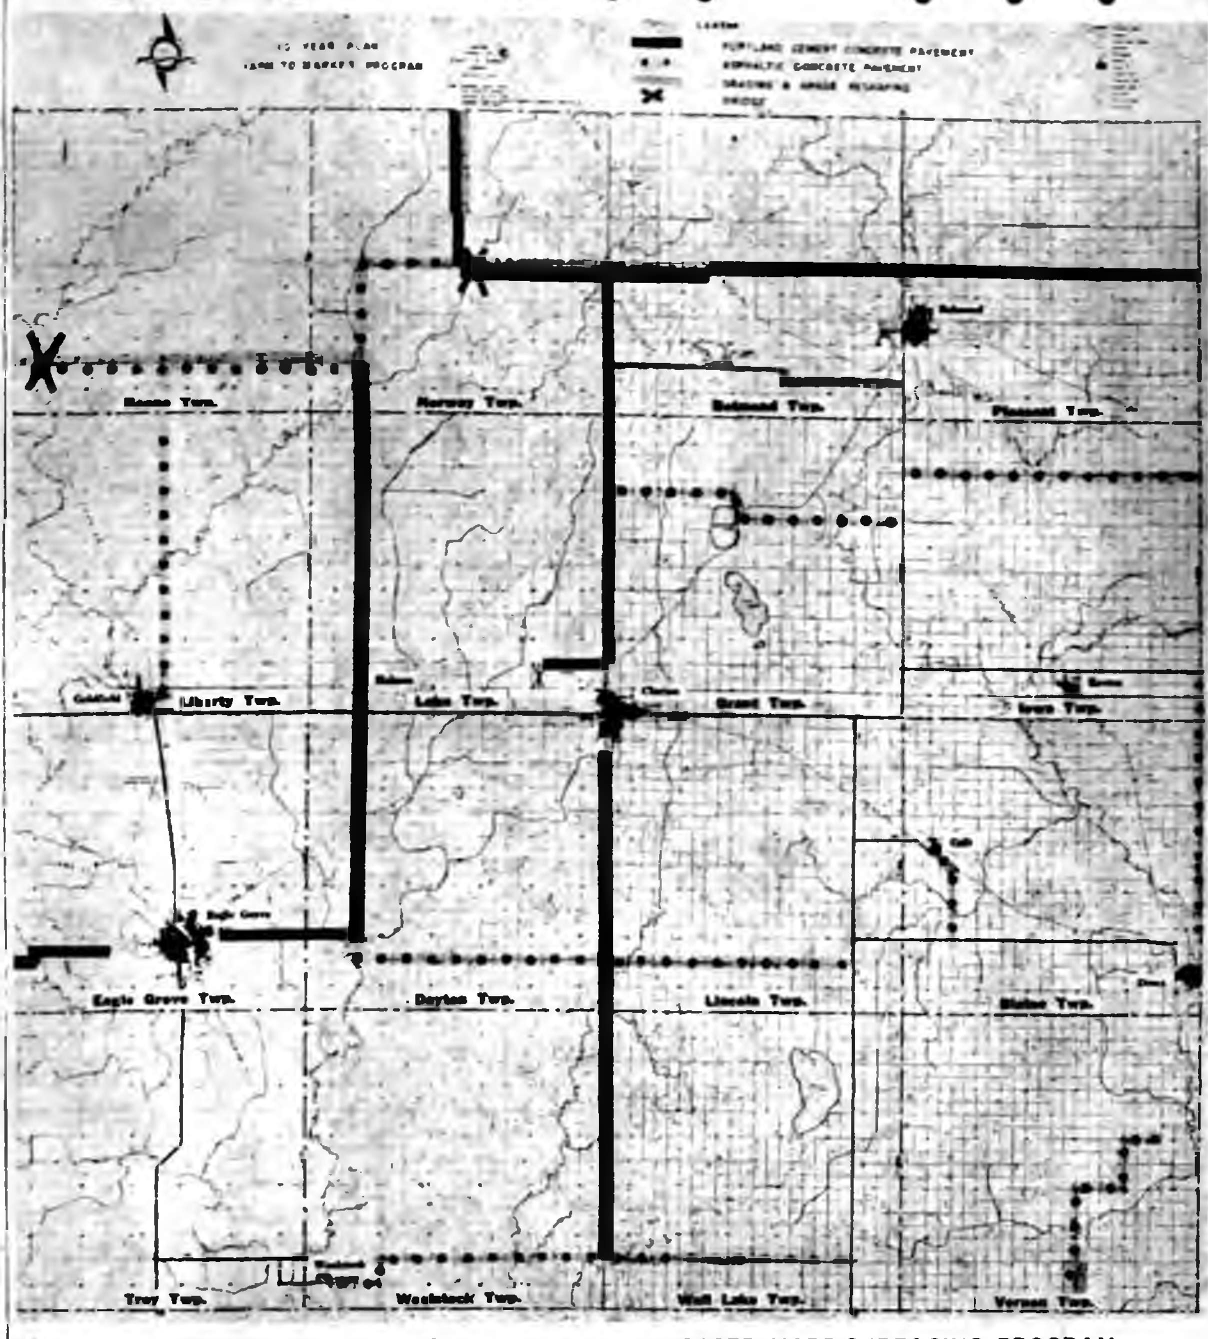
FISH-FRY JAN. 25

Annual fish-fry of the Belmond Sportsman's club will be held at Veterans' Memorial hall on Wednesday evening of next week, with serving from 5:30 to 7:00 o'clock. Mike Luick, the Sportman's president, promises some extra-good eating for all lovers of masterfully fried fish, with all the trimmings.

SCRAP PAPER DRIVE

President Dwight Tyrrell announces that the Jaycees plan the latest of their periodic scrap paper drives on Friday, Jan. 27. He urges that Belmond householders keep the date in mind and be gathering up their collections of paper so they can have it all bundled and ready for pick-up a week from Friday.

Supervisors Announce 10-Year Plan for Hard-Surfacing Roads



MAP ABOVE SHOWS ROADS INCLUDED IN PROPOSED HARD-SURFACING PROGRAM

Estimate 3 Million Cost; to Involve About 118 Miles

Plans for a construction program that would see 118.5 miles of road in the Wright county secondary road system hard-surfaced within a period of 10 years was aproved Tuesday morning of last week by the board of supervisors at a special meeting held at Clarion. As recommended by County Engineer P. T. Struck, the program also envisions construction of approximately 54 miles of grading, or grade reshaping, and two bridges.

Cost of the over-all program is estimated at $3,000,000. Mr. Struck says that when it is completed, few families in Wright county will have to drive more than three miles to reach a hard-surfaced road. The maximum distance would be about four miles. It is anticipated by the supervisors that the program will be launched by contracting for about 10 miles of slip-form Portland cement concrete and a mile of grading during the current year.

Selection Factors Noted

Engineer Struck says that in selecting the particular roads to be hard-surfaced, the following factors were kept in mind: concentration of population, current traffic flow, need for road improvement, and other similar considerations.

He has urged the board that particular thought be given to planning the construction in units of greater length — preferably four to eight miles — than projects in the county have customarily involved in the past. He points out that this practice should lower the per mile costs. He also suggests that lettings be timed with similar lettings of adjoining counties, whenever possible, in a further effort to obtain the best possible prices.

Both Asphalt and Cement

Asphaltic concrete, as well as slip-form concrete cement construction, is planned. It is intended that each season's program be confined to the one material or the other, so heavy equipment for both — involving heavy transportation cost — won't have to brought into the county for less than maximum use.

According to Mr. Struck, estimated cost figures used in arriving at the approximate over-all cost of the 10-year program were as follows: for asphaltic concrete, $20,000 to $25,000 per mile; Portland cement concrete, $25,000 to $28,000; grading and grade-reshaping, $6,000 to $8,000 per mile.

Rowat-Murray, Engineers, of Belmond were appointed by the board to prepare plans and provide other engineering services that will be required to carry out the 1956-57 portion of the program.

First-Year Program

Tentatively listed to be surfaced with Portland cement concrete during the first year of the 10-year plan, employing the recently devised slip-form method, are the following stretches of road: (1) 4¼ miles south of Clarion on County K, starting at the hospital corner; (2) 3½ miles north from the Clarion airport, also on K; 2¼ miles, starting roughly a half mile west of Eagle Grove to the Humboldt county line. Also in the proposed 1956 program is a mile of grading on the road 2½ miles west of the Franklin-Wright line and extending north from the Hamilton county line.

Financing of the long-term program will involve use of the county's annual allotment of farm-to-market road funds, which are provided by the state and federal governments, jointly; and of road construction monies derived yearly from the county's share of the state use tax. Available for 1956 is an estimated $137,000 in farm-to-market funds due for the current year, plus a $28,000 carry-over from last year. Balance of the needed money must come out of the county's share of the state use tax money, which is budgeted for construction purposes.

"Alexander Road" Included

Mr. Struck says that the proposed 10 miles of construction for the current year compares to 5.8 miles of hard-surfacing done in 1954-55 — and with 3.43 miles of concrete pavement, 4.5 miles of asphaltic concrete pavement, 43.1 miles of grading and four bridges constructed during the past five years. All of this work was financed by farm-to-market funds.

Of major interest to persons in the northeast quarter of the are four surfacing proposals that are included in the 10-year plan. They are: (1) Portland concrete cement paving for the east-west road a mile north of Belmond, extending from the Franklin county line west to the road that leads north to Kanawha. This would include grading of the west five miles and construction of a new bridge near the junction with the Kanawha road.

(2) Surfacing of the "Alexander road" from Highway 69 to the Franklin county line with asphaltic cement; (3) surfacing with the same material the Lake Cornelia road from Highway 69, on past Clarmond Country club and then west to County K on the road a quarter mile north of the lake; (4) grading of the "Morse lake road" from Highway 69, just south of the General Mills plant, on west to County K.

ORGANIZATION PRESIDENTS, PLEASE TAKE NOTE: HAVE REPRESENTATIVE AT CENTENNIAL MEETING

Presidents of all Belmond social, service and fraternal organizations are asked to be either present themselves or send representatives to a meeting on Wednesday of next week at which planning for the Belmond centennial will be launched. It will be held at the city hall, beginning at 8:00 p. m. Anyone interested in the success of the centennial celebration is most welcome to attend.

Members of the temporary steering committee — J. R. Gallagher, chairman, Dwight Tyrrell and Thera Fitts — have arranged for two men to be present who will offer what advice they can as to preferable dates and features for the celebration.

They are Alva Merriam of Ogden, manager of Merriam's Midway Shows, which proved highly popular during their appearance here as a feature of last year's Veterans' Celebration; and Richard M. Quay of Springfield, Ill., a representative of John B. Rogers Producing company.

Mr. Merriam liked Belmond just as well as the community appeared to like his midway attractions, and he would very much like to bring his shows here for the centennial observance. It is possible that the dates he still has unscheduled may help solve the quandary of just when to hold the big, community event.

Mr. Quay has been told that there is small prospect that the Belmond centennial will be of such ambitious scope as to justify engaging a producing company to help put it on. He says that he would like to meet with the planning group, nevertheless, and suggested he might be able to offer a number of ideas that would be helpful.

It is hoped by the temporary committee that there will be a really good turn-out for the meeting, as it is time to set up a permanent organization to plan the centennial event and a start in that direction will be made next Wednesday night.

Unnamed Donor Gives Congregational Church $25,000 Gift for Youth Center

A gift of $25,000 to finance construction and equipping of a youth center adjoining the Congregational church was accepted by members of the church Sunday at their annual meeting. Name of the donor was withheld at his request. It was reported by the trustees that $14,000 of the amount has already been banked in a special account and that the balance will be paid as needed during the year.

It was the expressed hope of the donor that the new wing could be built at a cost not exceeding $20,000, leaving the remaining $5,000 for purchase of equipment. This amount, according to his preference, would be left intact and the interest used for the equipment purchases.

Broad Use Planned

While the proposed youth center would be used as a meeting place for Sunday school and summer Bible school classes, its use is not to be limited to Sundays. Rather, it is intended that the facilities be put to use during the week for such activities as class and department parties, play days for various age groups and meetings of such organizations as the Boy Scouts.

George Keleher, chairman of the board of trustees, says that contemplated equipment would include facilities for table tennis, shuffle board, dart games, crafts and similar pastimes; also a record player or "juke box." The new wing will be erected north of the church and be connected with it by a direct entrance.

Building Committee Named

A special committee has been named to work with an architect in deciding upon details of the building's design. L. T. Trafford is chairman of this committee, which also includes Mrs. Dwight Tyrrell, Earl Hinman, Clair Hugh, R. B. Thompson and Rev. William Schorman.

In the course of Sunday's business meeting, Dwight Tyrrell was elected to succeed Ellis Elliott as moderator. Mrs. George Sharp continues as treasurer, Mrs. Elliott as benevolence treasurer, Mrs. George Hinman as clerk and George Hinman as financial secretary.

Newly elected to the board of trustees are J. R. Gallagher, Dr. H. J. Classick and Mrs. Fred Gordon. New deacons are Henry Larsen and Ellis Elliott and the following were named as deaconesses: Mrs. A. C. Hinman, Grace Reed, Mrs. J. E. Wallace, Mrs. Ben Petrow and Mrs. C. I. Williams.

JAYCEES' AIM: BLOCK OF DIMES

Belmond's Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Monday night voted to conduct a "Block of Dimes" project next Tuesday to encourage local giving toward the 1956 March of Dimes. The Jaycees will set up approximately a block of planking on downtown Main street, extending about from Thompsen & Keleher Clothing to Tip Top grocery. Double-faced adhesive tape will be laid along the top of the planks and the Jaycees hope to see a solid file of dimes extending the full length before the end of the day. A similar stunt has been sponsored in recent years by the Clarion J. C. C. and county seat residents have responded to it generously. President Dwight Tyrrell says he hopes to prove, "Anything Clarion can do, Belmond can do better — or at least as well."

WILL SELL JAIL BONDS

At a special meeting held Monday at Clarion, the county board of supervisors set Monday, Jan. 30, at 1:30 p. m. as the date and hour for selling the $68,000 worth of county jail bonds that will finance construction of the new jail and sheriff's residence.

National Chairman Will Attend Demo Powwow Jan. 25

Largest political powwow held by Democrats of Wright county in many a year is to take place at Eagle Grove's Veterans Memorial hall on Wednesday evening of next week in the form of a dinner. Four hundred tickets are to be offered for sale, and in view of the number of high, party officials that will be guests for the occasion, the planners are confident that a capacity crowd will be present.

Top dignitary who will be on hand for the dinner is Stephen Mitchell of Chicago, national chairman of the Democratic party. It is thought to be the first time that a national chairman of the party has ever honored Democrats of this county by attendance at a local confab.

Evans Major Speaker

Major speaker of the evening will be "Spike" Evans of Lake Park, who is an announced candidate for the Democratic U. S. Senatorial nomination. Also to be present is a rival of Mr. Evans for that nomination, Lumund Wilcox of Jefferson, a candidate for 6th District Congressman two years ago.

Other party dignitaries who will be on hand include: Jake More of Des Moines, state Democratic chairman; Clyde Herring of Des Moines, candidate for governor in 1954; L. E. Plumber of Northwood, an announced candidate for the 1956 governorship nomination and Democratic nominee for attorney general in 1954; and John R. Hansen of Manning, 6th District chairman.

Graves County Chairman

Some time back, Harry Graves of Eagle Grove accepted the county Democratic chairmanship, a position that has not been too effectively filled in recent years. He has made clear his determination to rejuvenate the party in Wright county and is regarded by fellow Democrats to be doing a fine job. Other party officials are: Mrs. R. W. Courson, Belmond, vice chairman; and Frank Pinkham, Goldfield, secretary-treasurer.

Tentative plans for pursuing an aggressive campaign in Wright county during the current year were set up at a Democratic organization meeting held at Clarion on Tuesday of last week. Fifty-six party workers from over the county were in attendance.

FOOD SALE SATURDAY

This Saturday, starting at 10:00 a. m., the American Legion Auxiliary is holding a food sale at the Tip Top grocery. All proceeds will be donated to the March of Dimes.

Jones Chairman Of R. C. Chapter

Rev. M. L. Jones was elected chairman of the Belmond chapter of American Red Cross at the group's annual meeting held Friday evening of last week. He succeeds Mrs. B. C. Hewlett. Mrs. Clark McNeal advanced to the vice chairmanship. Re-elected to posts they have filled for some time were B. C. Hewlett, treasurer; Mrs. A. M. Larson, secretary; and Mrs. C. N. Hildebrand, home service chairman.

At the request of the regional office, a disaster chairman was named — in the person of Mrs. Arlo Pitcher. Mrs. Ralph Meyer was added to the Red Cross board as a director from Belmond.

Continuing as directors are Bob Churchouse, Mrs. A. W. Loats and George Keleher, Belmond; Mrs. Gerhard Thompson, Norway township; L. B. Oberhauser, Belmond township; and Mrs. Lester Gabrielson, Pleasant. Mrs. L. M. Helland was again named water safety chairman and Viva Parker as Junior Red Cross chairman.

Toastmasters Vie In Speech Contest

Rev. William Schorman is again a contender for the right to represent Belmond's Toastmasters club in area competition, as one of four survivors in preliminary contests the members have vied in during the past two weeks. Last year, the Congregational minister won both the area and state contests and was runner-up in the regional contest held at Chicago.

Finals in the local contest were scheduled for last night at a meeting to be held at the offices of Tomahawk Hybrid Corn company. Besides the Rev. Mr. Schorman, winners in the preliminary contests conducted the preceding two Wednesdays were Rev. Ralph Meyer, Don Bunnell and Jack Lansing. Alternate contestants chosen to compete should a pair of the finalists be unable to were Bob Rosene and Dr. P. A. Rietz.

Mr. Rosene, who is currently area governor for the Toastmasters clubs, reports that Belmond is to be site of the area contest that will be held sometime next month. Clubs that will have entrants competing in that contest for the privilege of advancing to the state contest will include those at Hampton, Webster City, Algona, Iowa Falls, Charles City and Mason City.

LIBRARY CLOSED

Librarian Faye Colby says it will be necessary for the library to remain closed today, Friday and Saturday, while the old tile flooring is being covered with inlaid linoleum.

GOP MEETING CANCELLED

Because of the $25-per-plate GOP dinner scheduled at Des Moines for the same day, the previously announced meeting of the Belmond Republican Women's club will not be held this Friday. A meeting of past presidents of the club is to be held Thursday of next week at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. C. C. Christie to line up the year's program.

Hospital Auxiliary to Repeat Operation Coffee Cup As Means of Signing Up Members for Current Year

Belmond Community Hospital Auxiliary this week is reviving Operation Coffee Cup as a means of renewing the memberships of women who have belonged to the organization during the past year and to obtain as many new members as possible. By means of neighborhood coffee gatherings conducted when the auxiliary was being set up last year, 373 members were acquired in Belmond, Goodell, Alexander, Meservey and Rowan.

This was regarded by state hospital auxiliary officials as a remarkable achievement, says Mrs. Clifford Johnson, membership chairman, and led to the decision to employ the same method for conducting the 1956 membership drive.

Same Hostesses Wanted

Members of the auxiliary board intend to contact all women who held coffee parties last year, plus prospective members who might be willing to join in the project. Contact will be made in person or by telephone, whichever is the more feasible. They urge all who conducted parties last year to do so again to collect 1956 dues from current members.

Each hostess will be asked to secure the correct name of the member, a reclassification of her service preference in case of renewals, or an original classification for service purposes in the case of new members. Payments should be acknowledged with a receipt and the money and information turned over to Mrs. Johnson.

It is the hope of Mrs. Johnson and the board members that by reviving Operation Coffee Cup and carrying it on during the course of the next three weeks, a large majority of the 1956 memberships will be in prior to the next general meeting of the auxiliary on Feb. 15.

Service Choices Reviewed

Yearly dues for regular and working members are $1.00. Fee for an associate membership is $5.00, and a life membership can be acquired on payment of $25.

For the benefit of new members, and present members who might wish to change their classification, Mrs. Johnson points out that the various categories offered for the worker's choice are as follows:

(1) Nurse's aide — (a) feeding patients, (b) reading to children, (c) hostess work; (2) clerical work — (a) keeping records; (b) writing letters; (3) sewing — (a) mending, (b) making garments, (c) making fancy work for gifts, (d) crafts.

(4) Patient transportation; (5) blood donor; (6) landscaping; (7) flower committee — going to hospital to arrange and change water on flowers in the patients' rooms.

Two $25's Claimed Tuesday

Two winners walked off with $25 apiece in Cash Gift Day money on Tuesday afternoon. They were Mrs. O. W. Myers (No. 4,135) and Mrs. John Smit (2,693). The other pair of numbers that would have brought their holders $25 apiece at 2:00 p. m. were 1,551 and 3,478. The two $100 numbers at 3:00 o'clock were 1,154 and 2,962. Next Tuesday it will be the same song, second verse — four $25's at 2:00 o'clock and two $100's at 3:00 p. m. The arrangement can be different, though — if the holders of those six pay-off numbers are on hand.

Maxon Will Head Extension Council

Dean Maxon of Wall Lake township was elected chairman of the Wright County Extension Council at the group's organization meeting held Monday of last week at Clarion. Other officers elected were: Max Mechem, Dayton, vice chairman; Mrs. James Groom Iowa, secretary; and Joel Duitscher, Lake, treasurer.

These officers were nominated from among the council membership and then elected by secret ballot, as the law provides. They will hold office for the current year. Next meeting will be Jan. 31.

Jack Lansing Top Producer in State For Northwestern

Jack Lansing, local representative of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, was honored at the 66th annual all-Iowa meeting of Northwestern underwriters for being the company's largest producer in the entire state during 1955. He won the top Iowa agent's award for sales totaling more than one million dollars in policy face value.

Davenport was site of the annual gathering, which opened Sunday and extended through Tuesday, with General Agent J. H. Copeland as major host. Mr. Copeland was celebrating his 25th year as a general agent and his 40th with the comapny.

Further recognition came to Mr. Lansing when he was chosen as one of three agents to address the assemblage of underwriters. The Belmond agent spoke on the topic, "A Typical Week in My Work Schedule."

At the Awards Dinner on Monday evening, it was revealed by Toastmaster Copeland that Mr. Lansing's total insurance sales for last year surpassed the record of the second-highest agent by nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Three Northwestern agents from the company's Cedar Rapids district were among the top 10 in Iowa for the year just ended. The Cedar Rapids general agent is Lowell P. Schwinger, son-in-law of Ed Bailey, a long-time Belmond resident who since the latter part of '55 has been residing in the Schwinger home.

New Art Teacher Takes up Duties

Thaeron Doolittle, a 1951 graduate of Renwick High school, has been hired to teach art in the Belmond Community schools and took up her duties Monday with the start of the second semester. She is filling in the vacancy left when ill health prevented Donald Carnahan from resuming his art instruction here at the beginning of the current school year.

According to Supt. Don Faris, Mr. Carnahan is still regarded as being "on leave," but his status is actually rather uncertain. It is not definitely known if he still plans to return to Belmond. When last heard from, he was still a patient in the VA hospital at St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Doolittle was graduated from Iowa State college, Ames, in June of last year with a Bachelor of Science degree. She majored in art and her minor fields were English and social studies. To complete her education requirements for teaching art, she spent 12 weeks as a supervised teacher in an Ames grade school this past fall.

No County NFO Unit Formed Yet

Tom Whitty, temporary chairman for the National Farmers Organization in Wright county, reports that approximately 115 farmers met at Veterans Memorial hall, Eagle Grove, to hear objectives of the NFO discussed and foster plans for forming a Wright county unit.

Speakers included John Walker of Williams, state senator for the 37th senatorial district, and a Hamilton county farmer who was active in formation of an NFO unit there.

An insufficient number of townships were represented to enable formal organization of a Wright county NFO at last week's meeting, according to Mr. Whitty. Consequently, work is being continued toward organization on a township basis and another countywide meeting will be called later to set up a county NFO unit.

Mr. Whitty says that efforts are being made to obtain one of the state leaders in the National Farmers Organization to speak at the next county meeting. Every effort will be made, Whitty promises, to publicize this meeting far enough in advance that a good turn-out of representative farmers will be assured.

IMMUNIZATION CLINIC

School nurse Alta Smith says that the first immunization clinic of the current school year will be conducted at Ramsay Elementary school starting at 9:00 a. m. Tuesday. Shots will be given for tetanus, diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox. Booster shots are required every five years, so they are administered to all students attending school in accord with what their individual health records show they may require at this time.

Four Public Affairs Meetings on County Government, One on Farm Situation Planned by Extension Service

Five staff members from Iowa State college will appear as speakers at a series of five public affairs discussion meetings that will be conducted this winter by the Wright county extension service, the first scheduled for Thursday of next week.

Extension Director Aaron Bowman reports that four of the meetings will deal with the study of county forms of government, a topic that was requested by the public affairs study group in 1955. The fifth will be concerned with how a farmer can hedge against depressed prices.

Advance Registration Asked

In announcing the series of forums, Mr. Bowman emphasized, "This study is not a search into the records of the Wright county board of supervisors to determine the degree of efficiency of our own county governing group. It is an abstract study of county forms of government so that people will have a better understanding of whole structures of county forms of government."

All of the meetings will be held on Thursday evenings, at two week intervals, with an 8:00 o'clock starting time. While all of the meetings are open to the public, it is requested that those interested in attending send their names to the county extension office at Clarion in advance of the meeting.

W. G. MURRAY
Tax Assessment His Topic

Murray First Speaker

Dr W. G. Murray of the ISC department of economics and sociology will be the first speaker. His topic next Thursday night will be "A Report on the Research on Tax Assessments." He holds the position of professor of economics.

Space limitations this week prevent a complete review of the public affairs study meetings. More detailed information will be published in The Independent next week.

In planning the meeting series, the extension office was assisted by the following persons: Mr. and John Evans, Williams; Mr. and Mrs Casper "Cap" Hahn, Clarion; Mr. and Mrs. Clark McNeal, Belmond; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Martin, Goldfield; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ramsay and Ray Hagle, Clarion.

"TRIPLE-TRIPLE FOR MASTITIS".
by Dr. W. L. Beebe
For some time it has been realized that the combination of sulfas and antibiotics are much more effective than either alone. The sulfa group has been used alone without anything added for some time but is has never been successful for mastitis until applied with antibiotics.
Triple-Triple contains: Penicillin-Dihydrostreptomycin-Bacitracin-Sulfanilamide-Sulfamerazine and Sulfathiazole.
This is an ideal combination for the treatment of obstinate mastitis. Farmers having these problem cases should know which organisms are present and which Beebe product to use. The Beebe Laboratories maintain a bacteriological service for mastitis. Merely tell your druggist how many quarters you want examined and he will have the necessary milk sample bottles sent to you. There is a nominal charge of 15c per quarter.

MASTER EGG PRODUCER
Trophy

HY-LINE FLOCK
AVERAGES 227 EGGS PER HEN
Yes, Robert Hoelscher, Dows, got 227 eggs for every one of the 472 Hy-Lines he housed in 1955. Robert is to be congratulated on his fine flock management. He joins the ranks of Hy-Line Master Egg Producers—poultry raisers whose Hy-Line flocks averaged 225 or more eggs per hen housed. Hy-Lines plus good management paid off in extra profitable egg production.
Hy-Lines make good management pay more. In Divided Flock Tests where both kinds of chickens received identical care, Hy-Lines show profitable production advantages over standard-breds and crosses. But where management was real good, Hy-Lines increased their laying superiority! The better the management, the better Hy-Line layers produced.
Don't waste your work. Get more out your hen house by putting in Hy-Line layers. Take a hint from Robert. Make your poultry operation pay more with good management and Hy-Lines — largest selling layers developed by modern research.

Krass Takes Look At '56 M-H Line

Sol Krass, Goodell's Massey-Harris dealer, recently had his first look at the company's 1956 line of tractors during presentation ceremonies held at Waterloo. Star of the program, Krass reports, was the new M-H 50. He described it as a low-profile tractor that introduces a new concept of power application, Hydramic Power, in modern farm tractors.

Along with theM-H 50, company officials presented three big equipment tractors to their regional dealers — the 333, 444 and 555. All three follow conventional tractor design but include improvements and design changes claimed "never before available in tractors of this size."

Krass says he expects to introduce the new M-H line of tractors to farmers of this area in the very near future. Plans for the introduction and an open house "Power Party" will be announced as soon as details are completed.

Mrs. Frank Dominy was dismissed from the Community hospital at Belmond Saturday following 10 days of observation and treatment and went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leo Smith, in Belmond for a few days' stay.

Mrs. Clara Stille of Klemme came Saturday to spend a few days in the home of her son, George Stille.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Wilson Conducted Monday

Mrs. L. H. Wilson, 76, a resident of the Goodell community from early infancy, died at her home about 10:00 p. m. on Wednesday of last week from a heart attack. She had become seriously ill only Tuesday morning, but had been in failing health for the past few months.

Funeral services were held Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the Wilson home and at 2:00 p. m. at the Goodell EUB church, with Rev. Park E. Miller officiating. Johnston Funeral Home of Belmond was in charge. Burial was in Amsterdam cemetery. Pallbearers were Roy Halfpop, Edgar Mayhew, Mel VerHelst, Melvin Buseman, Howard Dominy and Bill Boller.

Mary Elizabeth Olsen was born Feb. 16, 1879, at Mt. Carroll, Ill., daughter of Ole and Margretha Olsen. When she was nine months of age, her parents moved east of Goodell to what was then known as Old Amsterdam. The remainder of her life was spent in this vicinity.

She was a charter member of the Goodell Evangelical United Brethren church and a member of Robbins-Christenson unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. She had served as secretary of the EUB Ladies Aid for many years.

On Dec. 29, 1899, she was married to Leonard H. Wilson at Garner. Seven children were born to them. Mrs. Wilson is survived by her husband and six children: two sons — Harvey of Vallejo, Calif., and Verdie of Concord, Calif. and four daughters — Mrs. Jesse (Viola) Thoreson of Chambersburg, Pa., Mrs. Lester (Avis) Gobeli of Thornton, Mrs. Earl (Norva) Finn of Fairfield, Calif., and Mrs. Ira (Wava) Langlitz, Goodell.

Other survivors include 14 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. R. S. Wilson of Clarion.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by an infant son, a brother and a sister.

ATTENDED FUNERAL

Out-of-town relatives who attended funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Wilson held Monday included four of the children — Mrs. Jess Thoreson of Chambersburg, Pa., Harvey Wilson of Vallejo, Calif., Verdie Wilson, with his son Gene, from Concord, Calif., and Mrs. Earl Finn and her husband, Fairfield, Calif.; also two nieces of Mr. Wilson, Mrs. Claude Banks and Mrs. Loda Ellison, with their husbands, from Springfield, Mo.

Henry Brede and Amos Hanson were hosts to the EUB Brotherhood Thursday evening. The men are planning to serve a pancake supper in the near future.

March of Dimes Drive Underway

Mrs. Lafe Oxley of Corwith, Hancock county chairman of the 1956 March of Dimes drive, called Tuesday on Mrs. Wilmer Hauge and Mrs. Amos Hanson, Twin Lake and Avery township chairmen, respectively.

The latter reports her territory organized and lists these solicitors: Goodell — Mrs. Carl Madison, Mrs. William Sheriff, Jr., Mrs. Lee Robbins, Jr., and Mrs. Wilmer Gabrielson.

In the nine rural districts — Mrs. Paul Kramer and Mrs. Dwight Helps, Mrs. Walter Blumer, Mrs. Amelia Arnold, Mrs. Harry Ostendorf, Mrs. John Lauen and Mrs. Dale Shelton, Mrs. Lambert Barkema and Mrs. Stanley Ahlstrom, Mrs. Paul Halfpop, Mrs. F. A. Lemke, Mrs. Henry Brede and Mrs. Martin Burrs.

The last three women named have their two districts solicited and have reported in to the chairman. Coin cards and posters have been placed in business places in Goodell and the three local teachers have distributed coin cards to their pupils. Mrs. Grant Chapman is supervising her pupils in selling the little blue plastic polio crutches. She reports the children are doing a fine job of it and meeting with good cooperation.

The Legion Auxiliary, Rosary society, W. S. W. S. and Ladies Aid have all donated to the drive.

Mrs. Cunningham's Mother, Age 93, Died on Jan. 10th

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cunningham and son Harold went to Boone on Monday evening of last week in response to a message that her mother, Mrs. Mary Boone, had begun to fail rapidly. She passed away Tuesday morning in the Evangelical Free Church Home, where she had lived for several years. She was 93 years old.

The Goodell family, with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cunningham of Belmond, attended the services on Thursday held at the Schrader Funeral Home in Boone with burial at Quincy. Rev. Walter Berggen, who is Supt. of the Evangelical Free Church Home, officiated.

She leaves her daughter, Mrs. Herman Cunningham of Goodell; three grandsons — Boone Nigren of Boone, Lloyd Cunningham of Belmond and Harold Cunningham of Goodell; and six great grandchildren. She was preceeded in death by her husband, a son, a daughter and a grandson.

Walter Beier of Fort Dodge visited last Thursday with Mrs. Bertha Holmes, who is employed in the home of his mother, Mrs. W. F. Beier. He had also been to Belmond to see his mother who is a medical patient there. He reports that his wife is getting along nicely from her accident. She had broken her hip in a fall in her kitchen.

Relatives and friends in this community will be going to Wesley today (Thursday) to attend Mrs. Lawrence Smith's farm sale.

Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg and Mrs. Ernie Kurtz were hostesses to the E.U.B. Ladies Aid a week ago Wednesday in the Wesenberg home. The members voted $10 to the Polio Fund. Mrs. Sherwood and Mrs. A. C. Carpenter are hostesses Feb. 8th.

The Robbins-Christenson Legion Auxiliary is asking folks to save their Folgers coffee strips. 500 strips sent to headquarters are enough for the local organization to receive a 40-cup coffee-maker.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sandberg of Clear Lake came over Wednesday evening of last week and visited his parents, the O. Sandbergs.

Mrs. Pat Dillon of Belmond came Friday to visit until Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Laton Avery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boller went to Mason City Tuesday evening of last week and enjoyed supper with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bausch in honor of Mrs. Bausch's birthday. She is daughter of the Bollers.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hanson visited her brother, H. O. Sandberg, Saturday at the Iowa Electric Light and Power office in Garner. They also enjoyed a little visit with Mrs. C. H. Tompkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stith, Harold and Cindy of Eagle Grove were dinner guests Sunday in the home of her uncle, Charles Halfpop. Mrs. Stith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Halfpop, joined them in the afternoon.

Beverly Sheriff, student at ISC, Ames, spent the weekend in the parental William Sheriff home.

Mrs. Arthur Lowenberg with her daughter, Mrs. Merle Janssen, and children went to Wesley Thursday and spent the day with the former's sister, Mrs. Lawrence Smith. Mrs. Smith is holding a closing out farm sale Thursday and then plans to locate in some town near there.

Mrs. Leo Gilligan and her mother, Mrs. Anna O'Rourk, of Belmond spent Thursday evening in the Mrs. Laton Avery home. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thayer of Rowan visited Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Janssen drove to Cedar Falls Sunday to attend a concert at Iowa State Teachers' college. Their daughter Faye took part.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jaacks of Alexander were Friday evening visitors in the Anton Benson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hanson of Ames came Sunday to see his grandmother, Mrs. O. Sandberg, who has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Huhn of Colo visited Friday in the Bill Boller home. The women are sisters.

Dows Poultryman Cited for Flock's High Production

Robert Hoelscher of Dows on Wednesday of last week was awarded a trophy by Alexander Hatchery for earning the title of "Master Egg Producer" in a contest sponsored by Hy-Line Poultry Farms. Trophies went only to contest entrants whose flocks averaged 225 eggs or more per hen housed. H. B. Wallace, Hy-Line general manager, reports that Hoelscher's flock averaged 227 eggs per hen in 12 months of lay.

In making the announcement, Wallace declared that high hen-housed records are possible for every poultryman with good management. Hoelscher's record far excelled the national average of 155. Hen-housed records are figured by dividing total production for the year by the number of pullets housed originally. This penalizes management failures in the way of high mortality and culls.

Oscar Hensel of Alexander Hatchery complimented the trophy winner with the comment, "Even in a tough year such as the past one, good management makes chickens pay off. Robert's management proved that poultry can be a good source of income — year after year."

Lee Oyiatt of Eagle Grove visited his aunt, Mrs. Mary Polmateer, Friday and Saturday.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MENNENGA

Mennengas to Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Mennenga on Tuesday of next week will observe their 50th wedding anniversary by holding open house at their home, 411 Fifth avenue NE, between the hours of 2:00 and 4:00 p. m.

They say that no personal invitations are being issued, but that they hope all their relatives and friends will join them in celebrating the occasion by calling at their home during the hours specified.

John Mennenga and Kate Gruis were married on Jan. 24, 1906, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gruis. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Roberts, then pastor of the Immanuel Reformed church. Attendants were Mr. Mennenga's brother Bernard and Mrs. Mennenga's sister Jettie, now Mrs. John Suntken.

The wedding day had double significance for Mrs. Mennenga as it was also her birthday. She will be 72 next week and her husband is 74.

They spent most of their married life on a farm northeast of Belmond. In the fall of 1953 they retired from farming and moved to their present home in town.

The Mennengas have a family of five children and have acquired nine grandchildren. Their four sons are Harry, Ben, Elmer and Loren, all of the Belmond vicinity; and their daughter is Mrs. A. T. (Edna Mae) Krebs of Chicago.

Culture Study Club Meets With Mrs. Charles Wilmarth

[illegible] Changes Fail to Help Matters; [illegible] Blasted by Bulldogs, 81 to 62

[illegible] Branstetter tried a [illegible] Bronco line-up in the [illegible] making a battle of the [illegible] Lake Mills last Friday [illegible] playing Kenny Langlitz at [illegible] and Gary Meyer at one of [illegible] spots. The strategy [illegible] to work, though — by a con- [illegible] margin — and the Bulldogs [illegible] the score doubled or bet- [illegible] Coach Dick Peterson be- [illegible] insertion of reserves in [illegible] quarter. The 81-62 score [illegible] hardly reflected the [illegible] between the two teams. [illegible] trailed at the quarter [illegible] four baskets by Jerry [illegible] were all that kept the [illegible] shouting distance. [illegible] were able to hit only [illegible] in the second stanza [illegible] Bulldogs raced to a 45-31 [illegible] Lake Mills continued [illegible] in the third period to [illegible] advantage.

[illegible] Points

[illegible] by Dale Caquelin and [illegible] Larry Schimp sparked a [illegible] the Bulldog subs in [illegible] quarter that saw Belmond [illegible] Lake Mills 28 to 15; but [illegible] had little significance [illegible] to send Belmond rooters [illegible] in a happier mood. Although [illegible] played very respectable ball for virtually his first varsity action of the year, he and Meyer contributed little in the way of offensive punch — and they were totally unable to hobble Loren Moen's scoring forays. The big pivot gathered 28 points for the evening.

Chandler led the losers in scoring with 16 points, followed by Schimp with 13 and Caquelin with 12. Darrell Kinden and Darrell Belville got 16 and 13, respectively, for Lake Mills; and Ron Charlson pitched in 10.

51 Fouls Called

The officials all but wore out their whistles as they called 51 fouls during the fray — 27 against the Broncs. Lake Mills lost Jim Brosdahl, Charlson and Moen with full sets of five, while Belmond was deprived of the services of Meyer and Larry Kinseth. The Broncs made 18 points on freethrows, out of 33 chances; and Lake Mills converted on 25 out of 41 charity tries.

Belmond followers got their chance to howl during the froshmore game, which Belmond won 77 to 17. With Tom McNulty and DaDean Obrecht missing from the local line-up when the two teams played here earlier in the season, the Bullpups had posted a 32-24 win. Coach Dick Hobbs' Junior Broncs showed peak form of the campaign as they raced to a 54-11 halftime advantage and led 68-16 at the third quarter. Subs took over in the final canto and the scoring pace slowed down. McNulty showered in 21 points for Belmond, Bill Kaufman 18 and Obrecht 17.

Broncos Nose Out Clarion 44 to 42

In a game that was liberally sprinkled with football tactics, Belmond outscrambled Clarion here Tuesday night by a meager, 44-42 margin. It was probably the most ragged basketball performance to be witnessed on the local court in several years' time.

Still experimenting with his line-up, Coach Chuck Branstetter chose Bill Murray and Larry Kinseth as his starting forwards. Both played the entire game, Murray being the evening's top scorer with 15 points and Kinseth turning in a very respectable all-around performance and hitting the net for eight points.

Dave Long spelled both Jerry Chandler and Larry Schimp in the back court, while Dale Caquelin resumed his place at pivot, which he had surrendered to Gary Meyer at Lake Mills.

Clarion led through most of the opening quarter and it wasn't until nearly the end of the first half that the Broncos went in front to stay. They held only a 22-20 advantage at the intermission, but padded it out to 35-28 during the third period and late in the final stanza extended their lead to 40-31.

At this point, the Cowboys went into a full-court press and the maneuver came close to paying off with a win. Clarion's scrappy guards, Dave McClelland and Don Witzel, sparked the rally and topped the Cowboy scoring with 12 and 10 points, respectively. Schimp contributed 10 to Belmond's total, Chandler five, Caquelin four and Long two.

In the froshmore curtain-raiser, the Junior Broncs pulled out of a 26-26 tie late in the fray to take a 31-26 decision. Tom McNulty led the scoring with 10 points and Bill Kaufman pitched in nine.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Markham and Helen McNulty took Max McClure to Des Moines a week ago Thursday where he left by plane for Camp Pendleton California.

Broncs Play Host To Cards Tuesday

Fourth place in the North Iowa conference standings will be at stake when Garner visits the Broncos' corral Tuesday night. The Cards appear to be showing greater strength in the stretch drive, while Belmond had continued to have trouble getting an offense organized. As a consequence, a real battle is in prospect when these arch rivals clash. The Broncos took the earlier game at Garner by a 62-57 margin.

Most important game on the Tuesday night card will find Britt seeking an upset victory at Northwood. With the title all but in their grasp, it seems likely that the Vikings will be well "up" for this one; but the Eagles have been combining a lot of scrap with an increasingly potent offense and could give the league leaders quite a tussle if the Vikings aren't right in top form.

Lake Mills, still hoping that developments may enable it to grab a share of the championship, can be counted on to add another to Buffalo Center's string of defeats.

Dows to Provide 1st Tournament Test for Broncs

Pairings for the sectional tournaments that get underway the week of Feb. 20 were released last week, showing that the Belmond Broncos will make their start in tourney play on Wednesday, Feb. 22, at the Franklin Consolidated gym at 8:30 p.m. First foe of the Purple and White will be the Dows Tigers.

Franklin and Hampton will meet on Thursday night in the only other Class A, first round game and the victor will play the Belmond-Dows winner at 8:30 p.m. the following Saturday.

Both Northwood and Lake Mills are in the sectional field at Northwood; Garner, Forest City and Britt are all assigned to the tournament at Garner; and the seventh North Iowa conference entry, Buffalo Center, will play at Titonka.

Meservey, Alexander and Rowan are all among the eight-team, Class B contenders that will be in the title chase at Franklin Consolidated. Rowan and Meservey are first-round foes, while Alexander is paired with Chapin.

Gallagher Evades Club Presidency; Ends Up as 'Veep'

Members of the Hawkeye Press club, an organization of north Iowa newspapermen and commercial printers to which The Independent belongs, were entertained Saturday night by Kayenay Engraving company of Mason City. In observance of International Printing Week, the host firm had the Hawkeye Pressmen and their wives as guests at a dinner served in the Wedgewood Room of Mason City's Hotel Hanford.

Editor and Mrs. J. R. Gallagher represented The Independent at the affair, which also served as the annual meeting of the press association. Mr. Gallagher and Dwight V. Purcell of Hampton were nominated as candidates for the Hawkeye presidency for the current year.

A "campaign speech" delivered by the Belmond editor in behalf of his opponent successfully swung the election to the Hampton publisher by an 18-14 margin. Mr. Gallagher subsequently was voted into the vice-presidency.

Speaker of the evening was Frank P. Leslie, president of the John Leslie Paper company of St. Paul, Minn. A widely recognized authority on typography and printing, Mr. Leslie gave a highly interesting talk on the origins of modern printing and illustrated his remarks with colored slides of famous books and architecture he has photographed during numerous tours of Europe. He also displayed several aged books of great value, illustrating specimens of both early printing and hand script.

Ralph Height, Jr., In Recital Sunday

Two groups of numbers, mainly in the religious vein, will be presented by Ralph Height, Jr., of Mason City in the course of his organ recital at the Congregational church this Sunday at 3:30 p. m. His appearance is being sponsored by the church choir.

In his first group of numbers, Mr Height will play "Festival Toccata" and "Fountain Reverie" by Fletcher; the "Sonatina" from Bach's "God's Time Is the Best" and the same composer's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring; and three musical adaptations of favorite Bible verses entitled "Bible Poems," by Weinberger.

Comprising the second group will be four movements from Boellmann's "Suite Gothique;" the spiritual, "Were You There," arranged by Purvis; a group of favorite hymns, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "Fairest Lord Jesus" and "Abide With Me;" and, in closing, "Psalm 18" set to music by Marcello.

Owner of a statewide reputation as an organist and organ instructor, Mr. Height's skill will be familiar to many in this community who have heard him on his weekly program over KGLO-TV, "Say It With Music."

THAT 10-YEAR ROAD PROGRAM SOUNDS GOOD; BUT A BIG "IF" IS INVOLVED

We regard with considerable satisfaction and genuine approval the proposed plan of the Wright county board of supervisors to undertake a road construction program in the next 10 years that surpasses anything this county has witnessed. Our enthusiasm is tempered somewhat by the belief that planning of this sort is overdue. More than that, we are interested in learning what practices are going to be abandoned that will make available for construction purposes money that has regularly been poured into road maintenance for many years past.

It is estimated by the supervisors that the proposed road-building program will cost $3,000,000 during the 10 year period. While it is difficult to anticipate with complete accuracy what Wright county is likely to receive in farm-to-market road money in that time, experience of recent years suggests that something like $1,625,000 may be forthcoming from this source. The board plans to finance the program through a combination of farm-to-market funds and money from the county construction fund. That means that $1,375,00 of the three million must come out of the consruction fund.

Acually, it should be easily possible to channel county road money in that volume into construction. In the years of 1952 and 1953, for example, Wright county received as its share of state use tax money — which is specifically earmarked for construction purposes — $532,039. Of this amount, only $143,351 was actually used for construction. Th rest was diverted to road maintenance. It is clear that if more money is to be retained in the construction fund, certain negligent practices that have been keeping the county's road mainenance costs sky-high will have to be changed.

Several weeks ago we drew several comparisons between Wright county and Greene, which in late years has been noticeably progressive in pursuing a program of hard-surfacing. The figures have even greater pertinence now, since Wright is also aspiring to launch on a construction program of some scope. It might be observed that Greene is carrying on its long-range plans by undertaking to build 57 miles of hard-surfaced roadway in the county system during the coming five years.

In the years of 1952-53, Greene received $530,170 for construction in the form of state use tax funds (compared to Wright's $532,039), ALL of which was spent for that purpose — PLUS $87,439 in county-raised money. That made a total of $617,609 spent for construction in two years, while Wright was putting only $143,351 into construction. In the same period of time, we were lavishing $905,033 on road maintenance, compared to Greene's $522,788.

These figures are repeated to emphasize the fact that the intention to expand the construction program in Wright county MUST be supplemented with some realistic effort to plug leaks in our methods of maintenance — or the money to finance the road-building plans simply isn't going to be there.

Certainly the supervisors should be given every encouragement to follow through on the proposed plans. And credit should be given County Engineer Pete Struck for the part he has played in selling the more ambitious construction program to the board. But it should be borne in mind that construction money has been budgeted year after year to finance even MORE road building than is currently contemplated; AND that some rather drastic changes in the manner of handling our road funds are STILL required if those 118.5 miles of hard-surfacing in the next 10 years are to materialize.

DEWEL DECIDES THE SHOE OF HIGH OFFICE JUST DOESN'T FIT HIS LAST

It was with regret that we read in last week's Kossuth County Advance that Publisher Duane Dewel has decided that he will be a Republican candidate for neither the governor nor the lieutenant-governor nomination in the coming primary. We had earlier taken the liberty of urging his candidacy for the latter post.

In summing up his reasons for seeking neither of these two responsible offices Mr. Dewel had this to say: "Politics is a great opportunity for service if you don't take yourself too seriously. There is a great temptation to do just that, once a person gets his feet wet in the game. I hope always to be able to take a good look at myself and occasionally find I'm worth a good laugh."

Those remarks set forth the very reasons why we were hopeful that he might see fit to get into the scramble. On the other hand, we're ready to concede that the political trail is rocky one for a realist. The ability to kid oneself that things aren't as they ARE is a useful skill for a working politician —helps soften blows, salve the ego and rationalize compromises that offend one's principles. Mr. Dewel is far too much of a realist to be very good at rationalizing, which would make the burdens of high office weigh much more heavily on his shoulders than ordinarily is the case.

He further pointed out that a state campaign costs from $25,000 to $50,000 and declared; "I don't have that kind of money, and I would feel too obligated if it was advanced."

Anyway, we think it would have been a revelation to have a man of Mr. Dewel's qualities in either of the offices he was urged to go after. But we really don't blame him a bit for suspicioning that he and politics at that level would have proved incompatible — and acting accordingly.

Membership Drive Officially Opened By Farm Bureau

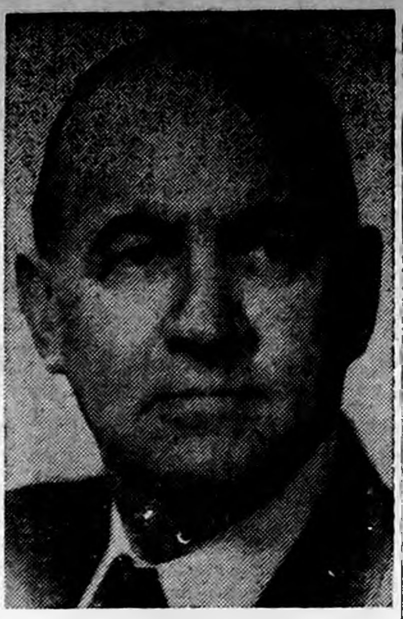
A kick-off dinner officially launching the 1956 membership drive of the Wright County Farm Bureau was held Tuesday noon at St. John's Catholic church, Clarion, attended by approximately 200 campaign workers. Major speaker was T. C. Peterson of Chicago, midwest regional organization director of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

As program chairman, County Fieldman Dwight Seckman reported that 800 Farm Bureau members have already been signed in this county for the current year, including 52 new members. The state-assigned quota for Wright county is 1,373 members; but the directors have voluntarily set a goal of 1,438 This would require signing up all 1954 members, plus 150 new ones.

Mr. Peterson's face was a familiar one to many of the men present at the dinner, as He was Farm Bureau agen for Hancock county some years ago. Others appearing on the program were Casper "Cap" Hahn of Dayton township, county Farm Bureau president; and John Evans, Vernon, membership chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hedges of Rudd spent Monday in the Ed Riggs home.

Mrs. George Crawford and Jon visited with her sister and son, Mrs. Oscar Furuseth and Leslie of Dubuque, who were guests in the home of Mrs. Winnie Coburn at Hampton Wednesday of last week.



CONGRESSMAN James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge announced yesterday that he will be a candidate for reelection to the U. S. House of Representatives from the 6th Iowa district in this year's Republican primary. He was first elected to Congress in 1944 and is completing his 6th two-year term. He has been active in matters pertaining to agriculture, veterans' affairs, transportation, communications and public health.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hanson attended funeral services for Mrs. Theodore Hulberg held Friday at West Salem, Wisc.

Farmers Mutual Fire Association Renames Officers

Cornelius Thompson of Clarion and J. F. Schipull of Goldfield were re-elected as president and vice president, respectively, and Harold Sumners of Clarion was again named secretary-treasurer as the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance association of Wright county held its 67th annual meeting Tuesday of last week at Clarion.

Re-elected for new, three-year terms as directors were Ray Hagie of Clarion, H. F. Graepler of Dows and E. H. Paine of Eagle Grove. Continuing as members of the board are Walter Schleiffarth of Belmond, George Trowbridge of Dows, Kenneth Tillman of Clarion and the officers named above.

Mr Sumners reported the company now has 30 million dollars worth of insurance in force, with a surplus of $178,000.

It was agreed by the directors that several additional types of protection will hereafter be afforded under the company's policies, at no extra charge to the insured. It was estimated by Mr. Sumners that farmers of the county insuring through the association have saved over $250,000 in cost of fire and tornado protection during the past five years.

Homemakers Will Get Salad Lesson

Thirty-one local leaders of women's homemakers groups throughout Wright county heard Mrs. Leslie Smith, extension specialist in foods from Iowa State college, give an informative lesson on "Salads" at the Clarion Legion hall on Tuesday of last week. These women will present the lesson to their own clubs at meetings during this month and next.

Mrs. Smith stressed the importance of well-balanced diets. She told that a recent survey showed the diets of Iowa people to be too often deficient in milk and milk products, oranges and other Vitamin C foods such as tomatoes and grapefruit and in green and yellow vegetables.

She pointed out that salads help boost intake of these basic foods and also add interest and color to meals. She demonstrated the making of several salads, salad dressings and salad tricks, and also showed salads she had made in advance of the meeting.

Mrs. Martha Rickens and son Jim were Friday evening visitors in the Elmer Wessels home in Klemme.

New Scientific MYZON Formula in Drinking Water Helps

STOP LAYING SLUMPS

when birds are off feed with colds, sniffling due to chronic respiratory disease (air sac), blue comb, N. S. enteritis, rickets

Sick Birds That Won't Eat, Now Drink Their Way to Faster Recovery!

MYZON POULTRY BUILDER keeps egg production high right through damp, changing weather... Costs only pennies a bird!

Most birds stop eating when sick and feverish, but they don't stop drinking; they usually drink more. That is why Myzon's antibiotic and vitamin formula is so effective when mixed in drinking water. Sick birds drink and drink their way to extra eggs every month.

VOL. 36 NO. 16 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA—THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

That cold snap of Christmas week—when a local low of 21 degrees below zero was recorded—has to take a back seat to the frigid wave that took a swipe at us last weekend. Claude Larkin reports that Thompson's weather station recorded a low of minus 24 during the early hours of Saturday morning. Sunday morning found the mercury no lower than 14-; but in the wee, small hours of Monday morning the temperature dipped down to 22 below . . . Now, that's enough of that!

—M-S—

We're going to put the quietus on local robin-watchers, once and for all. Like fish stories, reports on "the first robin" have merit only if they beat the other fellow. And last week we received a well documented tale which we believe defies surpassing. It comes to us defies surpassing. It comes to us via Violet Ayers, whose mother — Mrs. Omer Kelley, Sr., of Belmond — was visiting in the Ayers home at the time.

Prompted by the Mainstreeters' report of Mrs. Tom Harty seeing the "first robin" of '56 on Jan. 5th, Mrs. Ayers informed us, "About two weeks ago my mother and I actually saw between two and three thousand robins in Pleasant Valley orchard, four miles south of Iowa City."

She enclosed a clipping from the Iowa City newspaper to substantiate her story. Actually, the swarm of redbreasts has been seen in the orchard off and on since late last year. It was conjectured that possibly reports of Florida's frigid winter have kept the robins satisfied with their lot — and a dried apple diet. Whether or not this latest bit of nonsense dealt us by the weatherman discouraged them into a temporary migration southward, or not, we are not in a position to say.

—M-S—

Stopped in at the Sheriff's office at Clarion Tuesday and inquired of Deputy "Pink" Walrod how things were going. "Pink" seemed to be having a case of the dismals. Don't know just what he and Sheriff Bob Blecker have been working on with unsatisfactory success, but "Pink" forlornly advised Ye Ed, "Sometimes we'd have trouble tracking down an elephant with a bloody nose in a snowbank." Now that evokes quite a picture, doesn't it?

—M-S—

While Ye Ed was making his weekly call at the county auditor's office, he found Louis Stecher, Clarion farmer, taking out a license for the family dog. He gave the answers to the usual questions about color, sex, etc., and said a bit apologetically that the pet's name was "Cookie" — explaining that "the kids named her." Then he plunked down his dollar and said something to the effect that Cookie ought to have a lifetime license paid for one of these days . . . "Seventeenth time I've licensed that dog!" he commented.

From Boyd Berghfer at the Hines, Ill., VA hospital comes a note thanking the nice people who read Main Street for the many cards he received as a result of an item printed here several weeks ago. He'd just finished up a siege of surgery when they began flowing in and he says, "I can say they were really appreciated; especially during those days when I was confined to the bed."

He added: "I'm back on a litter again. A litter is my only means of transportation since I've been here. I lay on my stomach and push myself around with a pair of canes.

"The operation that I had just before Christmas, which I hoped would be the last and complete the closing of an ulcer, wasn't a complete success but did close a great part of it. Now I have to wait and see how the part that broke open again heals, which I hope it does before too much longer." It will be recalled that Boyd suffered a broken back in an auto accident in October of 1952.

—M-S—

Boyd had words of understanding sympathy for Ben Burma, the 27-year-old Kanawhan whose back was broken and spinal cord severed in that tragic accident at Olaf Elevator. Like Boyd, Ben was left paralysed from the waist down. A paraplegic's life calls for lots of adjustments, as Boyd well knows.

—M-S—

On the other hand, it's amazing how such handicaps CAN be overcome. A young friend of Ye Ed's, whose back was broken in an auto crash some seven or eight years ago, this spring will be graduated from the University of Illinois. He and a group of similarly handicapped friends have a wheelchair basketball team—one in a league of NINE in various midwestern schools. And we hear they play a rough, tough game. They've lately been playing exhibitions in behalf of the March of Dimes and thus far have earned over $13,000 for this worthy cause!

RETARDED CHILDREN ASSN. TO MEET NEXT WEDNESDAY

Regular monthly meeting of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children will be held Wednesday of next week at 8:00 p. m. at Rowan Consolidated school. Speaker will be Drexel D. Lange, who is employed as psychological consultant to the state division of special education.

Mr. Lange holds both a Bachelor's and Master's degree in education and psychology from Drake university. His experience includes work as a counselor for the Veterans Administration and as a regional public school psychologist.

The general public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Lange speak. Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening's meeting.

J.D. Baker Dies at Age 93; Final Rites Held Monday

Death came Friday night to one of the few remaining early residents of Belmond when John D. Baker passed away at the age of 93 at the Good Samaritan Home in Mason City. Mr. Baker had lived 90 of his years in Belmond and vicinity, moving here with his mother as a child of two and continuing to reside here until he entered the Good Samaritan home just under a year ago.

Funeral services for Mr. Baker were held Monday afternoon at the Congregational church, Rev. William Schorman officiating. Burial was in Belmond cemetery, with Johnston Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers were six of the deceased's grandsons.

John Dixon Baker was born in a log cabin near Beeds lake in Franklin county on Dec. 7, 1862, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Baker, Sr. His father was killed in the Civil War in 1863 and lies in the National Cemetery at Memphis, Tenn.

Bought Farm in '82

In 1865 his mother and her children moved to Belmond and she became the bride of Mike Luick. As a young man of 20, John Baker bought the farm northeast of Belmond that has for many years been operated by his son Glenn. On March 15, 1885, he married Ottillia Farman and eight children were born to them, all of whom survive.

Upon retiring from farming in 1921, Mr. Baker moved to Belmond. He purchased and for a number of years lived in the home that is now owned by Roy Henderson. During the years that followed his retirement he was elected as a Wright county supervisor and served four terms in that office.

Always a civic-minded citizen, he played a prominent part in the growth and development of Belmond in its earlier days. He was one of the founders of the then Farmers Co-operative Creamery; he was one of the group of men instrumental in bringing to Belmond the sugar factory that today serves as the General Mills plant.

For many years he was a Belmond township trustee and he was one of the early proponents of road graveling in that township. He was for some time the owner of the Iowa Valley Press, one of the forerunners of The Independent, selling the newspaper to Walter C. and Wallace R. Ramsay. He was a long-time member of the Congregational church.

Wife Died in 1940

After the death of his wife on April 19, 1940, he ceased maintaining a home of his own and shared time among his children. His health began to fail several years ago and in late 1954 declined to the point where it was necessary for him to take up residence at the Good Samaritan Home.

Surviving are his five sons and three daughters: Glenn, Guy and Ralph Baker of Belmond, Max of Walker, Minn., John of Sun Valley, Calif., Mrs. Blanche Stevenson of Eagle Rock, Calif., Mrs. William (Frances) Vestweber of Alexander and Mrs. Walter (Mable) Hoffman, Humboldt. He also leaves 20 grandchildren, 27 great grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. R. C. Bras of Belmond.

48 Girls Earn Right to Attend Annual Camp Fire Candy Party at Des Moines

Karen Swenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Swenson, as Belmond's "Candy Queen" for the second year in a row, will head the group of local Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds who on Saturday of this week will attend the annual Candy Party of Heart of the Hawkeye Council. This year's party is being held at the Roosevelt High school auditorium at Des Moines. Forty-eight girls from Belmond earned the right to attend by selling 10 or more boxes of candy during the drive last fall.

Compared to her total sales of 63 boxes in 1954, Miss Swenson sold 110 boxes during the 1955 drive to win the "Queen" title. Even so, she was pushed by Donna Griffen, who sold only 10 boxes less. In third place was Vicki Pals with 75, followed by Linda Hanson with 30, Mary Ellen Manson 28 and Sue Ann Wilmarth with 26.

Six Sold 25 Each

Twenty-five boxes were sold by: Judy Gordon, Hope Jenison, Audrey Killius, Nikki Killius, Theresa Quigley and Carnita Trager. Twenty boxes each were sold by Jean McCormick and Vicki Smith; 17 by Marlys Beavers; 15 apiece by Marilyn Beavers, Nadyne Johnson, Betty Just, Ruth Larson, Sheila Musselman, Barbara Packard, Bonnie Rogalla, Marcia Stoltenberg and Linda Walrod.

973 Boxes Sold

Candy sales last fall totaled 973 boxes, only four less than the year before; but eight less girls qualified to attend the Candy Party than in 1954. Both the "Candy Queen" and runner-up will be rewarded with expense-free periods at Camp Hantesa for selling 100 boxes and Vicki Pals will have half her fee for a camp period by virtue of selling 50 or more. Special Camp Fire honors also will go to these girls, and to those who sold 25 or more. Seven cents from the sale of each box of candy goes to the local Camp Fire Council, and girls who attend camp can apply this commission from their individual sales towards camp expense.

C. C. Carstens, a member of the Belmond Camp Fire Council, again served as chairman of the candy drive.

PTA of Ramsay To Meet Monday

"Dad's Night" will be observed by the Parent-Teachers association of the Ramsay Elementary school at its regular January meeting, which will be held Monday at 8:00 p. m. at the high school auditorium.

Mrs Robert Garms, president of the Ramsay PTA, says that a special program is planned that will include a skit produced and performed by a number of the Dads.

The change was made from an afternoon to evening meeting time so that fathers of the elementary pupils will find it possible to attend and a good turn-out is anticipated. Refreshments will be served in the hot lunch room following the program.

75 FEET OF DIMES

President Dwight Tyrrell reports that, while the Jaycees didn't accumulate an entire block of dimes Tuesday afternoon on the 2x4's they had erected on Main street, they DID take in the equivalent of 75 feet. Since it takes 18 dimes to cover a foot, it figures that they realized $135 for the March of Dimes from their stunt. That, President Tyrrell and his Jaycee brethren consider, wasn't bad. Since coin boxes and dime cards that were distributed among Main street's business establishments are also picking up a considerable number of 10-cent pieces—plus some coins of bigger denomination in the boxes—it appears that the March of Dimes will receive a tidy sum from the Junior Chamber's activities in its behalf.

Governor to Pay Visit at Clarion

Gov. Leo Hoegh will pay Wright county a visit on Wednesday of next week in the course of his current tour to give ear to the suggestions and wants of his constituents. He will be at the courthouse in Clarion from about 1:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m., GOP County Chairman C. C. Christie reports.

Prior to holding "open house" at the courthouse, the governor will lunch with county party workers and officials at 1:00 p. m. Anyone who would like to be present at the luncheon should contact Mr. Christie. The Clarion Rebekahs will serve the gathering at the IOOF hall.

During his stopover at the courthouse, Mr. Hoegh will be glad to grant private audiences to any persons so desiring. He is hopeful that student groups, such as civics classes and the like, may avail themselves of the chance to discuss problems of government with him and ask questions of him.

Governor Hoegh will be at Humboldt on Tuesday evening and following his stop at Clarion will go on to Britt to meet with Hancock county constituents Wednesday night.

Woodward Stores' Control Goes Into New Firm's Hands

C. C. Hiddleston, president-manager of the local Woodward's department store, reports that the C. R. Anthony company of Oklahoma City, Okla., has purchased a controlling interest in the W. G. Woodward company of St. Louis, Mo., with which the Belmond store is affiliated. At a recent district meeting at Fort Dodge, Mr. Hiddleston had the opportunity of meeting C. R. Anthony, president of the Anthony company, and reports enthusiastically on the outlook for the Woodward chain under its new administration.

Mr. Anthony and W. A. Cash, president of Woodward's, told the assembled managers that the Woodward stores will continue to operate with the same personnel and under the same name as before the change in controlling ownership.

Joining of the Anthony and Woodward organizations will make the combination one of the fastest growning department store chains in the country, Mr. Hiddleston says. The new combine is now operating stores in 19 western states and plans are already being worked out for the opening of additional stores in the northwestern states.

Mr. Hiddleston is confident that his store will be able to serve its patrons better than ever before under the new affiliation. It will have access to Anthony's New York buying office, as well as a buying office in Los Angeles. He says, "This will enable us to buy the latest styles and fashions from all the best markets in the country."

Mr. Anthony is currently engaged in a trip visiting and getting acquainted with the Woodward stores and their personnel. He told the managers at Fort Dodge, "I have been so impressed with the outstanding group of managers and employees that we have decided to go ahead immediately with plans to open new stores."

VACATIONING IN WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Flanagan, with her father, R. E. Buterbaugh of Alexander, are vacationing in California.

Bunnell Wins 1st In Speech Contest

Don Bunnell on Wednesday night of last week won the Belmond Toastmasters' annual speech contest and the privilege of representing the club in the area contest to be held here in March. The topic he chose to speak on in the finals was "Should there be a capital punishment?"

Runner-up in the local competition was Rev. William Schorman, 1955 state champion, who spoke on, "The present upsurge of holdups and the cause of it." Rev. Ralph Meyer was awarded third place for his presentation on the topic, "Men's Best Friend."

$100 PICKED OFF TUESDAY

There was only one Cash Gift Day winner Tuesday afternoon, but she grabbed a good-sized handful out of the jackpot. Evelyn Greenwood was the lucky individual. Her number—1,711—was good for $100 at 3:00 p. m. No. 3,260 would also have brought its holder $100 at that hour, had it been presented. The 2:00 o'clock numbers good for $25 apiece were 1,313, 2,097, 3,861 and 4,344. The CGD committee is replacing the missing hundred in the kitty to restore it to a total of $300. That will again allow for four $25's at 2:00 o'clock next Tuesday and two $100's at 3:00 p. m.

Three A-Students Top List of 47 Whose Grades During First Semester Earn Them Mention on BHS Honor Roll

Three students attained grade averages of A or A- during the first semester to top the list of 47 who qualified for the Belmond High school honor roll, according to Principal Clair Hugh. The leaders were: Loretta Fuller, a senior; DaDean Obrecht, sophomore; and Daryl Bohning, freshman. The achievement of the latter was particularly noteworthy, in view of the fact that only six other freshmen in a class of 63 earned places on the honor list with B grade averages.

It was also rather remarkable that two of the three A-pupils were boys, considering that only 15 boys made the honor roll in comparison to a total of 32 girls.

15 Seniors Cited

Fifteen out of the 53 BHS seniors earned honor roll recognition. In the group, besides Miss Fuller, were: Corrine Davenport, Beverly DeMerritt, Bradley Hammond, Marcia Henn, Connie Hill, Elna Jenison, Charles Johnson, Maryellen Johnson, Neva Kyser, Mary Luick, Shirley Soma, Annette Swenson, Sharon Thompsen and Larry Wolters.

From the junior class of 65 students, 12 won places on the scholarship list: Karon Bohning, Roland Jenison, Janis Kalkwarf, Sondra Kamm, Joan Kriens, Bill Murray, Paul Nassen, Shirley Pals, Leonard Steenblock, Mary Alice Studebaker Sandra Swenson and Kathy Dorr.

13 of 80 Sophomores

Thirteen from the sophomore class, biggest in BHS with an enrollment of 80, won grade honors. In addition to DaDean Obrecht, they were: Ronald Courson, Linda Davenport, Bill Halfwassen, Eloise Kirkendall, Ruth McLaughlin, Donna Nolan, Judy Oberhauser, Marlin Pals, Sara Simerson, Sandra Soma, John Studebaker and Sharon Swearinger.

With Daryl Bohning on the freshman honor roll were: Donna Barkema, Linda Bonte, Karen Chapman, John Henn, Howard Mussell and Cynthia Saunders.

Lynn Jenison, an 8th-grader, topped a list of 32 scholars on the junior high school honor roll with 22 grade points. Four points are awarded for an A, three for a B, two for a C and one for a D.

Also on the 8th-grade list were: 21 points — Mary Lu Cox, Carol Finn and Ilene Miller; 20 — Marjorie Breevart and Nancy Gallagher; 19 — Rosalie Griffen, Jeff Hansen, Linda Hauge, Bonnie Nolan, Ardith Pals and Linda Stevens; 18 — Merle Anderson, Duane Dorenkamp, Gordon Johnson, Larry Kramer, Clark McNeal, John Murray and Gary Ruka.

Sharing top position on the 7th-grade honor roll with 21 points were Dennis Anderson, Diane Fetrow and Conrad Krass. Having 20 were: Jay Mennenga, Kay Stecher and Michael Taylor; 19 — Kirk Cunningham, Barbara Musselman and Paul Thompson; and 18 — Nancy Gabrielson and Howard Pals.

Wright Picked to Serve as Test County In Farmer Poll on Livestock Check-off

AT THE MOMENT this picture was taken during last week's meeting at Clarion on the proposed livestock producers' check-off, the low price of hogs seemed to be temporarily forgotten. Witness the smiles! Shown left to right are: Lloyd Van Patton, deputy state secretary of agriculture; Stanley Nicol, livestock director for the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation; Kenneth Faulk, secretary of the Iowa Beef Producers association; Wilbur Plager, secretary of the Iowa Swine Producers association; W. P. Tyrrell, president of the Wright County Beef Producers association; and Bernard Collins, who was chairman of the meeting and represented the Wright County Swine Producers association. Bob Gibson of the Eagle Grove Eagle provided The Independent with the photo.

Volunteer canvassers were to begin a farm-to-farm survey today as a means of testing the sentiment of Wright county farmers towards a producer-financed and producer-managed promotion program to aid the livestock industry. The survey, which is to be completed except for summarization by the end of this week, is being conducted in Wright as one of two pilot counties in Iowa chosen by Lloyd Van Patton, state deputy secretary of agriculture, and other key figures in the industry.

Decision to cooperate fully with these livestock leaders in the proposed test was unanimously approved last Thursday night at a meeting held at Hagie's conference room in Clarion, attended by selected representatives of the livestock industry in Wright county. On hand, also, were the state leaders who had devised the proposed test survey in collaboration with corresponding livestock kingpins in Nebraska as a two-state undertaking.

Iowa, Nebraskas Cooperating

Besides Wright, a similar survey is to be carried on in Cass county — and in two counties in Nebraska. If response to the promotion plan is as enthusiastic as anticipated, the ultimate goal will be to bring the farmers of 15 major, meat-raising states into the proposal and set up a check-off system similar to that which has been so successfully followed by the dairy industry in the past several years.

At last Thursday's meeting, Mr. Van Patton told of the preliminary bi-state discussions that were initiated by Gov Leo Hoegh and the governor of Nebraska with a view to "doing something" about drastic price fluctuations that plague the livestock industry. He said that it was finally decided that promotion of meat products appeared the most promising means of controlling depressed prices in time of surplus and the poll of opinion in which Wright county is now engaging was proposed as a starting point to learn what farmer reaction to the idea might be.

Faulk Offers Comparisons

Kenneth Faulk, secretary of the Iowa Beef Producers association, used 1954 economic figures to demonstrate why the planning group felt that proper promotion of meat could provide at least a partial solution to the elimination of surpluses. He pointed out that between 1948 and 1954, individual incomes in the U. S. went up 45 per cent and population increased 15 per cent. While consumption of meat increased 13 per cent, the per cent of individual incomes being spent for meat decreased by 13 per cent and farm income went down 28 per cent.

This, he said, shows that the livestock-raiser was failing to get the normal share of private income for his product. Meat consumption in the U. S. was only 154 pounds per person in 1954. Actually, the meat surplus that year amounted to only six pounds per capita. In other words, if each person had eaten an extra six pounds, there would have been no surplus.

Meat Poorly "Promoted"

Mr. Falk cited that in '54, per capita consumption of meat in Uruguay was 248 pounds, in Australia 219, Argentina 195, New Zealand 186 and Denmark 175. Those figures would suggest, he commented, that the private wealth of U. S. citizens would easily have enabled them to buy 160, instead of 154 pounds of meat per capita if the desire for that extra meat could in some way have been created.

He then pointed out that livestock farmers have been spending little to promote their product, compared with money spent to build markets for other agriculture products. He reported that in 1954 the 600 million dollar cereal industry spent 32 million dollars in promotion; citrus farmers had a 340 million dollar crop and spent 11

Wright Purchases Of Bonds Passes Quota; Hits 114%

Bond Sales

Although Wright county had exceeded its 1955 quota for purchases of United States savings bonds prior to Nov. 30, sales continued to be strong through December and the county ended the year with a total of $1,776,900 for 114 per cent of the annual goal. The 1954 sales total for series E and H bonds was $1,624,053.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, Wright county volunteer chairman of the savings bonds program, reports that 86 Iowa counties exceeded their respective quotas. Top counties were Clayton, 140 per cent; Union, 139; Allamakee, 132; and Appanoose and Mitchell tied with 131 per cent.

Both Iowa and the nation set 10-year sales records during 1955. Total sales in Iowa for 1955 reached $174,737,900 for 108 per cent of quota, the county chairman reported. This was a gain of almost 20 million dollars, or 13 per cent, over 1954 sales. National sales were almost five billion 400 million dollars in 1955 for 97 per cent of quota, and were 10 per cent higher than in 1954.

Total 1955 purchases of savings bonds, and percentages of quotas attained, are shown below for counties in this area: Hancock county, $1,138,115 for 109 per cent; Franklin, $1,073,666 for 100 per cent; Hamilton, $1,732,892 for 118 per cent; Kossuth, $1,800,552 for 114 per cent.

PANCAKE SUPPER TONIGHT

Members of the Methodist Family Fellowship promise griddle cakes "light as a feather" at the pancake supper they are serving this evening starting at 5:30 o'clock. Coffee goes with the cakes; sausages and salad optional.

SALE DATE CLAIMED

Mrs. Swen Swenson has reserved the date of Wednesday, Feb. 8, for conducting a closing-out farm sale.

Rural Chest Has To Settle Claims On Basis of 74%

Payments of appropriations for the current year had to be reduced to slightly under 74 per cent of the amounts budgeted for the various affiliated agencies as the Wright County Rural Community Chest held its annual business meeting on Tuesday evening of last week. The Chest meeting was held at Hagie's conference room at Clarion.

There was one exception to the reduction in settlement that was forced by failure to attain the goal of $12,500. Only $210 had been budgeted for Mental Health, whereas $225.75 was specifically earmarked by donors for that fund. The larger amount was allowed.

Norway Total Highest

Only $9,313.65, or 73.95 per cent of the original goal was collected during the Rural Chest campaign last fall. Norway, Grant and Troy townships and the community of Woolstock exceeded their total contributions of the initial Chest drive held in 1954; but all the other participating townships and towns fell short of their 1954 giving. Residents of Norway township contributed $818, Grant $708.50, Troy $579.45 and the town of Woolstock, $315.

Other contribution totals were: Lincoln township $695.85, Dayton $635, Lake $535.50, Belmond $508.50, Boone $504.70, Blaine $486.50, town of Rowan $467, Vernon $464.50, Liberty $431.75, Pleasant $425.50, Eagle Grove $421.50, Woolstock $387.30, Iowa $383.50, Wall Lake $275, and town of Galt $162.

Officer Election Set

From Clarion organizations were received: Eastern Star $10, Nurse club $5, Li-Wa-Da-Wie club $10; from Lake township's Social Hour club $10; from Iowa township's U-Go-I-Go 4-H club $3; and from an anonymous donor, Humboldt county, $10.

A meeting of township directors, old and new, was scheduled for Tuesday of this week at Clarion to elect officers for the current year. Marc Ihm of Rowan is the retiring chairman.

Tax Assessment Topic of 1st Public Affairs Forum on County Government

This evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Clarion Legion hall, the series of five public affairs discussion meetings planned by the Wright county extension service will open with "A Report on the Research on Tax Assessment" by Dr. W. G. Murray, Iowa State college professor of economics.

After graduation from Coe college in 1924, Dr. Murray was employed by the federal government as an agricultural economist in 1926-27 and 1935-36, but most of his time has been spent at ISC as a teacher, researcher and performing administrative duties for the college.

Aiding Tax Study Group

He holds a Master's degree from Harvard university and obtained his Ph. D. at the University of Minnesota. From 1944 until 1955 he was head of Iowa State's department of economics and sociology, but at his request he was relieved of that responsibility in '55 so he could devote more time to studies and teaching in valuation, farm credit and tax assessment.

Currently, Dr. Murray is serving part time as research director of the Iowa Taxation Study committee. Extension Director Aaron Bowman says the ISC economist has an unusual knowledge of the problems involved in tax assessment and promises that Wright countians should find his remarks of great interest.

Legal Status of County

Other speakers who will appear on the public affairs program on alternate Thursdays and their topics, are: Feb. 9—Dr. H. C. Cook and Prof. Donald Boles of the ISC history and government department, "What is the Legal Status of a County in Iowa?"

Feb. 23 — Dr. Cook and Professor Boles, "Legal Structure of Counties;" this topic deals with the present, differing varieties of Iowa county government, such as three and five-supervisor boards, and will also cover the possibility of a county manager plan.

March 8 — Wallace Ogg, ISC professor of economics and sociology, will lead a panel discussion on the topic, "Specific Functions of the County." The panel of seven will be drawn from state, college and local personnel and will deal with finance, welfare, law enforcement and public works.

Malone Final Speaker

March 22 — Dr. Carl Malone, internationally recognized authority on farm management, will consider the question "Can Farmers Hedge Against Depressed Prices?" Dr. Malone is well known to many Wright countians by virtue of frequent, previous appearances as a speaker.

Mr. Bowman repeats the request that persons interested in attending these meetings should send their names to the extension office at Clarion in advance. The office will then mail reminder cards to them prior to each of the forums. The extension service is hopeful that both husbands and wives will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the specialists who will lead the meetings.

Brom to Present Junior High Band

Director Roland Brom next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock will demonstrate to admirers of the BHS band that an ample supply of musicians is being readied to fill its chairs in the next few years. He will present a concert at the high school gymnasium featuring the junior band, supplemented by members of the junior high school who have already won places in the BHS concert band.

A wide variety of selections will be included on the program and a number of individual instrumentalists will be featured. Ensemble numbers will be: "The Velvet Glove," Spina; "Prelude in C Minor," Rachmaninoff; "Cachua (Little Samba)," Morrissey; two Bennett marches, "Activity" and Mutual;" "Cinderella Overture," from the Disney movie; and Long's "The Three Bears," with Bonnie Nolan as narrator.

Musicians who will be heard as soloists are Jay Mennenga and Nancy Halfwassen, on saxophone; Howard Pals, cornet; Ronnie Heykants, clarinet; and Lorraine Fuller, flute. A cornet trio number will be presented by Gary Porter, Richard McLaughlin and Kathryn McLaughlin. Accompanists will be Shirley Pals and Bill Halfwassen.

Julia A. Chapman Dies at Age of 78

Mrs. Julia A. Chapman died Tuesday at Belmond Community hospital after an extended period of ill health. She had been a patient at the hospital since suffering a heart attack early in December, but had not been in good health since suffering a stroke about eight years ago.

Funeral services were to be held this (Thursday) afternoon at the Congregational church at 2:00 o'clock, Rev. William Schorman officiating, with burial in Belmond cemetery. Selected as pallbearers were Ben Fetrow, Stanley Moe, George Elder, Ralph Thayer, Adolph Hunst and William H. Sheriff, Sr. Fulton Funeral Home was to be in charge.

Mrs. Chapman had reached her 78th birthday on Nov. 19 of last year. Belmond had been her home for 65 years, since she had moved here with her parents from Missouri as a girl of 13.

She is survived by eight of her nine children: John of Goodell, Charles of Kanawha, Mrs. Paul (Daisy) Kringel of Arlington, Va., Edwin of Belmond, Harvey of White Bear Lake, Minn., Elmer at home, Mrs. Elmer (Sylvia) Soma and Grant Chapman, both of Belmond. A daughter, Garnet Selma, died in infancy.

A complete obituary will appear next week.

"Matt" Barry, 77, Dies at Iowa City; Once Mayor Here

M. C. "Matt" Barry 77, for many years a prominent resident of Belmond, was found dead at his home at Iowa City about 11:00 a. m. Saturday, apparently a victim of a heart attack. He had been in the insurance business at Iowa City since moving there from Belmond 17 years ago.

His wife was visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Everett Nitzke of Des Moines—who has been ill—when Mr. Barry was stricken. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 9:00 a. m. at St. Mary's church, Iowa City, followed by burial at Iowa City.

Mr. Barry was an insurance man and realtor here for a number of years and during the 'thirties was for a time an appraiser for the Home Owners Loan corporation and later manager of the local liquor store. He was a staunch Democrat and continued active in work of the party after moving to Iowa City.

While living here, he served two terms as mayor of Belmond and it was during his administration that Belmond acquired most of the paved streets that it has today.

At Iowa City, he was a past Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus and was head usher of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Besides his wife and his daughter, Betty Nitzke, he is survived by a son, Richard, of Cedar Falls; also by five grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Emil Bock and Mary Barry of Belmond; and a brother, George Barry of Cedar Falls.

He was preceded in death by six brothers and two sisters.

PROTECTING NEW-FARROWED PIGS FROM PARASITES SENSIBLE STEP

Many Wright county farmers are helping to cut their hog-production costs this year in order to avoid losses when they sell their hogs at current low prices. Aaron Bowman, Wright county extension director, says he believes one of the most effective ways to cut these hog production costs is to eliminate the losses from mange, lice and large roundworms.

He says he has word from Dr. Maynard Spear, extension veterinarian at Iowa State college, that by spraying and worming the sows and using clean farrowing quarters, it is possible to get practically 100 per cent control of these parasites for winter-farrowing pigs. Since these parasites, year in and year out, are the source of one of the greatest annual economic losses for Wright county swine producers, Bowman believes an attack on this problem can be especially useful right now.

With the hog market continuing low, the feed saving with parasite-free pigs could be important. Bowman says farmers' experience and scientists' research both show that effective control of parasites is a "must" in order to have healthy, rapid-gaining hogs that make the most efficient use of their feed. He says that Dr. Spear reports the greatest damage done by roundworms is in the young pigs.

However, they do their damage before they reach the intestines where they can be destroyed. So, Spear says, the way to prevent this roundworm damage is to stop the worm's life cycle before it gets to the baby pig. That means freeing the sow of parasites well ahead of farrowing time and providing sanitary housing for the baby pigs. While this can give nearly 100 per cent control for winter-farrowed pigs, Spear says, it is necessary also to rotate pastures and avoid use of old lots for pigs farrowed later in the season.

For worming sows, Dr. Spear recommends use of sodium floride, cadmium and piperazine compounds. As to the selection of the specific product for this purpose, and the method of treatment, he advises consulting your local veterinarian.

Halverson Tells Answers to Three Draft Inquiries

When must I register with Selective Service? Where must I go to register? Must I report in person or can I do it by mail? These are just three of the many questions repeatedly asked of Garfield Halverson, Sr., chairman of the Wright county local board, who today outlined registration requirements under the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

"The obligation to register," Mr. Halverson said, "is a continuing obligation and must be fulfilled. This obligation to register is imposed by the act on every male citizen and every other male person in the United States between the ages of 18 and 26, with the general exception of members of the armed forces and certain aliens."

Register at 18

To answer the first question, as a young man becomes 18 he is required to register at a Selective Service local board office. He must register on his 18th birthday or within five days thereafter. He is not permitted to register sooner and he may be declared to be a delinquent if be registers later than the specified time.

He may register at his own local board office or, if he happens to be away from home, he need not return to register; which brings up the second question. A young man may register at the nearest local board office convenient to him and the record of his registration will be sent to the local board having jurisdiction over him even though it is in another state. A young man must use his permanent home address in determining his place of residence.

Phone Call Not Adequate

Mr. Halverson said in answer to the third question, "The law requires that every young man must present himself for and submit to registration, and this cannot be accomplished by mail or phone. All registration papers must be reviewed by the registrant and signed by him. He must verify the information thereon and make certain that his name is spelled right, his address is correct and all other information is as it should be."

In general, aliens entering the United States for the first time are required to register at a local board within six months following the date of their entry. Aliens are not excused from registration and ignorance of their responsibility under the act is no excuse.

The chairman pointed out that for violation of any of the provisions of the act the maximum penalty is five years in prison or a fine of $10,000 or both.

Sandra Simerson Among Coeds Now In New Dormitory

Nearly 60 sophomore girls returned to St. Olaf college a few days early from holiday vacation in order to get settled in East Hall, new addition to the art building and dormitory for sophomore girls. Among them was Sandra Simerson, a home economics major and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simerson of Belmond.

Each room, occupied by four girls, is equipped with modern furniture, ample closet space, and picture windows. East Hall features a kitchenette on the second floor with facilities for light lunches and coffee breaks, a modern utility room, and an attractive first-floor lounge. The head resident occupies a suite adjacent to the lounge.

Construction was begun in May of 1955 by George Linberg of St. Paul, contractor, and until the hall was readied, the girls were housed on campus and in private homes. The $250,000 two-story building, designed by E. A. Sovik and Associates of Northfield, will eventually accommodate 80 girls, with additional space on the lower floor for offices of the placement bureau and classrooms for the art department.

The construction of East Hall completes the first phase of St. Olaf's ten-million-dollar expansion program covering a 20-yare period.

PATIENTS REMEMBERED

It is reported by the State University of Iowa Hospitals that during the past Christmas season they received gifts from more than 150 Iowa communities for distribution to patients on Christmas Eve. Included among the donors were: Mr. and Mrs. C. C, Christie of Belmond, assorted toys and games; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. James and family of Meservey.

Pre-Kindergarten To Open Feb. 13

Mrs. Albert Chosed, who is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ell, announces that she is planning to open a nursery school on Feb. 13. It will be conducted in the Methodist church basement and she will accept children from age 3½ to five.

A native of Klemme and an alumna of Klemme High school, Mrs. Chosed is also a graduate of Mankato (Minn.) Teachers college. While her husband, who is a Master Sergeant in the U. S. Army, was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., Mrs. Chosed taught kindergarten for children of the post for a year and a half.

In late December, the Choseds moved to Belmond and Mr. Chosed has been awaiting reassignment. He leaves Wednesday of next week for Seattle, Wash., where he will pick up orders taking him to the Far East.

Oats and Soybean Deadline Nearing On Price Support

Farmers of Wright county were reminded this week that they have only a few more days to obtain price support loans and purchase agreements on their 1955 barley, flaxseed, grain sorghum, oats, rye, soybeans and wheat.

The final date for getting price support on these commodities is Jan. 31, it was pointed out by the county ASC committee.

It was emphasized that the Jan. 31 deadline does not apply to corn produced in 1955. The final date for obtaining price support loans and purchase agreements on 1955 corn is May 31. Only corn produced in compliance with acreage allotments for that crop is eligible for price support.

There are no such restrictions on price support for soybeans, oats or the other commodities. But commodities offered for price support must meet certain quality requirements.

Price support rátes in effect in Wright county on 1955 commodities are as follows: barley, 95c per bushel; corn, $1.50; flaxseed, $2.94; oats, 59c; soybeans, $2.03. The rate on grain sorghum is $1.72 per cwt.

Things to Watch If You're Planning To Sell Crop Seed

Wright county seed growers who plan to sell seed should know their responsibilities under the Iowa Seed Law, according to Wright County Extension Director Aaron Bowman. Embarrassment, loss of future sales or legal penalties may result if he does not. L. E. Everson, in charge of the Iowa State college seed laboratory, says it's a good idea to obtain a copy of the Iowa Seed Law by writing to the Iowa State Department of Agriculture at Des Moines.

When seed samples are submitted to the college seed laboratory for testing, a seed sample report is issued with a summary of the labeling requirements of the Iowa Seed Law. The summary specifically indicates the grower's responsibility if he plans to sell seed on the farm, off the farm or to a seed dealer.

Information Required

Seed sold on the farm by the grower is exempt from detailed labeling, but the grower must give the prospective purchaser the following information on the placard or in a written statement:

1. The germination percentage, together with the calendar month and year the seed was tested.

2. The name and number of each kind of secondary noxious weed seed per ounce for seed the size of bromegrass, alfalfa, red clover or smaller, or per pound for seed the size of oats or soybeans.

3. The grower must be able to guarantee that no primary noxious weed seeds are present in the seed lot and that it does not contain more than 1½ per cent total weed seeds.

Laboratory Test Will Tell

The grower who sells seeds on his own farm should particularly note that the sale of certain seeds is prohibited in Iowa, Everson says. A guarantee that the seed does not contain primary noxious weed seeds or that it does not contain over 1½ per cent total weed seeds is possible only if the grower has a reputable seed laboratory make a purity analysis and noxious weed check.

If you find your seed does contain primary noxious weed seed or more than 1½ per cent total weed seeds, Everson says there are three things you can do. You can have the seed recleaned and thus reduce the percentage of weed seeds below the 1½ per cent and remove the primary noxious weed seeds. You can sell the seed to a seedsman or seed processing firm, under which circumstances no labeling is required. Or you can sell or use the seed for feeding purposes.

MILTON FOLLOWWILL AND JEANETTE MEYER WED ON JANUARY 15

Bethlehem Lutheran church at Manly was decorated with lighted tapers in candelabra and bouquets of white pompons and red carnations for. the wedding Sunday afternoon, Jan. 15, at 2:30 o'clock of Miss Jeanette E. Meyer and Milton L. Followwill. Rev. Norman Ullestad officiated at the double-ring ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Meyer of Manly and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Followwill.

Mrs. Don Smith of Manly, organist, played the traditional nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Raymond Bennett of Manly as she sang "O Promise Me" and "Oh, Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of French lace over nylon tulle with a portrait neckline and featuring a pleated satin panel in the skirt. Her circular, finger-tip veil of imported illusion fell from a perfect fitting half-hat of Chantilly lace and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations surrounding a white orchid.

Mrs. Harvey Meyer and Mrs. Delbert Meyer, both of Manly and sisters-in-law of the bride, were matron of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. Their ballerina-length gowns were fashioned with net over taffeta skirts and red velvet bodices. They wore red velvet headbands and carried colonial bouquets of red and white carnations.

W. P. Followwill and Lowell Followwill, the latter of Moline, Ill., served as best man and groomsman for their brother.

Chrissie Followwill, niece of the groom, as flower girl wore a white net over taffeta dress. Bill Broshar, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer. Ushers were Harvey Meyer and Delbert Meyer, brothers of the bride.

Th bride's mother wore a black dress with white accessories and the mother of the groom a gray dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of red and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Westley Bahnsen of Manly and Mrs. Raymond Bennett of Appleton, Wis., aunt of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake; Mrs. Albert Meyer and Mrs. William Koffman, both of Manly, poured. Waitresses were Myrna Meyer, Mary Ann Bonker and Marlene Newgard of Manly and Lois Kleen, Evelyn Gangestad and Marian Peterson of the Belmond school faculty.

Lorraine Seim was in charge of the guest book and the gifts were arranged by Connie Mannens and Cora Schlotterback, both of Manly, and Mrs. Lester Reab of Mason City.

The bride attended Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls and at present is teaching first grade at Ramsay Elementary school. The groom graduated from Centerville High school, spent four years with the U.S. Air Force, with duty in Korea the last year, and is now associated with Followwill Implement and Feed company.

Mr. and Mrs. Followwill are now at home in Belmond.

Confused Broncos [illegible] Easy Prey [illegible] Cards, 73-60

[illegible] High's basketball for[illegible] positive rock bottom [illegible] Tuesday night as the confused and hopelessly disorganized Broncos bowed to a so-so Garner [illegible], 73 to 60. There is little can be said about the losers' performance except to make clear that they [illegible] as well as a group of boys without adequate adult direction could be expected to do.

Although not among the top [illegible] for the night, Dale Caquelin played some fine ball in the losing cause. He rebounded determinedly — often being the only Bronco in anything resembling correct position, he played a steady defensive game and did a nice job of passing off.

Chandler Hits 18

[illegible] Jerry Chandler and Larry [illegible] contributed most heavily [illegible] the Belmond scoring, with 18 and 11 points, respectively. Bill [illegible] hit for 12, Caquelin for [illegible] and Larry Kinseth, four.

After a slow-scoring start, Garner [illegible] into a 14-10 first quarter lead [illegible] the Broncos never thereafter [illegible] able to draw even. They were [illegible] in contention at the half, [illegible] only 19-25; but by the end [illegible] the third period they had a [illegible] deficit and never showed [illegible] sign of rallying the rest of the [illegible]

Lowenberg, Smith Idle

[illegible] when the outcome was virtually assured, due to repeated defensive lapses that the Broncos fell heir to, Coach Branstetter apparently saw no justification for giving Veterans Tom Lowenberg and "Joe" Smith a chance to perform. It was the second, complete game that Lowenberg had sat out and the third that Smith was not once called upon to doff his sweat suit.

The Belmond froshmores gave the evening a good send-off by chalking up a 37-20 win that was just as easy as the score indicates. Bill Kaufman, Tom McNulty and Jon Mehus set the pace with 10, nine and eight points, in order.

Killer-Dogs Cost County $2,346 In Stock Losses

Claims paid out of the domestic animal fund during 1955 came to $2,346.20 as marauding dogs took their customary toll of livestock and poultry. As has been true for a good many years past, no claims were paid for losses to wolves. The only animal to cause a claim, other than canines, was a rabid skunk that caused the death of a cow belonging to Sanford Severson of Kanawha. And that claim was disallowed as not falling within the provisions of the law.

As usual, sheep were responsible for most of the losses. Claims were paid on 117 that were killed and on another 14 that were seriously maimed. Two of the heaviest losses were suffered by farmers of the Belmond vicinity, L. B. Oberhauser and Cloe Jenison.

Mr. Oberhauser had 17 sheep, including two registered Columbia ewes, destroyed and nine others crippled. He was paid $364.50 on a claim of $400. Miss Jenison reported the loss of two registered rams and 14 other sheep, claiming $656. She was allowed $244.

Claims were also paid on 13 hogs killed and three maimed, on 225 chickens that were laid low by dogs and 36 ducks.

DEATH STRIKES TWO TIMES IN FAMILY OF MRS. RABEY

Mrs. Fidelia Rabey in the past week's time has received word of two deaths in her family. Last week she learned of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Elmer Hite of Mildred, Kans., wife of Mrs. Rabey's oldest brother. Mrs. Hite was close to 90 years of age. Her husband survives.

On Monday of this week, Mrs. Rabey got word of the death of her other brother, Edward Hite, who also lived at Mildred, Kans. He was 88 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. John Olson of Forest City were Sunday dinner guests in the Donald Olson home.

Radio, Police Car Get Council Study

Emmett King, chief of the state police radio station north of town, appeared before a special meeting of the city council Monday night to offer some information on what the councilmen should want in the way of a two-way radio for the police car. He discussed the merits of two makes of radios, which the city fathers have under consideration.

It has been unofficially divulged by members of the council that the local police department will within all probability again be equipped with two-way radio when the present patrol car is replaced. Both the radio companies have been invited to send representatives to the next council meeting, which will likely be held on Wednesday of next week. Bids may possibly be solicited at that time.

Also in the way of informal action at Monday's special session, the purchase of a new police car was discussed and the clerk was instructed to draw up specifications in the way of accessories that would be desired. It was informally decided that bids on the proposed patrol car should be solicited from both of Belmond's auto dealers for consideration at next week's special meeting or at the regular first-of-the-month meeting on Monday, Feb. 6.

19 Will Compete In Speech Trials

Nineteen BHS aspirants to speech honors are currently preparing contest selections under the coaching of Margaret Lapitz and will compete in local eliminations for the privilege of representing Belmond in later interscholastic competition.

Four students have entered in the humorous division: Mary Jo Benson, senior; Kathy Dorr and Betty Eccles, juniors; and JoAnn McMannus, sophomore.

Dramatic declamation has attracted the largest number of entries: Sharon Thompsen and Elaine Reichardt, seniors; Sondra Kamm, Mary Alice Studebaker, Joan Kriens and Sandra Swenson, juniors; Janice Flanagan, Bill Halfwassen and Wilma Pruisman, sophomores.

Maryellen Johnson, a Division I winner in state competition last spring with a dramatic presentation, and Connie Hill — both seniors — will compete in the oratorical division.

Participants in radio speaking will be: Marcia Henn, senior; Leonard Steenblock and Jim Stadtlander, junior; and John Studebaker, sophomore.

Miss Lapitz, who instructs both speech and dramatics, has also chosen the cast for the one-act play that will be prepared for contest competition, "Undertow," by Anne Weatherby.

Those who will take part in the play are: Sharon Thompsen, Maryellen Johnson, Monica Jones, Mary Luick, Corrine Davenport, Mary Jo Benson, Sandra Didio, Connie Hill and Marcia Henn.

million to promote its sale; dairy farmers spent five million out of their five billion dollar income on promotion. But the livestock raisers, with an eight billon dollar crop to market, spent only about $700,000 to sell their product to the public.

Three Check-off Proposals

On ballots now being circulated among the farmers of Wright county, they are being asked to express their opinion of three, proposed check-off plans to create a fund for promoting the sale of meat. They are:

(1) A deduction of five cents per cwt. live weight on all livestock, which would raise approximately $28 million annually: (2) 25c per head on cattle, 10c on hogs and 5c on sheep, to raise about $22 million yearly; or (3) 10c on cattle, 5c on hogs and 2½c on sheep to raise about $10 million.

Mr. Faulk explained that this money would be expended in the following fashion, as presently proposed: 40 per cent for education and research by the National Livestock and Meat Board; 40 per cent by National Beef, Pork and Lamb Councils to promote consumption of their respective products; and 20 per cent by State Beef, Pork and Lamb Councils for state promotion of these products.

Collection Method Explained

All of these agencies would be directly controlled by the livestock farmers. A National Livestock Promotion Commission would administer the funds, but would NOT have any say in policy-making. That would be retained wholly by the livestock industry, itself.

As outlined by the planners, the promotion fund check-off would be effective on all cattle sold for slaughter, with commission men, buyers, sale barns, etc., doing the collecting. It is felt certain, Mr. Faulk said, that a similar check-off on range cattle would be set up also so that cattle raisers, as well as feeders, would have a direct part in the program.

Tyrrell Moves for OK

Bernard Collins, a representative of the county Swine Producers association, was chairman of the Clarion meeting. After thorough discussion of the plan, it was moved by President W. P. Tyrrell of the Wright County Beef Producers association that the livestock associations represented at the gathering go on record as unanimously favoring conduct of the proposed survey. The motion was approved.

In addition to Mr. Van Patton and Mr. Faulk, Iowa livestock industry leaders present at the meeting included Stan Nicol, director of livestock for the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, and Wilbur Plager, secretary of the Iowa Swine Producers association.

Mrs. Studebaker Will Attend 4-H Recognition Day

Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., county health committeewoman, is one of five 4-H club leaders and county committee members who have been chosen to represent Wright county at the 6th annual State 4-H Leaders' Recognition Day. It will be held at Ames on Monday of next week.

Others in the Wright delegation will be Mrs. Russell Delano, leader of the Blaine Blue Ribbon Winners; Craig Nelson, leader of the Liberty Pathfinders; August Grandgeorge, boys' county committeeman; and Aaron Bowman, extension director.

This yearly event is sponsored and financed by the Iowa Chain Store Council, in cooperation with the Iowa State college agricultural and home economics extension service.

Mr. Bowman reports that the day's program is planned to project the leaders' thinking into how they can meet the challenge of the future as related to 4-H club work.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADVICE

Mary Alice Coady, field representative of the Fort Dodge Social Security district office, will be in the basement of the court house in Clarion on Thursday, Feb. 2, between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. Miss Coady will be glad to answer questions concerning social security and will assist in the filing of applications for benefits.

TOM JACOBSON DIES

Mrs. Julia Packard reports receiving word of the death at Sebeka, Minn., on Jan. 8 of Tom Jacobson. Mr. Jacobson was the father of Rev. Arvild Jacobson, Mrs. Packard's son-in-law, who has just taken up a missionary assignment in Madagascar.

HELLO, WORLD!

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meyer of Toledo, O., announce the adoption of a baby daughter, Ann Louise, on Jan. 19. She was born on Nov. 26.

A baby boy, Kevin Keith, was born Jan. 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Braner. He tipped the scales at 7 lbs. 7 oz. at birth.

Joseph Sidney is the name given by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Williams to the 7 lb. 15 oz. son born to them on Jan. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Van Der Kamp of Goodell are parents of an 8 lb. 3½ oz. baby boy born Jan. 22

A 5 lb. 12 oz. baby girl, Karen Sue, was born Jan. 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Korthas.

Catherine Sue is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duregger of Ventura for the 5 lb. 15 oz. daughter born to them Jan. 20.

A baby boy, weighing 6 lbs. 8½ oz., was born Jan. 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Dolvin Miland of Goodell.

Surprise Birthday Party Honors George Hinman

George Hinman was surprised on his birthday Friday evening by a family gathering at his home. Present were the Avin Benson family of Clarion, the Earl Hinman family, the Gunnar Ahlstrom family, Stephen Hinman and son Stevie and Mrs. A. C. Hinman.

Darrah Memorial Gift to Hospital

Friends of the late Gladys Darrah, Belmond school teacher, have presented Belmond Community hospital with a memorial gift of $106. Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen of the Hospital Auxiliary's memorial committee, reports that the generous gift was received last week from Mrs. Lillie Phelps of Hampton.

Personnel of the hospital regard that the gift was a particularly fitting one, as Miss Darrah had often expressed her admiration of the hospital's staff and facilities. Her father, John H. Darrah, who on Feb. 11 will be 99 years old, has been cared for at the hospital since August of 1954.

Special Meeting Of Woman's Club

A general meeting of all divisions of the Belmond Woman's club will be held on Monday, Feb. 6, at the library basement, starting at 1:30 p. m. A special speaker has been obtained in the person of Carl W. Schneider of Blue Earth, Minn., who is an expert in woodworking.

Mr. Schneider will show specimens of his work, including chip carvings, inlaying, marquetry and intarsia done with wood from many different parts of the world. He will give a history of the uses of some of the woods.

The guest speaker will also bring with him some fishing rods he has made from bamboo, inlaid lamps, candle holders and turnings.

Suit Goes Against Implement Dealer

In a recent district court decision, Judge J. M. Schaupp of Fort Dodge ruled against C. R. Banwell in a suit brought by the Clarion farm implement dealer against Assessor Ross Henry and the Wright county board of review. It was a case that was being watched closely by a number of other businessmen over the county who have felt they are being assessed too heavily on inventory valuations.

Mr. Banwell was suing for relief from a $51,100 valuation placed on his stock of machinery and $1,733 valuation placed on furniture and fixtures for the year 1955. He has suits involving the assessed valuations of two other years still pending in court.

It was Judge Schaupp's ruling that the plaintiff failed to prove that his valuations were excessive in comparison with those of other, like businesses. The magistrate gave the opinion that the inventory figures submitted in the case bore out the valuation placed on the machinery by the assessor.

VOL. 36 NO. 16 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT [illegible]TY, IOWA—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Large Majority of Wright Farmers Express Approval of Check-off

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

George Jenison's many friends were pleased to note in a Saturday release of the Associated Press that George's nomination as Belmond's official postmaster was among 23 such Iowa nominations that President Eisenhower has sent to the senate for approval. It was just a year ago (Jan. 29th, to be exact) that George was named acting postmaster upon the departure of Cleon Brady to accept a district postal position at Des Moines.

Everything considered, it could likely be regarded that the confirmation action involving George's appointment has been progressing with fairly remarkable speed.

Presumably the formality of a Senate OK on the appointments can be expected in comparitively short order. Included among nominations were two others from this vicinity—those of Russell H. Oviatt at Goldfield and Rex C. Robinson at Hampton. It may be recalled that the Hampton appointment has been hanging fire for a matter of three or four years, and involved somewhat of a major ruckus along the line.

—M-S—

Incidentally, Postmaster (still "Acting," as yet) Jenison has kept us pretty well posted on the availability of newly released postage stamps so we in turn could keep our philatelist readers informed. But when we heard nothing about a stock of the new $5.00 Alexander Hamiltons having arrived, we decided we'd better investigate. We learned that the local PO doesn't carry stamps of that denomination, so you collectors will just have to obtain your Hamilton specimens elsewhere.

We've seen it suggested that a good way to whip that post office deficit might be to issue a series of handsome commemoratives in the $5.00 denomination — and promote their purchase in blocks of four!

When people catch the stamp-collecting bug, their enthusiasm often knows no bounds. Still and all, bait in the way of $5.00 enticements might develop a bit of restraint on the part of collectors.

For the benefit of stamp addicts of moderate means, the post office DOES have some new issues that should be of interest. There's the new Benjamin Franklin three-cent (it's a beauty), a Theodore Roosevelt six-cent and a Woodrow Wilson seven-cent. They'd be more OUR speed!

—M-S—

Mrs. Nettie Watermiller, 4th grade teacher at Ramsay Elementary school tells us that the children in her class voted to contribute to the March of Dimes what sums they would ordinarily spend for a Valentine exchange in their room. Right at $5.00 was collected for this worthwhile cause. . . . And, YOU — we mean you who are inclined to worry about this "younger generation" — did you do as well?

—M-S—

Members of the audience at the junior band concert at the high school auditorium last Sunday afternoon were highly impressed with the excellent job that Roland Brom is doing with the young musicians. The whole band committed itself with great distinction.

The soloists and others who had featured parts on the program performed with near-professional poise and skill.

It was little less than astounding that Mr. Brom had created such a well coordinated musical organization after having the group work as a unit for only three weeks' time. Prior to start of practice for the concert, the more advanced students had been sitting exclusively with the senior band.

—M-S—

On Monday of this week, Mainstreeter No. 1 slipped back into the harness — on a part-time basis. It was Dec. 4th that a coronary thrombosis pulled the rug out from under him and he regards himself pretty fortunate to be back on the job again so soon (with the doctor's approval, of course). George "brags-up" his latest electrocardiogram like it was the report card of a well-behaved child. It says the old ticker is tending strictly to business these days.

—M-S—

Several Main street merchants report a "land office business" during last weekend's Dollar Days promotion of the Chamber of Commerce. Bad weather notwithstanding, their stores were flooded with customers a good share of the time. They heard many favorable comments from the shoppers about the bargains offered, too. All volunteered.

On the other hand, some of the store proprietors were disappointed in their Dollar Day trade. "Just didn't seem to pull," they complained.

One of the well satisfied merchants is convinced he knows the answer. He says there's no substitute for genuine "bargains" to make a Dollar Days promotion go over big. He's already doing some "missionary work" to lay the foundation for the next Dollar Days promotion. He promises, "NEXT time, you're REALLY going to see some crowds!"

BACK FROM JAUNT

Mr. and Mrs. George Brady, Msgr. B. A. Brady of Waterloo, Rev. Tom Knox of Forest City and Rev. Pat McElliot of Waterloo returned Saturday from a three-week tour which took them to Washington, D. C., to visit the Brady's son Roger and family. The party also traveled through West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, Indiana, Missouri and [illegible]. They spent a week enjoying the [illegible] weather in Florida.

Committee to Take Over All Centennial Planning

Next Sunday afternoon at the city hall, representatives of local service, social and church organizations will gather to approve the appointment of a general committee that will bear central responsibility for planning Belmond's Centennial celebration. Once approved, this group will be expected to start immediately upon drafting a specific program, delegating work to sub-committees and determining ways and means for financing the undertaking.

One concrete achievement came out of a similar meeting of organizational representatives that was held Wednesday night of last week at the city hall. The weekend of Aug. 10-11-12 was definitely chosen as the time of the centennial celebration, with the possibility that the program of events may get underway on Thursday, Aug. 9.

Nominating Committee

Another accomplishment of the meeting was appointment of a nomination committee to pick the personnel of the general committee in charge of the celebration. This group included Dwight Tyrrell, as chairman, Rev. A. T. Rollene Luverne Smith, Mrs. R. B. Thompson and Mrs. Jim McMurray. They were instructed to choose the general committee members, confirm their willingness to serve, and submit the list for approval of the preliminary planning committee this Sunday.

About 15 organizations were represented in the gathering of 30 men and women that assembled at the city hall on Wednesday of last week. Temporary Chairman Pat Gallagher was in charge of the meeting and opened it with a review of features that have been suggested for possible inclusion on the centennial program. Mrs. R. B. Thompson was appointed as temporary secretary to record the proceedings of the meeting.

Features Suggested

Ideas and opinions were solicited from the various organization delegates in attendance. From the exchange of conversation, the following events were found in favor to one degree or other as prospective centennial attractions: historical pageant, parade, rodeo, barbecue, open house held by church, lodge and social groups, possibly a program of sports and games and perhaps a street dance.

Display of antiques and other mementos of the early days will have an important part in the centennial plans and is expected to comprise a major attraction.

It was generally agreed that no outside entertainment will be hired. The only suggestion involving paid talent consisted of a proposal that the pageant committee might possibly appreciate some professional assistance in a final polishing of its efforts and possibly in the direction of one or two rehearsals before the show is put on.

Carnival Booking Approved

There was some disagreement over the propriety of including a carnival among the entertainment features, but after it was pointed out that this would prove an important source of revenue the group voted 24 to five in favor of booking a carnival. Alva Merriam of Ogden, manager of Merriam's Midway Shows, was present and said that his attractions would be available as an adjunct of the celebration on the weekend mentioned.

Richard Quay of Springfield, Ill., who was to be on hand as a representative of the John B. Rogers Producing company, was unable to attend the meeting last week. He has been informed of the one to be held next Sunday and may possibly be present at that time.

Farm-to-Market Letting Feb. 7th

Bid letting on the farm-to-market road project of .963 of a mile at the east edge of Belmond is to be conducted by the Iowa Highway Commission at Ames on Tuesday of next week.

This project will involve paving with bituminous or asphalt concrete the stretch of road extending from Third street farm-to-market paving to the south end of the city cemetery.

Soil Conservation Dinner Feb. 14th

On Saturday, Feb. 14, the Wright County Soil Conservation district will hold its regular biennial dinner meeting at the basement of the Methodist church in Clarion. It was just slightly under 10 years ago that the district was formed.

Music during the meal, which will be served at 12:15 p. m., will be provided by the "Red Shirt Ramblers." Among the business matters slated for attention at the meeting will be the election of a new commissioner.

Guest speaker will be Cy Crawford, supervisor of the J. R. Watkins company's experimental farm at Winona, Minn. He has been in charge of the farm for 23 years and is recognized as a pioneer in soil conservation work.

He helped organize the first soil conservation district in the Milwaukee region and has served 12 years as a district commissioner. He was just recently elected president of the Minnesota Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Tickets for the Feb. 14th dinner can be obtained at the soil conservation office in Clarion. Anyone interested in conservation work in the Wright county district is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Annual Creamery Meeting Feb. 8th

Annual meeting of the Belmond Cooperative Creamery will be held Wednesday of next week at the IOOF hall. The business session will open at 10:00 a. m. At noon, lunch will be served and an educational and entertainment program will follow.

During the business meeting the annual report on the creamery's business will be presented by Manager Curtis Rise and two directors will be elected to serve three-year terms. The directors whose terms are expiring are George Crawford and Henry Mennenga.

Leo Benson of Mason City, general manager of the State Brand Creameries and a highly influential spokesman for the dairy industry, will be the major speaker during the after-luncheon program.

Special entertainment will take the form of several accordion selections offered by Bill Halfwassen, Belmond High school student; and a showing of colored slides by Floyd Tourtelotte of Clarion. Mr. Tourtelotte took the pictures last summer during a visit with a daughter who lives in Alaska.

MENNENGA IN NAVY

Kyle Mennenga, 1955 graduate of BHS. on Tuesday of last week enlisted in the U. S. Navy at Des Moines. He has been assigned to the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill.

Bannings to Sail Feb. 4th for P. I.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Banning and children left last Friday from Des Moines for San Francisco, en route to the Philippine Islands. They will embark on their return ocean voyage on Saturday of this week.

The Bannings arrived on Jan. 19 from New Jersey to visit a week in the parental R. B. Banning home. The Rev. Mr. Banning has spent the past year in the States doing deputation work, while on furlough from his mission field in the province of Ilocos North in northern Luzon.

This will be the second, four-year term the Bannings have undertaken in foreign mission service. Their son Bobby, now five, was only a few months old when they first went to the Philippines. Their other two sons — David, three, and Michael, age 1½ — were born in the Philippines.

Mobilgas Station Opens on Highway

Belmond's newest business establishment, Reese Mobil Service on Highway 69, opened for business on Saturday of last week under the management of Howard Reese, 31, lately of Jewell. Mr. Reese is highly pleased with the spacious accomodations he has leased from the Mobilgas company and regards that it makes a worthy addition to Belmond's auto servicing facilities.

Formal, grand opening of the station will not be held until sometime in March, at which time he will be joined by his brother Bob in conducting the business.

Although he has had six years' experience in service station operation and for two years operated a station of his own, Howard has most lately been employed as a railway postal clerk. An attack of polio in 1952 forced him to sell out his business at Jewell; but he is now fully recovered and happy to be back in the line of work he prefers.

Both he and Bob, who is 21, are single. Howard for the time being is living at the Belmond Hotel. He is a member of the Masonic lodge, the Odd Fellows and also belongs to the American Legion and VFW.

He was in the U. S. Army Air Force during World War II and for 1½ years was stationed in the Aleutian Islands, attached to a radar and fighter control installation. He was discharged on Dec. 10, 1946, holding the rating of First Sergeant.

Bob Reese is currently employed by a Conoco, station at Ames. Both are natives of Jewell and graduates of Jewell High school. At home, they were affiliated with the Federated church.

Invitation Bridge Tourney Planned

An invitation contract bridge tournament will be conducted at the IOOF hall on Saturday evening of next week and the following Monday night, under sponsorship of two circles of St. Francis Catholic church. In charge of the tournament will be Mrs. Jack Lansing and Mrs. Russell Schaal. It will be conducted by Paul Stehly of Fort Dodge, a director of the Iowa State Contract Bridge association.

Competition will be by pairs and there will be four trophies awarded, two for high and two for low. Partnerships can likely be formed at the hall for individual players who would like to enter. There will be a $1.00 entry fee. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Lansing or Mrs. Schaal. Spectators will be welcome to look on during the play.

$10 GIFT TO LIBRARY

Librarian Faye Colby announces receipt by the library of a cash gift of $10 to be applied on the purchase of a table and set of juvenile chairs for the children's department. The donor preferred to remain anonymous.

Broncos Beat Bison; Loop Mark to 5-5

Belmond's rejuvenated Broncos pulled a tough one out of the fire here Tuesday night, taking scrappy Buffalo Center into camp 60-52. It was a thrilling battle in which the Broncs several times appeared on their way to break the game open, only to see the Bison fight back and all but close the gap. Never once, though, were the visitors able to draw even from the start of the game to the finish.

An amazing duel at the free-throw line provided the excitement in the opening quarter. Belmond was outscored by one field goal, but Tom Lowenberg hit on seven of eight charity chances and Dale Caquelin on six out of eight. Buffalo Center did nearly as well, converting seven out of nine tries, but trailed 19-14 at the buzzer.

Belmond Leads by 12

Midway in the second stanza, Belmond zoomed into a 12-point lead at 32-20; but the Bison permitted the Broncos only two more points in the period and trailed by only 34-31 at halftime. Caquelin picked up three quick fouls and gave way to Gary Meyer during the middle part of the fray, and Chandler sat out a considerable part of the last half after fouling four times.

In the third quarter, Belmond led twice by seven points; but another Bison rally near the period's end left the Purple and White ahead by only 46-44. It continued a dog-eat-dog tussle through most of the last period. With less than four minutes left, the Broncs held a skimpy 53-50 advantage; but they expanded the bulge to the final span of 60-52 with two minutes to go and played control ball from there on to clinch the verdict.

Lowenberg Tallies 16

Lowenberg topped the Bronco scorers with 16 points, followed by Caquelin with 13, Chandler and "Joe" Smith with 10 each, Larry Schimp six, Bill Murray and Rollie Jenison two each and Meyer one. The Bison's Tom Costigan was high man for the night with 20, but got only five in the last half. Abels pitched in 11 and Don Albers 10 for the losers.

The Junior Broncs took an easy victory in the curtain raiser, leading 21-11 at the half and going on to a 38-26 win. Ken Hawley and Jon Mehus tallied 10 apiece for the froshmores and Tom McNulty nine.

2nd County Parley On Public Affairs Set for Feb. 9th

Second in the series of public affairs meetings on county government will be held at the Clarion Legion hall at 8:00 p. m. on Thursday of next week. Subject of the evening's discussion will be, "What is the Legal Status of a County in Iowa?" Dr. H. C. Cook and Prof. Donald Boles of the history and government department at Iowa State college will be the speakers.

In the course of their comments on the topic, the guest speakers will discuss the records that the Iowa constitution requires that the counties keep and other responsibilities that rest with a county government. As will be true of all the public affairs meetings, the first half of the evening will be given over to presentation of the subject and the remainder of the time will be devoted to open discussion.

Cook, Associate Professor

Dr. Cook is associate professor of government at Iowa State and has been on the college staff since 1928. He is a 1922 graduate of Iowa State Teachers college and holds both a Master's and Ph. D. degree from the University of Iowa. His particular field of interest is public administration and he is the author of several publications in that field.

Professor Boles is an instructor in history and government at ISC and is currently working towards his Ph. D. at the University of Wisconsin. His chief field of interest is state government and state law. He has taught American government at Wisconsin and served as a research associate with the Wisconsin conservation department.

Register in Advance

During 1953-55, Mr. Boles served on the Wisconsin Legislative Council as a member of the committee on higher education. A report he submitted on higher education resulted in reorganization of the administrative machinery of the state's institutions of higher learning.

The general public is cordially invited to attend these public affairs meetings. Advance registration is requested, so that mail reminders can be sent to all interested individuals immediately in advance of the meetings. Registrations should be sent to the county extension office at Clarion.

Steenblock Rites Held on Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Immanuel Reformed church for Ida Steenblock, 86, who passed away at her Belmond home last Friday after an extended period of ill health. Rev. O. G. Poppen conducted the rites and Fulton Funeral Home was in charge. Burial was in the Immanuel Reformed cemetery. Pallbearers were: A. W. Loats, Herbert Steenblock, Lester Buseman, Herbert Hill, Peter Steenblock and A. J. Meints.

Ida Bohning was born Dec. 11, 1869, near Freeport, Ill., daughter of Andreas and Gail Bohning. In 1896 she was married to Harm Steenblock. Eight children were born to them, five of whom survive: Mrs. A. W. (Lena) Loats, Mrs. Lester (Ida) Buseman and Mrs. Herbert (Esther) Hill of Belmond; Herbert Steenblock of Green Bay, Wis., and Peter of Los Angeles.

Also surviving are 11 grandchildren, 11 great grandchildren; and two brothers, Will Bohning of Belmond and John Bohning of Clear Lake.

Mrs. Steenblock's husband died in 1939 and she was also preceded in death by two sons, Andrew and Peter, in 1900; and a daughter, Mrs. Annetta Meints, in 1933.

She was a long-time member of the Immanuel Reformed church and was active in its Ladies Aid society as long as her health permitted.

ANYONE FAMILIAR with the generosity that has been shown by Louis Tokman (right) at local bazaars and similar charity affairs will know it wasn't as painful to him as it appears in the above picture when he pasted down a dime during the Jaycees' "Block of Dimes" stunt last week. His fistfull of coins, plus others that were being contributed by Fred Fulton (left) and Mayor Henry Hokel, helped the promotion bring in $135 for the "March of Dimes."

IEL&P Ends 40th Year in Belmond; Plans Many Improvements in '56

Iowa Electric Light and Power company this week marked the 40th anniversary of its first enfranchisement to serve the community of Belmond by announcing plans for extensive improvements to be made in its facilities here and in neighboring towns during the current year.

It was just 40 years ago next Tuesday that voters of Belmond approved by a margin of 80 to 11 the granting of a 25-year franchise to the Iowa Falls Electric company, an early affiliate of the original utilities firm that has become Iowa Electric Light and Power.

In a full page advertisement in this issue, the IEL&P expresses its appreciation for the very fine association it has enjoyed with Belmond and the other towns serviced out of the Belmond office.

"Progress" IEL&P Theme

"Progress" is the theme of the company's message, and it points out that the typical household of 1956 uses almost 9½ times as much electricity as the average 1916 home at a cost slightly less than 2½ times as high.

Manager Cecil Carstens points out that progress is a constant concern of Iowa Light and Power and that it is continually bettering the service it provides its customers. More than $30,000 was spent in Belmond alone last year, according to Mr. Carstens, and plans for improvements here and in other communities in the Belmond division during this year will bring expenditures for 1955-56 up close to the $100,000 mark.

$25,000 for Plant Repair

This does not include more than $25,000 that will be entailed in current repairs to the local IEL&P generating station, made necessary by the generator explosion there several weeks ago. It is costing some $18,000 to rebuild the generator that was damaged, Mr. Carstens says, and another $7,000 for repairs of the two diesel engines.

Throughout the division, improvements this year will entail relocating transformers to better meet distribution loads, installing larger transformers in the distribution system, and trimming trees.

Local Improvements Listed

Power service improvements in Belmond will include installation of new circuit feeders at the sub-station, installing distribution facilities to accommodate the new school area and the growing residential area in the east part of town and providing new and larger primary circuits to serve the south part of town. This will cost an estimated $10,475.

In addition, $13,220 will be spent on gas service improvements. These will include the laying of a new 4-inch tie-in line from the border station northwest of town to the town's gas loop system, a new two-inch tie-in line to serve the south part of town and a new gas main extension to serve the east Belmond residential area.

$7,428 at Alexander

At Alexander, besides relocation of transformers and installation of some larger ones, the sub-station serving the community will be relocated and equipped with larger transformers. Total cost of this

CGD Kitty Nicked For $125

Nearly half of this week's Cash Gift Day "kitty" departed from the fold Tuesday, putting a $125 dent in the CGD fund—which is temporarily at low ebb. That left just $175 to go on next week; but the committee added another $50 so there can be five $25's offered at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday and $100 at 3:00 o'clock. This week's $100 prize winner was Ernie Oscarson, a member of the White Cane fraternity, who one time last year fell heir to a $25 award. Since Blind Aid doesn't exactly provide a plush income, Ernie's friends will be glad that No. 2,678 was so good to him. The unclaimed 3:00 o'clock number was 4,015. Mrs. Stanley Moe presented No. 2,740 to pick up $25. The 2:00 o'clock numbers that WOULD have won were 1,192, 1,906, 3,617.

Manson Minister Will Speak Here

Guest minister at the Congregational church next Sunday will be Rev. Robert Bond, pastor of the Congregational church at Manson. He has been especially active in youth work since graduating from the Oberlin (O.) college's school of theology in 1945, after receiving his B. A. degree from Wayne university, Detroit, Mich., in 1942.

He held pastorates in Minnesota, Nebraska and Kansas before accepting the call to Manson. Before entering the ministry he had an extremely varied career that included experience as a newspaper reporter, postal employee, undertaker's helper, truck driver, salesman, auto factory worker and travel bureau representative.

He has written extensively and has had articles published in a number of church publications. In addition he has been the author of several adult courses for church school use.

The Rev. Mr. Bond has filled a number of positions at the state and district level in the Congregational-Christian Council of Churches. Rev. William Schorman, local Congregational pastor, suggests the fact that his guest's church in 1954 had the largest net increase in attendance of any church in its association bespeaks the visitor's effectiveness as a minister and church leader.

Eighty Per Cent Would Willingly Give Plan Trial

Wright county's farmers, in the poll conducted over the past weekend, showed very vehement approval of some sort of producer-financed advertising and promotion program to support livestock prices. It will be recalled that Wright and Cass counties were selected to conduct sample polls on the proposal—along with a pair of Nebraska counties—to test sentiment on a suggested check-off for meat promotion.

Starting last Thursday, 125 representatives of the county's beef and swine producers, sheep raisers and dairy farmers made a farm-to-farm canvass that reached 1,514 individual farmers. Exactly 80 per cent of those questioned expressed willingness to participate in a self-help program of the type proposed. Three school districts had not been covered when the summary was made.

Three Plans Voted On

Fifty-two per cent of the farmers who declared themselves in favor of a check-off would prefer to see the livestock producers pay into the promotion fund 10 cents for each head of cattle sold on the market, five cents for each hog and 2½ cents for each sheep. Almost as strong a vote was cast for two other plans which would involve a larger contribution per animal.

Slightly better than 27 per cent, or a total of 315, of the approving farmers favored a check-off that would involve a 25-cent payment on cattle, 10 cents on hogs and five cents on sheep. Approximately 21 per cent of the men who voted for a check-off on the questionnaire preferred a five-cent per hundredweight payment on all livestock sold on the market.

Poll Took Four Days

Another one per cent were not opposed to the check-off idea, but were undecided as to preference; and another one per cent prefered not to express any opinion.

Despite something less than the best of road and weather conditions, the small army of poll-takers got their job done in just four days' time. Results of the canvass were computed Wednesday morning at the extension office at Clarion.

It was stressed at the preliminary meeting of livestock producers and other interested residents of the county who gathered a week ago last Thursday at Clarion that the whole proposal is strictly non-political and non-partisan.

Check-off Helped Others

The poll's sole purpose was to determine if the average farmer would or would not stand in favor of a check-off of the type suggested. It was pointed out at that time that the dairy industry and other producers of agricultural products have found self-promotion of their products to be helpful in maintaining a steady and profitable market for their products.

It was estimated by Kenneth Fulk of Des Moines, executive secretary of the Iowa Beef Producers association, that the 10-5-2½ check-off would produce a fund of about $10 million annually; that the 25-10-5 would provide about 22 million; and the five-cent per hundredweight about 28 million.

H. Nelsons Meet Friends of Son's From Natal, S. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Nelson last Thursday at Des Moines had the pleasure of meeting and conversing with several South African friends and neighbors of their missionary son, Rev. Herbert Nelson. The overseas visitors were guests in the home of the Nelson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pratt, at Des Moines. Another daughter, Mrs. Clarence Hopkey of Alexander, shared in the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Hohls, who were accompanied by a daughter, and G. Nuss, all of Kranskop, Natal, South Africa, were the acquaintances of the Rev. Mr. Nelson. They are well-to-do farmers of German extraction, whose forebears had emigrated to Africa as missionaries. Mr. Nuss had brought a son to the States to enroll as a student at Iowa State college.

The property of the visitors is adjacent to the mission where the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson serve in Natal and they have become quite good friends of the Nelsons.

Elliott to Enter Military Service

Dick Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Elliott, returned home Wednesday for a brief stay prior to his marriage Sunday to Audrey Soma and his induction into the armed forces on Feb. 14. He has just completed a semester of graduate study in English at the State University of Iowa, to complete requirements for obtaining a certificate to teach speech and English.

Following his period of military duty, Dick plans to enter the teaching profession in Iowa and intends to complete work towards a Master of Arts degree by taking summer work. He is a 1955 graduate of St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn.

Dr. Beebe Says . . .

"Breeding Weakness Is Common In Dairy Cattle"

THERE HAS BEEN a great change in dairy cattle during the last 25 years. At the turn of the century cows did not produce the milk they do today. At the present time we are producing more milk with fewer cows than we did 25 years ago. High breeding makes for breeding weakness. The heat period may pass unnoticed unless they are pasture bred. For the last few years a drug known as "Sibol" (diethylstilbestrol) has been used to intensify the heat period. It is given hypodermically in 10 cc doses. Usually one dose is sufficient to intensify the period. The animal should not be bred until after the second heat period after injection so that you may be sure that the ovum has been discharged from the ovary. Sibol can also be used for removing uterine debris after calving or abortions. It should be given in 10 cc doses and repeated in 24 hours if all the debris is not expelled.

THE WORLD'S PERIL

AS SCIENCE SOLVES and uses nature's terrible secrets of explosive energy man's sympathies and understanding deepen. People in foreign lands seem nearer and less strange these days. The appalling threat of universal destruction tends to make the whole world kin, bringing the brotherhood of man nearer actuality.

Bonds Sold To D.M. Concern

Becker and Cownie investment firm of Des Moines submitted the successful bid as the county board of supervisors sold the $68,00 jail bond issue Monday at Clarion. Net interest rate of the Des Moines concern figured at 2.33202 per cent. This will entail an actual interest cost of $9,607.93.

There were two other bidders for the bond issue, Carleton Beh company of Des Moines and the Iowa-Des Moines National bank. Beh's net interest rate came to 2.3786 and the bank's 2.3832 per cent.

Bids were more favorable than those received on the $220,000 bond issue sold last summer by Belmond Community School district. These bonds were bid in jointly by Becker and Cownie and the Quail company of Davenport at a 2.58 interest consideration.

The best county bid, however, was considerably over the interest rate at which the First State bank of Belmond bid in the $70,000 in municipal general obligation bonds last fall that were issued to help finance construction of the sewage disposal plant. The local bank was awarded this issue at the highly favorable (to the city) interest rate of approximately 1.9.

"MATT" BARRY

• • •

OBITUARY

MATHEW C. BARRY

Final rites were conducted Jan. 24 at St. Mary's Catholic church, Iowa City, for the late Mathew C. Barry, former mayor of Belmond. Msgr. C. F. Meinberg sang the requiem High Mass and burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery. Pall bearers were members of the Catholic Order of Forresters and the Knights of Columbus, of which Mr. Barry was an active member.

"Matt," as he was affectionately known among his friends and relatives, was born Dec. 12, 1879, on a farm south of Belmond and was one of a family of eight sons and four daughters born to James and Bridget Barry.

He was married on Nov. 23, 1920, to Raymonda Miltner of Iowa City, who at the time was a teacher in the Belmond schools. Two children were born to them, a son and a daughter.

He was preceded in death by six of his brothers—Michael, Frank, Joseph, Rev. Thomas, William and Peter; and by two sisters —Mrs. Julia Blake and Mrs. Kate Ryan.

Surviving are his widow; a son, Richard, of Cedar Rapids; a daughter, Mrs. Everett (Betty) Nitzke of Des Moines; and five grandchildren. He also leaves two sisters, Mary Barry and Mrs. Emil Bock of Belmond; and a brother George, who lives in Cedar Falls but is also a former Belmond resident. A second son, Robert, died in infancy.

Mr. Barry was a Past Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus at Iowa City and financial secretary of the Catholic Order of Forresters. He ws also head usher at St. Mary's church. During the 17 years of his residence in Iowa City he was associated with the S. T. Morrison Insurance company.

He died very suddenly and unexpectedly at his home of a heart attack on Saturday, Jan. 21. Matt's friends were legion, and his pleasant smile and cheery greeting will be missed by the many who knew him and valued his friendship.

Those who knew him best will remember that his major interests in life were his religion, his business and his politics. He was an ardent Democrat and loyal worker in behalf of the party over a span of many years.

JULIA ANN CHAPMAN

Julia Ann Chapman, daughter of Mark and Julia Mae Wilson, was born Nov. 19, 1877, at Stanberry, Mo., and died at Belmond Community hospital on Jan. 24, 1956.

She came to Iowa with her parents at the age of 10 and lived on the Gildersleeve farm five miles south of Belmond. In 1895 she was married to John Edwin Chapman of Twin Lakes. Nine children were born to them, all of whom survive except a daughter, Selma, who died in infancy.

The Chapmans moved to Belmond from the farm in 1920. She was a long-time member of the Congregational church and served as a Sunday school teacher for 17 years. She was president of the Missionary society for several years and held a lifetime appointment as an honorary deaconness.

Mr. Chapman died in 1948. She is survived by six sons and two daughters: John of Goodell, Charles of Kanawha, Mrs. Paul (Daisy) Kringel of Arlington, Va., Harvey of White Bear Lake, Minn., Edwin, Elmer, Mrs. Elmer (Sylvia) Soma and Grant of Belmond.

Also surviving are 22 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren; three brothers — Timothy and William of Belmond and Ben of Minot, N. D.; and three sisters — Mrs. Swen Swenson of Belmond, Mrs. Valley Morehouse of St. Cloud, Minn., and Mrs. Tice Brack of Ledyard.

Funeral services were conducted from the Congregational church on Thursday, Jan. 26, with Fulton Funeral Home in charge and Rev. William Schorman officiating. Burial was in the Belmond cemetery.

LEO DORRS RETURN HOME AFTER LENGTHY CAR TRIP

Mr and Mrs. Leo Dorr, Sr., returned home Monday evening after a month of travel during which they visited Mr. and Mrs. George Hall at Kansas City, Kans., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Henderson at Port Arthur, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peterson at Chicago.

At Chicago, the Dorrs had the pleasure of visiting with two former Belmondites — Boyd Berghefer at nearby Hines VA hospital and Archie Rierson at his suburban store. Mr. Berghefer again expressed deep appreciation for the flood of cards he recently received at the behest of The Mainstreeters.

WORKING AT BANK

Harriett Anderson began work Monday in the First State bank at Belmond. She is a '55 graduate of the Klemme High school. She will make her home with the Leslie Smiths.

ATTENTION, FISHERMEN!

Game Warden Bill Ayers has informed The Independent that the Iowa river through Wright and Hancock counties has been declared open to promiscuous fishing for the rest of the winter season, extending to March 1. The ruling of the state conservation department went into effect last Friday noon. It means that fish can be taken by virtually any method except dynamiting, electrical shock or poisoning.

CLUB GROUP SENT GIFTS

Mrs. C. C. Christie informs The Independent that the Christmas gifts sent to the University hospitals at Iowa City and credited in last week's paper to her and Mr. Christie were actually sent by the American Home division of the Belmond Woman's club. The error apparently arose from the fact that Mrs. Christie mailed the package and had her return address on it.

HEARS HOEGH, MAYTAG

Ellis Elliott of Elliott Hardware and Appliances was among the top Maytag dealers from Iowa and five bordering states who on Tuesday of last week heard Gov. Leo Hoegh and Fred Maytag II, the company president, speak at a meeting held at Des Moines. Purpose of the meeting was the unveiling of three new Maytag appliances — an all-fabric automatic washing machine and matching no-vent dryer and a double-decker combination refrigerator-freezer.

Home Economics Grant Announced

A scholarship of $250 for two consecutive years of college study in home economics is to be awarded to some eligible Iowa high school senior girl by the Iowa Home Economics association. Its purpose is to encourage girls to enter home economics training, since home economists are greatly needed in all the professional fields.

To be eligible for this scholarship, a girl must be a graduating Iowa senior, in general good health and in the upper fourth of her class. She must have studied home economics in high school and must have shown interest and aptitude in home economics by active participation in 4-H or FHA. She must be in need of financial assistance to be able to enter college and plan to attend and graduate from an accredited college in Iowa.

Belmond Locals

The John Davids family visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kienenberger at Goodell Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kepley and children of Mason City visited in the Harm Braner home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bonte and Mr. and Mrs. Harm Braner visited John Harberts at Eagle Grove last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Buchanan and children of Mason City visited Sunday in the Ted Buchanan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harson and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harson of Kanawha and Mr. and Mrs. Else Pals and children of Waterloo were supper guests Sunday evening in the Bernard Davenport home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reasoner and children spent Sunday in the Russell Reasoner home at Crystal Lake.

Rhea Campbell returned Friday evening after a two-week visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stevens at Cedar Rapids. Mrs. Stevens and Rhea are cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stevens and family visited Sunday and Monday at the home of Mrs. Stevens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Rossell, at Lewis.

LITTLE GIRL DIES

Donnetta Peterson 19-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peterson, died at Belmond Community hospital Wednesday morning of acute laryngeo-tracheo bronchitis. She had been admitted only the day before. Funeral arrangements had not been completed as The Independent went to press but details can be obtained from Johnston Funeral Home.

TWO MEN INDUCTED

Induction of two Wright county selective service registrants has been announced by Golda B. Hecox, clerk of the Wright county local board. Laurent Andrew Grandgeorge of Woolstock was inducted into the Army on Tuesday of last week and Harlan Eugene Clark of Eagle Grove last Monday.

IEL&P—

work has been budgeted at $7,428. Transformer improvements, plus providing the community with three-phase circuits, will make work at Goodell run $2,900.

Distribution improvements at Rowan will cost $8,847 and at Galt, $2,500. To serve Coulter, a new 13,200-volt feeding sub-station and accompanying feed line will make the total cost of proposed improvements come to $15,251.

Times Have Changed

"Both the electrical service provided today, and the use made of it by the public, are vastly different from the electrical service and the way it was utilized in 1916," Mr Carstens says. The power company of that day found it difficult to get commercial enterprises to take advantage of the conveniences offered by electricity. Many a store was illuminated by a single light bulb and used electricity in no other way.

"Today, you can almost count on one hand the number of business firms that do not use enough electricity each month to take advantage of the lowest offered rate of 2.6 cents per kilowatt hour. And the modern home, with its innumerable labor-saving appliances, puts to shame the reluctance of early-day businessmen to put the magic of electricity to work for them."

ANOTHER HOSPITAL GIFT

Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen of the Belmond Community Hospital Auxiliary memorials committee announces that an additional gift of $12 to the hospital has been received from friends of the late Gladys Darrah. An earlier gift of $106 had been reported last week.

Mrs. O. Sandberg Dies Day Before Reaching Age 90

Funeral services for Mrs. Olander Sandberg were held at 1:30 p. m. Sunday at the Fulton Funeral Home in Belmond and at 2:00 p. m. at the Goodell EUB church, with the Rev. Park E. Miller officiating.

Mrs. Henry Brede and Mrs. Park E. Miller sang, with Mrs. Paul Veldhouse as accompanist. Pallbearers were Ira Langlitz, Howard Dominy, Robert Schneider, Ernie Kurtz, Walter Boller and Harold Savogue. Burial was in the Amsterdam Cemetery.

Elna Stjernquist, the last survivor of a family of seven children, was born Jan. 27, 1866, at Finja in Sweden and passed away last Thursday, just one day before her 90th birthday. She was confirmed in the Lutheran faith and was a member of that church.

In 1892 she came to Dixon, Ill., and June 27, 1893 was married to Olander Sandberg in their home in Dixon. They had been friends from childhood. In September of 1902 the Sandberg family moved to Goodell, which has since been their home.

Mrs. Sandberg affiliated with the Goodell EUB church and was a charter member of the Ladies Aid, which she had served as treasurer during her more active years.

Mrs. Sandberg had not been feeling well the past six weeks and Jan. 20 entered the Belmond Community hospital, where she passed away.

Survivors include her husband; four children, Edith and Mrs. Amos (Selma) Hanson at home, Henning Sandberg of Clear Lake and Maj. Carl R. Sandberg of Hampton, now serving with the Army Engineers in Greenland; 10 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

A daughter, Mrs. Earl (Hazel) Jenison of Belmond, preceded her in death in 1949, and a granddaughter in 1930.

Many From Away At Sandberg Rites

Relatives and friends coming from a distance for the funeral of Mrs. Olander Sandberg on Sunday were Mrs. Theo. Staube of West Brooklyn, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. George King of Lee Center, Ill., Robert E. Sandberg of Fairfield, Mr. and Mrs. James Hanson of Hartland, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hanson of Claremont, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Jenison and Donald Faust of Marshalltown, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hanson of Ames, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilbert Jones of Mason City, Mrs. Carl R. Sandberg and Bill of Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fenske and granddaughter Patty Fenske of Blue Earth, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlichting of Ventura.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Don and Shirley of Manly, John Hanson of Britt, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sandberg, Leo Gribben and Al Enabnit of Clear Lake, Mrs. L. Wilkie, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Benson of Kanawha, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Christenson, Woden, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frick and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walton of Britt besides many relatives and friends from Garner, Klemme, Meservey and Belmond.

98TH BIRTHDAY MARKED

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Johnson accompanied his sisters of Kanawha to Mason City on Jan. 15 to help their father, A. A. Johnson, celebrate his 98th birthday. They took birthday cakes for him and other folks who are living at the Good Samaritan home.

Terry Johnson of Belmond, who attends Waldorf college at Forest City visited Saturday in the Sandberg and William Janssen homes.

Mrs. Clyde Hurst and Mrs. George Stille will be hostesses to the Legion Auxiliary this (Thursday) evening at the Hurst home at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. H. O. Sandberg of Clear Lake spent Monday in the parental O. Sandberg home.

Mrs. Jess Thoreson concluded a month's stay in the parental L. H. Wilson home and left Friday for her home in Chambersburg, Pa.

Mrs. Dolvin Miland and son, who was born Jan. 25, were dismissed Monday from the Belmond Community hospital.

Goodell folks have received invitations from Mr. and Mrs. Don Pettibone of Moravia to the wedding of their daughter Virginia Ann to Delwyn Dale Brede, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brede of Goodell. It will be Sunday at 2:00 p. m., Feb. 12, at the Grace Methodist church in Moravia with a reception in the church parlors.

Mrs. A. G. McMullen of Early recently went to Downey, Calif., to visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernie Culp. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Evenson and four sons of Fort Dodge recently returned from a week's visit with the Culps. Mrs. Evenson and Mrs. Culp are sisters.

Mrs. Matt Smith recently received word from her daughter, Mrs. Austin Child in Los Angeles, Calif., that the Clarence Swalve family who live there and his mother, Mrs. Francis Swalve, who is spending the winter there called on them last Sunday.

Faye Janssen, student at ISTC, Cedar Falls, spent the weekend in the parental William Janssen home.

Mrs. Vernon Van Der Kamp and daughter Linne Louise, were dismissed Saturday from the Belmond Community hospital. She was born January 22.

Mrs. Theodore Staubli of West Brooklyn, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. George King of Lee Center, Ill., visited the forepart of the week in the home of the ladies uncle. O. Sandberg. They came to attend the funeral of Mrs. Sandberg.

AVERY SUNBEAMS

Avery Sunbeams 4-H club meeting was held in the home of Kathleen James. The meeting was call-to order with the flag pledge and roll call was answered by the 10 members saying "The First Improvement that I Plan to Make in My Home." We all enjoyed making booklets for our 4-H clippings and pictures.

FEBRUARY, 7th Marks the 40th ANNIVERSARY Of Our First Franchise To Serve Belmond

PROGRESS Beyond the Fondest Dreams of Any of Us Has Been Witnessed in These Four Decades

WHEN THE VOTERS of Belmond on Feb. 7, 1916, approved granting a franchise to the Iowa Falls Electric company—which was one of the first affiliates of the parent company that is today Iowa Electric Light and Power — the issue was carried by a resounding 80-to-11 majority.

THIS DEMONSTRATION of your community's confidence in our ability to serve you and serve you well was most gratifying at the time. As the years have passed, you have confirmed that confidence in several subsequent franchise elections; and each time we have accepted the result as a renwed responsibility bearing on us to serve you the very best we can.

FOUR DECADES AGO, we were familiarly nicknamed "the electric light company," because lighting your homes, business places and streets was our primary job. Today, the "power" phase of our service is one of constantly increasing significance. Not just power to run your industries and perform multiple chores for your businesses; but power to operate the many home appliances that are the hallmark of the American way of life and bespeak the highest standard of living any nation as ever enjoyed.

THE PROGRESS of which we speak has brought about ever continuing improvement in the facilities and services of the power industry. These improvements have brought about vastly increased supplies of electricity for light and power purposes at steadily diminishing cost. These savings in cost have been freely and regularly passed on to you, our customers.

TO BETTER APPRECIATE how truly and how extensively you have benefited by the reduced costs brought about by bigger and better facilities to generate and distribute power, we invite you to note below a comparison of rates that were approved in our original franchise and those that prevail today.

Here's What Our Rates Were Back In 1916

ELECTRICITY FOR LIGHTS

Per kilowatt hour for first 10 kilowatt hours	15c
Per kilowatt hour for next 20 kilowatt hours	10c
Per kilowatt hour for all over 30 kilowatt hours	8c

GUESS THERE ARE TWO WAYS TO TREAT A SITUATION; FACE IT — OR IGNORE IT

Although we have sometimes looked back enviously upon the days when editors allowed themselves the pleasure of verbal duels with no holds barred, we have rarely allowed ourself the indulgence of engaging in such a wrangle. However, the time has come to grasp our sword and raise our shield. In the Clarion Monitor of week before last, Editor Wiley Beveridge took exception editorially to some earlier comments of ours in the following sarcastic fashion:

"One of Wright county's erudite editors recently waxed eloquent on the old, old theme that all Wright county supervisors should be elected at large instead of by districts. His point in advocating such a plan is that it would reduce competition between supervisors for equipment and road improvements. The Monitor thinks such a cure would be worse than the evils, such as they appear to be. . . ."

Now we respect the right of every man to form his own opinions. And Mr. Beveridge is entitled to his, regardless of the flimsy foundations upon which they may be formed in this particular instance.

The Independent has been deeply concerned over the regrettably low level to which government administration has descended in Wright county. Mr Beveridge has been concerned not a whit. Quite the contrary, he has been effusive in his praise of the supervisors whenever the opportunity presented itself.

He condemns the idea of electing supervisors at large — which we recommended to the extent of suggesting that "the advantages should be given serious study" — by observing, "Voters know what supervisor represents them and they place responsibility for any condition directly upon him."

How true, how true! The result is that currying favor of the constituents in their district has led our supervisors on all too many occasions to indulge in practices that were opposed to the common good of the county. We KNOW from a source of unquestionable dependability that completely superflous purchases of road equipment have resulted from district rivalry. We KNOW — and can prove — that practices contrary to sound administration and skirting legality HAVE been followed in performing "favors" to constituents. We can't feel that to have the loyalty of the supervisors directed to the county as a whole, rather than a geographical portion thereof, would be opposed to "sound principle of government" as Mr. Beveridge so self-righteously declares.

Our brother scribe has in the past been wont to examine the faults of our county government with all the inquisitiveness of the Three Monkeys, "See No Evil, Hear No Evil and Speak No Evil." Last year we published a critique on the supervisors' practices and policies based on some general comments of Assistant Engineer Arthur Hinderman of the state highway commission. He was openly critical of the manner in which Iowa counties have tolerated mounting costs for maintenance, which have involved great waste and sacrificed progressive construction programs. We made clear why Wright could be considered one of the worst of the lot. . . . Mr. Hinderman also sharply condemned the extravagant purchases of road equipment which had seen Iowa's county boards laying out $4,600,000 annually over a four-year period and depreciating the machinery off their books in an average of 4½ years' time. The Independent demonstrated that Wright's equipment purchases surpassed the "extravagant" average by TWO AND A HALF TIMES, involving depreciation at the rate of 2½ years' use.

The week after this editorial appeared, Mr. Beveridge consoled the supervisors with a kindly pat on the back and an apology that they should be so misunderstood in some quarters!

When the announcement came out about the proposed, county road-building program, Mr. Beveridge pontifically commented "It is something the Monitor has been advocating and urging for some time" and that it should "reduce maintenance costs which are unavoidable under present conditions." He didn't point out, as did The Independent, that the supervisors are going to find it necessary to spend one sum of more that $100,000 a year TWICE . . . IF they both carry on the construction program as planned AND continue to put the "unavoidable" hundreds of thousands into maintenance that they have in the past.

We'll readily confess we've written editorials more than once in the past that we didn't more than half know what we were talking about. All editors do. But we de DO know whereof we speak when we get on the subject of our county government. You might say we ARE "erudite," where that particular matter is concerned.

Futhermore, we feel most deeply that a situation exists in the administration of our county government that drastically calls for correction. A nambylpamby, Pollyanna-ish tolerance of it has prevailed for too long. And it has been nurtured by the attitude demonstrated by our neighbor across the way.

CENTENNIAL PLANNING OFF TO GOOD START, BUT CALLS FOR COOPERATION

A belated but encouraging start towards organizing a Belmond Centennial celebration was made eWdnesday night of last week as a fine turnout of representative citizens gathered at the city hall to get the ball rolling. There seems every reason to feel assured that the significant occasion of our 100th "birthday" will be fittingly observed.

There is much work ahead for those who will bear responsibility for planning the event — and implementing those plans. But a most gratifying willingness to cooperate was in evidence at the meeting, at which a large majority of Belmond's service, social and church groups were represented.

What particularly pleased some of the most avid proponents of a centennial celebration that will "do us proud" was a noticeable trend away from overweening concern regarding its cost. It was unanimously agreed that simplicity should be the keynote; that "respect to the past should be paid in the spirit of the past" and that extravagance would be foreign both to the purpose of the event and to the spirit of the occasion. So that's settled!

It is honestly believed by those who have had a major part in the preliminary planning that a centennial can be put on with a budget of peanut size, compared to those that have been required to finance some similar events in this vicinity. BUT, some of those dollars can be saved only by willing devotion of personal time and effort to the cause.

Keep this in mind, when you're asked to fill some role in the preparations or are called upon for cooperation in any connection. We have a 100-year history we can be proud of. Let's make sure we can take corresponding pride in the manner of our centennial observance.

Broncos Forced to Come from Behind But Get Job Done at F. C., 55 to 45

It took the Broncos three quarters of play to get into gear at Forest City last Friday night, but once they began to mesh as a team it was curtains for the hard-striving Indians. The 55-45 victory enabled Belmond to pull back into fourth place in the North Iowa conference standings with a 4-5 record.

In the first quarter, the score changed hands six times and was tied at 10-all before the Broncos slipped into a 12-10 lead as the period ended. They stretched their advantage to 14-10 as play resumed, but then were unable to tally until Forest City had surged in front, 17-14.

Broncs Lead at Half

First one, then the other team edged ahead during the remainder of the stanza. Larry Schimp finally gave Belmond a 24-23 halftime advantage on a basket that whipped in about five seconds ahead of the intermission buzzer.

Forest City took command in the third quarter, promptly gaining a 25-24 lead and then stretching its margin to 34-28 before the Broncos started their come-back. In approximately the last 12 minutes of the fray, Belmond outscored the host team 27 to 11.

It helped that both Tom Bartleson and Ordean Fredrickson sat out part of that span of time with four fouls each. Frederickson and Jim Hanson both left the floor on fouls late in the game, as did Jerry Chandler with a few seconds to go.

Veteran Five Started

As the third period neared its end, "Joe" Smith, Schimp and Chandler collected fielders in quick succession to give Belmond a 37-34 bulge entering the final canto. The Broncs steadily padded their margin, stretching it to 53-43 with a little under three minutes to go, and control ball did the trick from there on out.

Coach Dick Hobbs started Smith, Tom Lowenberg, Dale Caquelin, Chandler and Schimp and the five veterans came through with well balanced scoring performances. Schimp contributed 15 points, Chandler 13, Caquelin and Lowenberg nine each, and Smith seven. Bill Murray and Dave Long were used in relief, and all the other members of the squad got a taste of action in the closing moments of the battle.

Bartleson Top Scorer

Tom Bartleson was the only consistent scoring threat for the Indians. He hit five baskets in each half to take scoring honors for the night with 20 points.

The Purple and White froshmores had to swallow a bitter pill in the curtain-raiser. They led throughout the game, at one time being in front by 16 points in the third stanza and still holding a 34-23 advantage entering the last quarter, but succumbed 40-39 on a late basket by Ted Nilssen. It looked like one that couldn't possibly get away — but it did.

Nilssen tallied 19 points to be high-point man. Bill Kaufman caged 11 and Kenny Hawley 10 for the losers.

Hobbs Takes Over As Varsity Coach

On Wednesday of last week, Charles Branstetter's resignation as high school basketball coach was accepted by the Belmond school board and Dick Hobbs was appointed to assume responsibility for coaching the varsity squad.

Mr. Branstetter had been varsity coach since the start of the current season and Mr. Hobbs has been freshman-sophomore coach. The latter will continue as froshmore coach, also.

When questioned by The Independent, Supt. Don Faris emphasized that the won-and-lost record of the varsity team during the current season in no degree whatever prompted the change in the coaching staff.

He explained that the action was precipitated by a voluntary admission on the part of Mr. Branstetter that he believed it would serve the best interests of the team and the school if he were relieved of his coaching assignment.

Upset of Vikings Would Make Them Share NIC Title

Tomorrow night the Belmond Broncos will travel to Northwood for their next-to-last game of the regular NIC season. It's a game which, in the light of comparative records to date, should see the Vikings a prohibitive favorite despite the fact that they were able to win an earlier joust on the Belmond floor by only a 45-44 margin.

Northwood will have everything to win — and great deal to lose, for all that stands between the Vikings and undisputed ownership of this season's basketball championship is a victory over the Broncs. A loss, on the other hand, would force them to share the title with Lake Mills. So it's clear that the Northwood gang will be determined to add another loss to Belmond's string.

However, Bronco fans see in Friday night's game an opportunity for the Broncos to demonstrate that they're much more of a ball team than their standing in the conference would serve to demonstrate. An upset decision over Northwood would go a long way towards taking away the sting of the unexpected defeats that the Broncs suffered in all too great numbers this year.

Since they will have everything to gain and literally nothing to lose in their battle with the Vikings, the Purple and White cagers can be counted on to go all out in their effort to give the dope bucket a healthy kick. It's a big order, with Northwood enjoying home floor advantage and the added inspiration of sole claim to the crown hanging in the balance. It is very possibly too big an order—but the Broncs are champing at the bit, and it's likely that the Vikings have a rough ride ahead of them.

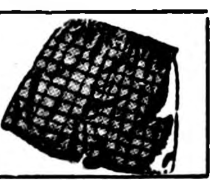
Colts Take Easy Win Over Rowan

Belmond's 8th graders racked up a 26-14 basketball victory at Rowan last Friday afternoon as Mark Mason led the way with 14 points. It was a close game until late in the third period, when the Colts went on a scoring rampage that clinched matters.

Following Mason in scoring for Belmond were Jim Crotty with five points, Dean Pals and Dennis Pastour with four each. Simmons was high point man for the losers with nine.

Postponement of the return game with Rowan here Friday was necessary due to an earlier commitment on the Rowan schedule.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS



Lake Mills is clearly headed for a new all-time offensive average for North Iowa conference play this season. At the end of 10 games, the Bulldogs had averaged 71.5 points per game. Best previous scoring average for an NIC campaign was chalked up by last year's Lake Mills aggregation, 68.6. The 1955 champion Broncos averaged exactly 61 points per outing.

Through the first 10 rounds of play, the offensive record appeared to be the only team mark headed for discard — unless Forest City took some terrific drubbings in its final three tilts to acquire the worst defensive average ever.

That dubious distinction at present belongs to Britt. The Eagles gave up an average of 68 points per game last year. Up to, but not including, their game Friday with the Broncos, the Indians had allowed their loop foes just shade under 67 points per game in nine starts. Offenses have been steadily becoming more potent, and defenses leakier, in recent years.

—PSS—

For curiosity's sake, we checked our files to see just how conference offensive and defensive records stack up for the past five years (including the current season). Through Tuesday of last week, Lake Mills had the best offense this season with that 71.5 points and Buffalo Center the worst with only 50.2. The Bulldogs' defense also was tops, allowing on the average of only 53.9 points; while Forest City's 67 was the worst.

We might note in passing that Coach John Holmen's Britt crew — the surprise outfit of the '55-56 season — has been averaging 61 points on offense and allowing 61.4 defensively. Those figures combine to represent about a 15-point improvement over the Eagles' 1954-55 record, when they averaged only 53.7 per game (for the loop's worst offense) and surrendered 68 per game (worst defense, too).

As noted above, Lake Mills had the highest-scoring outfit a year ago with a 68.6 average; and Belmond's 51.25 defensive mark was best of the lot. The 1954 champion Broncos were tops in both offense and defense, with averages of 55.8 and 43.25, respectively. Worst offense that season was Northwood's, which was able to manufacture only 43.8 points per game; and Britt's defense was the least effective, giving up an average of 60.4 points.

—PSS—

In 1952-53, Garner's title-winning Cardinals reigned supreme on offense with a 61.7 average and the third-place Broncos were the weakest on scoring with a skimpy 44.7 average. But Belmond's defense was the most rugged, allowing foes and average of only 40 points. Britt again had the worst defense, the Eagles' average being 59.25.

The champion Lake Mills Bulldogs were offensive leaders in 1951-52 with a 60-point average and Britt brought up the rear with a 44-point average. The runner-up Broncos' defense was toughest at 41.7 per game; and Northwood's had the most holes in it as the Vikings were touched for 59 points per game.

With four games yet to play when these statistics were assembled. Belmond was headed for a deficit — offense compared to defense — for the first time in the five-year span of time unless the Broncs' fortunes took a sudden turn for the better. With eight games behind them, the Broncos had been scoring at a 58.5 clip (not bad) but allowing the opposition 62.5 (ouch!).

the FORD V-8

It performs better!

Performance made the Ford V-8 the world's best-selling eight over the past 24 years! And in the new Ford Thunderbird V-8, you get the most powerful eight, at no extra cost, in the low-price field. It's the standard eight for all Fairlane and Station Wagon models this year.

It looks better!

The long, low lines of the Ford give it a distinctive sports-car flair. Ford's ornamentation gives it a personality—entirely apart from cars that strive to look alike! And inside the new Fords, you find sharply-defined beauty that's a perfect complement to exterior styling.

It keeps you safer!

Only Ford in its field can offer you the extra protection of Lifeguard Design. It's a whole new family of safety features which are designed to guard you from hazards which cause over half of the serious car-accident injuries. See all of the new Lifeguard features at your Ford Dealer's.

It's priced lower!

In virtually every model that's equipped the way more and more people want their cars, Ford's price is the lowest! Ford has a lasting value that for years has made Ford cars worth more as trade-ins, too! See for yourself why Ford is worth more when you buy—worth more when you sell!

VOL. 36 NO. 18 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Ask, and ye shall learn. . . .When we wondered in print a while back how county savings bond quotas are arrived at by the savings bonds division of the U. S. Treasury, the item reached the eyes of Jack Row of Clarion, area sales manager for the division. He gave us a ring to fill us in on the matter. The information made one thing very clear.

Wright countians can count their blessings as they consider the fact that their quota, on a per capita purchase basis, ranks among the highest in the state. For quite logically, the ABILITY to buy determines how high a quota a particular county is assigned.

Jack says that a set formula is employed in ascertaining said "ability to buy." It is based on 50 per cent on bond sales in the county for about the past 5½ years, 20 per cent on total bank deposits, 15 per cent on sales tax receipts and 15 per cent on farm income. It is apparent that not ALL Wright countians are "livin' it up."

—M-S—

While an incentive award that Jack received last week for coming up with a payroll savings plan for bond purchases by factory workers had a "book value" of $120, Mr. Row admits that his employer — the U. S. Treasury department — got $12 of it back via "deduct" before he even got the check! Doesn't even make any difference if you WORK for these people.

—M-S—

Orval Thayer of Burchinall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thayer, had an unusual experience about 10 days ago while he and his family were headed toward California to escape Iowa's winter. En route to Kingman, Ariz., they spotted on open ranch land an object reluctantly earthbound and waving in the breeze. They stopped to investigate and discovered it to be a military weather balloon. Appended to it was an instrument box with attached parachute.

As Orval was detaching the box and 'chute, preparatory to releasing the helium from the balloon, the latter took off —much to the dismay of the Thayer's son Lynn, who will be two in March. He wailed in disappointment, "Ball gone! Ball gone!" That night at bedtime he was still bemoaning the "ball's" escape.

Fastened to the instrument box was an instruction card telling where it should be turned in if found. Orval handed it over to the r[illegible] (apparently at Kingman). R[illegible], who passed the tale on to us, wondered if it might have been one of the GMI balloons released periodically at Minneapolis. We'd suspect it more likely went up from the guided-missile proving grounds at White Sands, N. M., or one of the many U. S. Air Force installations in that section of the country.

—M-S—

Quite a demonstration of family cooperation has been put on by Jim Havens and his father-in-law the past few weeks, in order that the Model Cleaners' proprietor could be with his wife for the birth of their third child — and a while following. Lloyd Garver of Corydon has been conducting his son-in-law's cleaning business here, and Jim has been running Mr. Garver's Nu-Way Cleaners down at Corydon. As may be learned in this week's "Hello World," it was a boy (the Havens' second) — born Feb. 1.

—M-S—

We got a surprise when we went to look up the picture of Clair Christie to run with the Who's Who article on him that appears in this issue. Whaddya know! No picture! Seems "Chris" filled out one of the questionnaires we had distributed to the prospective photo subjects—then didn't come around to look at the birdie. That is why the story's there, minus the beaming Christie countenance.

—M-S—

While The Independent is indulging in considerable fooferaw today due to Mrs. Mamie Chase's attaining the nice, round age of 100 on Friday, it should not be forgotten that we have a strong runner-up in the Venerability Sweepstakes.

On Saturday, John Darrah—father of the late Gladys Darrah—will reach the age of 99 years. He'll be observing the occasion at Belmond Community hospital, where he's been cared for since August of 1954.

Last year, The Independent reported the doin's with which the hospital staff celebrated John's 98th. The personnel are cooking up another "party," complete with cake and an appropriate rendition of "Happy Birthday," to mark the event.

CHRISTENSEN IN USAF

Richard Christensen, a 1954 graduate of Belmond High school, on Jan. 16 enlisted in the U. S. Air Force. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Christensen, now of Klemme but formerly of Belmond. Richard is getting his basic training at Parks AFB in California.

50 Dollars Found Owners

A couple of $25 Cash Gift Day prizes — perhaps to go towards spring wardrobes?— were picked off Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. They went to Mrs. Otis Nelson and Mrs. George Smith on numbers 2,319 and 1,543, respectively. Numbers NOT turned in a 2:00 p. m. were 2,860, 2,711 and 4,257. The 3:00 o'clock number that WOULD have been worth $100 was 2,374. The CGD committee will [illegible] same amount in [illegible] Tuesday, $225. Wright Countian Program Speaker At 4-H'er Parley

A fresh slant on the role that 4-H leaders are expected to play in the club movement was brought home by Wright county delegates who attended the recent State 4-H Leaders' Recognition Day held at Iowa State college, Ames. Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county home economist, reports that the days' activities were very worthwhile from the start of the program until it concluded with a dinner in the evening.

Craig Nelson, leader of the Liberty Pathfinders 4-H boys club and one of the Wright county representatives, appeared on the program as one of the speakers. Others were Marvin Anderson, associate director of the agricultural and home economics extension service: G A. Lineweaver and Esther Whetstone, state 4-H leaders; Paul Barger and Ramona Esbeck of the Black Hawk county extension staff; and Dean Helen LeBaron of the ISC division of home economics.

A welcome was spoken by F. H. McCarron, vice president of the Iowa Chain Store Council, which provided the dinner through a grant of funds to the college.

Johnsons Celebrate Major Remodeling Of Tip Top with Big "Grand Opening"

This week Harold and A. W. "Doc" Johnson see the realization of a dream in the grand opening of the "new," greatly enlarged and completely modernized Tip Top Super Valu grocery. Since they formed their partnership 18 years ago, they've been working towards the goal that their present, fine business establishment represents.

"Doc" and his wife 20 years ago brought from Mrs. Anna Bump the grocery store that was operated in the first frame building standing on Main street east of Lloyd's Standard service. A little over a year later, when he and Harold went into partnership, they purchased the west half of the present property on which their store stands. It was, at the time, occupied by the A. W. Hill furniture store.

Both Jacobson "Alumni"

When "Doc" entered the grocery business in his own right, he already had acquired a good deal of experience in the business, having started working at Oscar Jacobson's store as a youth of 13 and after six years there accepting employment in Carl Miller's City Meat Market.

Harold also is an "alumnus" of the Jacobson store; but he deserted a job as Dodge and Plymouth salesman for George Hake to join with his brother in the business that they then, and still, own wholly between them.

The process of improvement and expansion has been steady since the Johnson brothers joined forces. First major step was to install in the original Tip Top the cold storage locker that they tore out last fall to make available their present spacious sales floor area.

Expanded 11 Years Ago

About 11 years ago they bought from Rena Purdy the property that adjoined their store to the east and was occupied by a frame building that served as a veterinary office for Dr. R. E. Coe. During World War II they tore this structure down and built on the east half of the Tip Top. About four years later they extended the whole store to within five feet of the alley line.

With completion of their latest expansion and improvement program, the Johnsons have added nearly 35 per cent to the area devoted to stock display. They now have three new frozen food cases, two 12-foot units offering frozen fruits and vegetables and one of equal size devoted to ice cream. There's 35 more feet of island displays than before.

Meats Pre-Packaged

"Doc's" particular pride and joy is the new, 24-foot case for self-serve, fresh meats. It is adjoined by a 12-foot case for frozen

Year's Gross Next To Best Attained, So Near As Known

Members of the Belmond Cooperative Creamery during their annual business meeting yesterday at the IOOF hall heard Manager Curtis Rise report that total income from dairy products in 1955 exceeded the previous year's gross by better than $30,000. This made the year 1955 the next-to-best in the creamery's long history.

Specifically, dairy products income last year came to $385,649.45 compared to 1954's $355,518.44 and 1953's record gross of $388,150. The past year was also significant in that it was the third year in a row — and only the fourth on record — that the creamery's butter output exceeded a half million pounds.

Co-op's Biggest Butter Year

Total pounds of butter manufactured came to 527,590 pounds. This more than 18,000 pounds in excess of 1954's total of 509,270 and even surpassed 1953's 526,624 pounds. This is a production record for the creamery since it became a cooperative in 1944; and although records are not available to back up the surmise, it seems entirely possible that it may be an all-time high for the business.

Dividends zoomed this past year, too. Out of $8,227.48 left as an undistributed balance after operating expenses had been met — another record for the Co-op — $6,875 was set aside for patronage dividends. Only $3,167 was split as dividends last year; and in the "big year" of '53, the dividends were over a thousand less, at $5,834.

Assets Nearly $90,000

Assets went up further, reaching $89,852. This was a gain of about $11,000 over '54. Mr. Rise said that about 40 per cent of the assets represents investment in the local plant and about 30 per cent in the regional plants in which the Co-op has an interest, the Tri-County Drying association plant at Whittemore and State Brand Creameries.

Manager Rise pointed out that the 1955 operation saw a continuation of the trend toward purchases in the form of whole milk, rather than cream. Milk purchases increased from $29,321 in 1954 to $38,588. He stated that about 60 per cent of the creamery's volume is now in the form of milk and that this department netted about $11,000, which went a long way towards defraying the operating expense of $36,954.

$304,000 to Patrons

Total amount paid to patrons in 1955 were up $20,000 over the previous year, reaching slightly more than $304,000. This figure exceeded even the sum paid in 1953 by $3,600.

As to physical improvements made at the plant the past year, Mr. Rise reported that a new plate cooler was installed to expedite refrigeration and a new ceiling was constructed and new lighting added in the processing room.

In the election conducted during Wednesday morning's business meeting both Henry G. Mennenga and George Crawford were reeected as directors.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Mrs. Jack Lansing and Mrs. Russell Schaal offer a reminder of the bridge tournament that their divisions of the St. Francis church Rosary society are holding Saturday and Monday evenings at IOOF hall. Competition will be by pairs and trophies will go to members of both the high and low teams. Paul Stehly of Fort Dodge is conducting the tourney.

Taylor Will Head Up Centennial

M. E. "Gus" Taylor has accepted chairmanship of the general committee that last Sunday afternoon assumed responsibility for over-all planning of Belmond's Centennial celebration. Appointment of Mr. Taylor and six other members on the committee was approved at a meeting of organization representatives held at the city hall.

Also on the committee are: Mrs. S. P. Leinbach, Matilda Skovlin, C. C. Carstens, Fred Fulton, Bert Kalkwarf and Warren Thompson. It is reported by Dwight Tyrrell, chairman of the nominating committee, that this list comprised the general committee exactly as drafted by his group.

Beards Soon to Bloom

All members of the nominating committee were highly gratified at the ready willingness of these individuals to accept their responsible assignments.

Mr. Taylor reports that Local No. 25 of the American Federation of Grain Millers — the "General Mills union" — has agreed to serve as the whisker committee. It is already actively laying plans for producing a local bumper crop of face foliage, beginning in the very near future, and is drawing up rules and regulations.

Volunteers Solicited

Union President Eldon Boyd, who is already in the process of growing a formidable "beaver," says that Shaving Permits will be available before long to members of the local gentry not disposed to "let 'em grow." The permits will be obtainable at a price; and Eldon says if participation in the beard-growing competition isn't pretty general, the stunt stands to be a good money-maker for the centennial finance committee.

Chairman Taylor will welcome volunteers in the way of either individuals or groups to undertake specific jobs in relation to the centennial preparations. He and his group planned to hold their first meeting last night at the city hall and get at the task of making committee assignments.

Lions Now Boast Eye Kit; 2nd Iowa Club So Equipped

Belmond this week became the first town in Iowa, except Iowa City, to boast a kit for removal and shipment of donated eyes to the Iowa Lions Eye Bank at State University Hospitals, Iowa City. Dr. P. A. Rietz, Lions club president, told club members at their meeting Monday noon at Jones cafe that the equipment had been received just that morning.

Iowa City's Lions, as initiators of the eye bank program, have had a sterile kit and shipment container for several weeks. It is planned to renew efforts to sign up potential donors in Belmond and vicinity now that the local club is prepared to ship eyes to Iowa City.

Martin Qualen, director, reported that the cast of the Lions' second annual minstrel show to raise funds for the clubs student aid fund is now in rehearsal. The production will take to the boards at the BHS auditorium on March 1-2.

President Rietz also informed the club that the education committee recently made the first loan from the Lions' student aid fund. A 1955 graduate of BHS was in need of added funds to permit his return to college for the second semester of the current school year and was advanced a sufficient amount by the committee that he could continue with his studies.

Jr. Hi-High School PTA on Feb. 15th

A panel discussion on the subject of "School and Social Activities of Junior High and High School Students" will comprise the major feature of the PTA program scheduled for next Wednesday evening at the BHS auditorium. This will be a meeting of the junior high-high school Parent-Teachers unit and will start at 8:00 o'clock.

Rev. M. L. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church, will be discussion moderator. Adults on the panel will be: Principal Clair Hugh, representing the high school faculty; Jeannette Van Drie, junior high; and as spokesmen for the parents, Luin Cox, Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., and Mrs. Donald Burk, the latter of Goodell.

Students on the panel will be: Loretta Fuller of Goodell, senior; Joan Kriens, junior; John Studebaker, sophomore; and Gloria Rogalla, freshman. These panel members were selected by the high school Student Council.

There will be opportunity for audience participation in the discussion, also. Among the questions to be delved into is whether there are too many extra-curricular activities vying for the students' time — particularly the boys and girls in high school.

There will be a social hour in the hot lunch room following the program and refreshments will be served.

CAGE BANQUET FEB. 28

President Dwight Tyrrell reports that the Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the annual banquet honoring the BHS basketball team and that Tuesday, Feb. 28, has been chosen as date for the event. An outstanding speaker has been obtained, whose identity will be announced later.

Republican Women Plan Lincoln Day Luncheon Monday

Mrs. W. L. Robinson, Jr., of Hampton, vice chairman of the Republican state committee, will be speaker at a Lincoln Day luncheon to be held next Monday at 1:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Clark McNeal.

According to Mrs. C. C. Christie, president of the Belmond Republican Women's club — which is sponsoring the luncheon — it will be a pot-luck affair. Any woman in the community interested in attending will be most welcome, she says.

Mrs. Christie adds that any who might find it inconvenient to attend the luncheon but would like to hear Mrs. Robinson's remarks may feel free to come for the talk, alone. Mrs. Robinson will probably speak about 2:00 p. m.

A teacher before her marriage, Mrs. Robinson has been active in the Republican party for a number of years; but she finds time to participate in a good many other activities, also. Her affiliations include membership in the P. E. O., Hampton Woman's club, Methodist church, American Association of University Women and she is a Franklin county girls 4-H committee woman.

Packard-Jenison Get 2 Nice Jobs

Two sizeable contracts for wiring jobs have recently been obtained by the Belmond electrical firm of Packard and Jenison. Leland "Joe" Jenison reports that the end of last month the firm was awarded a $41,100 contract to wire the new Clermont-Elgin Consolidated school in the northeast corner of Fayette county.

This school was approved by voters of the recently reorganized Clermont-Elgin school district at a total cost of about $400,000. Packard and Jenison won the wiring contract in competition with five other bidders.

The Belmond concern also was awarded an $8,500 contract to do the electrical work connected with the building of a new feed mill at Randall. The mill is being erected by the Farmers Co-op Grain company.

Hospital Auxiliary To Hold Meeting, Pick 2 Officers

A general meeting of the Belmond Community Hospital Auxiliary will be held at the library basement at 2:00 p. m. on Wednesday of next week, with election of new officers one of the major matters of business. Successors will be elected to replace Mrs. Clifford Johnson, secretary, and Henrietta Pals, treasurer.

Mrs. A. T. Rollene, president, and Mrs. R. H. Gowdy, vice president, last year were elected for terms of two years and will continue in office through the current year.

Mrs. Johnson asks that all current members of the auxiliary get their dues paid prior to the meeting date or be prepared to pay the fee at that time. She says that membership renewals have been rather slow in coming in, but that a number of new members have already paid dues for 1956.

Mrs. Lynn Thompson of Clarion, chairman of the Wright county chapter of the American Cancer Society, is bringing a new cancer film to be shown at the meeting. It is entitled "Horizon of Hope" and has won the generous praise of groups that have already had the opportunity of viewing it.

In addition to the film, Dr. S. P. Leinbach will give a brief talk on cancer. He is a former chairman of the lay education committee of the Iowa division of ACS and has spoken on the topic on many occasions in the past.

Mrs. Tyrrell Put On County Family Living Committee

First meeting of the new Family Living committee recently set up by the Wright county extension service was held recently at Clarion for the purpose of planning the year's program. Mrs. Dwight Tyrrell of Belmond is secretary of the committee and Mrs. Gernard Thompson also is a member.

Mrs. Bernard Collins of Clarion is the committee's chairman. Others in the group are: Mrs. Albert Moellering, Woolstock; Mrs. Don Spangler, Eagle Grove; Mrs. George Kyseth, Clarion; Mrs. Weirt Brower, Kanawha; and Mrs. Maurice Martin, Renwick. The latter two represent the Wright County Agricultural Extension Council.

Margaret Kagarice, district home economics supervisor, offered advice on how to set up an educational program in light of the separation of the extension service from the Farm Bureau. She also explained the contributions of the U. S. department of agriculture and of the state to the extension program.

A countywide meeting will be held by the Family Living committee at Clarion in April, which representatives of all educational groups in the county will be invited to attend. At that time, Miss Kagarice will present educational information and answer questions as to how these groups can take advantage of the extension educational program.

Methodists to Let Building Contract

Contract was to be let some time this week by the Methodist church building committee to A.H. Hattendorf of Ocheydan, a builder who specializes exclusively in church construction. Approval for signing the contract with Mr. Hattendorf was given by the church board at a meeting a week ago Sunday.

According to Rev. M. L. Jones, Mr. Hattendorf currently has 12 churches at one stage or another of construction. Included among them are the new Evangelical Reformed edifice at Garner and a Lutheran church at Britt.

Mr. Hattendorf does his church construction on a cost-plus basis, permitting unlimited use of volunteered labor and allowing any local purchase of materials or equipment that the building committee sees fit to make.

Extensively experienced in church planning and design, the Ocheydan builder includes in his modest mark-up no added cost for supplying complete plans and specifications for the new structure.

The Rev. Mr. Jones says that he and members of the building committee have examined a number of Mr. Hattendorf's churches, as well as many others, and have been most favorably impressed with the excellence of his work. In addition, they regard that the contract arrangements will permit them to save a good many thousands of dollars compared to cost of the church if an architect was retained and open bids solicited.

She's Got An Older Sister in Denmark, But--

Mrs. Mamie Chase Reaches Her Hundredth Birthday Tomorrow, Feb. 10th

"Chipper" is the word for Mamie.

To see how actively Mamie (Mrs. L. W.) Chase gets around, how she still whisks the dinner dishes off the table and into the dish pan and how she still bustles about helping with the housework, you'd never guess that tomorrow could possibly mark the 100th anniversary of her birth.

It was in a village near Odense, Denmark, that Mamie Johnson was born on Feb. 10, 1856. In the Johnson family, ultimately, there were five daughters and four sons. It is noteworthy that one of Mamie's elder sisters, Anna Katrina, is still living in Denmark and on Feb. 23 will reach her 103rd birthday!

Two brothers are also still living. Fred Johnson, now of Minden, Neb., is 96 and Lars Johnson of Britt is a youngster of a mere 91 years.

Weighs Only 72 Pounds

Pert, tiny (she's just 4-10 in height and weighs only 72 pounds) Mamie still thinks back with fondness upon the years she lived in Denmark. She "worked out" as a hired girl starting at an early age — she recalls walking five miles twice a day to milk 25 cows as one of her chores when a 12-year-old — but her life nevertheless was a happy one. She adds that in her most robust years she never weighed over 105.

Mamie came to this country as a young widow of 35 with a child of her first marriage and first made her home with a brother-in-law and sister, Mr and Mrs Jim Anderson (parents of Mrs Henry Brede) at Garner. About a year later she was wed to L. W. Chase, a widower by whom she had been employed as a housekeeper.

Lives With Son Hans

This marriage made her the mother to four step-children, and she and Mr. Chase had a son and daughter of their own. Hans, her first son, adopted the name of Chase legally when he entered military service during World War I —and it is with him that she now lives in the former Joe Marchese residence at 516 Seventh street NE.

Her children by Mr. Chase are both still living. They are Roy Chase of Belmond and Mrs. Frank (Jennie) Martin of Wilmington, Calif. Just one of the step-children, Henry Chase of Lisbon, N. D., is still alive. She has only one grandchild of her own, Mrs. Jack (Audrey Chase) Crosby; but there are 10 step-grandchildren. The Crosbys have provided her with five great grandchildren, but she's a bit uncertain about the number of step-great grandchildren she may have.

Mamie used to do a great deal of handiwork (she crocheted at least eight bedspreads, among other articles of fancywork) but several years ago had to give up this pastime due to failing eyesight.

Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roy Chase, says Mamie will countenance no delay in doing the dishes, once a meal is over; and she still performs such housecleaning chores as her strength permits.

She also takes delight in presiding over the stove from time to time and enjoys turning out dishes that have been favorites since her Danish childhood. She used to turn her hand to baking pastries; but a stomach complaint in recent years has robbed her of her former pleasure in those dainties. She still likes to brew an occasional kettle of "sweet soup," made with fruit and tiny dumplings about thumb-size.

Open House Planned

Mrs. Chase takes an active interest in what goes on about her, enjoys the company of the great grandchildren and registers as her main dismay over the effects of the passing years the fact that her memory too frequently betrays her. She can recall sharply many of the happenings of her youth and middle years, but events of more recent occurrence she sometimes finds difficult to remember.

Her two sons and daughter-in-law plan to hold open house for her tomorrow afternoon between 2:00 and 4:00 o'clock, and Mamie is looking forward to visits from both Belmond and Forest City. After Mr. Chase's death in 1902, she lived for many years with Hans at Forest City and quite a to-do was made over her when the Winnebago county seat observed its centennial last year.

CITY DADS STUDYING ZONING LAW AT REQUEST OF BELMOND C-of-C

Monday night at the regular monthly meeting of the city council, a delegation representing the Belmond Chamber of Commerce asked the councilmen to consider the appointment of a municipal zoning and planning commission and the adoption of a zoning ordinance. Clair Hugh acted as spokesman for the Chamber group and told of investigations a C-of-C committee has made into the benefits of a zoning ordinance and preliminary steps required.

In conjunction with the request the delegation informed the council that the Chamber is prepared to underwrite the cost of a survey of the town by Rowat-Murray Engineers to obtain information upon which sound and equitable zoning could be based. Cost of the survey to the Chamber would be $1,625.

Mr. Hugh explained to the council that the zoning and planning commission would be empowered to foster orderly growth of the community by specifying areas as residential, commercial and industrial zones. Such action, he said, usually has the effect of improving real estate values and is a prerequisite of seeking the establishment of new industry in a city.

At a special, combined meeting of the C-of-C civic and retail groups held Monday noon at Jones cafe, the group of 31 business and professional men present voted unanimously to obligate the Chamber for the survey cost if the city fathers would appoint the proposed commission and passed the zoning ordinance.

While the council was of the opinion that the matter would bear further investigation on the part of the members before any action was taken, the councilmen were disposed to give a decision in the near future. Mayor Henry Hokel appointed Dr. H. J. Classick, A. W. Johnson and L. C. Long as a committee to devote some study to the proposition. It was agreed that a special meeting should be called before the next regular meeting to confer again with the Chamber group.

Meanwhile, the Chamber is obtaining some specific information in regard to the practical effect that adoption of zoning has had in some other communities in Belmond's general population bracket. This will be passed on to the council at the next meeting.

Funeral Saturday For Mrs. Johnson

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:00 p. m. at St. Olaf Lutheran church for Mrs. George T. Williams, who died at Belmond Community hospital Tuesday morning at the age of 83. Rev. O. M. Severseike will officiate over the rites and Johnston Funeral Home is in charge. Burial will be in the St. Olaf cemetery.

Though born at Story City—on Oct. 15, 1872—Mrs. Johnson had lived in the Belmond vicinity for 56 years. Her husband preceded her in death, but she is survived by the following children:

Leonard, Kanawha; Mrs. Norton (Alma) Johnson, Merced, Calif.; Kermit, Mrs. Mark (Gladys) Kline, Ernest and Harris Johnson, Belmond; Arnold, Story City; Mrs. Ray (Mildred) Metz, Chowchilla, Calif.; and Mrs. Willard (Georgia) Peterson, Indianola.

Other survivors include a brother and five sisters.

Dougherty Rites [illegible] at Clarion

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Clarion Congregational church for Mrs. C. E. Dougherty, 63, mother of Russell Dougherty. She died Sunday at the Lutheran hospital, Fort Dodge. She had been ill with leukemia since last fall. Burial was in the Clarion cemetery.

Besides her husband and her son living in Belmond, Mrs. Dougherty is survived by two other sons — Dale, living in Clarion; and Loren, who's in the U. S. Air Force and stationed in Florida; and a daughter, Mrs. Spencer (Gerene) Smith, Jr., Eagle Grove.

Other survivors include her mother, Mrs. John de Neui, Ackley.

Time Schedule of County 10-Year Road Program Set

Full details of the Wright county supervisors' proposed 10-year road-building plan have been released, showing the order in which the various projects will be carried out as presently intended. At the time the plan was announced, only the work planned for the current year was identified definitely as to time schedule.

This year's projects include laying Portland cement concrete on 3.5 miles on County K running north from the Clarion airport and 4.25 miles on the same road south from Clarion Memorial hospital corner; 2.25 miles of cement concrete running from a short way west of Eagle Grove to the Humboldt county line; and grading of a mile of road southwest of Dows.

"Church Road" in '58

In 1957, the program calls for laying of asphaltic concrete on 5.25 miles in Vernon township, including the mile that's to be graded this year; and asphaltic surfacing for 6.75 miles on the road extending north from Goldfield.

Proposed for 1958 is paving with Portland cement the six miles of County U (Immanuel Reformed church road) from Highway 69 to the Franklin county line; 2.75 miles of cement paving on road extending east from Eagle Grove; also construction of bridges on County U in the center of Norway township and on the Boone river about a half mile east of the Humboldt county line on the stretch of County U running east and west a half mile north of the Liberty-Boone township line.

Alexander Road, 1961

Down for 1959 is asphalt surfacing for 11 miles on the road extending east from Woolstock. The 1960 program entails paving with Portland cement seven miles of the road extending north from Holmes and 4.5 of County K, extending south from County U on the Belmond-Norway township line.

In 1961, about 5.5 miles on the road from Dows to Highway 3 is to be surfaced with asphaltic concrete; similar surfacing is to go on the approximate 2.5 miles extending from Galt south to Highway 72 and the six miles of County C (Alexander road) running from Highway 69 to the Franklin county line; plus grading of eight miles on County U.

To Grade Morse Lake Road

The 1962 program calls for paving with Portland cement six miles of County U west from Holmes; and grading of the Morse lake road from Highway 69 west to the Roy McClure farm.

Asphalt surfacing is to go on the 11 miles of County U from the Humboldt county line to County K in 1963; and grading of the Morse lake road will be continued from the McClure farm on west to the Belmond-Norway township line.

During 1964, County K is to be paved with Portland cement from the Woolstock road north for six miles, also the one-mile road to the Clarion airport west from County K; and cement paving is to go on County K from the Hancock county line south and the east for a total of five miles.

Cornelia Road Last

Winding up the 10-year program in 1965 is to be the asphaltic concrete surfacing of the Lake Cornelia road the entire width of Grant township and continuation of the Eagle Grove project from the end of the 1958 concrete across Dayton and Lincoln townships to Highway 69.

As finally summarized, the proposed cost of the program will run $3,233,000, including a $28,000 carry-over in farm-to-market funds from 1955. The total anticipates receipt of $1,625,000 in state and federal farm-to-market road funds over the 10-year period and expenditure of $1,580,000 in local construction funds.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Buchanan, Rande and Philip were weekend guests in the Melvin Johnson home at Waterville, Minn. Philip remained for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamilton and Mrs. Mervin Michaelson visited at the Clarence Hammond home in Riceville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Friesleben were visitors Sunday evening in the Dudley Johnson home at Kanawha. The occasion honored the birthdays of Mrs. Johnson and son Terry.

Mrs. Rena Landon attended a birthday party honoring Archie Watermiller in the R. G. Watermiller home at Thornton Sunday afternoon.

INTENTIONS of running for a fourth term have been announced by Bob Blecker, who in June will be Republican candidate for nomination to the county sheriff's post. Bob first served as sheriff to fill out the unexpired term of R. E. Wilson, being appointed to the job in 1950.

COUNTY'S RETAIL SALES INCREASE 26.6 PER CENT FROM 1948 TO '54

Retail sales in 1954 of 306 stores in Wright county totaled $23,502,000, according to preliminary 1954 Census of Business figures announced last week by the U. S. Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. This was an increase of 26.6 per cent over sales in 1948 when 277 stores did an aggregate retail business of $18,559,000.

It was noted in the bureau report that the 1948 figures did not include dairies, nor stores with annual sales ranging from $500 to $2,500; but inclusion of such establishments in the 1954 figures is not calculated to have influenced the six-year increase to any appreciable extent.

740 Payroll Employees

Stores with payrolls — as opposed to small, family-operated businesses — in 1954 numbered 200 and had 740 paid employees as of November of that year. They reported a payroll of $1,543,000 and of the county's total sales accounted for $22,004,000. Proprietors of unincorporated businesses numbered 332.

Comparative gross retail trade figures for some of the counties neighboring on Wright county were as follows for the census year: Hancock, $17,483,000 from 240 businesses; Franklin, $18,730,000 from 220 businesses; Hamilton, $25,510,000 from 301 businesses; Humboldt, $16,872,000 from 233 businesses; Kossuth, $29,077,000 from 353 businesses.

$4½ Million for Food

Wright county establishments dealing in lumber, building materials, hardware and farm equipment, which numbered 44 in all, accounted for more than 25 per cent of the retail trade with total sales of $6,235,000. Food stores, numbering 40, comprised the category with the next highest sales volume — $4,583,000.

Other categories, with the numbe rof establishments shown in parentheses, had total sales volumes as follows: automotive group (17) $3,455,000, other retail stores (27) $3,303,000, gasoline service stations (32) $1,570,000, eating and drinking places (56) $1,261,000.

Apparel, and accessories stores (18) $1,059,000, furniture, home furnishings and appliances (18) $713,000, drug stores and proprietary stores (12) $572,000, general merchandise (9) $485,000, non-store retailers (33) $266,000.

WHO'S WHO IN BELMOND—

Christie's Been A "Wheel" in Many Activities

C. C. Christie is an ex-school teacher, ex-coach, ex-ball player, ex-soldier (World War I) — and for nearly 30 years has been engaged in his present occupation of livestock buyer. "Chris" is a local product, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Christie, and in the course of the 26 years he has spent in Belmond since returning here in 1930 has been a "wheel" in practically any and every civic organization and undertaking you might mention.

Clair has always been an ardent sports fan and has more honest right to comment as an "assistant coach" than most. He's been one. When he attended BHS (graduating in 1916) there was interscholastic competition in only one sport — baseball. Football had been eliminated from the extra curricular program some years earlier due to a game death at a nearby school; and there were no gym facilities to accommodate basketball.

Lettered at Iowa State

He played varsity baseball and continued in the sport at Iowa State college, earning letters in the 1919-20 seasons as a first baseman.

When an attractive job opportunity opened up to him when he was a quarter short of receiving his B. S. degree at ISC he took it, and it wasn't until 1926 that he returned to pick up the final credits required to get his diploma. The job he took was that of night school organizer and instructor in southeast Iowa under the Smith-Hughes Act.

It was while he was on this job that he became enamoured of an attractive school teacher at Mount Pleasant, one Dorothy Katherine Lierle, who on Aug. 20, 1921, at Minneapolis became Mrs. Christie.

Taught at BHS

The school year of 1922-23, "Chris" was on the BHS faculty as manual training and agriculture instructor, baseball coach and assistant basketball coach. The cage sport had been introduced after the "new" high school was built in 1916; but football wasn't resumed until a year later.

After getting his degree in 1926 by returning to ISC for that final quarter, Clair accepted a job with Swift and Co. as a livestock buyer and held that position until resigning in 1942 to succeed his father in partnership with C. A. Larson in the livestock firm of Christie and Larson.

Headed Chamber, Legion

"Chris" was one of the organizers of the Gridiron club, something over 15 years ago, and was its first president. He has continued through the years an ardent supporter of Belmond High school athletic teams. He is also a past president of Clarmond Country club.

Other "pasts" he has to his credit are president of the Chamber of Commerce, commander of Eimbrink Post of the American Legion, chairman of the Belmond Chapter of American Red Cross and moderator of the Congregational church. He was president of the C-of-C the year it first affiliated with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. "Chris" is also a member of King Solomon lodge of the order of Masons and serves on the Wright County Agricultural Extension Council.

Active as Republican

The Christies' only child is Mrs. Jack (Jeane Ann) Shepard, wife of the former—and first—administrator of Belmond Community hospital. They have three grandchildren in whom they take much pride — John, age nine; Catherine, seven; and Stephen, five.

No account of Mr. Christie's imprint on his home community would be complete without mention of his political activities. He's a REPUBLICAN, not only with a capital R, but with capitals all the way through. He's been an active worker in behalf of the party, is in his third year as chairman of the GOP county committee, was finance chairman for eight years prior, and has repeatedly attended state GOP conventions as a Wright county delegate.

Kjellberg to Seek Post of Attorney

Marvin G. Kjellberg, young lawyer associated with Robert B. Kay at Clarion, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Wright county attorney.

A native of Ruthven, he graduated from the University of Iowa with a B. A. degree in 1952 and last year received his Bachelor of Laws degree from Drake university. He is a U. S. Navy veteran.

Mr. Kjellberg's affiliations include membership in the Wright County Bar association, Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity, Rotary International, the Masonic lodge and Clarion Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is married and has one child, a daughter.

Ralph Austin of Clarion present county attorney by appointment after the resignation of Ben Birdsall, says he will not be a candidate for another term.

Peter Steenblock of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Steenblock of Green Bay, Wis., returned to their homes Saturday after having been called here for the funeral of the men's mother, Mrs. Ida Steenblock. Others attending the services from out of town were A. Harold Loats of Lincoln, Neb., Eldon Loats of Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Larson and Valerie of Dows, Mr. and Mrs. John Bohning of Clear Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Powers of Clarion.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Moore of Dows were Sunday dinner guests in the Donald Moore home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaehart Hopkey and Barbara of Alexander were Sunday supper guests in the Donald Moore home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Markham and family spent Friday evening in the Robert McClure home near Klemme.

Topic: "Preparing Food for Freezer"

"Preparing Food for the Freezer" was the subject presented to 21 leaders of homemaker groups at the recent extension training school conducted at Clarion by Geraldine Steele, county home economist.

Mrs. Steele declared, "The convenience and satisfaction gained from the use of a well-managed home freezer cannot be measured in terms of money."

She pointed out the multiple advantages of home-freezing foods and how to pre-cook and prepare foods for freezing. A complete frozen meal was prepared at the meeting.

Two bulletins on food-freezing are available to homemakers at the county extension office, she told the leaders.

WCARC MEETS TONIGHT

Regular meeting of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children, which was scheduled for Wednesday of last week at Rowan, had to be postponed due to bad weather. It has been rescheduled for 8:00 p. m. this (Thursday) evening at the Rowan school. Drexel D. Lange of Des Moines, consultant to the state division of special education, is to be the speaker.

'County Boards" Discussion Topic

Extension Director Aaron Bowman offers a reminder that the second in the series of public affairs discussions being sponsored by the Wright county extension service will be held tonight (Thursday) at 8:00 o'clock at the Clarion Legion hall.

"What is the Legal Status of a County in Iowa?" will be this evening's topic and the speakers will be Dr. H. C. Cook, associate professor of government at Iowa State college, and Donald Boles, ISC instructor in history and government.

Differences between the three and five-supervisor county boards will be discussed by the guest specialists and they will also comment on some of the advantages of the proposed county manager plan of government.

Demos Hear GOP Scored for Letting Farmer "Take It"

About 350 Democrats dined at the Eagle Grove Memorial building on the Wednesday of Feb. 1 and shared an evening of optimism which had as its theme. "The Best Party Serving Iowa Is the Democratic Party." The keynote was struck by R. M. "Spike" Evans of Arnolds Park, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination as U. S. Senator from Iowa.

Mr. Evans made it clear that he has little respect for the efforts of the present federal adminstration to extricate the farmer from his plight. The senatorial candidate warned, "If agriculture is as sick in the future as it has been in the past, it will spread to other segments of the economy."

Farm Income Unimportant?

He contended that the Eisenhower administration considers farm income "no longer important to the national economy;" but declared, "Yet this income affects 90 billion of the total national income, or 25 per cent."

"The Republicans," he charged, "have not missed an opportunity to kill the agricultural program."

Mr. Evans was bitterly critical of Sec. of Agriculture Ezra Benson's efforts in behalf of the farmer and offered the opinion that the Utah man is not adequately qualified by his background to either understand or have a sympathetic attitude toward the midwest farmer.

The speaker advocated raising parity to 90 per cent to help the livestock raiser.

A Mitchell Was There

It turned out that the Mitchell who was an invited guest at the gathering was not the national party chairman, as had been announced to The Independent by local party workers, but John Mitchell of Fort Dodge, state central committee chairman.

Neverthless, there was an ample representation of Democratic "high brass" at the meeting. Two spokesmen who made a particularly good impression on Belmond party members in attendance were L. E. Plummer of Northwood, candidiate for the governorship nomination, and Lumund Wilcox of Jefferson, an opponent of Evans for the senatorial nomination.

State Aid Toward School Bus Costs Goes Down Again

Growth of the trend towards school reorganization in Iowa resulted this year in the lowest settlement to date, percentage-wise, on the claims of independent school districts against the state for transportation expense. It was announced last week by County Supt. C. W. Sankey that claims for 1954-55 transportation, for which checks were just lately mailed out by the state, were filled on a pro rata basis of only 71.31 cents on the dollar.

As more and more rural students have been going to town schools by bus, the $3,000,000 annually appropriated for transportation aid has been increasingly inadequate to pay its intended share of the cost. Theoretically it was planned that the money should pay the cost of bus transportation up to $30 per pupil carried.

465 "Bus Pupils" Here

Although Belmond, with 465 pupils eligible for bus transportation got $9,413.82 out of the county's total of $34,280.72 for 1954-55, this amount was about $1,245 less than the district received for 1953-54 when claims were settled on a basis of 76.05 per cent. For 1952-53, claims were prorated at 77.30 cents on the dollar; for 1951-52, 82.60; and 1950-51, 86.90.

According to Mr. Sankey, claims from 1,818 school districts based on the 1954-55 school year came to $4,206,696.85 for the state as a whole. The year before, honoring all claims in full would have cost the state $3,944,608. Since the current year is seeeing a number of additional reorganized districts coming into being, it is certain that for 1955-56 transportation claims will have to be settled on a still lower pro rata basis than last year's.

Other Wright Settlements

Other Wright county settlements for 1954-55, besides Belmond's were: Clarion Independent $6,363; Dows Community $7,517; Eagle Grove Independent $3,979; Goldfield Community $3,403; Rowan Consolidated $2,098; Woolstock Independent $895.

Dayton township $164; Eagle Grove township $16.40; Lake $114; Troy $96; Wall Lake $92; Woolstock township $60; and Lincoln No. 9 Rural Independent $65.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

Experts on love will say that a man is easily caught on the rebound. Experts on highway safety will say that a man is easily killed on the rebound from one mistake.

An accident illustrating this began one night recently on an Iowa highway when a slow-driving drunk nosed his car into a ditch, got out and passed out.

A few minutes later another driver approached from the opposite direction and saw the ditched vehicle. He stopped his car squarely on the highway and ran to give help.

In his excitement, the "helpful" driver mistook the dozing drunk for an accident victim suffering internal injuries. He climbed a fence and ran across a field to the lights of a farm house where he told the farmer his story and asked him to call an ambulance.

Then, halfway back across the dark field, the driver must have remembered his car sitting there on the highway. In any case, study of his footprints in the snow next day showed that he began to run.

He was going to be just in time.

For out of that night was coming another car at terrific speed; speed well beyond the safety range of headlights. Its driver saw the ditched car so abruptly, so suddenly, that he swerved to the left instinctively.

He side-swiped the standing car, rebounded across the highway and smashed down the fence and the "helpful" driver who had just arrived back on the scene.

When the ambulance arrived, it took back one sobering drunk and one dazed driver and one dead driver—the "helpful" one, killed on the rebound of three deadly mistakes on the highway.

Olson Tells About Minneapolis Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Olson, owners of the local Coast-to-Coast store, spent Sunday through Wednesday of this week in Minneapolis attending the annual meeting of the Coast-to-Coast organization. Highlighting the meeting was announcement of the central organization's plan for construction of a one-story general office and warehouse building at Minneapolis.

Mr. Olson says the huge structure will be the largest building of its kind in the northwest, covering an area of approximately 410,000 square feet and having an adjacent parking lot 85,000 square feet in area.

A feature of the building will be a model store to serve as a merchandising laboratory for showing the company's complete lines of merchandise. The building will involve an investment of about three million dollars.

Northwood Swamps Broncos 69 to 37 To Clinch Conference Cage Laurels

Northwood left no question regarding its rightful claim to the 1955-56 North Iowa conference basketball championship as the Vikings obliterated Belmond on the Northwood court Friday night, 69 to 37. It was the worst walloping any Bronco team has absorbed in a number of years, and it came about by no means simply because the Broncos turned in an extremely ragged performance. After a poorly played first quarter, the Vikings settled down to business and broke the game wide open with the finest display of basketball the Broncs have faced this season.

A combination of fast-break offense, which completely disorganized the Belmond defense, and a considerable height advantage put the Vikings in complete command after they got over a slight case of the jitters in the opening period. That had ended with the Broncos trailing by only two points, 8-6.

29-Point Second Quarter

During the rest of the game, Belmond wasn't even in the picture. Northwood's fast break tactics enabled the Vikings to amass 29 points in the second stanza for a 37-15 lead. They completely dominated the boards at both ends of the floor, and Belmond rarely got more than one shot at the hoop after getting possession of the ball.

Only the out-shooting of Larry Schimp during the second half, when he got 10 of his 16-point total, saved the Broncs from an even worse drubbing than they received. Jerry Chandler got one fielder in each quarter for eight points to be second highest scorer for the losers

Bruce Lee Tallies 20

Bruce Lee, their 6-5 center, led the champs with 20 points. However, he got sterling support from Dick Halland, Jerry Forde, DuWayne Carnes and Mace Reyerson, who chalked up 15, 13, 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Lake Mills locked the barn after the horse had departed by lacing Britt, 81-63, to give the Bulldogs and all-time NIC scoring record of 885 points and a game average of 73.75. Buffalo Center gave Forest City a rude shove into the conference cellar by handing the Iidians their 10th loop defeat to the tune of 67-56.

Third Place Tie At Stake Friday In Britt Contest

Tomorrow night's game here with Britt, winding up the Broncos' North Iowa conference basketball season, promises to be one of the real thrillers of the current campaign. Subsequent to their 74-62 conquest of Belmond on their home floor, the Eagles proved it was no flash in the pan by going on from there to establish themselves as the best Britt team in many a year.

With a share of third place in the final loop standing hanging in the balance, in addition to the little matter of avenging that earlier defeat, the Broncs will have every incentive to go "all out" after a win in this one.

While Britt has been hitting a little faster scoring pace than Belmond, averaging right at 63 points per game compared to the Purple and White's 56, the Broncos' defense has been a little tighter — by an average of about four points per tilt, 61 to 65. With home floor advantage to help them, the Broncs should stand as slight favorites tomorrow, on the record—IF they can pull out of the doldrums in which they were helplessly adrift at Northwood.

Biggest problem facing Belmond will be to keep the Eagles' nifty Dale Nielson under control. He was high-point man for Britt in the teams' first meeting with 20 points. Last week against Garner, he bombarded the hoop for 33 points. However, the Eagles have been far from a one-man outfit. Dave Rasmuson and Harold Wallen have also been consistent scorers, so Britt foes cannot afford to concentrate too much on Nielson.

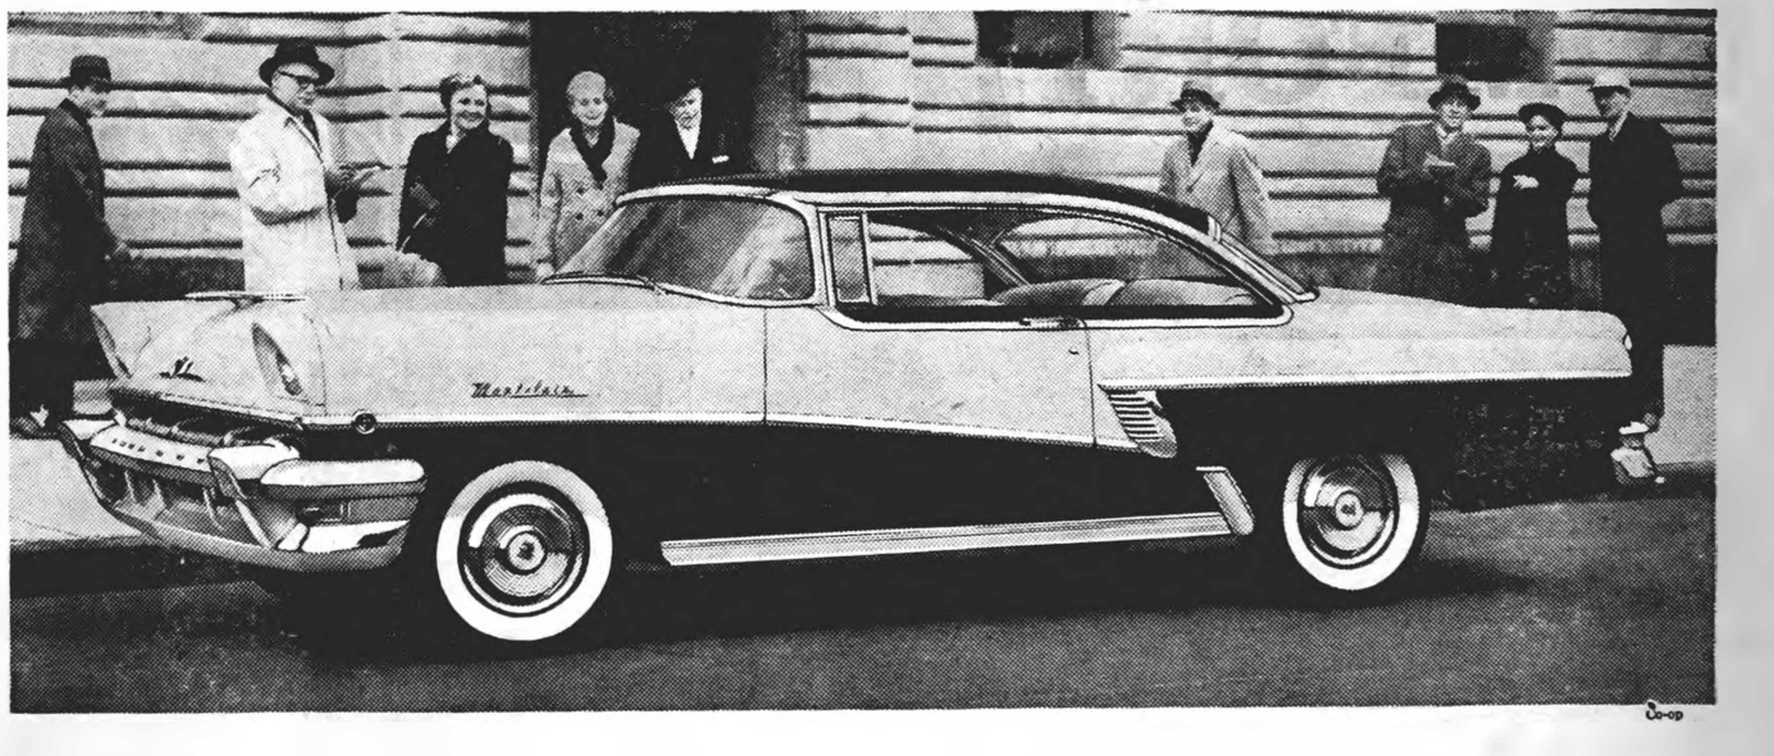
PUBLIC VOTES MERCURY "BEST VALUE IN ITS FIELD"



19th annual nationwide survey of car owners—by independent research organization*—shows Mercury leads its price class as "best value for the money." Whether you pick a Montclair, Monterey, or Custom, you get more car in four big ways!

1. NEW REFLEX-ACTION PERFORMANCE—Go, stop, pass, climb, turn. THE BIG M responds instantly to your every command, adjusts instantly to every road. We call it "reflex action"—a new kind of performance that makes all your driving easier, safer—and far more comfortable than ever before.

2. NEW BIG M BEAUTY—Here is fresh, clean, graceful beauty for the young-minded. Mercury's lines are long, sleek, road-hugging. New Flo-Tone color styling is radiant and dramatic. You enjoy a distinction in THE BIG M that is unmatched in Mercury's price class.

3. NEW SAFETY-FIRST DESIGN—You get the widest choice of safety features in the field. At no extra cost, there's an impact-absorbing safety steering wheel (an exclusive in Mercury's field) and triple-strength safety door locks. And optional features such as seat belts and padded instrument panel.

4. PROVABLE VALUE—Here's value you can see, and measure! Low first cost. Low operating costs. High resale value. And Mercury trade-in value has remained consistently high. No wonder Mercury was voted "best value in its field." Better see us soon.

SGT. LARRY D. MYERS WEDS LEBANON GIRL IN BEIRUT CEREMONY

Announcement has been made of the marriage on Dec. 27 of last year at the American Community church of Beirut, Lebanon, of Miss Lillian Tarazi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basille Tarazi of Beirut, and Sgt. Larry D. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Myers of Alexander.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white dress of lace over satin that was designed by Cra-van of Paris. Her veil was held by a pearl tiara and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds tied with lace.

Her attendant was Hugette Settway of Beirut. Attending Sergeant Myers as best man was a Marine friend, Sgt. David Blanco of Chicago.

The ushers were also Marines: Lloyd Seekamp, Norwalk, Wis., Robert Rightly, Philadelphia, Pa., Stanley Klimacuski, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Richard Maddox, San Francisco, Calif., Richard Cullen, Croton-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.; and the bride's brother, George Tarazi of Beirut.

U. S. Ambassador and Mrs. John K. Emerson attended as special guests, since Sergeant Myers' parents couldn't be present.

A champagne reception was held at the hotel Biarity's ballroom for 300 guests after the wedding. The wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Christian Djermikiou, sister of the bride.

Mrs. Myers is a graduate of the American university of Beirut, where she majored in French literature. She was employed prior to her marriage by the National Cash Register company at Beirut.

Sergeant Myers has served two years in the American embassy at Beirut, except for four months when he was assigned to the American consulate on the island of Cyprus.

The newlyweds went to Damascus, Syria, for their wedding trip. Sergeant Myers will return to the United States with his bride in the near future and will spend a leave that he has due at that time visiting at the home of his parents near Alexander.

Iowa Bond Quota For 1956 Under '55 Sales Volume

Iowa's 1956 quota for purchases of United States savings bonds has been set by the U. S. Treasury department at $167,100,000, an increase of approximately five million dollars over the 1955 quota. The national quota also was increased. However, the new state quota is 7½ million dollars less than Iowa's total sales for 1955, which set a new 10-year record for series E and H bonds sold to individuals.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, Wright county volunteer chairman of the savings bonds program reports that this county's quota for the year will be $1,566,284.

During 1955, total sales in the county reached $1,776,034 for 114 per cent of the year's goal.

"Increased quotas for 1956 are another indication of the Treasury department's policy to attain wider distribution of the national debt among individual citizens, and to encourage thrift habits," the chairman said. Iowa's purchases of savings bonds in 1955 were 108 per cent of quota.

Below are the 1956 quotas for other counties in this area:

Hancock county, $1,309,646; Franklin, $1,044,236; Hamilton, $1,485,216; Kossuth, $1,718,702; Humboldt, $998,960.

SOMA-ELLIOTT RITES CONDUCTED SUNDAY AT TRINITY LUTHERAN

Marriage vows were spoken by Audrey Joanne Soma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Soma, and Richard Lee Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Elliott, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran church with Rev. O. H. Severseike officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons tied with bows of baby blue satin ribbon.

Mrs. Harold Simerson, organist, played the traditional nuptial music and accompanied Eugene Hald of Forest City as he sang "Because" and also the groom as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white faille, princess style, street-length dress, having a Queen Elizabeth style jacket, lined with blue satin. She also wore a small, veiled, white hat and a double-strand of pearls, the latter being a gift of the groom. Her bouquet was of white roses with satin streamers dotted with rosebuds and carried on a white Bible.

The bride's sister, Phyllis Soma, was bridesmaid, wearing a blue faille dress styled like the bride's and a small white hat. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Odean Severseike, the groom's roommate while he was at St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., was best man. Ushers were Keith Madsen, the groom's roommate at the University of Iowa, and Gilman Soma, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a navy dress with blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the groom chose a rose crepe dress with pink accessories and had a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. [illegible] Hill, the dining room hostess, and Mrs. Grant Chapman, who served the wedding cake, are the aunts of the bride. The cake was three tiered, decorated in blue and white and topped with white wedding bells.

Lois Soma, cousin of the bride, poured and also was in charge of the guest book. Waitresses were Shirley Soma, Connie Hill and Joann Sebert, cousins of the bride. The gifts were arranged by Karen Chapman, cousin of the bride, and Janice Nelson of Holmes.

The bride attended Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, and Luther college at Decorah and is employed at Kessler's.

The groom received his Bachelor of Arts degree from St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., attended the University of Colorado at Boulder, Colo., and Luther college at Decorah and the past semester has been taking graduate work at the University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Following a brief honeymoon, the groom will leave Feb. 14 for military service. After his basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark., Mrs. Elliott will join him.

Acreage Allotment Of County 'Down' For Corn in 1956

Wright county's corn acreage allotment for 1956 is 109.193 acres, or 19,585 less than for 1955, it was reported this week by the county ASC committee. Every county in Iowa will have a smaller allotment this year as a result of the Iowa and national allotments being reduced because of the all-time record supply of corn now on hand in the United States.

However, the Iowa and national allotments were still lower in both 1940 and 1941. The state allotment for 1956 is 8,201,379 acres, as compared with 9,636,620 in 1955 and 9,093,929 in 1954. In 1940, the state allotment was 8,193,000 and in 1941 it was 8,184,000.

The committee stated that computation of actual corn acreage allotments for individual farms of the county will be started immeditely, so that notices can be mailed out to farmers by March 2, at the very latest.

As in 1954 and 1955, only farmers who comply with their individual corn acreage allotments will be eligible for price support on corn produced this year. Nearly 51 per cent of the farms of Iowa were in compliance in 1955 to lead all of the heavy corn producing states. In Wright county, 66 per cent of the farms were in compliance in 1955.

Corn acreage allotments of the neighboring counties for 1956 follow: Hamilton 111,468, Humboldt 82,376, Hancock 104,859, and Franklin county 109,702.

● TIP TOP—

fish and poultry. All of the Tip Top's meats are now pre-packaged; but it still does processing for individual customers. The meat department also boasts a new cooler, and there is a sharp-freezer for storage of frozen foods and ice cream.

To make their store's facilities as up-to-date as possible, the Johnsons last year bought the McBurney property across the alley to the rear of the Tip Top and converted it into a parking lot adequate for the cars of 45 customers at a time; and they installed a handsome, new front on the store.

Recorded Music System

In order to expedite the flow of customers, Harold and "Doc" have added a third checkout counter, which they're finding a great blessing on busy days. Adding to the pleasantness of the store's atmosphere is a recorded music system that provides background music for six hours at a stretch, without attention.

Now that they're utilizing close to 100 per cent of the space on their property, the Johnson brothers may be expected to take satisfaction in the status quo — for a while, at least. But in this regard, "Doc" observes, "There's still that five feet between us and the alley." . . . And you rather get the idea that that may not always remain there.

Jack Row Given Incentive Award By Bond Division

King Palmer, director of the Iowa office of the U. S. Savings Bonds division, announced today that Jack W. Row of Clarion last week received a special Certificate of Award and a cash incentive award for having suggested a bond sales program that is being adopted nationally by the U. S. Treasury department.

Mr. Row is area sales manager for 27 Iowa counties under the savings bonds division, including Wright county.

This was the first time an employee in the division has been rewarded for an idea under the government's incentive plan of cash payments to government workers for money-saving ideas relating to their jobs. Mr. Row's reward amounted to $120. The certificate read:

"To JACK W. ROW in recognition and appreciation for noteworthy contribution to the effective and efficient operation of the Treasury Department."

Mr. Row's prize-winning idea pertained to a new sustaining program to encourage payroll deductions for bond purchases on the part of factory workers. It both eliminates the need for periodic drives to revive such bond-buying program and keeps participation at a higher level the year around.

The awards to Mr. Row were made at an eight-state meeting of savings bonds representatives held at Kasas City, Mo.

Much 1955 Corn On Price Support In Wright County

Farmers of Wright county had placed 1,450,433 bushels of 1955 corn under price support loans and purchase agreements by Jan. 15, when the latest summary was compiled, it was reported this week by the County ASC Committee.

On the same date a year ago, there were 972,261 bushels of the 1954 crop under price support in the county, which gives some idea of the rate at which local producers are now taking out loans and purchase agreements on last year's crop.

Corn Deadline, May 31

Farmers have until May 31 to obtain price support on eligible 1955 corn so the final total will be considerably greater than the Jan. 15th figure. The final total of 1954 crop corn which went under support in this county was 2,704,996 bushels.

In the state as a whole, nearly 63 million bushels of the 1955 corn crop was under price support by mid-January, indicating that the final total next May 31 may exceed 120 million bushels or around 25 per cent of last years' total production in Iowa. Only 16 per cent, or 92 million bushels, of the larger 1954 Iowa crop went under price support.

Other Deadlines Past

The amount going under support is regarded as rather large because only corn raised on farms complying with their 1955 corn acreage allotments is eligible for government loans and purchase agreements.

The time for obtaining price support on 1955 small grains, flaxseed, soybeans, and grain sorghum expired Jan. 31. A preliminary check by the county ASC office showed that the following amounts of these commodities were placed under loans and purchase agreements in this county: oats, 175,724 bushels; and soybeans, 213,077 bushels.

Last Farm Class Monday Evening

Final night school session of the adult education class in agriculture will be held next Monday evening at the high school, with "Tractor Service and Maintenance" as the topic for discussion. The lesson will be presented by Glen Baldwin of Fort Dodge, district engineer for a tractor manufacturing concern.

Francis Kelly, who planned the program of the class in agriculture, reports that 31 men registered for the course; but he adds that a number of additional farmers have attended sessions of special interest to them, from time to time. Anyone interested in Monday night's topic is welcome to attend the closing class, he says.

Girl, 17, Injured In Auto Accident

Sheriff Bob Blecker reports that a Belmond teen-ager avoided a sudden and horrible death by a matter of inches Saturday about 11:45 p. m. when the car she was driving went off the wooden bridge northwest of Tyrrell park.

When the '53 Dodge that Sandra Steenblock, 17, was driving went out of control as she approached the bridge from the south, it tumbled off the bridge and lit on its left side in the dry creek bed below. As the car smashed through the bridge railing a splintered timber plunged through the windshield and must have missed by only a narrow margin striking the young driver full in the face, according to the sheriff.

Of six teen-age boys and girls in the auto, only the driver suffered injury of any consequence. She was admitted to Belmond Community hospital suffering from facial abrasions, a laceration of the left arm, contusions of the right arm and bruises on both knees.

With her in the front seat were Sandra's sister Gladys and Beverly Meyers. In the rear seat were three Meservey youths, Frederick Suntken, George Dirks and Ed Kuhlers.

Damage to the car, owned by the driver's father, Roach Steenblock, was estimated at $400.

Belmond's School Cost 5th Lowest, Per Pupil Basis

On a per pupil basis, the schools of Belmond Community School district ranked as the fifth most economical in the entire state during the 1954-55 fiscal year, the Iowa Taxpayers association reported this week. Operating cost of the district's schools averaged only $208.83 per pupil, compared to a state average of $261.53 for Iowa's "city" schools.

Highest per pupil cost in the state was at Carroll, $349.17, and Mason City's $323.17 was next-to-highest. Lowest was Marion's $199.03. Other school systems bettering Belmond's average were: Albia $201.66, Council Bluffs $206.15, and Red Oak $207.74.

Belmond's p.p.c. was up $10.43 from the previous year; but the average for all the city schools in the state jumped $8.20, reflecting a general rise in teachers' salaries.

Supt. Don Faris says that the local costs per pupil will be increased more yet, for the current year. This will be due to the necessary purchase of additional school buses and improvements that have had to be made in the high school building. There was another round of raises for the teachers, but this was also true in most other school systems.

Per pupil costs in other schools in this vicinity, and the changes from 1953-54 were as follows: Eagle Grove $290.80, up $4.03; Clarion $256.40, up $27.54; Northwood $248.33, down $29.45; Hampton $238.55, up $8.54; Forest City $228.87, up $1.42; Clear Lake $228.47, up $18.76; Garner $227.77, down $20.69.

Supervisors Pass Road Proposals On to Commission

Wright county's board of supervisors on Monday of this week passed a recommendation that the four road projects proposed for this year under their 10-year road construction program be approved by the state highway commission. The action was taken on a motion by John Greenlander, seconded by Roland Trotter. A. W. Christopher of Eagle Grove voted against the recommendation.

Preliminary estimates of cost of the projects came to a total of $276,250, which is $8,250 more than it had been tentatively estimated would be available for the work.

By projects the estimated costs, in the recommendation, were: 4.25 miles on County K south of Clarion, $114,750; 3.5 miles on County K north of Clarion, $94,500; 2.25 miles west of Eagle Grove, $60,750; and one mile of grading in Vernon township, $6,250.

WHY SHOULD COUNTY MONEY BE SPENT TO MEET COST OF PRIVATE DRAINAGE?

One practice that has played a part in shooting road maintenance costs in Wright county sky high, and which could serve to jeopardize the success of the road-building program that the county supervisors have approved for the next 10 years, is that of making the county at-large pay for drainage expense that should rightly be met by the drainage district benefiting.

County Engineer Pete Struck not long ago admitted to this writer that this is a practice of long-standing in Wright and one that distorts the picture where road maintenance expense is involved. As we get it, both county labor and road machinery are traditionally put to work on drainage projects. We're given to understand that it is a practice by no means unique to Wright county; but it flaunts the law, attaches to the general taxpayer expense that is not his obligation — and we cannot see where precedent is any excuse for its continuation.

Used as an excuse for the county being permitted to pick up the tab for work performed for a drainage district is the fact that warrants from the district that the county laborers would otherwise have to accept as pay must be quite heavily discounted if they want ready cash. Understandably, they DO want the cash — and they DON'T like the discount.

Nevertheless, it seems there should be a better answer to this dilemma that the city taxpayer — and rural taxpayers unconcerned with the particular drainage project — helping foot the bill for drainage work that benefits specific farms. There would be a howl if county labor and machinery were put to work building city streets, at no cost to the city; and rightly so. Yet it's just as logical that this should be done — and incidentally, just as illegal — as it is that the town dweller should have tax money of his applied on drainage work.

Frankly, we don't know HOW extensively this practice is followed in other counties; nor do we know how much Wright tax money collected for road purposes is being diverted annually into drainage construction. But it's a matter the taxpayers of the county might well take some interest in. . . : sufficient interest to FIND OUT the answers.

WE ALL MIGHT HAVE BEEN CONCERNED OVER THAT HARRIS-FULBRIGHT GAS BILL!

There appears to be very good reason why we in the natural gas belt of the midwest, and millions of others the nation over who enjoy the convenience and benefits of this excellent fuel, should have been concerened over the Harris-Fulbright bill that has been mentioned so often in print of late. Probably the main reason we haven't is because the principles behind the bill are more than a little confusing. But there should be no confusion as to its ultimate objective. If passed, it will mean that we will be paying more for the gas that we cook and heat with. It has been estimated that the difference in annual cost could well add up to $40 or $50 annually, per family.

At present, the price of natural gas is federally controlled "at the wellhead." That is to say, a limit is set by the government on what the producer can charge the transporter — the pipeline companies — for the gas that we use. It is the contention of the bill's opponents that if the producer price is not controlled, there can be NO effective control; because any rate increases introduced by the producer will inevitably be passed on to the consumer.

What excuse is given that controls over the producer's price of gas should be lifted? Well, for one thing, the gas companies say their business is not monopolistic in nature, and consequently should not be subjected to controls any more than non-regulated fuels such as oil and coal. Also, they declare that relaxation of price control is necessary to stimulate more capital for gas field exploration and drilling.

Senator Paul Douglas (D) of Illinois, an ex-professor of economics and highly regarded expert in that field, points out that while there are 8,000 alleged producers of natural gas, only 197 sold more than two million thousand cubic feet of gas in 1954. Of these, 35 sold more than 70 per cent of all natural gas for resale in interstate commerce; and 22 sold more than 54 per cent. That comes close enough to monopoly, in Mr. Douglas's estimation, to justify continued control of prices charged by these big producers.

He adds, "These companies already have tremendous inducements and incentives to drill for gas and oil. They do not need increased income of from 600 to 900 million dollars a year by way of increased prices at the wellhead."

Other foes of the bill have pointed out that the rigidity with which the consumer is tied to the pipeline supply system is another argument to prove that gas production constitutes a monopoly. As one opponent put it, "You can't lift a pipeline like a hose, or disconnect from it and shift your source of supply."

The producers cannot show that they are suffering due to existing price controls. Their biggest talking point is that they shouldn't be controlled when other natural resource industries — coal, oil, iron, etc. — aren't. They disregard that consumers of these products can exercise an open choice as to what producer they wish to do business with.

If all this suggests that you could helplessly be subjected to a price gouge if the Harris-Fulbright bill passed (already approved by the House, it was to be voted on Monday by the Senate) it may now be too late to spend the few cents required to tell your elected representatives in Congress how you feel about it.

FORTY YEARS AGO—

Bechtal & company of Davenport bought the $65,000 in Belmond school bonds Wednesday evening of last week at a bid interest rate of 4½ per cent, less a premium of $1,119. This was considered a good bid, as school bonds usually draw five per cent interest, which is the maximum allowed by law.

VOL. 36 NO. 19 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Wonderful thing, this hybrid corn. Not only does it produce bigger crops for less money, but right at present Mr. and Mrs. Harm Braner are enjoying a stay in scenic old New Orleans and the thrill of witnessing the Mardi Gras — thanks to hybrid corn. Because Harm sold a LOT of seed last year, all expenses of the jaunt are "on the house."

The Braners left for the south by plane on Friday morning of last week, after their travel tickets, hotel reservations and an expense check had been delivered to them several days earlier.

A Mississippi river cruise, reserved seats for five of the major Mardi Gras parades (we didn't know there were so many, either), guided tours of the city and surrounding historical sites were to be included in the junket. When the fun's over, the Belmond couple will return home by air. Yes sir, that hybrid corn's the stuff.

—M-S—

A note from Mac Jensen, former Belmond businessman now holding a state department job in Haiti, says that the Mardi Gras is the matter of main interest down there right now, too. Written on Feb. 10, his brief letter stated: "Mardi Gras starts here tomorrow and will last until Tuesday evening. Of course, that means the offices will all be closed and lots to see and do for awhile. They have a parade every day for three days — very long and gaudy parades. Lasts about eight hours. Personally, I think I will go swimming and get some rest at least one of the days."

—M-S—

Here's the scoop. It's Bill Strannigan who'll be speaker at the Jaycee banquet for the Bronco basketeers on March 28 (not Feb. 28, as announced last week). And what a drawing card he should prove! At this particular point, Strannigan's Iowa State Cyclones are enjoying one of the best seasons any ISC cage team has had in a couple of [illegible].

He has elevated the Cyclones from a basketball nonentity to a cage power of national rank in just a couple of seasons.

As luck would have it, the basketball banquet for the second year in a row, was scheduled for the same date as had been set for the senior high operetta. The musical group will probably be set ahead one day, Supt. Don Faris says. More about that later. Meanwhile watch for banquet tickets to go on sale. There'll probably be a heavy demand for ducats.

—M-S—

Telling your parents you love them is all well and good, the youngsters of the Baptist church concede, but they believe that a demonstration now and then is not amiss. So Tuesday evening they put on a Valentine Dinner for the adults of the congregation to testify to their affection. Colorful decorations, charming table settings and special costumes for the waiters and waitresses helped much to make it a gala affair. The boys and girls got some adult help in preparation of the meal — but they supplied the food and all the labor involved. A mighty fine Valentine's Day gesture!

—M-S—

Mystery seems to enfold the reason why a host of defunct cottontails were strewn along downtown Main street Wednesday a. m. By one count, at least 10 bodies marked the thoroughfare. Looked like an invasion had been turned back. About the only explanation we heard — and we regarded it a pretty feeble one—was that somebody had been engaging in a game of "Hare and Hounds," and that instead of pieces of paper, the "rabbits" were using rabbits. What makes it the more perplexing is the fact that it's been pretty poor weather lately for rabbit-hunting. . . . These plaguing questions! We don't know whether Ike's going to run, either!

—M-S—

Recently received a note from Mrs. Verdie Wilson, erstwhile Belmondite who currently lives in Concord Calif., to [illegible] the vagaries of Iowa's winter weather. She wrote [illegible] indignantly, we [illegible], "Last night and this morning we had a real Iowa storm: lightning and real heavy thunder. First thunder storm we've had since we've been in California — 14 years." . . . She inferred that the less said about northern California's 1955-56 winter, the better.

Two Belmondites Win ISTC Honors

Two Belmond students were named to the Iowa State Teachers college honor roll for fall quarter, according to Dr. M. J. Nelson, dean of the college. They were David [illegible], son of Mr. and Mrs. L. [illegible]land, and Robert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jones.

To qualify for the honor roll a student must take a least 14 quarter hours of academic work and [illegible] a grade-point average of [illegible] higher. Under the grading system, 4.0 represents a straight [illegible].

Another ISTC student from this area who won a place on the honor roll was Joan Aldrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Aldrich, Jr., of Belmond [illegible]. She is a Rowan High [illegible].

[illegible] MARCH DIES

[illegible]

CENTENNIAL IDEAS were getting a mulling over as this picture of the general committee in charge of the celebration Aug. 9-12 was taken at the city hall on Wednesday evening of last week. Shown left to right are: Mrs. S. P. Leinbach, Matilda Skovlin, C. C. Carstens, Fred Fulton, Chairman M. E. "Gus" Taylor and Warren Thompson. Unable to be present due to sickness in his family was Bert Kalkwarf.

Centennial Whisker Club to Form Sunday

Officers of the Centennial Whisker Club of Belmond are to be elected this coming Sunday afternoon at a meeting to be held at 2:00 o'clock at the city hall. Eldon Boyd, chairman of the whisker committee, says that any male residents of the community who wish to affiliate with this august organization are invited to attend the meeting and cast their ballots

According to the proposed rules of the club, W-Day — standing for Whisker Day, the deadline for starting to let 'em grow — is to be April 1. Thereafter, men with beardless jowls will be required to purchase a Shaver's Permit at a cost of $2.00 or be subject to such penalties and punishments as the officers of the Whisker club deem appropriate.

Membership in the club, on the other hand, will be just a dollar. Of course, savings in shaving cream and razor blades will provide added financial inducement for those who can to cultivate beavers during the pre-celebration period.

According to the club's articles, "Any male resident of the community or its environs who grows, sprouts and displays on his face any shrubbery of such a nature as to be unmistakably recognized as whiskers, and who pays $1 to the club's treasury, shall be considered an active member."

Special dispensation is offered "any member who is required by business to leave the community and is so chicken that he feels he cannot carry out the functions of his business or profession with facial adornment." If such a member obtains approval of the club's officers, special permission to shave will be granted.

Any individuals discovered under these circumstances to be "barefaced liars" will be dealt with severely, however.

Mr. Boyd says the Whisker club will have a dual purpose — to advertise the centennial and to contribute to the coffers of the finance committee. Badges signifying membership have been ordered and will be available before long.

Meanwhile, a number of hirsute displays are already coming into evidence and the whisker committee assures that it need not be regarded necessary to wait for W-Day to abandon the razor. The brave trail-blazers say, "You only itch once"—and that it's all downhill travel after the first few days.

DeWaard Funeral Held on Saturday

Funeral services for Nick DeWaard, 66, were held at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Congregational church, with Rev. Ralph Meyer and Rev. O. G. Poppen officiating. Johnston Funeral Home was in charge and burial was in the Wright Christian Reformed cemetery near Kanawha.

The pallbearers, all nephews of Mr. DeWaard, were Adrian DeWaard of Woden, Clarence DeWaard of Britt, Adrian DeWaard of Corwith, Earl Grandia of Pella, Raymond Van Zante of Leighton and Wilfred Van Zante of Ottumwa.

Death came to Mr. DeWaard very suddenly and unexpectedly on Wednesday evening at Belmond Community hospital, only a few minutes after he had suffered a heart attack at his home.

Born in Holland on Sept. 8, 1889, Mr. DeWaard was the son of Adrian and Gertje DeWaard. He emigrated to this country with his parents in 1890, who first came to Chicago and then made their home at South Holland, Ill. In 1909 the family moved to Dispatch, Kans., and then in 1921 took up residence in Wright county, where Mr. DeWaard spent the remainder of his life.

On May 11, 1928, he was married to Rebecca Grandia at Pella. She survives, as do three sisters — Serliena, Belmond; Mrs. Agnes Ploegstra, Kanawha; and Nellie, who is a missionary on the island of Java. Four brothers also survive—Simon, Mentone, Ind., Peter, Joe and Adrian, all of Kanawha.

Mr. DeWaard's parents and two brothers, John and Jacob, preceded him in death.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Annual meeting of the Wright County Historical society will be held at the courtroom in Clarion next Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. An address will be presented by State Representative Clark McNeal.

A business meeting will be conducted and projects will be discussed. Current president is Raynard Richardson of Goldfield.

Nine BHS Entries Earn Top Ratings In Speech Contest

Nine top ratings were awarded to Belmond High school entries in the Iowa High School Speech association preliminary contest that was held at Dows on Thursday of last week. None of the BHS contestants failed to win at least a Division II rating.

In dramatic declamation, Sharon Thompsen was awarded Division I on presentation of her selection, "Yellow Wallpaper." Mary Alice Studebaker and Sondra Kamm placed one division lower.

Maryellen Johnson, choosing as her oration "Flaming Faith," got a top rating in oratorical declamation. Connie Hill got a Division II placing.

All three of the BHS entrants in radio speaking were accorded Division I ratings. They were Jim Stadtlander, with "The Unsung Heroes" as his selection; Marcia Henn, "The Growth of Freedom;" and John Studebaker, "Problems of Complex Farming."

Both Belmond contestants in the humorous division were top-rated: Kathy Dorr, "Solo Melodrama;" and JoAnn McMannus, "I Like Men." Joan Kriens, only BHS entry in interpretive reading, was Division I with her offering of "The Creation."

The successful day was topped off during the evening's one-act play competition, in which Belmond's "Undertow" was awarded Division I. In the cast were Sharon Thompsen, Maryellen Johnson, Monica Jones, Mary Luick, Corrine Davenport, Mary Jo Benson, Connie Hill, Marcia Henn and Sandra Didio.

All the Division I winners will advance to the pre-district contest which is to be held the week of Feb. 27-March 2, at a site as yet unnamed.

HOPPLE GETS PROMOTION

Word has been received from Douglas Hopple by his grandfather, Adolph Wenzel, that he received a promotion last week to the rating of Staff Sergeant. Doug is an air tower control operator at Wort Smith Air Force Base, Oscoda, Mich. He will complete a four-year enlistment in the Air Force in June.

Special Plans Set For F.F.A. Week

Belmond High school's Friendly Service chapter of the Future Farmers of America will observe National FFA week, Feb. 18-25, by setting up a window display at Elliott's Hardware and holding its annual Father-and-Son Banquet on Monday evening. An attendance of more than 100 is expected at the banquet, which will be held at the hot lunch room starting at 6:30 o'clock.

President Gary Gabrielson will serve as master-of-ceremonies for the dinner program. Highlights will include presentation of senior letter awards and presentation of member awards for (1) the heaviest lamb at 30 days, (2) heaviest pig at 56 days, (3) best gain by a beef steer between Jan. 1 and fair time, and (4) highest corn yield.

Another program feature will be conferring of an honorary FFA degree upon an adult friend of the BHS Future Farmers. A demonstration will be given by the parliamentary procedure team that will represent Belmond in contest competition, its members being John Studebaker, Larry Stadtlander, Terrill Baker, Wayne Pals, and Donovan Goeman. The Freshman Creed will be spoken by Tommy Hill and Charles Didio, both candidates to be BHS contest representative in this speaking event.

Belmond's FFA chapter has 54 members and its advisor is Francis Kelly. Other officers besides Gabrielson are: Tom Stadtlander, vice president; Gary Ersland, secretary; Vernon McLaughlin, treasurer; John Studebaker, reporter; and Larry Stadtlander, sentinel.

3 GIRLS FROM THIS AREA WIN HAIR STYLING HONORS

A team consisting of Gloria Rabe of Belmond, Loretta Foss of Goodell and Melva Kuhlers of Meservey placed as runner-up in the third annual student hair styling contest conducted Monday night by the La James College of Beauty Culture of Mason City. Each team of student beauticians was required to present an original hair style. The three girls from the Belmond vicinity were competing against 30 other students.

Lions Minstrel Show Slated March 1-2

Belmond Lions club's second annual hometown mistrel show will take to the boards on Thursday and Friday, March 1 and 2, once again under the direction of Martin Qualen. Proceeds from this Lions project goes into the club's Student Aid Fund, from which money is loaned to Belmond High school graduates in need of financial assistance to obtain further educational training.

"The purpose of the show should suffice to assure a full house for both performances," declares Dr. P. A. Rietz, club president. "But beyond that, any who saw last year's production can promise that ticket purchasers will be rewarded with an evening of really enjoyable entertainment."

Tom Burdsal will be Mr. Interlocutor for this year's show. End men will be David Weltha, Bob Wilson, "Doc" Rietz, Wes Hunzinger, L. B. Oberhauser and Cecil Carstens.

Members of the traditional-quartet will be Weltha, Wilson, Rietz and "Bud" Trafford — "professionally" the Four Aces. Two groups of dancers drawn from among the local pupils of Evelyn Fisk Anderson of Eagle Grove will present specialties during the program.

Unquestionably the highlight of the evening, in the opinion of Mr. Qualen, will be a feature act starring the "Wesquire Calendar Girls." These "beauties," each portraying a month of the year, are all being drafted from among the Lions' membership and Director Qualen promises each of them will prove a "show stopper."

Tickets to the show are available from any member of the Lions club. Admission will be a dollar for adults and 50 cents for students, through high school.

HENRY LAUEN DIES

Bert Lauen received word Sunday of the death of his brother, Henry Lauen, in a hospital at Lawton, Okla.

DR. S. P. LEINBACH (at right) gives Dr. P. A. Rietz, Lions club president, an explanation of how the Lions' new Eye Bank equipment will be put to use. Except for the Iowa City club, which launched the state Eye Bank project, Belmond is the first in Iowa to possess this equipment.

All the money stuck to the till Tuesday afternoon. Not a single claimant came forth with a Cash Gift Day number good for a pay-off, so the CGD committee is getting a bit bolder and will lay $300 on the line next week. That will allow for four $25's at 2:00 p. m. next Tuesday and a pair of $100's at 3:00 o'clock. The "money numbers" this week were 1,163, 1,807, 2,956, 3,770 and 4,314 at 2:00 o'clock and 2,788 at 3:00. If you had one of 'em, you shoulda been there!

Meeting Feb. 22 To Feature Two Speakers on NFO

Two "outstanding" speakers have been engaged to appear at a nine-county meeting of farmers interested in the National Farmers Organization that will be held at the Clarion High school auditorium next Wednesday at 8:00 p. m. Farmers from Wright county and all of the eight counties that border on it have been invited to attend.

The estimate of the speakers as "outstanding" is offered by five Wright county men who heard them address an NFO meeting at Carroll two weeks ago — Tom Whitty, temporary county NFO chairman, and "Gus" Halverson of Belmond township; Adrian Schumacher, Eldo Nichols and Russ Martin of Grant township.

First speaker will be Corbin Crawford, Ainsworth farmer, who is on the board of directors of the Iowa unit of the NFO and has visited the national capital in behalf of the organization.

Following him on the program will be Carl H. Wilkin of Washington, D. C., a onetime Iowa farm operator who now is engaged in research and development of new uses for raw materials. The Wright countians who attended the Carroll meeting report that Wilkin's speech there was extremely thought-provoking.

Whitty says that not long after next week's meeting, a determined effort will be made to set up township NFO units throughout Wright county, preparatory to establishing a county organization.

Tim Holt Coming Here on Saturday

Tim Holt, Hollywood motion picture and television star, will appear at the Belmond Odd Fellows hall Saturday under sponsorship of Bob Feller of Feller's Elevator, Lake Cornelia.

Now making his home at Marshalltown and associated with the S&O Products company of that city, Mr. Holt is visiting as many of the So-Rite dealers in the state as possible.

Tim says, "This gives me a chance to get out an meet the people of my new home state. My wife, Berdee, and I chose to live in Iowa after our first visit here three years ago. We have found the people very nice and friendly."

The "Feller-by-the-Lake" says that Tim will be at the IOOF hall from 10:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. and is hoping that a lot of boys and girls will drop in to see him. Asked about autographs, Mr. Holt said, "If anyone, young or old, is nice enough to want one all they have to do is step up and ask."

Tim adds that Bob Feller has a surprise for all the boys and girls and that they will be eligible to register for a door prize to be given away at 1:45 p. m. The drawing will be for a gun and holster set—and receiving it direct from the hands of Tim Holt, the winner will undoubtedly be the envy of all his friends.

MISSIONARY AND FAMILY GUESTS OF L. JENISONS

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jenison had as dinner guests Friday a couple with whom they became friends while attending Iowa State college at Ames, Rev. and Mrs. Francis Younkin of Oskaloosa. The Younkins were accompanied by their two children and her mother, Mrs. David Ver Steegh. Mr. Younkin has just completed ministerial training at Princeton, N. J., and on Feb. 23 leaves with his family to spend five years in Thailand as a Presbyterian missionary.

Cook, Boles Again Will Head Public Affairs Meeting

Third in the series of public affairs meetings being sponsored by the Wright county extension service will be held at the Clarion Legion hall next Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock, with H. C. Cook and Donald Boles of the Iowa State college faculty again to be the speakers. Last Thursday they discussed, "What is the Legal Status of a County in Iowa?"

Their topic next Thursday will be "Legal Structure of Counties." Whereas in their first appearance they dealt mainly with the records and other requirements that the state requires of Iowa counties, they will consider types of county government at next week's meeting.

There has been doubt expressed in some quarters lately as to whether Wright county's five-man board, elected by districts, is the most efficient type of administration that is permissable under the law. Dr. Cook and Mr. Boles will go into the merits and faults inherent in the three, five and seven-man supervisory boards and also discuss the operation of government under the proposed county manager plan.

Dairy Interests Assn. Planning Big Day For County Dairymen Week from Friday

A special "Dairy Producer's Day" for Wright county dairymen, with five speakers on the program, will be held at Clarion on Friday of next week. Sponsor of the event will be the Wright County Dairy Interests association. The program will be held at the IOOF hall and will be an all-day affair starting at 10:30 a. m. and lasting until 3:15 p. m.

All dairymen will be given a free lunch at noon through the courtesy of the dairy association members, tickets to be handed out at time of registration.

Number of Door Prizes

Specialists on the program will include: Al Hagen of Des Moines, head of the dairy promotion set-up, who will tell the dairymen how their money is used that is voluntarily contributed for promotion of dairy products; and from Iowa State college — Arthur Porter, head of the dairy husbandry department; Dr. J. R. Herrick, extension veterinarian; Earl Wright, industry specialist; and H. B. Howell, extension economist.

Valuable door prizes will be drawn for periodically throughout the day, the first at the start of the day's program and the final, grand prize, immediately after the final speaker is heard. Numbers will be given out at time of registration.

Subjects Outlined

Subject matter to be presented will include: controlling diseases; the importance of and how to produce quality dairy products; latest research finds on efficient dairy management and feeding; the future of dairying; and information on the promotion of dairy products.

All dairymen — which is intended to include anyone who owns milk cows and sells any dairy products — of Wright county are invited to attend the meeting. Included among the 10 sponsoring organizations that belong to the Wright County Dairy Interests association is the Belmond Co-op Creamery.

BELMOND'S THREE MAILMEN NOW RESPLENDENT IN NEW UNIFORMS

Belmond's mail carriers, Wallace "Soupy" Cramer, Maynard Holmgaard and Jack Lobdell, appeared on their routes in new glory last Thursday — neatly attired in the new uniform-of-the-day. Actually, the new attire became "regulation" on Jan. 15, but the great demand the nation over plus the fact that production schedules of eastern manufacturers were held up by last year's floods, made it impossible for all carriers to blossom forth on the prescribed day.

Maroon braid and hat cords have replaced the former black, and a maroon tie is now de rigueur instead of black. A shoulder patch of maroon, emblazoned with a Pony Express insignia and U. S. Post Office Department inscription in white thread lends added nattiness to the uniforms. The new blue shirts provide contrast to the blue-grey of the trousers and jacket.

Congress appropriated enough funds to provide carriers with a $100 uniform allowance apiece for the transition year. It is expected that future, annual allowances for uniform maintenance will be provided, but what the amount will be isn't now known.

4-Letter Award To Belmond Auto For Eighth Time

George Heginger and Louis Tokman of Belmond Auto company have been informed that their Ford dealership has once again been awarded the Ford Motor company's Four-Letter Award as an outstanding agency. The citation for 1955 is the eighth in a row that Belmond Auto has received. It has never failed to qualify for the award since it was first established by Ford Motor in 1948.

Bases upon which the Four-Letter Award is made are: 1. Finances; 2. Management; 3. Spirit; and 4. Facilities. Winners of the award are chosen by district sales personnel—Belmond is in the Des Moines district—in cooperation with division officials

Only a relative handful of Ford agencies in the Des Moines district were selected to receive the Four-Letter Award on the basis of their 1955 operations. The number of dealerships that have won the award yearly ever since it was established is smaller still, and the co-proprietors of Belmond Auto company are both proud that their firm stands in this distinctive class and deeply appreciative that the loyal patronage of persons in the Belmond area has helped to make it possible.

Driver Training Class to Begin

Principal Clair Hugh announces that the Adult Education course in driver training will open next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of Ed Bruner. Eight women have already signed up for the course, but Mr. Hugh says additional enrollments can still be accepted.

Instruction will start out with three weeks of class work, preparing the class members to pass the test required to obtain a learner's permit. Thereafter, class time will be spent on actual car operation.

FOOD SALE SATURDAY

A food sale will be conducted at the Tip Top grocery this Saturday by the Ladies Aid of the Trinity Lutheran church. Selling will start at 10:00 a. m.

High School Band In Concert Sunday

Annual winter concert of the Belmond High school band will be presented Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the school gymnasium under direction of Roland Brom. A widely varied program has been prepared, which Mr. Brom believes will be pleasing to all musical tastes.

In addition to four marches for the lovers of military rhythms, the following specialty numbers will be offered: four movements from "Atlantis Suite," Safranek; "Flute Cocktail" by Simeone as recorded by Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops orchestra, featuring Shirley Pals, Sara Simerson and Judy Oberhauser as a flute trio.

Five movements from Offenbach's "Ballet Parisian;" solo for tenor sax and band, "Beautiful Colorado" by De Luca, Ronnie Courson as soloist; Spiritual from "A Symphony of Fun," Gillis; and "Beguine for Band," Osser.

Marches will include "Procession of Bacchus" from Delibes' ballet "Sylvia" and "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral," Wagner.

30 Couples Vie In Bridge Meet

R. B. Thompson and Charles Wilmarth won first place in the bridge tournament conducted last Saturday and Monday nights at the IOOF hall by two divisions of the St. Francis Rosary society. They had an aggregate score of 156 plus-points to edge out Rev. R. A. Ormsby and Mrs. James Mariga by eight.

Third place went to Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Larson, a point behind the runners-up; and Mrs. Arlo Pitcher and Mrs. George Richards were fourth with 141 points. Sixty bridge players competed, 15 full tables being in action Saturday night and 10 on Monday.

MRS. FERGUSON HURT

Mrs. Chris Wagner has received word that Mrs. Earl Ferguson of Miami, Fla., fell and fractured her hip on Monday of last week. She is in the Victoria hospital room 221, Miami, Fla.

Three Belmond Churches Will Join In Observing World Day of Prayer

Women of the Bethany Reformed, Congregational and Methodist churches will jointly observe the annual World Day of Prayer with a service at the Congregational church tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. This is the 29th year that the event has been observed and services will be held in approximately 120 countries, the world around.

In general charge of planning the service here were Mrs. Harm Gruis and Mrs. Nick DeWaard of the Bethany church; Mrs. Dale Kessler and Mrs. G. J. Hruska, Congregational; and Mrs. Robert Rosene, Methodist.

Leaders who will share in reading the service, which is followed in a common form all over the world, are to be: Mrs. Gruis, from the Bethany church; Mrs. Kessler and Mrs. L. T. Trafford, Congregational; and Mrs. M. E. Followwill, Mrs. George Jenison and Mrs. Luther Proeger, Methodist.

Each of the churches is taking responsibility for a skit illustrating how the World Day of Prayer is observed in other places over the globe. The Methodists' will be put on by Neva Kyser, Joan Kriens and Elna Jenison, depicting a service in Pakistan.

Mrs. William Schorman, Mrs. Dwight Tyrrell and Mrs. George Kelcher will represent the Congregational church in dramatizing a service in Korea. Mrs. Lester Stoffer and her six-year-old daughter Leslie Jill, of the Bethany Reformed, will portray an observance in a migrant dwelling. Mrs. John Ruiter of the Bethany church will serve as organist for the entire program.

Average Support For Corn in '56 At $1.40 per Bu.

Price support rate for corn produced in 1956 in the commercial areas subject to acreage allotments, including all Iowa counties, has been fixed at 81 per cent of parity for a national average of $1.40 per bushel, it was reported this week by the Wright county ASC committee.

The national average rate for the 1955 crop in the commercial areas was $1.58 or 87 per cent of parity. The 1956 rate for each individual county will be announced later. In 1955, the county-by-county range for corn in Iowa was $1.49 to $1.58.

Oats, 70% of Parity

Barley, oats, rye and grain sorghum produced in 1956 will be supported at 70 per cent of parity, the same as in 1955, but the dollar-and-cents rates will be slightly different. The parity support rates on flaxseed and soybeans have been raised for 1956, with resulting increases in the dollars-and-cents rates.

The 1956 national average rates for such of these commodities as are produced in quantity in Wright county follow:

Oats—70 per cent of parity or 59 cents per bushel. This is two cents less than for 1955.

Soybeans—75 per cent of parity or $2.15 per bushel, which is 11 cents higher than for 1955 when the support rate was 70 per cent of parity.

All Iowa in Corn Area

Present law requires that producers in the 840 counties of 23 states which have been officially designated as commercial corn producing areas, including all of Iowa, must comply with their corn acreage allotments to be eligible for price support on thir 1956 corn.

In areas outside the commercial counties, the support rate for corn will be only three-fourths of the rate in the commercial counties, or an average of $1.05 per bushel.

Annette Swenson BHS Cage Queen

Annette Swenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Swenson, was crowned as 1956 BHS Basketball Queen in ceremonies held during the halftime intermission at last Friday night's Belmond-Britt game. She was nominated by the senior class as a candidate.

Roger "Joe" Smith crowned the Queen and Tom Lowenberg, co-captain with Smith for the Britt game, presented her with a bouquet of roses. Kathy Pals, the tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pals, served as flower girl and her escort as crown-bearer was the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nutt, Craig.

Miss Swenson was elected queen by vote of the high school student body from a field of eight candidates, two nominated by each class.

The seven girls who served as consorts to the queen were: Maryellen Johnson, senior; Joan Kriens and Phyllis Soma, juniors; Marjorie Gabrielson and Wilma Fruisman, sophomores; Karen Dannewitz and Cynthia Saunders, freshmen.

ROAD JOB AWARDED

The Iowa State Highway commission has announced award of the contract to surface the farm-to-market road at the east edge of town to Cameron, Joyce & Co. of Keokuk on a bid of $55,041.42. The approximately one mile of road is to be surfaced with asphaltic concrete.

Britt Takes 3rd in NIC with 58-53 Win as 4th Period Bronco Rally Fails

Inability to hit the hoop with regularity either from the floor or from the freethrow line deprived Belmond's Broncos of a victory in their North Iowa conference finale here Friday night. The 58-53 decision earned by the Britt Eagles gave them a 7-5 record for the league campaign and third place in the standings, while the defeat dumped Belmond into fourth place.

Both teams connected for 22 field goals, but Britt made good on 14 out of 21 freethrows while Belmond was able to score on only nine out of 20 charity chances. The same tenseness and overanxiousness that hurt the Broncs at the foul line also caused them to miss many set shots by wide margins and to "blow" repeated lay-ups as they gamely battled to pull into a third place tie by trimming the Eagles.

Broncs Lead 49-48

Only briefly in each half were the Broncos out in front. They led 5-4 early in the first quarter and again at 45-44, 47-46 and 49-48 in the last three or four minutes of the final canto. Despite the stubborn refusal of the ball to settle through the hoop, they kept close on Britt's heels throughout the opening half and never trailed by more than five points. Larry Schimp hit a fielder just before intermission that cut the deficit to 24-23 at the buzzer.

Dale Caquelin picked up four fouls before halftime, and Coach Dick Hobbs kept him on the bench as the third quarter got underway. Jerry Chandler was also out of action during part of the period. For a while, a rout appeared in the making as Britt sailed into a 40-31 lead. But with return of the two veterans to the line-up as the fourth quarter started, the Broncs launched a determined rally.

Nielson Settles Issue

Some sensational ball thievery helped to unsettle the visitors and momentarily it appeared the Eagles might lose their poise. But in the final moments of the battle, Belmond defensive lapses combined in a cluster of missed freethrow opportunities to give Britt the opening it was looking for. In the stretch drive, Dale Nielson hit for three Britt baskets to stamp himself as star of the evening.

In his three quarters of play, Caquelin gathered 14 points, as did Bill Murray—who replaced starter "Joe" Smith at the end of the first period. Schimp collected 11, including eight during the Bronco rally in the final stanza.

Froshmores Win 35-28

Jerry Chandler, having one of his poorer nights, was good for only five, matching Tom Lowenberg's output. Smith and Gary Meyer each contributed a couple of points.

Dale Nielson and Harold Wallen both garnered 16 points for the victors, and Schutzer picked up 14, to lead the Britt attack.

In the froshmore game, Belmond broke loose from a 13-13 halftime tie to barrel into a 31-19 lead in the third quarter and then coasted to a 35-28 victory. Tom McNulty was the Junior Broncs' big gun with 19 points.

Holy Family Here Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night the Broncos will conclude their regular 1955-56 basketball season against perhaps the toughest foe they have met during the campaign — the vaunted Maroons of Mason City Holy Family. Coach Eddie Colbert's team has racked up 20 victories in 23 starts during the current campaign and without question confidently looks for No. 21 here Friday.

Two of the Maroons' wins were at the expense of Northwood's North Iowa conference champions, who drubbed the Broncos 69-37 to clinch the title. It might be noted in passing, however, that Holy Family nipped the Vikings by only a point in one meeting; and that Belmond was trimmed by Northwood by the same meager margin in their first game.

That might indicate that, should the Broncos reach the heights of which they were regarded capable at the season's start, they could give the visitors a real argument. In the Maroons' Denny Bruns, local fans will have an opportunity to see one of north Iowa's very finest high school centers.

On Tuesday evening, "B" tilts will match Hansell with Geneva and Chapin with Alexander, the victors to meet Thursday at 7:00 o'clock. The Class B finals will be played as the first game Saturday night.

Northwood has only to dispose of Osage and St. Ansgar and Lake Mills to get by Manly to set up a third meeting between these two NIC powers at Northwood on Friday of next week for the right to advance to Class A district play.

Garner and Britt appear the class of the "A" sectional field that will do battle at Garner next week. Garner, with a first-round bye, meets the Britt-Forest City survivor in a semi-final tussle next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The relatively weak upper bracket includes Thompson, Kanawha and Ventura.

If Buffalo Center can get by the host team at Titonka, the Bison will have Algona as a final round foe in its sectional. But Titonka has a pretty fair outfit and might derail the BC crew in the semi's.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

FOR COUNTY SHERIFF

ISENBERGER CHICKS
For Greater Profits in '56
STARTING OUR 15TH YEAR
YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO TAKE CHANCES ON THIS YEAR'S POULTRY PROFITS
This year, especially with lower feed costs — better egg and poultry prices — you just can't take chances on your year's profit. Join with the hundreds of other poultrymen who plan their poultry project with an eye on the future! Today the original cost of the chick, the length of time and the amount of feed taken to maturity, the number of eggs laid are all very important factors. Any one of these factors alone might seem small, but with any one of them out of line then your profit potential is gone.
With the breeding, raising and selecting of our own 4000 breeders, as well as our supply flocks, we have worked with one thought in mind, that is, we must produce chicks of unequalled quality, that will grow into pullets with the inherent ability to lay at a satisfactory rate for a period of 10 to 12 months.
This is the type of flock it takes to make you money . . .

Easter Seal Campaign Slated Later Than Usual

New timing for the 1956 Easter Seal campaign in behalf of Iowa's crippled children was announced this week by R. W. Gibson, former Eagle Grove superintendent of schools, who is chairman of the Wright County Society for Crippled Children.

He reports that the 1956 campaign, which marks 29 years of service by the state society, will be conducted March 10 to April 10 — extending nine days after Easter to avoid conflict with other fund-raising drives scheduled for about the same time.

Previous Easter Seal appeals closed Easter Sunday, opening a month before that date. This year's colorful seals for the Crippled Children's Society will be mailed to Wright county residents at the start of the campaign.

Mrs. Grace McNaughton, Eagle Grove school nurse, is case worker for the Wright county society and Mrs. William Fischer, also of Eagle Grove, is its secretary-treasurer. Mrs. A. C. Hanson is Belmond's representative on the board.

Other board members are: Drs. M. J. Shaeferle and Glen W. Patterson, Eagle Grove; Dr. E. L. Sisemore, Mrs. P. M. Sims, Mrs. Ruth Ellers and C. W. Sankey, Clarion; Mrs. H. C. Pinkham, Goldfield; and Mrs. W. G. Knox, Dows.

RICHARD CRAPSER BACK HOME FROM NAVAL DUTY

Richard Crapser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crapser, is back home after discharge last month from the U. S. Naval Aviation service. He held an AK3 rating upon his release and most lately had been serving as a storekeeper aboard the seaplane tender USS Orca.

During the four years he was in uniform, Crapser spent 2½ years at the Point Mugu guided missile station near Oxnard, Calif., and six months aboard the USS Yorktown at the time the giant carrier was helping to evacuate two small islands off Formosa that were threatened with Communist attack.

Currently, Richard's plans are uncertain, but he would like to continue with his schooling. He is a BHS graduate.

RETARDED CHILDREN ASSN. MEETS NEXT ON MARCH 7

[illegible] Lange, psychiatrist for the state department of special education, gave an interesting and informative talk Wednesday night of last week at the monthly meeting of the Wright County Association for Retarded Children.

A large group of parents and other interested persons heard the guest speaker's remarks at the Rowan school's community room. Following the meeting a general discussion was held and refreshments were served.

Next regular meeting of the association will be held Wednesday, March 7, at the Clarion High school.

Mrs. Freda King Dies at Age 66

Funeral services were held last Saturday at Correctionville for Mrs. Freda King, 66, mother of Emmett King. She had fallen at her home a week earlier and suffered a broken hip. Mr. King and family had gone to see her Monday of last week as plans were being made for the fracture to be set at a hospital.

On Tuesday, as she was being given a local anesthetic preparatory to setting the broken bone, Mrs. King died very suddenly. She had been a victim of diabetes for a number of years. Her husband passed away several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. King and their three children returned to Correctionville on Tuesday after word of his mother's unexpected death was received. They returned to Goodell late Monday night of this week.

EUB Ladies Aid Meeting Held at J. J. Cook Home

Mrs. L. W. Sherwood and Mrs. J. J. Cook were hostesses to the E. U. B. Ladies Aid last Wednesday afternoon in the Cook home. Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg led in devotions. Mrs. J. Reed of Council Bluffs was an out of town guest. The members voted to pay a plumbing bill at the parsonage and a furnace repair bill at the church. March hostesses are Mrs. A. C. Carpenter and Mrs. Charles Halfpop.

Catholic Society Hold Open House

St. Mary's Rosary held "open house" Sunday afternoon in the church basement. The occasion marked the 60th anniversary of establishment of the Catholic church in Goodell and also gave the ladies an opportunity to show the public the newly decorated basement. Over 100 were present.

Mrs. Ray Barry, president of the Rosary society, had charge of the program. She presented Rev. R. A. Ormsby, who gave a talk of appreciation; Lorainne Fuller in two flute solos; Loretta Fuller and Mrs. Sol Krass read poems; Josephine Dominy gave the history of the church; and Jon Green, Lester Ver Helst and Bill Ayers played two accordion pieces.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated tea table, with Mrs. Ray Barry and Mrs. Paul Kramer pouring. Decorations were in red and white and the centerpiece was of red carnations and white snapdragons. A silver offering of $65 was received.

Guests from a distance were Mrs. Rose Houghton, Reginald and Mrs. D. M. Conlon of Marshalltown, Mrs. Bob Boettinger of Minneapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lowenberg of Clare.

Delwyn Brede was married to Ann Pettibone at Moravia Sunday at the Grace Methodist church, Moravia. Persons from this way attending were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brede; his sister, Mrs. Dale McClure, and family; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brede; also Mr. and Mrs. Roy Halfpop; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Halfpop and Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Miller, all of Goodell; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Guth and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jurgemeyer of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lowenberg of Clare visited Sunday with the Frank Dominys and Arthur Lowenbergs. They came to Belmond to see Mrs. Justin Lowenberg, who has been ill.

The Edgar Reed family of Mason City and his mother, Mrs. Josephine Reed of Council Bluffs, with Margaret Brede spent the weekend in the home of Dale Bredes while they were in Moravia for the wedding.

Mrs. S. S. Sarber accompanied her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy of Clear Lake, to Denver, Colo., Saturday to enjoy two weeks in the home of another daughter, Mrs. Adrian Corliss.

We're making every effort to bring GOODELL NATURAL GAS Service at the earliest possible time!

● Here is a group of Iowa Electric Light and Power Company employees who assembled bound copies of our application to serve your community and other Iowa communities with Natural Gas. Eighty of these bound copies have been presented to the Federal Power Commission.

Blue Blazer Your Hard Working Gas Servant

Representatives of this Company are now in Washington participating in hearings before the Federal Power Commission on applications of this and other utility companies to serve various communities in Iowa and adjoining states. It is likely that the hearings will be protracted and we cannot now estimate when a decision will be made. You may be certain that we will make a vigorous presentation of your community's interest in this hearing and of our desire to serve the community with natural gas at the earliest possible date.

WHY NATURAL SERVES YOU SO WELL

Natural gas is fast — the modern "wonder" fuel. It's dependable — not at the mercy of storms and natural hazards. It's economical for house heating, cooking, water-heating and incineration. For cleanliness, speed, dependability, economy, natural gas "has got it!"

STEPS NECESSARY TO BRING YOU NATURAL GAS

1. Approval of Franchise by your community (which you have given us.)
2. Approval of application by Federal Power Commission (which is now pending.)
3. Actual construction work (which will go forward at the earliest possible time after FPC approval.)

IT'S A HEALTHY SIGN THAT OUR C-OF-C AND COUNCIL SHOULD CONSIDER ZONING

A good many Belmond citizens who are ambitious for the continued growth and development of their home town are watching with keen interest to see what the city council's decision will be regarding adoption of a local zoning ordinance. While they do not contend that Belmond will die on the vine, should request of the Chamber of Commerce for a zoning law and planning commission be rejected, they feel that Belmond's future will be more promising if logical planning lies behind it.

Admittedly, Belmond would be one of the smallest communities in the state boasting a zoning law, if the city fathers decide it would be sensible to adopt one. But the C-of-C committee that for some months has been studying the benefits of zoning believes that we're not too small to profit by joining the ranks of zoned cities.

It has been stressed by the Chamber committee in conferring with the council that a zoning ordinance contains the means of modifying itself, so that changes can be made in its area designations if proper evidence is presented as to why this should be done. By and large, though, property values stand to be increased by zoning and valid complaints should not be numerous if a sound, land-use survey precedes passage of the zoning ordinance.

The Chamber is to be commended for its offer to underwrite the expense of such a survey. It should be appreciated that the C-of-C members have no delusions that an immediate and generous return is to be expected by their investment of $1,625 in underwriting the survey cost. But they DO believe that in the long run it could prove money well spent.

It is logical some propertyowners might be a bit skeptical about the effects of zoning while unfamiliar with its objectives. But it has proved workable AND beneficial in communities that have carefully surveyed their circumstances and needs FIRST, and proceeded from there, as the Chamber proposes should be done here.

Concern over zoning and planning is a certain indication of a progressive community, and it's a healthy sign that Belmond's Chamber of Commerce and city council should deem these twin goals worthy of serious study.

LOW SCHOOL COSTS ARE NICE ONLY IF THEY STILL PROVIDE A-1 EDUCATIONS

We've said it before, and we say it again — that keeping expenditure of the taxpayer's money at a lower than average level isn't necessarily ALWAYS a good thing. What prompts repetition of this observation is the news story last week that revealed Belmond Community School district's per pupil cost as 5th lowest in the state among communities with populations of 2,000 or more in 1954-55.

In view of the fact that schools in the Belmond district didn't sacrifice any essentials in the way of teacher standards or otherwise to attain this position, the achievement is commendable. But we'd hate to see the day arrive when economy for its own sake ever became a primary consideration of our school board and superintendent.

The first objective of our schools should be to provide our children with an education that will hold them in good stead throughout their lifetimes; and certainly the patrons of our district want it this way.

For that reason, we were not dismayed when Supt. Don Faris freely predicted that the Belmond district likely will not rank so low in the per pupil cost ratings when they are figured for the current school year. We're confident that we'll still hold a favorable position; but if it isn't so eye-catchingly low, we'll not be disturbed.

Administration of our schools has been a good cut above average in late years, and we're much more anxious that that should continue to prevail than that we should rank among the lowest of the low on cost. For while this continues, we'll remain confident that as a taxpayer we're getting our money's worth — no matter what is spent; and that educational standards will at no time be sacrificed on the altar of false economy.

HICKENLOOPER'S AND MARTIN'S VOTE ON THAT GAS BILL IS A PUZZLER

It's going to be interesting to hear what Senator's Hickenlooper and Martin have to say to their constituents when they're asked to explain their vote on the Harris-Fulbright natural gas bill. It would seem, offhand, that at least as good a brief was presented by the advocates of continued federal control over producers' prices of natural gas as there was for repeal of control.

Certainly the host of Iowans who have considerable sums invested in gas-consuming appliances for cooking and heating are not going to be too kindly disposed toward the two senators when gas rates go up — as they inevitably will. In an election year, when the questionability of President Eisenhower's candidacy leaves the Republicans with a rough, tough fight in prospect, we'd say that the gentlemen's vote in favor of the Harris-Fullbright bill leaves their political acumen somewhat in doubt.

MISS ANNE FISCHER WED ON FEBRUARY 4 TO BRUCE SNELL, JR.

White gladioli, pompons, snapdragons and lighted candles decorated the Evangelical United Brethren church in Meservey for the wedding of Miss Anne Fischer and Bruce Morey Snell, Jr., Saturday afternoon, February 4. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Fischer of Meservey and the groom, son of Judge and Mrs. Bruce M. Snell of Ida Grove.

Judge Snell, father of the groom, officiated at the double-ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. Phillip Pfaltzgraff. Robert Potter, cousin of the groom, sang, "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee", "Serenity" and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Mrs. Richard Halfpop of Meservey at the organ.

The bride wore a gown of imported chantilly lace and misty nylon tulle over slipper satin, the molded lace bodice styled with a sweetheart neckline, buttoned down the back with miniature buttons. The long leeves tapered to a bridal point over the wrists, the full gathered floor-length skirt was fashioned with lace appliques. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible with streamers of stephanotis. A circle of pearls held her fingertip veil.

Mrs. Roger Anderson of Williamsburg, former roommate of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis Volpp and Mrs. Ray Holder, both of Iowa City.

The attendants wore ballerina gowns with scoop necklines and full gathered skirts. The matron of honor wore raspberry red crystalette and the bridesmaids wore silver-gray crystalette. They carried bouquets of white pompons and carnations.

Roger Anderson of Williamsburg served as best man. Ushers were Richard Overholtzer of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Richard Cervene of Grinnell. The groom and attendants were in black formal attire.

The bride's mother wore a rose crepe dress with black and winter white accessories. The groom's mother wore a maroon brocade with black accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. William Fischer, sister-in-law of the bride, was in charge of the guest book; Mrs. David Wait and Jane Dunlop, in charge of the gifts. Dorothy Reager and Jean Moore cut the cake and served the ice cream, Mrs. Richard Overholtzer and Mrs. Phillip Christy poured and Joan Dunlop served the bridal table. The above hostesses were all classmates of the bride in Iowa City. Mrs. Dale Lage, Mrs. Merlin Ruitter and Mrs. Jake Koenen of Meservey and Vivian Smith of Naperville, Ill., also served as hostesses.

For going away the bride wore a powder blue lambs wool dress with navy blue and winter white accessories. The couple will reside at 409½ E. Washington in Iowa City, where the groom will resume his studies until graduating from the college of law in June. His wife, a graduate of the State University of Iowa, is employed at the University hospitals.

Stadtlander Rites Conducted Today

Funeral services for Joe Stadtlander were to be held today at the First Reformed church, Rev. E. Kampmann officiating. Mr. Stadtlander, a long-time resident of the Meservey vicinity, died early Monday morning at a Mason City hospital.

Although Mr. Stadtlander had been taken to the hospital only last Saturday, he had been in failing health for several years.

WOMAN'S CLUB MET

The Meservey Woman's club met on Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Walter Koehler for their regular meeting and annual Valentine party and gift exchange with their secret club sister. The devotions were given by Mrs. G. E. Jurgenson, who also presided in the absence of the president, vice president and secretary. The lesson was given by Mrs. Andrew Boelman on "National Parks and Conservation." She also showed movies they had taken while on their trips through the parks of the west. A letter was read from Mrs. Lovell Diddy who has been a patient in the Mercy hospital. Lunch was served by the hostess.

$306 FOR POLIO FUND

Mrs. Jake Pals chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Meservey, reports that $306.77 was contributed during the polio campaign. She expresses her appreciation and the thanks of her solicitors to all who donated to this worthy cause. Her assistants were Mrs. May Messemeiser, Mrs. Keith Dunton, Mrs. Herman Fischer and Mrs. Ben J. Boelman.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nordman and children spent Saturday and Sunday in Clarksville with relatives and friends.

Rev. and Mrs. Oslund from Oregon are spending a few days at the parental Mrs. Mary Thomas home. They have spent the past week at Red Wing, Minn., attending some Lutheran meetings. Monday, they and Mrs. Thomas were dinner guests at the Ray Peters home at Swaledale.

The bowling team and their wives enjoyed a potluck dinner Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Enderson after which the men made their usual trip to Clear Lake for bowling.

The Past Presidents Parley of the Meservey American Legion Auxiliary unit met on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. N. S. Faaborg. The afternoon was spent preparing articles for the veteran hospitals, after which lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Simpson of Galt visited Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John R. Schmidt. They also stopped at the post office to see Mrs. Robert Raecker and also visited with Bob Raecker. Leo is the rural mail carrier out of Galt.

Mrs. Sorine Grosz is still confined to bed at her home.

Mrs. Don Meints visited Sunday with her husband in the Des Moines Veterans hospital. He underwent surgery Monday morning.

C-of-C Will Sponsor Food Demonstrations Three Days Next Week

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

It has occurred to more than one Belmond male by now that this centennial whisker business is a wonderful break for a lazy man. Shaves can now be skipped without compunction, since a prickly-chin is assumed to indicate that the owner has simply "started" his beard.

What man doesn't at times regard the late-night or early-morning ritual of whisker eradication as a chore too loathesome to undertake?

Wives, of course, may become a bit skeptical if their mates get to "starting beards" several times a week between now and the April 1 deadline. But if a woman has the privilege of changing and re-changing her mind, shouldn't WE be permitted some false starts on the whiskers?

—M-S—

We're told (a bit belatedly) that the Jaycees' basketball game with Clarion played as a benefit for the Olympic fund, netted $30 for the cause. The Iowa J. C. C. sponsored something of a statewide project in behalf of the fund, which brought in close to $8,350. Had all state Junior Chambers done as well, the resulting $400,000-plus would have taken care of quite a sizeable chunk of the Olympic tab!

—M-S—

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Groen, former proprietors of the Duck-Inn at Goodell, inform the Mainstreeters that they have purchased the Holiday Motel at Harrison, Ark., which boasts of being the "Hub of the Ozarks". A card which they enclosed with their note indicates that Harrison is 436 miles from Des Moines — which makes it about a 526-mile jaunt from Belmond. The Groens will be glad to see any of their old friends down for a look at the Ozark scenery.

—M-S—

Goodell's been experiencing some pet losses due to poisoning. Recent victim was "Boots," 14-year-old Cocker Spaniel belonging to Mrs. Bertha Holmes, who lives with the W. F. Beiers. It's assumed the poisonings haven't been deliberate; but the owners of other beloved pets are sincerely hoping that the careless party who's left the poison accessible will take the necessary steps to see that the deaths cease.

—M-S—

Particular attention is called to the political advertisement regarding the Eisenhower farm program which appears in this issue's second section, on the editorial page. This is something strictly new and different in political ads. The Mainstreeters can recall none of a similar nature ever appearing in The Independent's pages.

Only a minority of Iowa's weekly newspapers were selected to publish this advertisement—just The Independent and the Eagle Grove Eagle in Wright county; but they were chosen to give wide publicity to the message.

It is President Eisenhower's belief that the old policy of rigid supports for farm crops, plus similarly rigid controls, has not proved itself a particularly distinguished success. There are a lot of farmers hereabouts who will readily agree with him. Anyway, read the ad and see which way the wind is blowing.

—M-S—

When Mrs. Mamie Chase observed her 100th birthday here on Feb. 10 she was thrilled beyond words to received a card of congratulations from President Eisenhower, signed by "Ike," personally. This was but one of some 600 communications she received in recognition of her birthday anniversary. In addition to the messages, 80 friends and relatives attended the open house.

A letter also was received from Gov. Leo Hoegh, who expressed deep regret that prior commitments prevented him from visiting her on the occasion of her birthday and delivering his good wishes in person.

Other congratulatory messages included a wire from the mayor of Forest City, where Mamie made her home until last fall. She was quite overwhelmed by all the attention her anniversary brought her, not only from friends but from persons who read of her birthday in the state press and sent their congratulations.

Teen-Agers Plan An Entertainment As Polio Benefit

Tuesday evening of next week the public will be given an opportunity to hear several of the speech presentations that won Division I honors for BHS entrants at the state preliminary speech contest held recently at Dows. At the same time, purchasers of tickets will be helping a worthy cause as all proceeds from the entertainment will be contributed to the high school's Teen-Age Polio Drive.

Mary Luick, chairman of the Teen-Age campaign, says the benefit entertainment will be given at the high school auditorium, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

On the program will be five of the BHS contest entries that qualified for pre-district competition to be held some time next week at a site as yet undisclosed. Included will be the one-act play, a thriller by Anne Weatherby entitled "Undertow." In the cast are Sharon Thompsen, Maryellen Johnson, Monica Jones, Mary Luick, Corrine Davenport, Mary Jo Benson, Connie Hill, Marcia Henn and Sandra Didio.

Also on the program will appear: Sharon Thompsen, in a dramatic reading, "Yellow Wallpaper;" Joan Kriens, with an interpretive reading of the poem "The Creation;" JoAnn McMannus in a humorous piece, "I Like Men;" and Maryellen Johnsen in an oratorical selection, "Flaming Faith."

They'll Be Taking Bows

ANYBODY YOU KNOW? These same faces, by and large, will appear in the cast of the Lions club's 2nd annual Hometown Minstrel Show on Thursday and Friday nights of next week at the BHS auditorium. This picture was taken after last year's show. Perhaps you can penetrate the grease paint sufficiently to identify the following: George Sharp, Lloyd Lewis, Jim Cairns, Dr. P. A. Rietz, Dr. A. M. Larson, Ed Gabrielson, Neil Flanagan, Len Collier, Jack Lansing, Friend Bras, L. B. Oberhauser, Maynard Johnston, C. C. Carstens, Carroll Hensel, Larry Murray, Clair Hildman, R. B. Thompson. That "half man" at the right is Director Martin Qualen.

DeMerritt Rites Conducted Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Klemme Methodist church for Mrs. William L. DeMerritt, 46, who had been a resident of the Belmond vicinity for the past year. Her husband is employed on the farm of Jim McLaughlin. Rev. John Datema, pastor of the Full Gospel church north of Klemme, conducted the final rites and burial was in Memorial Park cemetery at Mason City. Fulton Funeral Home was in charge.

Mrs. DeMerritt had been ill for only a few days prior to her passing, apparently with a chest congestion. She was found by members of her family dead in her bed on Thursday morning. She leaves her husband and four children—Beverly, William L., Jr., Marcille and Roger—ranging in age from six to 17.

Other survivors include her mother, Mrs. Lydia Ax of Klemme; three brothers—Irvin Ax of Klemme, Elmer of Chicago and Lloyd of Brownsville, Tex.; and one sister, Mrs. J. M. Neuberger, also of Brownsville.

Ida Alice Ax was born Feb. 8, 1910 in Liberty township, Hancock county, the youngest daughter of William and Lydia Ax. She was married on July 15, 1937, to William L. DeMerritt of Klemme and four children were born to them.

Jaycees Endorse Zoning Proposal

Clair Hugh, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee that has been urging adoption of a city zoning ordinance, spoke Monday night before a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He told of the benefits to be derived from proper zoning and planning and of the survey on land use that the Chamber has volunteered to finance if the city council approves passage of a zoning ordinance and establishment of a zoning and planning commission.

Mr. Hugh stressed that zoning in no way affects existing commercial enterprises that are located in what might be declared strictly residential areas. Such businesses, he pointed out, may not enlarge their facilities but may continue to operate even though their location should fall within a non-commercial zone.

He also emphasized that the prospect of Belmond's further industrial growth would be greatly enhanced by zoning.

After hearing Mr. Hugh's remarks, the Junior Chamber passed a resolution endorsing the senior Chamber's effort to see zoning undertaken in Belmond.

GREENFIELD HOME

S/Sgt. L. K. "Sonny" Greenfield arrived in Belmond last Sunday from Vance Air Force Base, Enid, Okla., to spend a 10-day furlough with his parents.

Wesquire "Lovelies" Selected For Lions Club Minstrel Show

Slightly altering a familiar slogan, "The Place to Go to See People You Know" on Thursday and Friday nights of next week will be the 2nd annual Hometown Minstrel Show of the Belmond Lions club. Curtain time will be 8:00 p. m. on both evenings, and advance sale of tickets suggests that good crowds will be in attendance both nights.

Director Martin Qualen reports that the show is shaping up in fine style and will feature some surprisingly skillful local talent. He makes no promises as to the "skill" of the dozen "beauties" who will be featured in a special presentation bearing the title "Wesquire Calendar Girls."

Tricked out in breath-taking finery, each representing a different month in the year, will be the following femmes fatale: Lloyd Lewis, Neil Flanagan, Chet Hiddleston, Len Collier, Larry Murray, Clair Hildman, Clair Hugh, George Sharp, Dr. A. M. Larson, Carroll Hensel, Lloyd Lerdal and Jack Lansing.

Three "Repeaters"

Messrs. Collier, Lansing and Hugh (perhaps on this occasion your reporter could give way to a periodical temptation and call them simply "Messers") established quite a reputation for themselves in last year's show as female impersonators. It is promised by Mr. Qualen that the other curvaceous cuties will be a match for the "tempting trio" of last spring's production.

Realizing the high level of pulchritude expected of the distaff division of the show, several of the Lions begged off the "Wesquire" assignment on the excuse of knobby knees and hirsute chests. Those assigned to the "Calendar" stint may, in view of the discrimination that was exercised, be expected to qualify from all standpoints for their seductive roles.

Dancers Named

To be featured in a couple of dancing numbers are the following Belmond pupils of Evalyn Fisk Anderson, Eagle Grove instructor: Janet Howell, Lora Howell, Sue Wilmarth, Kristine Thompson, Laural Holmgaard, Roberta Ersland, Loree Baker, Sandra Jean Kennedy, Timmy Courson, Bobby Garms, Mary Kay Pals, DeeGee Griffen, Janet Jo Biddle and Emma Louise Garms.

Special musical divertissement will be provided by the BHS dance band, the "High Hatters." Its personnel includes Doug Nodland, Terrill Baker, Ronnie Courson, Ted Thompson, Bill Halfwassen, Mary Ennen, DaDean Obrecht and Brad Hammond.

As previously announced, the Interlocutor will be Tom Burdsal and his End Men are to be David Weltha, Bob Wilson, "Doc" Rietz, Wes Hunzinger, L. B. Oberhauser and Cecil Carstens. And the tradition male quartet will be composed of Weltha, Wilson, Rietz and "Bud" Trafford.

Mrs. Tom Burdsal will be the accompanist for the show.

$125 Was Set Afloat

Mrs. Albert Wendel picked up $100 Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. on No. 2,074 and Mrs. Jim Nelson at 2:00 o'clock presented No. 1,780 and walked off with $25 to lighten the Cash Gift Day kitty by $125 this week. The holder of No. 3,949 could have matched Mrs. Wendel's good luck at 3:00 o'clock—had he or she been on hand. Numbers that went unclaimed at 2:00 p. m. were 1,391, 2,802 and 3,566. The CGD committee is replenishing the prize fund by the amount of the missing $125 for next week. This will permit four $25's to be posted at 2:00 and two $100's, again, at 3:00 p. m. next Tuesday.

Legion Sponsoring Cribbage Tourney

Arnold "Barney" Alderson, cribbage commander of the American Legion post, says the Legionnaires are sponsoring a cribbage tournament at Veterans' Memorial hall next Wednesday evening at 8:00 p. m. There will be prizes and the $1.00 entry fee will include a lunch.

Since there are a number of women cribbage fans who believe they can peg with the best of them, Barney says that "experts" of the feminine gender will be most welcome to compete. He urges all contestants to be on hand promptly at the designated hour so that play can be started "on the dot."

Curtis Mennenga Wins Recognition As "Best" Pilot

Outstanding ability in flying the T-28 training craft of the U. S. Air Force recently won Lt. Curtis Mennenga a new cigaret lighter. But more significant than the gift, received personally from the commander of Marana Air Force Base, Tucson, Ariz., was the fact that the honor stamped him as top pilot in his class of 100 USAF officers.

From the entire class, just four student pilots were selected to compete in a "landing stage." This competition consisted of three landings each by the four participants. They were graded on their ability to fly the traffic pattern and land on a designated spot on the runway.

Receipt of the engraved cigaret lighter from the commander was Lieutenant Mennenga's reward for placing first. He was chosen by his flying supervisors as one of the "landing stage" contestants due to his prior demonstration of over-all flying ability.

On Feb. 7, Lieutenant Mennenga reported to Loredo Air Force Base, Loredo, Tex., to enter basic single-engine jet training. Upon graduation from Loredo, he will receive his Silver Wings as a pilot in the USAF. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mennenga.

John Darrah Dies Eight Days After Reaching Age 99

Death came about 11:30 Sunday morning to John H. Darrah at Belmond Community hospital, where he had been cared for since August of 1954. Mr. Darrah just eight days before his death had reached his 99th birthday. Funeral services were held yesterday at 2:00 p. m. at Greenfield Funeral Home, Hampton, conducted by Rev. Ralph E. Baker, pastor of the Hampton Methodist church. Burial was in the Hampton cemetery.

Father of the late Gladys Darrah, Belmond school teacher who died Jan. 7, Mr. Darrah was a member of one of the earliest pioneer families to settle in Franklin county. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Darrah. He was the first white child to be born in Hamilton township and only the fourth to be born in Franklin county. His birthplace was a log cabin nine miles southwest of Hampton.

He was a farmer up to the time of his retirement in 1912, when he and his family moved to Hampton. Thereafter he was engaged in various capacities by the county, including that of appraiser, and for some years was active in politics. He was state representative from Franklin county for two terms, 1915-1918, and served 10 years as mayor of Hampton.

In addition to his wife, who died in 1914, and the daughter who passed away just recently, Mr. Darrah was preceded in death by two other daughters. He is survived by three sons: Dr. Max Darrah of Des Moines, Merle Darrah of Dallas, Tex., and R. J. Darrah of Silverton, Ore.; and by a brother, Wallace Darrah of Kanawha.

School Election On March 12th

Nomination papers are due in to Helen McNulty, secretary of the school board, by March 2 for candidates seeking election in the ballotting for two directors and board secretary that is to be conducted March 12.

Mrs. Lee Mussell, who has been serving as president of the Belmond Community School district board of education, and Robert Garms are the two directors whose terms are expiring. C. C. Benson is the current treasurer.

Both Mrs. Mussell and Mr. Garms have indicated that they will be candidates for re-election.

Start Those Mementos Coming

The Independent has been selected as a clearing house for old-time photographs and early-day anecdotes that might be included in a centennial booklet commemorating Belmond's 100th birthday. If such a booklet is to be published, work will have to be started on it promptly and Gus Taylor, centennial chairman, says an idea must be gained soon of what its general contents should include. Articles based on reminisences of pioneer days may be brought or mailed to the Independent office. The same with pictures, but these should be carefully wrapped or enclosed in a manilla envelope and clearly labeled as to ownership.

More Than 175 Prizes Lined Up; 27 Store Booths

Capacity crowds are confidently expected at all three sessions of the cooking and refrigeration demonstration which the Retail Bureau of the Belmond Chamber of Commerce will conduct at the Odd Fellows hall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Jewel Graham, Iowa State college food specialist, has been engaged to present the demonstrations. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Geraldine Steele, Wright county home economist.

Prizes in great abundance will be awarded during the three-day event, according to Dave Kennedy and Lloyd Lewis, who are co-chairmen of the Retail Bureau committee that has planned it. Approximately 150 door prizes will be awarded during the three days on the basis of registration on the first floor of the IOOF hall, where 27 business places will have booths to display their wares.

Demonstrations 2:00 to 4:30

Women are urged to register on each of the three days and to attend each of the three afternoon sessions, each of which will be concerned with different subject matter. In addition to the general prizes, sponsors of the various displays will be giving separate prizes based on registration at their booths.

Doors of the hall will be open each day from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m. The demonstrations in the basement of the hall will be conducted from 2:00 to 4:30 p. m., giving women an hour beforehand and a half hour afterward to register at the booths and look over the displays of merchandise that they will contain.

Home Freezer Tips

On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Graham will confine her demonstration to matters of food preparation for storage in home freezers. Not only will she prepare a number of dishes that lend themselves admirably to pre-cooking and freezing, but she will offer useful tips in regard to storage with a view to keeping waste to a minimum and retaining full flavor of the foods stored.

Wednesday afternoon's topic will be "Broiler Meals." Miss Graham will have many hints to offer regarding how to make best use of a broiler and how to enjoy the best success in broiler cooking.

"Pork in Preferred Ways"

Particularly timely will be the third afternoon's demonstrations, under the heading, "Pork in Preferred Ways." Miss Graham will place emphasis upon proper methods of top-of-the-stove cooking and the importance of controlled heat in cooking.

Mr. Lewis and Mr. Kennedy say that the Retail Bureau is going "all out" to make the three-day demonstration event one that will be of value to all housewives. They also believe that women will find the merchandise displays helpful to those contemplating appliance purchases—or simply interested in seeing what "the latest" items are that are being featured in Belmond stores.

McNeal Running For Fourth Term

Clark McNeal, who in three terms as Wright county's representative in the state legislature has stamped himself as one of Iowa's outstanding young lawmakers, last week announced he intends to run "one more time" for the legislative post. He served on a number of key committees during the 56th General Assembly and is currently a member of the "Little Hoover" committee that is investigating possible administrative economies.

Sheriff Bob Blecker had previously announced his intention of running for re-election, and last week three other county officers made known their plans to seek return to their posts. All will be Republican candidates for nomination in the June primary.

Grace Fletcher, recorder, will be after her 12th term in that office. Bessie Johnson has been elected clerk of the district court only once, but served 14 years as deputy under R. V. Goslin and was clerk by appointment prior to her election in 1954. She'll be seeking her second term. Auditor Myron "Mike" Price, who will again be a candidate, is also currently serving his first term.

Albert W. Christopher of Eagle Grove, current chairman of the board of supervisors, has announced he will be a candidate for renomination as supervisor from District 3.

Students to Hear Talk by Hradecky

Msgr. W. C. Hradecky of Duncan will tell BHS students and those of grades five through eight of his personal knowledge of Russia at a special assembly next Tuesday at 10:30 a. m.

The Duncan priest has traveled in Russia and also in a number of the countries behind the "Iron Curtain" and is well qualified to report accurately on conditions that exist under the Communist regime, says Rev. R. A. Ormsby, who arranged for Monsignor Hradecky's appearance.

This address will be presented in the high school auditorium, and Father Ormsby says the general public will be most welcome to hear the guest's comments.

Livestock, Corn Yield Achievements Given Recognition At FFA Banquet; Ellis Elliott Made Honorary Member

Dads attending the FFA Father-and-Son banquet Monday evening at the high school heard some highly impressive production performances reported as Advisor Francis Kelly passed out awards earned by Belmond Future Farmers for their 1955 project records. Another feature of the affair, which served to recognize National FFA Week, was admittance of Ellis Elliott as an honorary member of Friendly Service chapter.

Larry Schimp won the corn yield prize with an average of 118.1 bushels per acre. Other noteworthy production achievements were those of: David Crawford, 107 bushels; Loren Payne, 106.6; and Richard Morris, 102.5.

Award for having the heaviest lamb at 30 days after its birth went to David Crawford, whose prize-winner attained 47 pounds in the specified period. Paul Kalkwarf's entry weighed 40 pounds and that of Loren Payne, 39.5.

Heaviest market hog at the end of 56 days was that of Harold Thompson. Its 60 pounds enabled it to shade the entry of Galen Roberts, which reached 59.5 pounds, and Richard Brooks' 59-pounder.

Gaylen Roberts' litter of 10 took the prize for the heaviest litter at 56 days, his porkers averaging 51 pounds. But Gaylen barely edged another litter of 10, raised by Richard Brooks, which achieved a 50.05 average. Other notable gains, by smaller litters, were reported by Harold Thompson — four pigs averaging 57 pounds; and Ronald Loeffler, six averaging 41 pounds.

Beef Award to Vanness

Ronnie Vanness accomplished the biggest gain in the beef cattle division, the contest period extending from Jan. 1, 1955, to Eagle Grove fair time. His steer put on 490 pounds. Tied for second were the calves of Larry and Gary Ersland, each with gains of 450 pounds.

Mr. Elliott joined the ranks of honorary FFA members on the strength of a number of years of willing cooperation with Friendly Service chapter. Among the services he has performed for the group has been annual loan of his hardware store window for the chapter's National FFA Week display.

Ronald Diggins, Speaker

Ronald Diggins, Eagle Grove vocational agriculture instructor, was the major speaker on the after-dinner program Monday night. He has won a reputation as one of the state's outstanding "voc. ag." teachers and particularly as an expert in the raising of purebred swine. Also, he is the author of three widely used books on raising of livestock.

According to Advisor Kelly, Friendly Service chapter of the FFA has a membership of 54 boys. Livestock projects carried on during the 1955-56 year by the Belmond Future Farmers include: 50 litters of grade swine, representing the projects of 21 boys; three have 15 litters of purebred swine.

One Future Farmer has 15 feeder pigs; 14 have 19 grade beef steers; three have five purebred beeves; two have 30 purebred ewes; 25 have 195 grade ewes; eight had 47 acres of corn; and two, seven acres of beans.

In addition, the boys have carried on the following improvement practices on their home farms: repair and painting of buildings, building and repair of fences, cleaning groves, weed control, machinery repair, filling mud holes in lots and pruning trees.

LAMBS HAVE COME in clusters in the flock of Lynn Mennenga the past couple of weeks. When this picture was taken by FFA Advisor Francis Kelly, three of Lynn's ewes had produced triplets—but to the young Future Farmer's dismay one of the little woolies died before Mr. Kelly showed up with his camera on Wednesday afternoon of last week to photograph them. His disappointment was assuaged somewhat before the end of the day, however. A fourth ewe produced three-of-a-kind that night! That's brother Larry with Lynn.

Broncos Shock H.F. Maroons in Overtime, 59 to 57

Belmond's Broncos gave their regular season's play a spine-tingling finish Friday night and erased the memory of earlier disappointments by out-fighting highly favored Holy Family of Mason City to post a 59-57 win. It took two overtimes to get the job done, the score having stood at 53-all at the end of the regulation playing time and 57-57 after the first extra period.

It was highly approprpiate that the distinction of sinking the deciding basket fell to Dale Caquelin, for his defensive work under the Maroons' basket was one of the biggest factors in the Belmond victory. Dale had scored only seven points prior to the hook shot from the foul lane that concluded the sudden-death, second overtime. But his defensive work helped greatly to limit Holy Family to a meager handful of close-in chances at the hoop, and the losers scored on not more than three or four of those.

However, the Maroons are not a team than any single player could ever beat; and it took stirring performances on the parts of all the Broncs to pull the amazing upset. Jerry Chandler and Larry Schimp each poured in 16 points and Tom Lowenberg 14 to present a scoring balance that the visitors were unable to cope with. Bill Murray hit only a pair of fielders for four points, but they kept the Broncs in the thick of the battle late in the first half when the Maroons were threating to break away.

Except for a few minutes in the third quarter, the Belmond starters went all the way. Lowenberg took a bad tumble with about three minutes to go in the second quarter and its effects had him limping midway in the third stanza. With the Broncs ahead by seven, 40-33, "Joe" Smith replaced the blond senior for a spell. Though Joe played steady ball, the BHS machine lost some of its smoothness with the one cog missing and the Maroons rallied to take a 42-40 lead before the Broncos got back into gear.

Maroons Ahead at Half

Not more than one to three points ever separated the two foes except for brief moments when Holy Family led 23-18 and 29-24 in the second quarter and when the Purple and White flashed to that seven-point advantage in the third canto. The Maroons scored first and never trailed until Belmond edged in front 12-10 late in the opening period, which ended 12-11. Holy Family recaptured the lead at 20-18 and then padded its margin to the aforementioned 29-24, only to have Chandler and Murray whittle it to 29-28 with a quick pair of fielders before the intermission buzzer sounded.

Lowenberg sent Belmond in front with a two-pointer as play resumed, and the fired-up Broncs went on to acquire that 40-33 spread before faltering. It is to the everlasting credit of the "fighting five" that they did not become downhearted when the visitors rallied to gain a 42-41 edge before the third quarter ended.

Lead Changes Nine Times

Nine times in the fourth period the lead changed hands, the biggest margin of difference finding Belmond ahead briefly at 47-44. With three minutes to go the Broncs were on top 51-50. A little over a minute later the count was HIGH HOPES of finishing off their season with a flourish in tournament play is shared by these members of the BHS varsity basketball squad. The picture was taken by Mueller studio of Clarion for the high school year book prior to the resignation of Coach Chuck Branstetter last month. The Broncs (7-9 for their regular season) have won three and lost two since Coach Dick Hobbs took over the reins. Shown left to right are: Jerry Chandler, Bill Murray, Tom Lowenberg, Larry Kinseth, Roger "Joe" Smith, Dale Caquelin, Kenny Langlitz, Gary Meyer, Gary Ersland, Larry Schimp, Dave Long and Roland Jenison. If the boys won their sectional tournament opener against Dows last night, they will play the Hampton-Franklin Consolidated winner in the finals at Franklin gym Saturday night.

● OBITUARY

VINNIE MARGARET ALDRICH

Vinnie Margaret Lancor, daughter of Moses and Ellen Lancor, was born Sept. 27, 1890, near Wayne, Neb., and her early life was spent in that vicinity.

June 1, 1910 she was married to Weston D. Hughes of Wayne and a son, Weston Derush Hughes, was born to them.

Her husband died April 4, 1923, and she was married to Ira C. Aldrich of Rowan on Nov. 12 1925.

"I.C." and Vinnie had been in ill health for several months, making their home during this time with Raymond Aldrich, a brother of "I. C." Mr. Aldrich died Jan. 15, and she passed away Feb. 10 at Belmond Community hospital at the age of 65 years, four months and 25 days.

She was also preceded in death by her parents, two sisters and one brother. Surviving are her son Weston and his wife and nine grandchildren; five brothers—Dale Lancor of Blair, Neb., Dyke of Oakland, Ia., Claude of Virgil, S. D., Gary and Henry of Norfolk, Neb.; also one sister, Mrs. John Pierce of Onawa.

She had been a member of the Rowan Methodist church and the WSCS since 1924. Last rites were held last Monday, Feb. 13, at the Eyler Funeral Home in Clarion, with Rev. R. H. Lingard of Rowan officiating.

Pallbearers were: Wilbur Lineweaver, Frank Retleff, George Mossman, Ryle Andrews, Harry Hinkley and Ralph Wilson.

CHARLES I. ROWEN

Charles Ingersoll Rowen died at the Evangelical Hospital in Marshalltown on Tuesday morning, Feb. 7, at the age of 72. He was born April 17, 1883, at Clarion, the son of J. E. Rowen, an early day circuit-riding Methodist pastor. His mother was Mary Jane Farmer Rowen.

He received his education in Clarion and at Eureka, Kan., where he was making his home with his sister, Mrs. George Addison, while his father served in the United States diplomatic service. The Hon. J. E. Rowen in 1898 went as American consul to the Falkland Islands and later to Punta Arenas, Chili.

Mr. Rowen worked for the Chicago Great Western railroad in different capacities and went into the office in Des Moines as an accountant, where he worked for several years. Later, ill health forced him to retire to the family farm at Rowan. This farm was settled by his grandparents, who were among the pioneer settlers of Wright county.

Mr. Rowen was active in the political affairs of Wright county, and for number of years was Republican county chairman. He also served his community as secretary of the Rowan school board. He was a member of the Congregational church.

In 1948 he moved to Marshalltown to make his home with a cousin, Nelle Pierce, a school teacher there.

He was preceded in death by his parents, two brothers and a sister. One sister, Mrs. Maggie Templeton, survives.

Meint's Division In Marine Landing On Historic Iwo

IWO JIMA, Feb. 17, (FHTNC) — Marine Cpl. William D. Meints, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Meints of Belmond, Ia., landed on Iwo Jima today during an assault exercise by the 3rd Marine Division.

Using new methods and equipment, the Marines landed on the tiny island from both the sea and air to wrest a selected portion of the historic, WWII battleground from a mythical enemy with but an estimated fraction of the casualties it would have cost using WWII methods.

The exercise is the largest participated in by the division since 1954. A battalion of the division's 3rd Regiment acted as an "enemy" force defending the island.

While ashore, the Marines found many scars of WWII still unhealed. The otherwise peaceful island is now used as an Air Force way-station and bears little resemblance to the devestated real estate that cost the Marines thousands of casualties in WWII.

At completion of the exercise, the Marines will return to their base in Japan and Okinawa.

Local Seal Mark In '54 Far Above County's Average

Wright county fell 5.1 per cent below the level of its giving in 1953 in purchases of 1954 Christmas seals, a report released last week by the Iowa Tuberculosis and Health association showed. Belmond, with only 11 per cent of the county's population, gave better than 14½ per cent ($628.55) of the campaing's total proceeds of $4,313 —or 27 per cent more than its per capita share. Had giving throughout the county matched that of Belmond the 1953 total of seal purchases would have been surpassed in Wright county by a sizeable margin.

Belmond's rate of giving came to nearly 28.2 cents for each man, woman and child, compared to a per capita rate of 21.9 for the county as a whole. Per capita purchases in neighboring counties were: Hancock 19 cents, Franklin 23.5, Cerro Gordo 21, Hamilton 24.4, Kossuth 19.5. There was not a county in the state that gave on as generous a per capita basis as did the community of Belmond. Closest were Mitchell with 27.8 cents and Jasper with 27.9.

Per capita giving in Iowa as a whole was 19.9 cents, 10th highest rate in the nation. All the above figures were summarized in a report of the 1954-55 year of the tuberculosis control in Iowa presented last fall at a statewide meeting held at Des Moines.

A similar report was submitted by the Iowa Heart association, which shares in the proceeds of the annual Christmas seal campaign. A review of memorial gifts received by the association from July 1, 1954 to June 31, 1955, showed that gifts in the amount of $248.85 had been received from Wright county. This placed Wright 12th in the state in the total amount of gifts for heart research.

BELMOND BUSY BEES

The Belmond Busy Bees held their regular monthly meeting, Saturday, Feb. 11, at the clubhouse. The business meeting was conducted by Vice President Sara Simerson. Fun Night plans were discussed and Sara Simerson was elected as the club's queen candidate.

Old Age Assistance, Children's Aid In This County Below U. S. Average

In Iowa, 145 out of every 1,000 men and women 65 years and over receive Old Age Assistance. The national average is 178 per thousand.

Iowa is also below the national average in the number of children under 18 years of age receiving Aid to Dependent Children benefits; 20 out of every 1,000 children of this age group in Iowa receive benefits through the Aid to Dependent Children program. The national average is 29.5 per thousand.

L. L. Caffrey, chairman of the State Board of Social Welfare, in releasing these figures adds, "These facts are interesting in view of the fact that Iowa's per capita income of $1,600 yearly is less than the national average of $1,761, and that Old Age and Survivors Insurance payments in both age groups — over 65 and under 18 years — are less than the national average. In Iowa, 338 out of every 1,000 men and women past 65 years receive these insurance benefits; the national average is 423 per thousand. And 16.4 children out of every 1,000 in Iowa receive OASI, which is under the national average of 21.1."

"It is also of interest to note," adds Caffrey, "that Iowa has the second highest percentage of persons 65 or over in each state — 10.8 per cent of the total population in Iowa in 1953 were men and women past 65 years."

In January the state granted Old Age Assistance to 40,227 individuals totaling $2,432,255.50 at and average of $60.46 each. In Wright county there were 200 recipients receiving an average grant of $58.69 each or a total of $11,738.

Aid to Dependent Children grants in the state for the month of January went to 6,621 families including 23,899 individuals, at a total of $726,102.50. This averaged $109.67 per family or $30.38 per person. In Wright county the total cost was $1,752.50 and averaged $116.83 for each of the 15 families and $29.70 for each of the 59 individuals included.

Aid to the Blind for January in the state totaled $108,150 and was paid to 1,465 persons at an average of $73.82 each. In Wright county the total was $320.50, paid to six individuals at an average of $53.42 each.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

We can have a peek this week at the private thoughts of some 60 state saftey officials around the nation, courtesy of a survey taken by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. Here's what the "average" traffic safety official thinks:

He disagrees with the theory that modern cars and modern highways make it possible to drive safely at high speeds. He wants traffic accident prevention programs to include speed-control emphasis.

He thinks advertising emphasis is encouraging people to use higher speed. He wants statutory speed laws because for one reason, he lacks faith in the ability of the driving public to determine for itself what constitutes safe speed.

On the best state highways, short of superhighways, he thinks 60 miles-per-hour during the day and 50 at night are fast enough.

On superhighways, he might stretch a point and permit speeds up to 65 day and 60 night but, personally, he thinks 60 is fast enough anytime anywhere. For himself, he doesn't feel "safe" at any speed over 60.

Perhaps the most sobering item in this survey is the safety officials' lack of faith that the public can determine safe speed.

If the lack of faith is justified (and the yearly death records seem to say it is) then most of us are staking our lives every day on decisions we are not qualified to make.

Pardon us while we get out and walk.

County U.S. Bond Sales Again High

Purchases of United States savings bonds in Wright county during January amounted to $255,119 for 16 per cent of the 1956 quota.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, volunteer chairman of the savings bonds program in the county, said that January sales here look good when compared with the state average of 13 per cent and the national average of 10 per cent. Total sales throughout Iowa exceeded 22 million dollars.

"Wright county was one of the 56 in Iowa which equalled or exceeded the state's average for savings bonds sales last month," the chairman said, "and I hope this is an indication that we'll have even a better record for 1956 that our county's 114 per cent of the 1955 quota."

Savings bonds purchases in this area for January were: Hancock county, $117,552; Franklin, $122,475; Hamilton, $224,903; Kossuth, $212,490.

Time for Students To Request Draft Deferment Exams

Col. Glenn R. Bowles, Iowa director of Selective Service, reminds students that application blanks for the April 19 Selective Service College Qualification Test may be secured from any Selective Service local board office and they must be returned postmarked not later than midnight, Monday, March 5th.

Testing centers in Iowa include Burlington, Grand View (Des Moines), Fort Dodge, Graceland (Lamoni), Mason City and Northwestern (Orange City) junior colleges, the State University of Iowa and the following colleges: Iowa State, Iowa State Teachers, St. Ambrose, Luther, Loras, Parsons, Grinnel, Simpson, Cornell, Central, Morningside, Buena Vista and Wartburg, and Drake university.

Col. Bowles urges students who are not graduating in June to take the April 19th test so they will have a test score on file at their local board before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

Eligibility Requirements

A student may obtain an application blank to take the test from any Selective Service local board. Applicants will mail applications for the April 19th test to Science Research Association, Selective Service Examining Section, 5th Floor, 57 West Grand Avenue, Chicago 10, Ill. Self-addressed envelopes in which to mail the applications are available at all local board offices. Bulletins of information concerning the test are also available at all local board offices and junior colleges, colleges and universities throughout Iowa.

To be eligible to apply for the Selective Service Tests the student must: (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not previously have taken the qualification test.

Deferment Criteria

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the qualification test or to rank among the male members of the class as follows: upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class, or the upper three-fourths of the junior class.

Students admitted to graduate school after January 1, 1955, must have ranked among the upper one-fourth of the male members of their senior class, or made a score of (80) or better on the college qualification test.

"It must be remembered that a student deferment is not an exemption," Colonel Bowles explained, "A deferment is a delay or postponement, and in no way cancels the duty of a registrant to serve two years on active duty and satisfy his reserve obligation."

11th Swine Herd In County Gets Brucellosis OK

On Jan. 31 the Oscar and Norman Watne partnership farm in Dayton township became the latest of Wright county's purebred hog producers to receive certification as an accredited brucellosis-free swine herd. The Watnes are breeders of purebred Poland Chinas. Their father, Oscar Watne, has been a producer of purebred Poland Chinas for about 20 years.

Accrediting of the Watne herd made it the 11th in this county to be so certified. Other accredited purebred herds in Wright are: Hampshires — Harlan Lewis of Goldfield and James Kleen, Renwick; Durocs — Harlan Harper (since moved) and W. H. Helmke and Sons, Renwick.

Yorkshire — Roger Newburn, Eagle Grove; Chester Whites—Williamson Brothers, Eagle Grove; Poland Chinas — Doyce Friedow of Kanawha and W. L. Watts, Clarion; Spotted Poland Chinas — Donald Engh, Kanawha; Berkshires — Ivan Kreitlow, Galt.

JOANNE COYIER WED TO GARY D. HUGHES; RITES AT CLEAR LAKE

Miss Joanne Coyier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Coyier of Clear Lake, became the bride of Gary Dale Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hughes, a week ago Sunday at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon at Zion Lutheran church in Clear Lake. The Rev. L. A. Lavik read the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with gladioli and asters and lighted tapers in candelabra.

Mrs. A. E. Folkman of Clear Lake, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied her daughter Barbara as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a powder blue suit with navy and white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The attendants were Jane Coyier, sister of the bride, and Lee Allen [illegible]. Jerry Davis, cousin of the bride, was candle-lighter. Ushers were Raymond Coyier, brother of the bride, and Harvey Seidel, cousin of the bride.

The maid of honor wore a rose suit with white accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The bride's mother chose a navy dress with navy and white accessories and the mother of the groom was attired in a grey suit with navy accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations.

Special guests at the reception at the All Veterans Social center were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Palmer and Frank Coyier, all of Clear Lake, and her great grandmother, Mrs. Cora Clark of Britt, and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Lee Shanan.

Relatives and friends attending the wedding and reception were from Belmond, Garner, Manly, Mason City, Ventura, Hampton, Muller, Clear Lake and Caledonia, Minn.

The bride graduated from Clear Lake High school and attended Mason City Junior college. The groom attended Garner High school before joining the US Air Force. He took his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, attended a school of communications for eight months at Cheyenne, Wyo., and recently returned from one year's service in Iceland.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will be at home with his parents until March 1st when he will return to Sedalia, Mo., for further assignment.

On or about March 9 he expects to sail for Germany with the final shipment of personnel of the 11th Airborne Division. He will be assigned overseas for 33 months.

Winning Essays To Earn $17.50 In Prize Money

Once again The Independent is serving with the VFW Auxiliary as co-sponsor of the annual high school patriotic essay contest. This year's contest is the 21st that the national VFW Auxiliary has conducted. Topic of the essays is, "America, Beacon of Hope."

Mrs. Stanley Moe, the auxiliary's essay chairman, says that prizes of $10, $5.00 and $2.50, respectively, will be awarded the first three place winners. Contestants will include all students in the junior and senior English classes of Margaret Lapitz.

The essays are to be not more than 1,000 words in length and are judged on literary construction, interpretive views and patriotic inspiration. The winning essay in the local contest will be forwarded for judging in the state competition.

Judges who will select the local winner are: Rev. William Heinzig, pastor of St. John American Lutheran church; Mrs. Harold Erdman, former BHS English and dramatics instructor; and Mrs. Clark McNeal. Mrs. Moe says that deadline for having the essays in the hands of the judges is March 9.

● Belmond Locals

Mrs. C. A. Dow left last Thursday night for her home at Sheridan, Wyo., after visiting that week in the home of her sister, Mrs. F. E. Purcell, and with other relatives. She came here from Cedar Rapids where she had visited in the L. P. Schwinger home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wenzel, Jr., and daughter Caroline and Mrs. Herman Janssen of Alexander returned home Monday afternoon after several days spent visiting in the Ike Harvey home in Hazel Green, Wis., and David Gajdosik home in Edgerton, Wis.

Mr and Mrs. Albert Rabe and Nadine attended the La James beauty styling contest in Mason City Monday evening of last week. Their daughter Gloria was one of the contestants.

WEDDING BELLS will ring March 24 for Myrna Rae Cooper (above). Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Cooper of Goldfield, have announced her engagement to Gene E. Stoltenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoltenberg of Belmond. The ceremony will take place at the Goldfield Methodist church. Miss Cooper is a local grade school teacher and Mr. Stoltenberg is a student at Iowa State college.

STORY IN ERROR

The Independent is informed by Mrs. H. R. Bayliss that there was an error in the U. S. Army release published last week regarding her son, Sgt. 1/c Delmar Quandt. The story, as received, stated that Mrs. Quandt was currently living at Carbondale, Colo. To the contrary, she and Sergeant Quandt are making their home in an apartment at Junction City, Kans.

ATTEND INSTITUTE

Four representatives of St. John American Lutheran church attended the annual Brotherhood Institute held on Tuesday of last week at Waverly. Rev. William Heinzig, Harm Sandman, Albert Rabe and Fred Denger were among 700 delegates present. As usual, a Wartburg college basketball game provided the evening's entertainment, and for the 9th consecutive time they came through with a victory for the enjoyment of the delegates attending the institute.

Dairy Association Headed by Clark

Ray Clark, Vernon township dairyman, was recently elected chairman of the Wright County Dairy Interests association at a meeting of the group's board of directors.

Floyd Templeton, Goldfield Cooperative Creamery manager, was elected vice chairman for the current year. Lynn Thompson of Grant township and Aaron Bowman, county extension director, were named to continue as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

An invitation was extended to Dows to serve as site of the 1956 June Dairy Month banquet, if adequate facilities can be provided. Business discussed also included final preparations for the "Dairy Producers' Day" to be held tomorrow at Clarion.

COWBOYS and INDIANS

Those of you who read the paper last week no doubt remember that we had Tim Holt, famous cowboy actor from Hollywood, at the Odd Fellows Hall. And as you might well imagine we also had a fair share of the younger set. As far as the kiddies were concerned we forgot one very important link, that in effect was the Indians. So if any of you kiddies (grown ups included) want us to try and get Sitting Bull for next week, we'll see if the people from South Dakota will lend us his remains and then we'll have everything complete.

While we're sitting here we would also appreciate it if you would drop around and help shoot the "bull" with us.

"The Feller by The Lake"
BOB

P.S. Joel Larson was the boy who won the guns and holster set. Joel wasn't there to receive the set but he made sure that his mother and dad came out about 9:30 at night to get them.

It seems that Davy Crockett was number one on Joel's list but since Saturday he has dropped to the number two spot with Tim Holt replacing him.

Speaking of replacing, if you are considering any fencing, fertilizers, seeds, etc. Just drop in and we will be glad to discuss your needs.

Two Farm Sales Coming Up Soon

Attention is called to the advertisements of two farm sales that appear in this issue of The Independent. Carl Dorenkamp says he has rented his farms and is moving to town and William Wilson is selling out due to his decision to retire from farming.

The Wilson sale will be held this Saturday at 1:00 p. m. at the place located a mile north, one west and another half north of Belmond. Besides a full line of machinery and equipment, Mr. Wilson will sell a number of head of livestock.

Mr Dorenkamp's sale will be held on Monday, 1:00 p. m., at his farm six miles east and one and a half north of Goodell. In addition to the customary line of machinery and equipment, his offerings will include three riding horses and three head of Holsteins.

JACK WILLIAMS PROMOTED

John R "Jack" Williams, former employee of The Independent and now serving with the U. S. Air Force at Lackland AFB in Texas, was recently promoted to the rating of Airman First Class. His parents, Mr and Mrs. Trev Williams, returned to Belmond on Wednesday of last week after a 10-day trip to Texas to visit their son and his family and do some sight-seeing.

MRS. H. B. JANSSEN

"Bert" Kieslich Dies at Age 73

Funeral services were held Wednesday of last week at Hazel Green, Wis., for Ernest "Bert" Kieslich, 73, who was a former resident of the Alexander rural community. He was born at Ackley on Feb. 3, 1883, and died suddenly of a heart attack at Hazel Green just nine days after his 73rd birthday.

Mr. Kieslich farmed for several years near Alexander, making a home for his mother. Following her death he sold out and left the community for a time. He later made his home with a brother, Otto Kieslich, who also farmed in the Alexander vicinity.

Subsequently he moved to Minnesota, lived for a time in California, and for the past 15 years had lived in Wisconsin. His only immediate survivor is a sister, Mrs. William Waddington, Alhambra, Calif.

BLUE BIRDS 4-H CLUB

The Blue Birds 4-H club members helped Judy Boelman plan her room at their Feb. 13 meeting at the home of Judy and Jo Ann Boelman. Roll call was answered by nine members, two mothers, and two leaders.

A talk, "Planning a Color Scheme for Your Room," was given by Marlene Rodecap; and a demonstration, "Quilt Protectors are Easy to Make," by Dixie Hopkey.

Banquet Honors Elias Klinefelter

Over 100 friends and relatives paid their respects to Elias Klinefelter at a banquet held in his honor Monday evening at the Methodist church, marking his retirement from active business. He had been a blacksmith in Alexander for 47 years, first setting up his shop here in 1909. He recently sold his shop to Bernhard Karstens of Dows, who is now operating the business.

Judge Harvey Uhlenhopp of Hampton delivered an address as highlight of the program that followed the banquet. William Orr served as toastmaster and the invocation was pronounced by Rev. B. R. Price. After introduction of the guest of honor by Willard Latham, official greetings were expressed by Mayor Jerry Beenen.

Also contributing to the program were the vocal trio of Audrey Schulte, Dorothy Barkema and Jeanne Schulte, singing two numbers; and Mrs. Jim Carroll, with a reading of "The Village Blacksmith."

General Electric Promotion Given Former Goodellian

NEW YORK, N. Y., (Special) — Charles A. Church has been named manager of communication of General Electric's Engineering Services, with headquarters in New York, it was announced today by Clarence H. Linder, G-E vice president of engineering. Mr. Church assumed his duties Feb. 1.

Born in Goodell, Ia., Mr. Church was graduated with a M. S. degree in electrical engineering from the University of Colorado in 1932. He joined the General Electric company at Schenectady in Jan. 1934, and in 1935 became a member of the market research section of the publicity department. In 1936 he transferred to industrial advertising and sales promotion in the same department.

In 1941, Mr. Church transferred to Erie, Pa., in charge of advertising and sales promotion for the transportation department. He was supervisor of the Technical Service division of the Erie works from 1947 to 1954. On May 1, 1954, he was made manager of communications and community relations of the Locomotive and Car Equipment department, and served in that capacity until his present appointment.

During his residence in Erie, Mr. Church was active in community affairs. He was on the board of directors of the Erie chapter of the American Red Cross and the Erie Ordnance Center; a member of the board of trustees of the Erie County Library; and a member of the board of corporators of the Community Chest of Erie.

His wife is the former Elsa Kjolseth of Scotia, N. Y.

Mrs. Alvis Berhow Feted At Birthday Gathering

Mrs. Alvis Berhow was honored on her birthday Wednesday evening of last week. Thirty relatives gathered in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Scott Davis at Belmond. The time was spent socially followed by lunch. The honoree received some pretty gifts. Mrs. Berhow is doing practical nursing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schoenwetter at Garner.

Alice Mae Thoreson of Ames spent the weekend in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Langlitz.

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Herlein called Wednesday noon of last week in the Sandberg home. They were en route to Klemme where Rev. Herlein assisted in funeral services for Dwight Hummell, 53, of Waterloo who passed away on Monday. He had not been well this winter and had undergone major operations. He leaves his wife Gertrude, three daughters, Mrs. Harry (Joan) Peters of Kanawha, Mrs. Janice White of Cedar Falls and Joyce, age 11, at home. The Hummells lived at Klemme for years until they purchased a laundry at Waterloo. Burial was a Klemme.

Mrs. Carl Sandberg, Bill and Carla of Hampton came over Saturday and spent the day in the parental O. Sandberg home. Major Carl Sandberg is with the Army engineers in Greenland and will return to the States in May.

DELWYN DALE BREDE, VIRGINIA PETTIBONE MARRIED AT MORAVIA

Miss Virginia Ann Pettibone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Pettibone of Moravia, became the bride of Delwyn Dale Brede, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brede of near Goodell, on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12 at Grace Methodist church, Moravia. The pastor, Rev. John Grenfell, Jr., and Rev. Waunita McConnell of Clarinda officiated. The double-ring ceremony was performed before an altar illuminated by lighted tapers and decorated with baskets of white stock and pink and white snapdragons.

Mrs. Carl Black of Moravia was organist and also accompanied Charles Turner, Moravia, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned with princess lines in Empire style with wide, deep V-neckline. The extremely flared skirt flowed into a long train. A crown of white petals set with pearls held her finger tip veil in place. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and matching earrings, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of rosebuds and white carnations.

Mrs. Joan Pettibone of Moravia, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink brocaded satin and carried a bouquet of navy blue carnations tied with pink ribbons.

Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Judith McClure of Klemme, sister of the groom, Janet Sturgeon of Ames and Sally Esell of Spirit Lake, friends of the bride. They wore dresses of cocktail navy blue taffeta, waltz length, and styled similar to the bride's gown. They too wore pearl earrings and necklaces, gifts of the couple, carried bouquets of pink carnations tied with navy blue ribbon and wore headdresses of white daisies.

Cindy Stith of Eagle Grove, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She was dressed in a white slipper satin dress with a white flower headdress. Jim Blomgren, Oskaloosa, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom was attended as bestman by Stanley F. Meyer of McGregor, his college friend and roommate from Iowa State college at Ames. Groomsmen were Larry Fox of Britt, Dale McClure of Klemme, brother-in-law of the groom, and Jerry Pettibone of Moravia, brother of the bride.

Candle-lighters were Leland Halfpop, Goodell, cousin of the groom. Tom Pettibone of Moravia, brother of the bride. Ushers were LaVern Josten and Duane Hanson of Klemme, Jim Pettibone of Moravia, brother of the bride, and Jim Vitense of Tipton, cousin of the bride. All men in the wedding party wore dark ties, gifts of the couple, and white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue Dupont silk dress with pink accessories, and the bridegroom's mother chose an aqua dress with rust and white accessories. Both mothers had orchids as corsages.

Three couples of grandparents attended the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Halfpop of Kanawha and Mr and Mrs. Henry Brede of Goodell, grandparents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Meadows of Moravia, grandparents of the bride. The men wore white carnation boutonnieres and the grandmothers had daisy corsages.

Immediately following the service, a reception to 300 invited guests was held in the church parlors. A four-tiered cake, decorated in two tones of pink and white and centered with a miniature bride and groom, was cut and served by Mrs. F. H. Blomgren, Oskaloosa, an aunt of the bride. Mrs. Everett Guth and Mrs. Duane Hanson of Klemme and Joyce Reinhart of Mystic presided at the punch bowl. Pouring and serving coffee were Mrs. Marilyn Sears, Centerville, and Mrs. Katherine Vinzart, Hannibal, Mo., Carol Blomgren, Oskaloosa, had charge of the guest book; Mrs. Betty Jordan, Polo, Mo., Janet Dhorty, Kirksville, Mo., Lynn Walker Davenport, and Shirley Nothwehs of Cain were in charge of gifts.

The bride is a 1954 graduate of Moravia High school and attended Iowa State college, where she was a member of Sigma Kappa social sorority. She has been employed the past year at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Centerville.

Mr. Brede is a 1954 graduate of Klemme High school and attended Iowa State college, where he became a member of Theta Xi fraternity. The past year he has been engaged in farming with his father.

The bride chose as her going away ensemble, a charcoal brown dress with a jacket of flannel, wearing black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The couple are at home on a farm near Garner following a week's wedding trip.

Attending the wedding from this part of the state were: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brede, Mr. and Mrs. McClure and Ricky, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brede, Goodell; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Guth and Nancy, Ventura; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Halfpop, Kanawha; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jurgemeyer and Elaine Ventura; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Miller, Klemme; Mr. and Mrs. John Stith and Cindy and Emma Waak, Eagle Grove.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson and Shirley of Manly and Bonnie Ostendorf of Ventura visited Sunday in the Sandberg home and were supper guests in the John Lauen home. Mrs. Johnson was leaving on Monday with her employer and wife Mr. and Mrs. Fields of Manly, to enjoy a five-week vacation in Florida in the Fields' southern home.

Sunday dinner guests in the Stille home were Mrs Clara Stille of Klemme, the Cecil Bridges family of Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stille.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Christie, Jane and Craig of Charles City spent the weekend visiting his mother and other relatives.

Mrs. Alvis Berhow spent Sunday in the home of her daughters, Mrs. Jess Schwichtenberg and Mrs. Raymond Michaelson. Monday, Mrs. Berhow accompanied relatives to Buffalo Center to attend the funeral of a cousin of the late Mr. Berhow. The deceased left a family of four small children and was a victim of cancer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huberger and two children of Sheffield attended E. U. B. church services here Sunday and were guests in the home of friends, Rev. and Mrs. Park E. Miller.

Mrs. Viva Parker of Belmond was a dinner guest Sunday in the Mrs. Laton Avery home. Her mother, Mrs. Anna O'Rourke, who had spent a week in the Avery home, returned to Belmond with Mrs. Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Krass, Conrad and Mark went to Livermore a week ago Tuesday. The three latter visited her sister, Mrs. John O. Hanson and Mr. Krass went on to Fort Dodge to attend a meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sanzone of Minneapolis, Minn., came Friday for a few days' visit in the parental Arthur Lowenberg home. The Lowenbergs' other children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jindrich of Swaledale, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Lowenberg and three daughters of Belmond and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Janssen and sons joined them for Sunday dinner.

The Francis Schilling family, who have been living on the Oren Bamford farm west of town, moved this week to a farm near Clarion. The Earl Ver Helst family will move to the Bamford farm.

Mrs. Carl Green returned home Tuesday evening of last week after being with her father, I. A. Mossman of Iowa Falls, in Fort Dodge. He had undergone major surgery on his back at the Lutheran hospital. He is getting along nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Green, Jon and Jerry visited Mr. Mossman at the hospital Sunday.

WHO'S WHO IN BELMOND—

"Doc" Larson's Always A Ready Helper

• • •

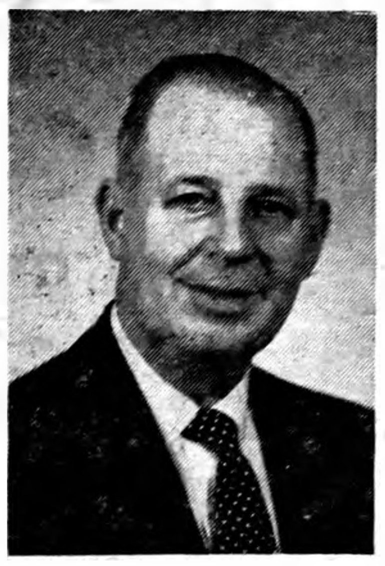
When the Lions held their minstrel show last spring, it was typical of the man that Dr. A. M. Larson drug out of the attic a Hawaiian guitar that he hadn't laid a finger on in years, practiced up to a reasonable degree of proficiency, and did his durndest to make the evening an entertaining one. He did a right good job on the git-fiddle, too.

It's Doc's habit, when urged to fill a civic assignment, to accept it only if he sees his way clear to do right by it. It might be observed that he doesn't turn them down very often, either. Doc considers that Belmond has treated him well during the nearly 32 years that he has been practicing dentistry here; and in turn, he's done his full share towards making Belmond a better and pleasanter place to live.

Former Kanawhan

Dr. Larson was born on a farm west of Olaf, but his parents — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Larson — moved to Kanawha when he was only six and that community was his home until his graduation from the University of Iowa college of dentistry in 1924. He'll be 55 next August and boasts three grandchildren, but he's kept a young man's outlook on life — and probably his keen interest in sports can be credited to some extent.

Athletics were a minor matter when he attended Kanawha High school, but there was a basketball team and Doc played on it. The gymnasium possessed only a clay floor until his senior year (1919-20), but the boys marked the boundary and foul lines before each game and didn't mind that a bit of a dust was raised as a contest progressed.



DR. A. M. LARSON

He's Always Done His Share

One of the charter members of the local Gridiron club, Doc was secretary of the group for three years — serving under the presidency of C. C. Christie — and then headed the club for a year. His interest in young people and their activities led him to accept chairmanship of the swimming pool finance committee last year, and he is still ardently hoping that some ways and means of making that pool a reality can be found.

His concern with the community's youth also prompted him to serve on the Belmond school board and he was its president for a year. It was a great thrill for Doc — an inveterate follower of BHS teams — when his son Larry was a member of the 1953-54 Bronco quintet that missed gaining the state basketball tournament by only a game.

Was C-of-C President

Dr. Larson's services to his home town have also included membership in the Chamber of Commerce and holding the presidency for a year. Other affiliations include membership in the Lions and Toastmasters clubs and he's a loyal member of St. Francis Catholic church.

He has received professional recognition as president of the Fort Dodge district of the Iowa State Dental association and as secretary-treasurer of the Iowa Great Lakes Dental Study club.

As for "participation sports" Doc is an avid golfer and fisherman. His addiction to fishing almost led to his sudden and untimely demise two years ago this spring when a boat overturned on a Canadian lake with him and The Independent's co-publisher, George Hansen. Hampered by heavy wearing apparel, Doc had a busy time keeping afloat till he could be rescued; but he still loves to fish, though he may be somewhat more cautious afloat than he used to be.

Another Cager Coming?

Twenty-six years ago this coming May 31, Doc married Eva I. Becker of Garner, who at the time was a clerical worker in the office of Belmond's old sugar factory. Besides Larry, who's a pre-medical student at SUI, they have two other children — Janyce, who is Mrs. Roger Kinseth, and Judy, a BHS freshman.

Doc takes a lot of pride in those three grandchildren: Julie, five; Jane, three; and Jeff, who's nine months old. Jeff's dad was an outstanding BHS cager in his day, and already Doc's hoping he can be in the stands when the young sprout performs as a Bronco basketballer. If he inherits the skill of his father and Uncle Larry, Jeff should be worth watching when the time comes.

DONALD SMITH

Will Live at Clarion

• • •

Hired by Council Scout Executive

Herb Ohrt, president of the Winnebago Council, announced last weekend that the executive board has employed Donald R. Smith of Joplin, Mo., as field executive to serve Franklin, Wright, Hancock and Winnebago counties. He will move to this area on March 1st.

Mr. Smith succeeds Darwyn A. Van Gorp, who last fall was transferred to the Tall Corn area council. Smith is currently employed as field Scout executive in the Mo-Kan area council, with headquarters at Joplin. He began his professional career in Scouting there on Jan. 1, 1953.

He has been a school teacher and principal. He has served as a Scoutmaster and as a district commissioner. He is a graduate of the 161st national training school for Scout executives.

Smith is married and has two daughters, ages nine and seven. He and his wife plan to live at Clarion, where a house has been rented for them. The Smiths are active in church, Sunday school and PTA.

Mr. Ohrt says that he feels the executive board has employed a young man of high calibre, who knows his job and the Scouting program. Smith's job is a big one, he says; as it involves serving 60 units, representing about 1,850 Scouting families in 25 communities.

"It is an impossible task except through effective county and district volunteer organizations." Mr. Ohrt declared. "We hope the good people of the counties Smith will serve, will respond to a real opportunity to serve more boys with better Scouting under the new Four-Year Banner, 'Onward for God and My Country'."

M. on the 30th day of January, 1956, at the Court House in Clarion, Iowa, is fixed as the time for the sale of $68,000 county jail bonds of the county of Wright in the State of Iowa and that the County Treasurer of said county is authorized and directed to publish notice of said sale in a newspaper located in Wright County as required by law. After due consideration of said motion by the board, the Chairman put the question upon its adoption and the roll being called, the following named supervisors voted "Aye": John Greenlander, Harland E. Hill, Geo. S. Trowbridge, Roland Trotter, Albert W. Christopher. There were no "Nay" votes, whereupon the Chairman declaren said motion duly carried. Motion by Greenlander, seconded by Hill to adjourn. Motion carried.

ALBERT W. CHRISTOPHER, Chairman.
MYRON PRICE, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, January 30, 1955

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in adjourned session at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, with the following members present: Albert Christopher, Chairman; John Greenlander; Harland E. Hill, Geo. S. Trowbridge, Roland Trotter, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Whereas, the time and place of offering for sale $68.000 County Jail Bonds of Wright County, Iowa, has arrived, with following bids received by the Wright County, Iowa, Treasurer: Carleton & Beh, Des Moines, Iowa, 2.3786; Becker & Cownie, Des Moines, Iowa, 2.33202; Iowa Des Moines National Bank, Des Moines, 2.3832. After a canvass of all bids the Board adopted the following resolution:

To confirm the action of the County Treasurer in the sale of $68,000 county jail bonds.

Whereas, notice to Bond Buyers had heretofore being given in strict compliance with Chapter 75 of the Code of Iowa, 1954, as to the time and place of offering for sale Sixty-Eight Thousand Dollars ($68,000) county jail bonds of the county of Wright, State of Iowa, and

Whereas, at the time and place named in said notice, open bids for said bonds were received and the substance of the best open bid duly noted in the minutes and

Whereas, after said best open bid had been noted in the minutes, sealed bids filed prior to the calling for open bids were opened and the substance of the best sealed bid duly noted in the minutes; and

Whereas, upon final canvass of all bids, the said bonds were awarded by the Treasurer of said county to Becker & Cownie of Des Moines, State of Iowa, as the highest and best bidder. Said bid not more than par and accrued interest; now therefore, it is resolved by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, State of Iowa, as follows:

Section 1. That the sale to Becker & Cownie of Des Moines, State of Iowa, of County Jail Bonds of said county in the total amount of Sixty-Eight Thousand Dollars ($68,000) to be dated February 1, 1956, at a price of par and accrued interest, plus a premium of $7.70, said bonds to bear interest as follows:

Bonds maturing in each of the consecutive years 1957 to 1961, both inclusive, at the rate of 2¼% per annum;

Bonds maturing in each of the consecutive years 1962 to 1965, both inclusive, at the rate of 2¼ per cent per annum; be and is hereby satisfied and approved.

Section 2. That the formal contract of sale of said bonds to said bidder, entered into pursuant to said bid, be and hereby is satisfied and approved.

Section 3. That all resolutions and orders as parts thereof in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Moved by Hill and seconded by Trowbridge to adopt the said resolution. On roll call the following supervisors voted "Aye": Greenlander, Trowbridge, Hill, Trotter, Christopher. Nays: None. Whereupon the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted.

Motion by Greenlander, seconded by Trotter to adjourn. Motion carried.

ALBERT W. CHRISTOPHER, Chairman,
MYRON PRICE, County Auditor.

Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. — Prov. 27:1.

STATE'S TRAFFIC TOLL SEEMS HEADED FOR ALL-TIME HIGH DURING YEAR 1956

Last Friday, Iowa's toll of traffic deaths for the first 48 days of 1956 stood at 97 — a total of 27 more than on the same date a year ago. This augurs a tragic year ahead unless every person who will be driving the highways in the months ahead INDIVIDUALLY resolves that the slaughter shall be stemmed.

In a summary of 1955's fatal motor vehicle accidents that was released last week by the Iowa Department of Public Safety, one fact was apparent above all others — that the vast majority of the fatal mishaps could have been prevented, but for human negligence.

Consider these facts. Of the 753 vehicles that played a part in bringing death to 606 persons: (1) more that 61 per cent of them were traveling at less than 50 mph; (2) alcohol was no factor in more than 86 per cent of the accidents; (3) physical defects wielded no influence in the case of more than 88 per cent of the drivers; (4) there was no obscurement of vision involved in 88 per cent of the mishaps; (5) more than 95 per cent of the vehicles involved were in good running order.

These statistics make it embarrassingly clear that the "human element" was the fatal factor, above all others.

What CAN a person do to protect himself and his passengers when risking the hazards of the highway? For one thing, the period of the day from 3:00 to 7:00 p. m. sees considerably more fatal accidents occur than any other four hours during the day. Either keep off the road during those hours — or exercise special caution.

Of the days in the week, Saturday is by a wide margin the deadliest — providing another "word to the wise." The worst day of the week and the worst hours of the day are positive considerations. They have become that though influenced by most of the same factors that prevail on other days and at other hours.

Basically, the ONLY variable factor is YOU. YOU can weight the scales in your favor and enjoy a better than average chance to survive. And since the alternative to elevating yourself above the common level of negligence is taking the "average" chance of becoming a statistic, there should be ample inspiration to drive as wisely as you can.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK IS ONE "WEEK" THE NATION'S PRESS IS "SOLD" ON

This week is Brotherhood Week. Out of a calendar that is utterly submerged in special "weeks" for this and that — usually dedicated to the proposition that the promoters of "the week" deserve more wealth or notoriety than they have enjoyed in the past — it is noteworthy that the nation's press is widely disposed to make the most of Brotherhood Week.

It is equally significant that Brotherhood Week is a creation of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. This unique organization has as its avowed purpose, "to promote justice, amity, understanding and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews, and to analyze, moderate and finally eliminate intergroup prejudices which disfigure and distort religious, business, social and political relations, with a view to establishment of a social order in which the religious ideals of brotherhood and justice shall become standards of human relationships."

Such well-known figures as Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Baker, S. Parkes Cadman and Roger W. Straus lent a guiding hand to the establishment of NCCJ; and it was a Catholic priest, Msgr. Hugh McMenamin, who in 1934 suggested the idea of Brotherhood Week.

We regard that one Bishop Mark K. Carroll struck with admirable accuracy the keynote of Brotherhood Week when he declared: "Common to all Christians and Jews and any creature created by God is the great Commandment of Love. . . . True Charity admits of no substitute. If we prostitute our love by admitting some and excluding others from our affections because they differ from us in race, religion, color, political beliefs, then we are counterfeit religionists and traitorous Americans."

When the bishop concluded his remarks in the strong language that he did, he undoubtedly had in mind MAJOR failures to meet the test of Brotherhood. They are certainly not applicable to the capricious, small failures of which we are ALL guilty from time to time. But in the small, prejudicial barriers that we tolerate — and jointly maintain — on a community level exist the seed that flowers into a weedy morass of misunderstanding when close acquaintanceship and personal admiration doesn't keep our estimate of "different" beliefs, customs and conventions in tolerant perspective.

We don't know who Hosea Ballou was, but he's credited with a suggestion that we all might apply to ourselves as we indulge in a bit of stocktaking this Brotherhood Week: "Has not God borne with you these many years? Be ye tolerant of others!"

● OBITUARY

ANDREW S. FAABORG

Andrew Sorenson Faaborg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Soren Faaborg, was born at Meservey on July 9, 1894. On Feb. 21, 1923, he was wed to Lillie Barkema and two children were born to them. The Faaborgs commenced farming in the vicinity of Goodell. Later they bought the Faaborg home place south of Meservey, where the deceased continued farming and made his home the remainder of his life.

Mr. Faaborg received his religious education and was confirmed in the Richland Lutheran church, located at the time southeast of Thornton. In later years he supported and attended the Meservey Reformed church.

He answered the call of his country and was inducted into the U. S. Army at Des Moines on Sept. 12, 1917, receiving his training at Camp Pike, Ark. From there he was assigned overseas with the 1st Division, to which he remained attached until he returned to the States. He received his honorable discharge at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Sept. 23, 1919.

During the last eight years of his life, Mr. Faaborg suffered failing health and during the past year had been bedridden. He passed away at his home on Jan. 27, 1956 at the age of 61 years, six months and 18 days.

Mr. Faaborg is survived by his widow and two children, Jack of Meservey and Mrs. Eleanor Manganiello of New York City; also Mrs. Marvel Stadtlander, who from the age of five made her home with the Faaborgs after the death of her mother, Mrs. Grace Barkema. Other survivors include one grandchild and two brothers, Niels and James Faaborg, both of Meservey.

Besides his parents, Mr. Faaborg was preceded in death by two brothers, one in infancy and the other — Ever — at the age of two.

MRS. GEORGE T. JOHNSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Barbro Josephine Johnson, age 83, were held at 2:00 p. m. on Saturday, Feb. 11, at St. Olaf Lutheran church. Rev. O. M. Severseike officiated and Johnston Funeral Home was in charge. Burial was in the family lot in the St. Olaf churchyard.

Pallbearers were Chester Hill, Oscar J. Hanson, Harry Stockseth, Elmer Gabrielson, Joe L. Larson and Sanford Severson.

Mrs. Johnson was the daughter of Charlie J. and Julia Charlson. She was born in a log cabin near Story City on Oct. 15, 1872. She became the bride of George T. Johnson at Story City on June 20, 1900. They moved to the Belmond area in that same year and she lived the rest of her life in this vicinity.

Nine children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, all of whom survive. They are Leonard, Kanawha; Mrs. Norton (Alma) Johnson, Merced, Calif.; Kermit, Mrs. Mark (Gladdys) Kline, Ernest and Harris, all of Belmond; Arnold, Story City; Mrs. Ray ((Mildred) Metz, Chowchilla, Calif.; and Mrs. Willard (Georgia) Peterson, Indianola. All of the children were able to be present for the funeral.

Also surviving are a brother, Elmer Charlson of Dows; and five sisters — Mrs. Cora Treat of Lander, Wyo., Mrs. Helen Nelson of Story City, Mrs. Belle Downing of Torrington, Wyo., Lenora Mehl of Washington D. C., and Mrs. Nellie Claggett of Lander, Wyo.

Mrs. Johnson was preceded in death by her husband in November of 1939 and by a brother, Ed Charlson, last June. A sister and two brothers died in infancy.

Although she had been hospitalized by heart attacks in April and June of last year, Mrs. Johnson had enjoyed relatively good health until suffering another attack on Monday, Feb. 6. An embolism caused her death the following day, only four hours after she had been taken to Belmond Community hospital.

HELP EISENHOWER

pass the new farm program

You will benefit this year if Congress acts before spring planting time

"Although agriculture is our basic industry, farm families find their prices and incomes depressed amid the nation's greatest prosperity.

". . . An oversupply of commodities drives down prices as mounting costs force up from below, generating a severe price-cost squeeze.

". . . Remedies are needed now, and it is up to the administration and the Congress to provide them swiftly. As we seek to go forward, we must not go back to old programs that have failed utterly to protect farm families.

". . . I recommend, therefore, the following nine-point program. I urge the Congress to pass this program with maximum speed, for delay can only aggravate and multiply the difficulties already sorely harassing millions of our rural people."

Dwight D. Eisenhower

From the President's special farm message to Congress.

The Eisenhower-Republican 9-Point Farm Program

1. A VOLUNTARY, 2-POINT SOIL BANK to take 40 to 45 million acres out of production of your problem crops, get rid of the surplus, raise prices.
   - An Acreage Reserve which uses the surplus to reduce the surplus.
   - A Conservation Reserve to prevent future surpluses and to build back soil for future needs.
2. LAWS TO PERMIT FASTER SURPLUS DISPOSAL especially in foreign markets. Selling, not storage, is the answer.
3. STRENGTHEN COMMODITY PROGRAMS on wheat, corn, dairy products, soybeans, cotton and rice. Ease production controls wherever possible.
4. PROTECT FAMILY-TYPE FARMS by limiting the size of price support loans made to large corporate-type farms.
5. EXPAND RURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM to help low-income farm families live better, earn more.
6. PUSH FORWARD THE GREAT PLAINS PROGRAM to stabilize income in drought-stricken areas, and to prevent another dust bowl.
7. INCREASE FARM RESEARCH APPROPRIATION to find new uses and new markets for farm crops, lower production costs and increase farm profits.
8. ASSURE ADEQUATE CREDIT TO FARMERS to meet capital needs of present farmers, help young farmers get started, tide farmers over emergencies.
9. REFUND GASOLINE TAX TO FARMERS on motor fuel used in farming operations.

Answers to some of your questions

Q: Why will it work?

A: Because this is a program for farmers by farmers. We asked for, and got, sound advice from hundreds of farm leaders and thousands of farmers everywhere. This program gets at the root of the problem on a practical, non-political basis. It contains no double-talk or bureaucratic theories. It is the most business-like, down-to-earth approach to the business of farming and marketing of farm products this country has ever had.

Q: Why is it a more practical program than others that have been offered?

A: Because it is especially tailored to today's peacetime conditions. It hits right at the problem of price-depressing surpluses built up because of wartime policies too long continued. These surpluses hang over your farm like a hidden mortgage.

Q: Will all farmers benefit?

A: This program will directly benefit all farmers everywhere: producers of food grains, feed grains, oilseed and fiber crops, dairymen and livestock producers. It recognizes the special problems of regional groups and producers of certain crops.

Q: Will this program help strengthen farm prices?

A: Yes. The present mountain of surplus, and the threat of future surplus, now holds down prices. Every farmer realizes that "a government warehouse is not a market." As surpluses are used up prices will inevitably rise. (Marketing people have estimated that net farm income would have been $2 billion higher in 1955 if it were not for the surpluses.)

Q: How much will it help?

A: Hundreds of millions of dollars in payments to farmers can be made this year under the Soil Bank plan alone if passage is not delayed. This is in addition to its effect in strengthening farm prices. Farmers would also get $60,000,000 a year tax refund on gasoline used in their farming operations.

Q: How big is the surplus?

A: The government now holds an $8-billion stock of farm products. We can't shut our eyes to it, throw it into the ocean or plow it under. It costs about a million dollars a day for storage and carrying charges alone.

Q: Why do surpluses drive down livestock prices as well as grain prices?

A: Continued overproduction of grains not only clogs the grain markets but forces continued expansion in an already over-expanded livestock production. Livestock prices as well as grain prices would be higher today if it were not for the surplus.

Q: Why is the new Soil Bank Plan the most sensible approach to the surplus problem?

A: It will get rid of the surplus and prevent future surplus from piling up. It will stop the shift of another farmer's problem crops to your problem crops.

Q: How does the Soil Bank "Acreage Reserve" use the surplus to reduce the surplus?

A: In exchange for placing a portion of their allotted crop acres in the Soil Bank (removing them from production entirely for an agreed period), farmers will receive certificates. These certificates will be good for cash at the bank or for commodities drawn from surplus government stocks. In this way farmers will be using up the surplus instead of adding to it. This part of the program applies to corn, wheat, cotton and rice.

Q: How will the Soil Bank "Conservation Reserve" keep future surpluses from building up?

A: It will take 25 million acres out of all crop and livestock production for several years. This land will be put into grass, trees or water storage. It is voluntary and provides generous incentives for wide-spread participation. It, too, will help livestock producers as well as grain producers since it will reduce the surplus of feed grains that put more and more people into the livestock business.

Q: Are these programs entirely voluntary?

A: Yes. President Eisenhower and the Republican Party believe it is a basic right of every farmer to be free to plan his own farm program and make the best use of his land that he knows how. They also believe that farmers should have the chance to build up their soil without loss of income. The well-being of all Americans, as well as the future prosperity of farmers themselves, depends on maintaining productivity of our soil resources. Farmers who participate will no longer feel that they are forced to farm every acre to the limit, producing crops that aren't needed, in order to keep their income up.

Q: How do I benefit if I put some of my acres in the Soil Bank?

A: You get an opportunity to restore the fertility of your soil and at the same time you are assured of an income from the land you retire. As surpluses are reduced, prices will increase on crops you do produce.

Q: Why will Soil Bank participation help insure my income?

A: It will strengthen your cash position by giving you a guarantee—in effect, income insurance. The acres you take out of production will provide income regardless of drought, flood or other disaster.

Q: How will the Soil Bank help livestock producers?

A: With less feed grains being produced, fewer farmers will feel that they have to raise more livestock to "piece out" their income due to surplus-depressed prices of grain. Participants in the Soil Bank plan will sign an agreement not to graze their diverted acres.

Q: When does it start?

A: Just as soon as the necessary legislation can be enacted. The President has urged all possible speed so farmers can plan their plantings and benefit fully during the present crop year. Your Republican members of Congress are behind the President. They believe the more you know about the program, the more you can help. You can help by writing members of Congress urging immediate action.

Maroon Star Misses Crucial Freethrow to Give Broncs Reprieve

knotted at 53-all and the Belmond crew resorted to control tactics in hope of setting up a last-second basket.

Fine ball-handling kept the Broncs in possession until about seven seconds remained, when Chandler let fly — and missed the mark. Then came the evening's top dramatics. Skram seemingly got loose for a sleeper that would have given the visitors a 55-53 victory — but a foul had been called at the opposite end of the floor which cancelled the basket and put Denny Bruns on the freethrow line with three seconds left to play.

Bruns Misses Chance

The Maroon star had made eight gratis shots in a row, prior to this attempt, but the pressure was too great and his crucial toss dipped in and out. Caquelin snagged the rebound and the struggle headed into overtime. Bruns sent his team ahead in the extra period with an overhead set shot, but Schimp retaliated with a pair of swishers—the second a beautifully executed drive-in straight through the Maroon defense.

Only 30 seconds of the three-minute overtime remained; but that sufficed for Bruns to count on a tip-in after a teammate's try had gone astray and set the stage for a sudden-death finisher. Holy Family got the first crack at the hoop as it controlled the center tip-off, but the shot by Yegge went wide and the rebound was hauled in by a determined Bronco. Playing methodically for an opening, the Belmond crew passed up several openings from fairly well out. Then Caquelin took a pass to the left of the pivot hole, drove into the freethrow lane and launched an unguardable hook shot that unerringly found its mark, flicking cleanly through the netting.

Zone Defense Effective

Virtue may be its own reward, but this time it paid off in better coin. The Broncs demonstrated in truly startling fashion that their spirit was undampened by a season that had brought more than a fair share of frustrations and bitter disappointments. It was a wonderful victory — and only the fourth loss for the doughty Maroons in 21 games.

A tight, zone defense maintained by the winners forced Holy Family to shoot from well out during the entire game — and held Bruns to a single fielder in the first half. He ended up with a 25 total for the game, but team-wise, the Broncs outcounted the Maroons from the floor 28 baskets to 22. It was 13-7 freethrow mark, compared to Belmond's 7-7, that kept the visitors in contention.

The Belmond freshmen set the pace for the varsity by chalking up a 42-34 win in the curtain-raiser. The Junior Broncs rushed into a 16-4 lead in the first quarter and kept their advantage the rest of the way. Hustling Tom McNulty led the way with 15 points, with Ken Hawley contributing 10 and Bill Kaufman eight.

SPORTS

"Tournament fever" was generated over-night in epidemic form among the followers of the Belmond Broncos as they showed their top form of the season Friday night in upsetting the strong, Holy Family Maroons. The Broncs' opening game in the sectional tourney at Franklin Consolidated was played last night — too late to be reported in this issue of The Independent. If their performance against Dows followed the form sheet, the Purple and White crew was slated to advance to a final game meeting with the Franklin-Hampton winner Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. The two Franklin county fives play tonight. IF the Broncs came through last night — and IF they successfully fill the favorite's role Saturday, a crowd reminiscent of "the good old days" can be expected to follow the Purple and White brigade along the tournament trail.

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

That Holy Family thriller-diller was another of those "classics" that will linger long in the memories of local sports fans. It ranks with the Garner football game of a couple of seasons back as a victory that "the record" said was virtually beyond the realm of possibility. Too much credit cannot be given Coach Dick Hobbs and his crew. They really pulled a rabbit out of the hat.

It might be noted that the Broncos hit on nearly 42 per cent of their field goal attempts — certainly one of their top performances of the season, and under the severest kind of pressure. The Maroons, forced to take the bulk of their shots from well out on the floor, hit at only a 28 per cent rate.

Coach Eddie Colbert owed the Maroons' followers no apology for the defeat his highly-favored outfit suffered. They were beaten by a GOOD team. It was clear from the outset that the Broncos were conceding the visitors NOTHING. If one game can "make" a season, the Belmond battlers made their 1955-56 campaign a genuine SUCCESS with this one, sparkling effort. And who's to say that the Broncs won't be good for another shocker or two along the tournament trail?

—PSS—

In today's write-up of last Friday night's game, Belmond's scoring perhaps should have been reported by "majority rule." The official scorebook showed both Schimp and Chandler with 16 points. The Independent's book and that of the Holy Family scorekeeper showed Larry with 18 and Jerry with 14. At any rate, both boys played "a million dollar's worth" of basketball; and who got exactly what is incidental to the fact that — amongst 'em — the Broncs got ENOUGH.

—PSS—

With Ken Loats playing a starring role, the Central college Dutchmen have developed into one of the most highly respected teams in the Iowa conference basketball league this season. Their record isn't impressive, but they have upset several of the league leaders and been scaring the daylights out of others. After taking such first-class shellackings earlier in the season, the Dutchmen lately have been winning 'em—or losing by only the meagerest of margins.

While Ken has been boosting his field goal production in recent games, his performances at the free throw line perhaps been even more impressive. He's been connecting with the hoop on gratis tosses at a 77 per cent clip and recently had a string of 17 tries in a row that found their mark, including nine straight in one game.

Eldon Schulte, the erstwhile Alexander star and teammate of Ken's, has not been so prolific a scorer, but that has in large part been due to the fact that he "feeds" the ball most of the time and tries few shots himself. He's been hitting more than half the time (56 per cent to be exact) when he DOES shoot. Between them, Ken and Eldon are Central's best rebounders. The Alexander ace leads the squad in that department, with Loats very close behind.

—PSS—

Speaking of freethrows, the Broncs this season have been far below the Purple and White par of recent years in scoring from the foul line. Their joint effort in the Buffalo Center game here on Jan 31 last stands out like a beacon light in the fog, in that they WERE hot that night on charity tries.

They swished 26 out of 36 attempts for 72 per cent.

Most often though it's been a struggle for the boys to convert half the time. In recent games their percentages have been: at Northwood 53, at Lake Mills 54, against Clarion and Garner 46, and Holy Family 50. BEST exhibition we've heard about was Lake Mills' against Britt—34 out of 38 for a shade under 90 per cent!

—PSS—

Ron Hansen is another ex-Bronco luminary who gives promise of doing alright in college competition (like Kenny Loats). When the Carleton freshmen whipped the St. Olaf preps 70-57 a short while ago, Ron was a center for the winners for about half the game and accounted for 12 points. He says that the frosh have been beating the varsity with regularity in practice scrimmages, which sounds as if the Carls may be a power to be reckoned with in the Midwest conference within another year or two to come.

—PSS—

Lake Mills made that new, all-time scoring record "official" when the Bulldogs finished off their season with an average of 73.75 points per game in conference play. We've a sneakin' notion that this is a mark that may stand up for some little time.

Northwood's champs, thanks to the stingy 37 points they allowed the Broncos, overtook Lake Mills in the contest for best defensive record. They gave up an average of 53 points per game to the Bulldogs' 55.5. Lake Mills had appreciably the larger average margin over their foes, though—boasting an 18.2 spread compared to the Vikings' 12.75.

It's unfortunate that these two NIC powers have to meet so early as the sectional tournament. If Northwood plays the kind of game in their third meeting (assuming they both make the finals) that they did against Belmond on the Viking floor, we'll put our money on the champs.

Rowat-Murray Five Repeats as City Team Champion in Women's Bowling

Rowat-Murray's entry in the team event was the only 1955 winner to repeat in the annual Belmond city tournament of the Women's Bowling association that was held last week. The R-M quintet rolled an aggregate of 2,206—with handicap — for their second win in a row and thereby retired the Rowat-Murray Trophy. Two team championships were required for permanent possession of the trophy. Belmond Greenhouse and Chapman's also owned a leg on the team prize.

Among the individual bowlers, Emma Thompsen was the only major winner a year ago who again shared in a title. She was the all-events victor in '55 and this time won the doubles championship with June Mosiman. They had scratch series of 485 and 470, respectively, with a 90-pin handicap for a gross of 1,534. This was 29 pins better than the score that won last year, but only 11 more than Ruby Klinefelter (427) and Alberta Middleton (511) posted, with the help of 96 pins handicap.

Greenhouse Team 2nd

Other doubles teams in the money were Nadine Smith-Irene McMannus 1,028; Donna Robertson-Olga Rogalla, 1,023; and Eleanor Robertson-Catherine Chapman 997. Prizes for the five, top duos were $10, $8.00, $6.00, $4.00 and $2.40.

Following behind Rowat-Murray in the team event were: Greenhouse, 2,173, Howell Music company 2,170, Style Shop 2,144 and George's Auto-Electric 2,106. The team prizes were $20, $15, $10, $7.00 and $5.00. Best individual scratch series in the team competition were a 535 by Lois Hafermann and 509 by Donna Robertson, both of Rowat-Murray.

Hafermann Wins All-Events

These two lady pin-busters finished one-two in the all-events. Mrs. Hafermann had a nine-game total of 1,534 with the help of only 36 handicap pins and Mrs. Robertson had 1,530 with the assistance of a 72 handicap. Alberta Middleton tied for 2n dat 1,530, followed by Eva Larson 1,516, J. Kinseth 1,514 and Eleanor Robertson 1,502.

The last-named, Eleanor Robertson, was singles champion with a 475-51—526, followed by Ruby Klinefelter with 480-36—516. Others in the singles money were: Eva Larson 513, Alice Busick 507, Jan Kinseth 504, Lois Hafermann 502 and Lois Hammond 499. Mrs. Hafermann had the best scratch series in this event with a 490.

Prize money in all-events was divided as follows: $4.00, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.00; and in the singles — $8.00, $6.50, $5.50, $4.00, $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00.

NEW MONTCLAIR PHAETON 4-DOOR HARDTOP—Newest, most beautiful 4-door hardtop of them all. No center pillars, of course. But more important, no view-cramping curve to the roof. Rear-seat passengers enjoy full visibility. Dramatic styling touches distinguish the Phaeton from all other 4-door hardtops.

Here's why so many small car owners are moving up to the Big M!

1. PROVABLE VALUE
You get far more car for your money. Big-car size, weight, and power. Big-car luxury and prestige. Remember, too, that Mercury's low starting price, low operating cost and consistently high resale value make Mercury the top value in its field.

2. REFLEX-ACTION PERFORMANCE
You not only get high horsepower in THE BIG M, you get a car with the reflexes of a champion athlete. Go, stop, climb, pass—THE BIG M responds instantly to your every command. On rough roads and curves—THE BIG M adjusts instantly for ease and comfort.

3. LOW COST
Prices start low for THE BIG M. For example, the beautiful and powerful Mercury Medalist is priced below many models in the "low-price 3."* And you have a wide choice of body styles and color options in Mercury's newest, lowest-priced Medalist series.

4. BIG M BEAUTY
Mercury has a look of distinction all its own. You see it in the sleek, road-hugging profile. In the fresh, youthful lines. In the sparkling new colors—rich solid-tones, radiant two-tones, and new Flo-Tone color styling.

5. SAFETY-FIRST DESIGN
There's a whole new family of safety advances. At no extra cost, you get an impact-absorbing safety steering wheel and triple-strength door locks. And, as options, there are seat belts and a padded instrument panel.

Talk about your "prohibitive odds!" It's a good thing the Bronco cagers won't be called upon to meet Mason City High school's basketball team along the tournament trail. It wouldn't even pay the Purple and White basketeers to suit up! According to "expert" calculation, the odds would be something like 2,000-to-1 against the Broncs.

After Belmond nipped Holy Family of Mason City 59-57 in a double overtime a week ago Friday, the Maroons' Coach Eddie Colbert was heard to wail that his boys "could play that outfit another 100 times and not lose once."

After Holy Family upset Mason City 63-62 in overtime last Friday the losers' coach, Bill Stenecker, gave voice to a similar tale of woe. He complained that the Maroons could beat his bunch not more than one time in 20; but the sectional finals happened to be that time. . . . . 'Tis a bitter thing for a coach when upsets come!

Margo Gowdy, daughter of Mainstreeter "Dick," finds some aspects of the Cottey college "curriculum" very decidedly to her liking. Tuition at the Nevada, Mo., school, where Margo is a sophomore, includes three trips annually to Kansas City to "do the town." Cottey's nearly 200 students spent last Saturday at KC, visiting the Nelson Art Gallery and in the evening attending the Broadway production of the play, "Bad Seed."

When Bill Strannigan's Cyclones got whipped by Missouri and Kansas State, the Jaycees began to fret that their "feature attraction" for the March 28 basketball banquet might be frittering away some of his appeal. But when Iowa State last Tuesday night interrupted at 19 a solid string of wins that Colorado had chalked up on its home court, it appeared their speaker was "in."

Though physical disabilities have been hampering Bill's boys in the stretch drive of the Big Seven basketball race, there should be no lingering doubt but what Strannigan is a coach "what IS a coach." They say he's really an ace speaker, too.

Tickets for the banquet were to go on sale today. They're obtainable at Dougherty Jewelry, Thompsen & Keleher's, Kessler's and at Swede's Tavern. Also, all the Jaycees will have supplies of ducats on hand. Since seating capacity of the hot lunch room is only 250, that's ALL the tickets that will be sold. Prexy Dwight Tyrrell urges, "Avoid disappointment, and get 'em NOW!"

Sometime during the coming week a remark by Deputy Sheriff "Pink" Walrod that was passed along in Main Street will be launched on the airwaves by seven Iowa stations, plus KWEI, Kewanee, Ill.

It was the crack about the luck of "Pink" and his boss, Sheriff Bob Blecker, temporarily being so bad that they'd "have trouble tracking down an elephant with a bloody nose in a snowbank."

Stations that will carry the program of quotes from Iowa editors will include WOI at Ames, WSUI at Iowa City and WOC, Davenport. When Main Street gets ahold of a good item, it's apt to be blatted all over the place!

Bob Foss of the back shop force says it doesn't pay to be impetuous about buying birthday gifts. It's better just to wait the situation out and see if fate won't supply a substitute for that "expensive" item you've got in mind. Impulsiveness can be expensive, he warns.

Last Saturday was Evie Foss's birthday, and Bob "popped" for a fancy new can opener (no reflection on Evie's cooking intended, we presume). Then Bob made a call at Jim's Paint store and was presented with a generous-sized packet of needles, such as Jim Cairns had given out as gifts to his customers last Christmas.

Bob found himself uncomfortably ensconced on the horns of a dilemma. It was "an awful nice" package of needles. Would make a real seemly birthday present. But Bob was big about it. He bravely presented Evie with the five-buck can opener! Now there's true love for you.

There's many a domestic rift developing in our fair city as the Whisker Club membership grows. We've heard dire threats muttered by the wife of more than on prickle-faced husband, and woe betide the day that the women get together to plot revenge. Why the fraus should be so bitter over a mere, manly manifestation of hometown patriotism is difficult for the bearded brotherhood to understand. Grandma apparently had no complaints — or where WOULD we be today!?

Trans-Atlantic Romance Blossoms; Willie Grau Brings Home A Bride

Whoever it was said, "True love will find a way," might well have used Willie Grau and his young bride (nee Edeltrond Heindle) to prove his point. Willie and Trudie met in Munich just a little over two years ago. For something less than two months they "kept company;" then Willie came to the United States at the suggestion of a U. S. soldier, whose acquaintance he had made.

That soldier was Louie Pals, now proprietor of the Roll-Away Skating rink. Willie made his home with Louie's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolters. It was in February of 1954 that the German youth came to this country.

Forgetting Didn't Work

Although Trudie had made quite a conquest of him ("Trudie" is the Anglicized equivalent of the nickname for Edeltrond), Willie thought he could forget her. In fact, he was quite resolved to do so—briefly. But both he and Trudie soon came to recognize that that simply wasn't going to work. An endless series of letters started shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic between the Wolters farm and Munich; and it wasn't long before the subject of marriage began to figure heavily among the topics of discussion.

Willie had withstood the blandishments of the Hitler youth movement, which suggests he is not a fellow to be dissuaded from what he thinks is right. And he became wholly convinced that making Trudie his bride and bringing her to live with him in the United States was about the most completely right thing he could think of. So plans were laid.

Married Feb. 11th

During the holidays, Willie took a plane back to Germany, arriving in Munich on Christmas Day. Then came a battle with the powers-that-be to obtain the immigration papers required for Trudie's admittance to this country. Matters hadn't progressed very rapidly up to the time that the young couple spoke their marriage vows on Feb. 11.

Trudie's wedding ring seemed to provide the key to the whole situation. With it on her finger and Trudie on Willie's arm, the immigration officials gave up the fight and the necessary papers were promptly forthcoming.

Arrived "Home" Last Week

Following an air flight back to the States, Mr. and Mrs. Grau arrived at the Mason City airport on the final leg of their journey "home" on Tuesday of last week. They are making their home temporarily with the Wolters; but Willie has a job with the McDonald Construction company at Mason City and they are scouting for satisfactory living quarters there.

Trudie doesn't speak English yet, but the twinkle in her eyes speaks the universal language. You just know she knows how the story comes out . . . "And they lived happily, ever after!",

Only $25 Paid Out

Only $25 was cut adrift from the Cash Gift Day fund this Tuesday. Mrs. Emory Thompson picked off that amount at 2:00 p. m. by presenting No. 2,447. The other 2:00 o'clock numbers were 1,303, 3,821, 4,354. Apparently nobody was interested in that pair of $100's at 3:00 o'clock. At least, numbers 1,116 and 3,278 stayed in the kitchen drawer—or wherever they'd been stached. Next week's prizes will remain the same as this Tuesday's . . . four $25's at 2:00 o'clock and two $100's at 3:00 o'clock.

Contract to Bring All New Lighting For City's Streets

A new street lighting contract was negotiated between the city of Belmond and the Iowa Electric Light and Power company at a special meeting of the city council held Tuesday night of last week. When it goes into effect, upon the installation of new fixtures on Main street and along the highway, it will provide more than twice the illumination throughout Belmond than has been provided under the old contract. The new agreement will run for 10 years.

New steel poles will be erected on Main street from Highway 69 to the library corner, six feet taller than the present 15-foot electroliers. To these will be fixed enclosed glass reflectors on arms extending six feet over the street, which will provide better than twice the amount of light under the present lighting system.

New Fixtures for Highway

These new electroliers will be positioned the same as the ones now in use, six to each of the four blocks with three on each side of the street.

When the new contract goes into effect, they will be lit throughout the night instead of half of them being turned out at midnight, as is now done. From the library corner to the Rock Island tracks 10 similar fixtures will be attached to wooden poles. The same type of reflectors will also be used in illuminating the highway, but the fixtures will be attached to eight-foot arms extending toward the roadway.

These improvements were included in the lighting plan submitted to the city fathers by the utilities company. In addition, the council members decided to brighten the residential district by a change-over to bulbs that will provide 2½ times the light that is given by the present system. All old or damaged reflectors in the residential area are to be replaced, also.

Monthly Charge Up $200

It was felt by the councilmen that the new residential lighting will not only improve the appearance of the community a great deal, but will be an important factor in helping to maintain law and order and protect the public safe-

Swine Producers Dinner March 20

Annual spring dinner meeting of the Wright County Swine Producers association will be held on the evening of Tuesday, March 20, at the Legion Memorial hall in Eagle Grove. Business will include election of directors from the northeast and southeast quarters of the county.

As usual, main course of the dinner will be pork supplied by the Hormel company of Austin, Minn., to be prepared by Hormel chefs. Winners of the 1955-56 market price contest will be announced and a new guessing contest conducted regarding the prices that will prevail in 1956 and early 1957.

Farmers in this vicinity from whom tickets for the dinner can be obtained are: Belmond township—Garfield Halverson, Jr., L. B. Oberhauser, Loren Bamford; Iowa — Don Burt; Pleasant — Richard Eckhoff; and Norway — Don Engh and Doyce Friedow. Only 400 tickets will be placed on sale, so prompt purchase is recommended.

R. Baker Elected To DHIA Board

Ralph Baker of Belmond was elected to the board of directors as the Wright County Dairy Herd Improvement association recently held its annual meeting at Clarion. Retiring President Wendell Swanson at that time explained the articles of incorporation which were lately adopted by the group and the association approved a set of by-laws.

LeRoy Miller of Clarion was elected as 1956 president of the DHIA, while Bob Stevens and Sherman Ekeland were re-elected as vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. In addition to Baker, Merrill Telleen of Dows was elected to the board. Dean Heckman will continue as dairy herd improvement supervisor.

County Extension Director Aaron Bowman discussed the brucellosis control program that has been carried on by means of the ring test and told of the need for voluntary testing on an area basis.

Several Vocalists To Take Spotlight In Minstrel Show

Several vocal numbers that scored big hits in last year's Hometown Minstrel Show of the Belmond Lions club will be repeated on the program of the otherwise all-different show the Lions are presenting tonight and Friday night at the high school auditorium.

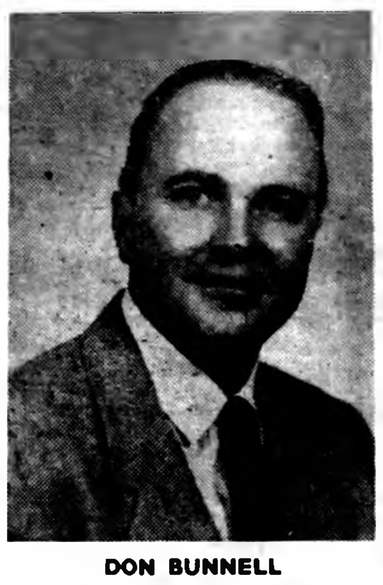
Dr. P. A. Rietz will again deliver the amusing tale of the "Ten Little Bottles;" and the male quartet will blend voices in that barbershop stand-by "Ain't It a Shame?"

Newcomers as vocal soloists will be a pair proselyted from the high school faculty, Dave Weltha and Bob Wilson. The former will be heard in "Sixteen Tons" and Grandfather's Clock" and "Red" Wilson will sing "Trees" and the tenor favorite, "Ida."

Hale Mason, listed as Belmond's own Liberace, will be featured in a piano number. All in all, music will play a prominent part along with dancing and mirth, as a highlight of the show, Director Martin Qualen promises.

The Lions are anxious for the show to be a big success, as all proceeds go into their Student Aid Fund. This fund has already been drawn on to the extent of a $150 loan to help a BHS alumnus continue his college career. The Lions hope that in years to come, the proceeds from this and future minstrel shows will help many an ambitious graduate of Belmond High school to obtain a college education.

The Eye Bank kit recently purchased by the club cost about $115; and $80 has been donated for the purchase of eye glasses for youngsters in the Belmond schools



DON BUNNELL
Will Seek Speech Honors

Area Toastmasters Contest Scheduled Here on Saturday

Area Two of the Iowa Toastmasters, of which Robert Rosene of Belmond is governor, will hold its annual speech contest here Saturday evening after a dinner at the Congregational church. Nine clubs will have entries in the competition. Don Bunnell will represent the Belmond club, whose members will be hosts for the occasion.

Other clubs who will have contestants in the area competition are those at Algona, Webster City, Fort Dodge, Iowa Falls, Hampton, Mason City, Charles City and Osage. Area winner a year ago was Rev. William Schorman of Belmond, who went on to win the state contest.

Contest speakers will be assigned three topics at 2:00 p.m. Saturday afternoon, from which to chose one as the topic of their speech following the dinner.

Delegations are expected to accompany the speakers from each of the competing clubs, and members of a newly-formed club at Humboldt have also been invited to attend. Guests of honor will include Martin Seltzer of Des Moines, lieutenant governor of District 19, which comprises all of Iowa; and Ross Baumann of Ames, governor of Area Six, the area adjoining Area Two on the south.

Arrangements for the contest and accompanying dinner have been the responsibility of Area Governor Rosene. He has been assisted by Alfred Mueller, president of the Belmond Toastmasters, and other members of the local club.

Musical entertainment for the dinner hour will be provided by the BHS boys quartet, under the direction of David Weltha. Singers making up the group are Larry Schimp, Bill Murray, Douglas Nodland and Bradley Hammond.

5 from Belmond Get Top Ratings

Belmond High school entrants came home with five Division I ratings and four Division II's from the pre-district speech contest held Tuesday at Dows.

Top ratings went to Sharon Thompsen in dramatic declamation; Maryellen Johnson, oratorical; Kathy Dorr, humorous; Joan Kriens, interpretive reading; and John Studebaker, radio speaking.

The BHS one-act place was rated Division II, as were: Marcia Henn and Jim Stadtlander, radio speaking; JoAnn McMannus, humorous.

ATTEND CHURCH CLINIC

Sunday afternoon and evening a Luther League officers' training clinic at St. Paul Lutheran church, Waverly, was attended by a delegation of nine young people from St. John Lutheran church. In the group were Gordon Sandman, Don Nuehring, Robert Ausborn, Mary Ennen, Sharon Koppernagel, Gloria Rogalla, Shirley Pals, Sharon Steenhard and Nadine Rabe.

Police Will Soon Have New Patrol Car – With Radio

Belmond within a matter of another week or so will have in use a new city patrol car, equipped with a two-way police radio, as a result of recent council action. Last week the low bid on providing the new patrol car was received from Belmond Auto company and the city fathers chose to install in it a Motorola police radio. Delivered cost of the car will be $1,318.80 plus trade-in of the old car.

Bid of the local Ford dealer on the patrol car was about $300 under the only other competing bidder. Some changes were made in equipment, as compared to that specified in the basic bid. For one thing, a more powerful generator was decided upon to assure proper operation of the two-way radio. Also, the council ordered heavier shock absorbers and heavy duty tires, in recognition of the hard use a police car is certain to receive in line of duty.

Cost of the new radio unit, installed, will run from $550 to $575. It will be installed by Emmett King, chief of the state police radio station north of town. He is an expert radio technician and has also agreed to see that the radio is kept in good working order.

Mayor Henry Hokel says, "The police radio we formerly had never did give good service and we were unable to get satisfaction from the company which supplied it. The council is happy over the prospect of having the police department again equipped with a radio; and, thanks to the close adjacency of the state station, has little concern but what it will give satisfactory service this time and prove a real asset to local law enforcement."

Demos Call Parley For Next Monday

Harry Graves of Eagle Grove, chairman of the Wright county Democratic central committee, has called a meeting of the county's Democrats to be held at the district courtroom in Clarion at 8:00 p. m. next Monday.

Purpose of the meeting is to pick a slate of delegates to attend the state Democratic convention and also to examine the possibility of fielding a full slate of candidates for county offices in the upcoming election.

It has been a good many years since the Democrats have had anything resembling a full ticket contending for Wright county elective offices. An effort to draft a complete slate two years ago was unsuccessful.

OSCAR THOMPSON DIES

Word was received Sunday by Belmond relatives of the death of Oscar C. Thompson at Engelvale, N. D. Funeral services were scheduled for this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Kanawha Lutheran church. The deceased was a brother of Adolph, Tolford and Harley Thompson of Belmond.

With release Wednesday of pairings for the boys district basketball pairings, one fact was particularly noteworthy regarding the field in District 3—to which the Belmond Broncos have been assigned. There is not a conference champion in the entire group of eight teams. Like Belmond and its first round foe, Charles City, all are members of one loop or another except Holy Family of Mason City. The Maroons play an independent schedule and ended their regular season with an 18-4 mark, having since added two tourney wins.

Charles City, whom the Broncos will play at Roosevelt fieldhouse in Mason City next Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock, was a 4th place finisher in the Northeast Iowa conference and has compiled a 13-7 record to date compared to Belmond's 9-9.

Iowa Falls Team Strong

Should the Broncos survive their first test, they will draw the winner of the Iowa Falls-Cresco game. This pair battles it out Tuesday night at the Waterloo Hippodrome. The Iowa Falls Cadets finished second to Webster City in the North Central loop and possess a won-lost mark of 17-3. Cresco has had poor success this past season, winning only three and losing 14. The Spartans ended up in a tie for 6th place in the Northeast Iowa conference.

Everything points to the upper bracket packing the most power in District 3. Ventura, which placed 4th in the North Star league and was sectional victor over Forest City 82-76, has won 14 and lost 8. The Vikings tangle at 7:00 o'clock Tuesday with New Hampton at Roosevelt fieldhouse. New Hampton's Chicks ended up in 5th place in the Northeast Iowa loop and possess a 10-11 mark to date.

Lake Mills' Mark 16-3

Of major interest to local fans, after the Broncos' own game, will be that pitting Lake Mills against Holy Family on Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the Mason City fieldhouse. Runners-up to Northwood in the North Iowa loop, the Bulldogs got revenge over Northwood's champions in the sectional finals 59-51 and have suffered only three defeats in a 19-game campaign. The Bulldogs hold two solid decisions over Belmond, whereas the Broncs upset the Maroons 59-57 to account for one of Holy Family's four losses.

It appears not beyond the realm of possibility that the Broncos might find themselves pitted for a third time against Lake Mills—or for a second time against Holy Family. But the road in district play is a rocky one. All three could be sidelined before the final-round contest, but the H.F.-L.M. winner stacks up as odds-on favorite to survive the upper bracket. Iowa Falls must be given the nod in the lower.

George Kalkwarf Dies at Age 82

George D. Kalkwarf, 82, for 36 years a resident of the Belmond community, died early Wednesday morning at Belmond Community hospital. He had been a patient there since suffering a stroke just three weeks earlier.

Johnston Funeral Home will be in charge of the funeral. Services will be held at the Kalkwarf home at 1:00 p. m. Saturday and at 1:30 o'clock at St. John American Lutheran church. A complete obituary will be published next week.

ROWAN MAN ADMITS "PERFECT" CRIME DIDN'T PAN OUT PERFECT

What seemed like a "perfect crime" in the planning turned out to fall rather short of the mark for Robert Keleher, 24, of Rowan. As a result, since Wednesday of last week he has been free on $2,500 bail awaiting hearing by the district court grand jury on a charge of larceny in the nighttime.

Sheriff Bob Blecker says that Keleher has signed a statement confessing to having stolen about $50 in cash from the Delano-Hubbell garage at Clarion, by whom he was employed at the time as a mechanic and parts man.

It was on Feb. 7 that Sheriff Blecker received a report that the garage had been broken into the previous night and the aforementioned sum of money—plus a $24 check—taken from their hiding place in a parts bin. The same morning, Cambier Chevrolet garage informed the sheriff that a door glass there had apparently been smashed by an intruder, but that nothing was missing.

Periodic questioning of Keleher by the Clarion police and Sheriff Blecker led them to suspect he knew more about the affair than he had told them. Finally, arrangements were made by the sheriff to take the Rowan man to Des Moines to submit to a lie detector test.

When Blecker went to pick him up to make the trip a week ago yesterday, Keleher declared the trip would not be necessary—and confessed he had taken the money. He added that he had torn up the check and flushed it down a toilet.

In his signed statement, Keleher told of leaving the garage premises about 6:00 p. m. on Feb. 7 and returning about 8:00 o'clock to commit the theft. He let himself in the front door of the garage with his key, took the money and disposed of the check, left by the door and locked up. He then went to the rear of the garage and punched in a cardboard that sealed a broken window, to give the appearance of a break-in.

Keleher's final touch—which was calculated to direct suspicion away from himself—was to walk across the street and shatter with a stick the glass in a door at the Cambier garage.

After dictating and signing the statement made to Sheriff Blecker a week ago Wednesday, Keleher was taken before Mayor R. C. Bowman at Clarion for preliminary hearing on the larceny charge. He was bound over to the grand jury and released from jail about 5:00 p. m. when the required $2,500 was posted.

Sewer Job Letting Re-Set, March 26

Plans for resolicitation of bids on the sanitary sewer extension to the east part of Belmond were drafted last week by the city council and March 26 at 8:00 p. m. set as the date and hour for receiving said bids.

At an earlier attempted letting, held Dec. 20, bids ranged from $72,372 to $98,481, or some $20,000 to $45,000 higher than the council had expected the job would cost.

One railroad crossing, at Fifth street NE, was deleted from the original sewer extension plans in the hope of lowering the cost to an acceptable range.

Otherwise, the plans and specifications remained materially the same as set forth when the first bids were asked. The sewer extension would serve Kirkendall Addition, the new school property north of Third street NE and potentially could serve additional residential area to the north and east.

GOP Confab Set For This Evening

C. C. Christie, chairman of the Wright county Republican central committee, has called a meeting of that group to be held this (Thursday) evening in the district courtroom at Clarion at 7:30 o'clock.

At that time, the division of delegates to the county presidential convention will be made among the various precincts. The county convention is scheduled for Friday, March 16.

All precinct committeemen and committeewomen are requested by Mr. Christie to call their precinct caucuses sometime between this Friday and next, March 9, and call the names of delegates in to him by the latter date.

A-C COMMUNITY DAY

Followwill Implement and Feed store is holding a Community Day on Wednesday of next week, at which time it will have on display the latest in the Allis-Chalmers line of farm implements. Free lunch will be served at the store from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. and free movies will be shown at the New Belmond theater from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

LIONS CLUB WILL PRESENT FORT DODGE CHORUS HERE

An unusual musical treat has been arranged by the Lions club for April 24, when the service organization is bringing the Fort Dodge Men's Civic Glee club here for a concert.

This 45-voice chorus, directed by Clayton Hathaway, made an appearance here about five years ago when L. T. "Bud" Trafford was a member of the group.

More detailed information in regard to its program will be published in advance of the concert, which will be presented at the high school auditorium and will be open to the public without charge.

Wallace Ogg Will Lead Six-Man Panel Next Thursday In Public Affairs Discussion of "County Functions"

"Specific Functions of the County" will be the discussion topic at the fourth in the series of public affairs meetings that is being conducted this winter by the Wright county extension service. This meeting will be held on Thursday of next week at 8:00 p. m. at the Clarion Legion hall. It will deal with county government from the standpoints of finance, welfare administration, law enforcement and public works.

This meeting will take the form of a panel discussion, with Wallace E. Ogg of the Iowa State college faculty serving as moderator. Mr. Ogg is professor of economics and sociology at the state school, but he is currently devoting most of his time to the development of extension programs in public affairs, such as the one he will be participating in.

A 1931 graduate of ISC, Mr Ogg joined the extension service as a farm management specialist in 1938 and was appointed district program supervisor for the service in 1943. He got his Master of Science degree from Iowa State in 1944 and thereafter served two years as an officer in the U. S. Naval Reserve, seeing service in the Pacific theater. Following his discharge he continued study at the University of Chicago, obtaining an M. A. degree in 1948 and his Ph. D. in agricultural economics, with a minor in political science, a year later.

Most of the public affairs forums arranged through the extension service are customarily concerned mainly with development of understanding of international and national policy as directly and indirectly related to agriculture. However, because of current increased interest in the manner of government administration that prevails in Wright county, the subject matter was changed for the Clarion forum series.

On the panel that will be led by Professor Ogg will be the following: State Senator Henry E. Heideman, Rockwell City, chairman of the county section of the legislative tax study committee; Raymond E. Edwards, Des Moines, executive secretary of the Iowa Taxpayers association; H. C. Cook and Donald Boles of the Iowa State college department of history and government; Ray Hagie, Clarion, representing the taxpayers of Wright county; and a member of the county board of supervisors, if that body accepts an invitation to have representation on the panel.

GOODWILL TRUCK COMING

Next regular visit of the Goodwill truck to Belmond will be Thursday of next week. Mrs. Clyde Jennings reports there is an urgent need for used clothing.

McCormick Named "Outstanding Young Farmer"

Duane McCormick, who farms 240 acres of land located just south of Morse lake, has been named by the Belmond Junior Chamber of Commerce as the "Outstanding Young Farmer" of the Belmond vicinity for the year 1955. Selection of the award winner is based upon farming ability, community service, conservation practices and financial betterment.

This was Duane's fifth year of farming "on his own." The farm he operates is bisected by the road that runs south from Morse lake, and owned by Art Skouge. It's largely rolling land and soil conservation practices that Duane has introduced played an important part in winning him the "Outstanding Farmer" award.

80 Acres Strip-Cropped

During the three years he has been on the Skouge farm, a good deal of tiling has been done, several open ditches constructed and several gullies filled in. His crops have benefited by generous use of fertilizer and he has regularly planted his corn on contour. Nearly all of the 80 acres lying on the east side of the north-south road have had to be strip-cropped. Duane says these practices have paid off with steadily climbing yields.

He was among the lucky ones who got rain when it was needed last year and as a result his corn averaged 70 to 90 bushels to the acre. He introduced a three-year rotation plan — with the aid of the Soil Conservation Service — when he moved onto the farm and this coming spring will find it in use almost exactly as drafted.

A slight modification will have to be made if Duane stays in compliance with his corn allotment of 70 acres; but he thinks he will likely comply. It will cut his intended planting of corn by only five acres. His rotation plan calls for 75 acres of corn, 75 of oats and 75 in hay and pasture. Roads and buildings occupy the farm's other 15 acres of land.

Duane raises and feeds a fair amount of livestock each year. He had about 200 head of spring and fall pigs this past season and plans about the same number this year. He also feeds 30 to 40 head of beef cattle and has a flock of 30 bred ewes, none of which have yet lambed.

Although the price of pigs has pleased Duane no more than his fellow farmers, he says the low market on pork hasn't forced him into the red — unless he takes machinery depreciation into consideration. He confesses the picture might be different, though, if he hadn't been fortunate with his corn crop. He plans to raise about the same number of pigs again this year.

Duane is married to a former South Carolinian — Sue Ford — whom he met during a stint in the Army. They have two sons, Raymond, who will be six in June and attends kindergarten in Belmond; and Tom, age four.

WHO'S WHO IN BELMOND—

Lewis Does Share in "Cog Jobs"

Lloyd Lewis, although a newcamer to Belmond, has made a host of friends and established himself as an up-and-coming businessman in the 21 months he has made his home in this community. He's The Independent's choice for this week's Who's Who article because the many hours of effort he has put into preparations for the Chamber of Commerce Cooking demonstrations — along with Co-Chairman Dave Kennedy—are typical of his readiness to accept "work jobs."

Like so many fellows who are more often hard-working cogs than drive shafts, Lloyd doesn't too often find his name preceded by "chairman" or "president." But when jobs are to be done, you'll invariably find him on hand doing his full share — and usually more.

Hardwareman 11 Years

As owner-manager of Belmond Hardware and Appliance, Lloyd has found this same willingness to apply shoulder to the wheel paying off in the form of a steadily increasing volume of business. He never passes up an opportunity to attend a service school to learn more about servicing the products that he carries. As a result, he has become a past master at making things "tick" when they get stubborn about it.

Except for a pre-war period of a year and a half of employment at the Hormel meat-packing plant at Austin, Minn., Lloyd has concentrated on the hardware business. He worked a couple of years for Koto-Perry Hardware at his home town, Forest City; after 3½ years in the U. S. Army Air Force during World War II he got in two years of GI on-the-job training in hardware management at Kreitinger Hardware, Britt; and before coming to Belmond he spent five years with Nelson Hardware at Northwood.

Heads Methodist Fellowship

A correspondence course (LaSalle Institute) on bookkeeping and accounting was worked in along the way, preparing Lloyd to calculate whether he was "winning or losing," when he once got out on his own.

Lloyd tells that he volunteered for enlistment during the war and was turned down — only to be drafted as a satisfactory recruit no more than a month afterward! He put in his service time at a USAAF Signal Corps communications supply job and held the rating of corporal upon his discharge.

At Northwood he was on the official board of the Methodist church, served as head usher and was on the commission on missions. Here he has continued a loyal member of the local Methodist church and is president of the Methodist Family Fellowship. He is also a member of the Lions club and Assistant Cubmaster of the Belmond Cub Scout Pack.

Beard Had to Go

We found that he was observing his 36th birthday when we interviewed Lloyd last Friday (he was born at Alden, Minn., on Feb. 24, 1920 — moved to Forest City seven years later). We also found him with the rudiments of a centennial beard, which he said would have to come off before this evening's initial performance of the Lions' minstrel show. He was due to appear as a "Wesquire Calendar Girl," and Director Martin Qualen said none of his girls were going to take the stage wearing whiskers!

Lloyd was married on July 26, 1942, to his hometown sweetheart, Reta Mae Brooker. They have one youngster, Lonny Lee, who is 2½ years old.

Annual Meeting Of Experimental Farm Next Week

Next Thursday's annual meeting of the North Iowa Experimental association at Kanawha will mark the 25th anniversary of establishment of the experimental farm at Kanawha. The association was formed and the farm purchased to provide a suitable place for carrying on field experiments on disease control in northern Iowa, since the experiment station plots at Ames did not lend themselves to sudy of many problems common to this part of the state.

Extension Director Aaron Bowman recommends that as many Wright county farmers as possible take advantage of the worthwhile program that has been lined up for the North Iowa Experimental association's yearly meeting.

After the annual stockholders' meeting at 10:00 a. m., Iowa State college specialists will speak on the following topics: "New and Old Herbicides for Crops," D. W. Staniforth; "Oat Breeding, Past, Present and Future," R. E. Atkins; and "Insect Control in Crops," Harold Gunderson.

Luncheon speaker at noon will be Prof. H. D. Hughes of the ISC agronomy department. Talks in the afternoon will be given by three other Iowa State college experts: Gerald Barger, on "Weather Risks for 1956;" Wallace Ogg, "The Soil Bank Plan;" and J. L. Stritzel, "Fertilizer Practices for 1956." Sessions of the annual meeting will be held at the Tall Corn theater, Kanawha.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Didio and family of Clarion were dinner guests Sunday in the C. A. Didio home.

HELLO WORLD

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Pals of Manchester have announced the birth of a 7 lb. 2 oz. baby boy born on Feb. 20. His name is Steven Marlow and he is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Anderw Pals.

Sharane Luan is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Barkema of Goodell for the 7 lb. 11 oz. baby girl born to them Feb. 22.

A 7 lb. 2½ oz. daughter was born Feb. 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Aeiko Blau of Meservey. Her name is Rosemary.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kessler of Meservey became parents Feb. 25 of a 7 lb. 4½ oz. daughter. They have named her Vanessa Rae.

A baby girl, weighing 7 lbs. 4½ oz., was born Feb. 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Pannhoff of Klemme. She has been named Janita Joan.

Rose Marie is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. Darold Fjetland of Garner for the 6 lb. 5½ oz. daughter born to them Feb. 25.

An 8 lb. 3 oz. baby girl was born Feb. 28 to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Grieman of Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hartwig of Kanawha are parents of a 7 lb. 7 oz. daughter born on Leap Year Day, Feb. 29.

4 Family Living Meetings Set Up On "Teen-Agers"

"Understanding Teen-Agers" will be the topic for four extension meetings on Family Living to be held at various points in the county during March. These meetings will be held at Clarion, Dows, Eagle Grove and Belmond, the latter being scheduled for Friday of next week at 2:00 p. m. in the library basement.

Mrs. Buena Mockmore, Iowa State college child development specialist, will be speaker at the first of the meetings. This will be held at the courtroom in Clarion next Monday at 2:00 p. m. Geraldine Steele, county home economist, will present the subject at the other meetings.

Mrs. Steele says, "Within the past few years, with the complexity of society and the many outside influences affecting our homes, problems of adolesence have been the subject of many investigations, books, articles and speeches. Consequently, many people have come to think of adolescence as necessarily a period of problems.

"No attempt will be made at these Family Living meetings to discuss all the problems which may occur during this period of a child's life. The aim will be simply to attain a better understanding of the normal development of a teen-ager."

Easter Seals Will Go In Mail Soon

Mrs. William Fisher of Goldfield, secretary-treasurer of the Wright county unit of the Iowa Society for Crippled Children, reports that Easter Seals will soon be mailed to every home in the county. The society's annual seal campaign opens March 10 and will close April 10.

"The seal committee urges you not to lay the appeal aside," says Mrs. Fisher, "but to mail your contribution promptly and begin using the seals. Their prevalent use will serve as a reminder to others who have not yet mailed in their money that they too may help."

With each appeal will be enclosed a return envelope for mailing back the contribution.

TWO SALES COMING UP

Attention is called to the public auction sale of farm machinery that Fischer Implement company of Meservey advertises in this issue for Wednesday of next week, March 7. Also, it is to be noted that March 14 as been claimed as a sale date by Harm Dirks. At that time he will hold a closing out farm sale at his place a mile north of Meservey.

● LIGHTS—

ty.

Under the new contract between the city and the IEL&P, the monthly charge for lighting — plus maintenance of the system and amortization of half the cost of the new fixtures and their installation over a 10-year period of time — will be $380.63. This compares to an amount of $181.88 that was being paid under the contract that is being replaced.

Fall Installation Likely

Cecil Carstens, local IEL&P manager, says that it is impossible at this time to predict just when the new lighting system can be installed. It is problematical when the new steel poles can be obtained, and none of the work will be done until the whole job can be completed.

It is the company's hope, Mr. Carstens said, that it will prove possible to have the new lighting system in operation by the time of Belmond's centennial in August. However, the IEL&P's head office at Cedar Rapids is pessimistic about the prospect of sufficiently early delivery on the steel poles to make this possible and regards it likelier that the change-over will have to be delayed until sometime during the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson were dinner guests last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Tomson at Stratford.

The HELL BOX

Filled by JRG

Great days are coming for folks with weathervane minds. With all the political ballyhoo that's being broadcast by radio and TV, a fellow's brains can be kept in a perpetual whirl if he doesn't stop to reflect that it's only one side of the story he's getting at the moment.

—oOo—

We see that Feb. 19 through 25 was National Advertising Week. We usually let these "weeks" get by us without comment, so we're going to take a crack at this one — while we're thinking about it. It's taken a long time to convince the public, but we believe headway's finally been made towards convincing the Man on the Street that advertising DOESN'T "make things cost more." Truth is, it never did.

Advertising is the working partner of large scale production and rapid turn-over. The more units of an article that are produced, and the faster they go off the shelves, the lower the unit cost. And the infinitesimal advertising cost that attaches to any single unit of a manufactured product is small punkins compared to the lower price made possible by large volume.

An ad that was a favorite of ours in magazines of 40 years ago was the one that showed a dimpled darlin' sitting on a cake of soap and which inquired, "Is there a little fairy in your home?" The soap that boasted "It Floats" and that it was 99 44/100's per cent pure didn't intrigue us nearly so much. But Ivory kept punching, and Fairy soap quit advertising. Result? No fairy in our home! But we still use Ivory.

—oOo—

Our household is equipped with a cat that thinks it's people and it's rather disconcerting at times. For one thing, instead of finding comfort in conventional feline fashion by tucking his front feet under his chest and curling his tail around him, Sultan has a marked preference for lying smack on his back with all four feet sticking in the air. The first time or two we caught him in this act, we thought we had a dead cat for sure!

—oOo—

Incidentally, notwithstanding its reputation for lending the home an air of contentment, nothing can match a cat for wrecking an evening's relaxation when it goes nervous on you. It will rouse from a quiet doze, whiskers twitching, tail inflated, rush to a window and peer intently into the night.

If you speak, it will glance at you, eyes big with terror of the sights it's seen, as much as to say, "Are you just going to sit there and let it GET us?"

With an eerie feeling that the house must be surrounded, you join the scout at the window and stare out — at nothing! Often the act will continue until the noise of the furnace coming on is apt to raise you out of your chair. Ultimately puss settles down to another snooze — leaving you with a first-class case of the screamin' meemies!

—oOo—

While your scribe has no strong feelings involved in the endless debate between dog-lovers, as opposed to cat-lovers he'd like to point out in behalf of the feline fanciers that they've some cause to claim their pets have more personality than Rover. We take for granted that the dog-lovers will rise in arms at that remark—but think it over.

How many similes has dogdom contributed to descriptive writing? "Doglike devotion" is about the only example that come readily to our mind. And it isn't a trait that anyone would particularly aspire to.

But how often the cat provides figures of speech! Consider—quick as a cat, curious as, contented as, cautious as, independent at, nervous as, quiet as, stealthy as . . . and we warrant we could add as many more. Not all of these characteristics are, perhaps, desireable in a human. But they suggest that a cat IS a many-sided creature and rarely a bore.

—oOo—

If the cat could contribute just ONE of its qualities to mankind at large, it would probably do more to empty our insane and psychiatric wards than any other single thing that could be done. You've also heard the descriptive phrase, "relaxed as a cat." And, brother, that's relaxed!

With all of Tabby's nervousness, caution and curiosity, when she decides to get comfortable, she can get so relaxed that she'd make a wet bathing suit abandoned on the bathhouse floor look like an advanced case of rigor mortis.

If we could all learn to relax like a cat, put our worries behind us and our cares aside, we'd all live longer, be happier and use a lot less aspirin. It's a feline attribute we've often envied. Even if you just WATCH a cat relax, a little rubs off. And you get to feeling, "Matters COULD be worse."

Starters ? ?

I imagine that most of you readers can recall the mechanical starter on the model T much better than I can. By mechanical starters I mean your backs. I've heard my Dad talk about how every morning when the weather was a little cooler than usual he would have to resort to the mechanical starter. This in turn would result with a few harsh words and a good swift kick in the radiator but the results were always — or almost always favorable and the model T would respond like anything should that has a good starter. As is the case with baby chicks. We have found from experience that a good chick starter is as much of a booster to your baby chicks as a good starter is to your automobile.

Incidentally we have a starter that sells for $3.80 a hundred.

BOLLERS AND VELDHOUSES BACK FROM SOUTHERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boller, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs Paul Veldhouse, returned Sunday from a two-week auto trip which took them first to New Orleans to attend the Mardi Gras. They then went to Florida and, leaving their car at Miami, took a plane to Cuba to enjoy sight-seeing for a few days.

They attended the national stock car time trials at Daytona Beach and visited Cypress Gardens in Florida. En route home they spent Saturday with Mrs. Boller's cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Savogue, in Chicago, Ill. Traveling through Arkansas they stopped at the Groen Motel at Harrison, but the Groens do not take possession until March 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blomgren and two children of Thornton on Monday visited the Harvey Harberts farm vacated by the Darl Dalgrens. The former will be employed by Mr. Harberts.

COURT OF HONOR

The regular PTA meeting was held Monday evening in the E. U. B. church dining room Members of the local Boy Scout Troop were presented merit badges at a Court of Honor conducted by Peter De Jong of Mason City, who is Scout Executive for the Winnebago Council. Mrs. Chapman's pupils presented some musical numbers and lunch was served by the committee.

Many folks from this vicinity nd Klemme went to Garner Monday evening and surprised Mr. and Mrs. Delwyn Brede with an old fashioned charivari. The newlyweds invited them in for a visit and treats. The Bredes live on the Ford farm near Garner.

Mrs. H. O. Sandberg of Clear Lake, who was one of the volunteer workers for the 1956 Heart Fund campaign, turned in the packet with the most contributions, according to a write-up and picture appearing in the Mason City Globe-Gazette on Saturday.

Former Resident And Family Left Unhurt by Storm

Assurance was received Saturday evening by telephone that Mrs. Richard Paule and her family escaped without injury and their home was undamaged in the tornado that ripped through Belleville, Ill. The former Ardeth Jenison, Mrs. Paule is a granddaughter of O. Sandberg. The Sandbergs and Hansons had called to make sure that she and her family were safe.

Mrs. Paule reported that the twister struck Belleville about 1:00 a. m. Saturday destroyed much property in that community, located a few miles east of St. Louis, but missed the Paule home by about three blocks. She said that living through the storm was a horrible experience and that it left an awful path of destruction in its wake.

Elna Jenison of Belmond came up last Thursday noon and spent the remainder of the day in the home of her grandfather O. Sandberg. Elna was a weekend patient at the Community hospital having had a tonsilectomy on Feb. 17. Her aunt, Mrs. Amos Hanson, spent that afternoon with her.

Messers Ernie Kurtz, E. J. Schneider, Willis Knisley, O. Sandberg, Amos Hanson, Arthur Ruka, Merle Ruka and Raymond Cline attended Masonic lodge at Belmond Tuesday evening. Mr. Schneider and Mr. Sandberg were among the honored members at the meeting.

Bill Butts, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ruka and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cook met in the Sandberg-Hanson home Monday evening as a committee with the Hansons to make plans for the "Brotherhood Night" which will be held in the E. U. B. church basement Thursday, March 8th. A fine program will be presented and lunch sold. Everyone is invited and urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. William Heginger of Belmond visited last Thursday in the home of his sister¼ Mrs. Theodore Kemp. Her mother, Mrs. Vinnie Hubbard, came up with them and enjoyed the time visiting her friend, Mrs. Savogue. Mr. Heginger, who was at the Veterans hospital in Des Moines, is feeling better.

Honor Darl Dahlgren Family At Sunday School Class Party

The Young Married Folks class of the E. U. B church enjoyed a pot-luck supper in the church dining room Friday evening. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Darl Dahlgren and son who are moving March 1st to a farm near Blairsburg. They were given a cash gift. DON'T PAMPER BABY CHICKS DURING CRITICAL FIRST 30 DAYS

READ WHAT SATISFIED USERS SAY ABOUT MYZON POULTRY BUILDER:

"Started my baby chicks with Myzon and had excellent results."
Alphonse Berto, Bode, Iowa

"I started my baby chicks on MYZON POULTRY BUILDER when they were just one day old. I had over 500 baby chicks and I think they were the best looking and the best doing chicks I have ever raised."
Lee Stevens, Tarkio, Mo.

Although individual experience may vary, you must be 100% satisfied with your very first can of MYZON POULTRY BUILDER or your money back.

No reason why you should. Instead take advantage of an amazing new discovery, MYZON POULTRY BUILDER, that actually boosts chick development without endless pampering. And best of all you don't need an elaborate feeding program either . . . MYZON POULTRY BUILDER goes right into baby chicks' drinking water, quickly giving chicks the antibiotic and vitamins they need to resist the dangers changing weather inevitably brings on.

MYZON Protects Your Chicks From Costly Disease Losses

Don't wait until it's too late to protect those baby chicks during that critical period. Just a little MYZON POULTRY BUILDER in chicks' drinking water helps stop Colds, Sniffling due to Chronic Respiratory Disease, chick diarrhea and other diseases that haunt baby chicks during the first 30 days.

MARTIN POLL SHOWS IOWA OPINIONS VARY WIDELY ON SOME FARM ISSUES

Last week, Sen. Thomas E. Martin made known the results of a poll of his constituents which he conducted by means of questionnaires mailed to 41,886 Iowans on Jan. 14. Since he received a response from a surprisingly large per cent of the recipients — 15.26 per cent, to be exact — the poll should represent a fair test of Iowa sentiment on a number of the questions of the day.

Not knowing offhand the percentage of the state's population that is directly engaged in agriculture, we can't say whether or not the poll was overweighted in the percentage of farm opinion represented. Probably not, as farm answers comprised a little less than 42 per cent of the total number. Nevertheless the "farm viewpoint" very clearly predominates in a large share of the replies.

For example, given a choice of a dozen major issues from which to name the six most important in this nation today, the respondents placed "farm prices and policies" at the head of the list. Next in order were (2) maintaining peace; (3) government spending; (4) control of Communism in America; (5) balancing the budget; and (6) defense and war preparedness. There might be some persons to question that "United States foreign trade policies" are so completely divorced from these other issues as to belong at the very bottom of the list in the matter of importance.

How divergent opinion is between Iowa farmers and their urban neighbors was dramatically emphasized by the response to some questions. Take, for example, "Do you favor exemption from Federal gasoline tax, the gasoline used on farms?" This is a matter that the farmers are in nearly unanimous agreement on. Only 209 out of 2,772 rural replies were in the negative. But among the labor replies, approximately three out of every five favored taxing gas used for agricultural purposes; 59 per cent of the replies representing business were opposed to exemption, over 57 per cent of the "professional" respondents and 63 per cent of the white-collar workers.

This would seem to indicate that a goodly per cent of Iowa's urban dwellers aren't too completely convinced that "What's good for the farmer is good for us." How well justified they are in their feeling of independence from the farmer might be held in some question.

There was a marked rural-urban agreement on several questions: "Do you approve a rural development program to help low-income farm communities by attracting new industries to these areas?" (which strikes us as somewhat of a pie-in-the-sky proposition); "Do you favor the use of a food-stamp plan or some equivalent plan to enable needy people to eat more meat when meat is in excess supply?" and "Do you approve additional expenditures by our Federal government to develop and apply atomic and hydrogen energy to peaceful purposes?" These met general approval by 91.5, 84.8 and 89.09 per cent, respectively.

One predominantly negative response, we might observe, left us feeling proud of our fellow Iowans and impressed with their basic good judgment. Nearly 80 per cent proclaimed themselves opposed to reductions in taxes before the budget is balanced.

CITY COUNCIL SHOULD BE COMMENDED FOR ACTION ON STREET LIGHTS, RADIO

Our city council should be given a pat on the back for the progressive-mindedness demonstrated in negotiating the new municipal lighting contract with the Iowa Electric Light and Power company. It will cost residents more by the rate of about $1.00 per capita annually than did the old, but we believe that when Belmond has been "brightened up" in accord with the new agreement they will be happy with their bargain.

The truth to tell, our community has lagged quite noticeably behind any number of neighboring towns of similar size in the matter of street lighting. If it's a sign of an up-and-coming town to possess GOOD street lighting, then the inadequate illumination that we've suffered along with for all too long has cast unfair aspersions on our progressiveness.

Anyway, now the city fathers have said, "Let there be light" — and there SHALL be light. Chalk up another long mark on the credit side of the present administration's ledger.

Similarly, the council is to be commended for its decision to see that our police department is again equipped with a two-way radio. The Independent has too frequently pointed out the advantages of such a means of emergency communication to indulge in repeating them here.

Suffice it to say that our becoming once more a link in the county's police radio system should prove an important aid to our policemen in their efforts to maintain law and order and protect the public safety.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Belmond,, Iowa, Feb. 21, 1956

City Council met in special session in City Hall, members all present, Mayor Hokel presiding, for the purpose of considering matters relating to street lights and lighting by the Iowa Electric Light & Power Co. and to transact any other business that might legally come before it.

Resolution No. 311, a Resolution that the City of Belmond enter into a written contract for street lighting with the Iowa Electric Light & Power Co. and that the Mayor and Clerk execute the written Agreement. was adopted.

Resolution No. 312, a Resolution authorizing and directing the Iowa Electric Light & Power Co. to install street lights and make changes in the existing system, was adopted.

Resolution No. 313, a Resolution ordering construction of sanitary sewer improvements and fixing March 26, 1956, at 8:00 o'clock P. M. at the City Hall as the time and place of taking bids therefor, was adopted.

Motion to delete one railroad crossing on the sanitary sewer extension plans, at Fifth St. N. E., was passed.

Motion that the City purchase a new police car from Belmond Auto Co., who was the low bidder, was passed.

On motion and second Council adjourned.

Carrie L. Courtney, Clerk

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF HEARING AND LETTING

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the City Clerk, Belmond, Iowa, until 8:00 P. M. on March 26, 1956, for the construction of sanitary sewer extensions.

Bids will be opened and publicly read and recorded in the Council Chambers shortly after the time for receiving same has closed.

Each proposal shall be accompanied, in a separate envelope, by a certified check or cashier's check drawn on an Iowa bank, payable to the City of Belmond in the amount of not less than 10 per cent of the total bid. This check may be cashed and the proceeds retained by the City of Belmond as liquidated damages if the bidder fails to execute a contract and file an approved bond for faithful performance thereof within ten (10) days after acceptance of his bid.

The proposed work consists of approximately 9,550 lineal feet of 12-inch, 10-inch, and 8-inch clay sewer pipe, 21 manholes, and related items at the following locations.

Line R-1 Commencing at the inlet sewer manhole at the intersection of Fifth Stree SE and the entrance road to the sewage treatment plant, thence East in the middle of Fifth Street SE approximately 920 ft., thence Northeasterly approximately 710 feet to a point 43 feet from the tracks of the M. & St. L. Railroad, thence East to the intersection with the tracks of the C. R. I. & P. Railroad, thence North along the Western edge of the right of way of the C. R. I. & P. Railroad to the South edge of Seventh Street NE.

Line S-1 Commencing at the manhole on line R-1 at First Street NE thence East approximately 390 feet, thence North in the easment in Block 1 of Kirkendall Addition to the North end of said easement, thence East to the middle of Sunset Drive.

Line L-1 Commencing at the manhole on Line S-1 between lots 18 and 19, Kirkendall Addition, thence East through the easements in Blocks 1 and 3 to the NE corner of lot 9, Block 3, thence Southeasterly to the middle of First Street NE.

Line L-2 Commencing at the manhole on line S-1 at the middle of Sunset Drive, thence East through the easment in Block 2 to lot 9, Block 2, thence North to the right of way Third Street NE.

Line L-3 Commencing at the manhole on line R-1 at 4th Street NE, thence West approximately 700 feet to the outlet sewer of the High school building.

Payment of the contractor will be made in cash from money raised by sale of general obligation bonds all as prescribed by Chapter 396, Code of Iowa. Payments will be made monthly as provided in the Specifications.

The work shall be started within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract and be completed on or before September 1, 1956.

Plans, specifications and Proposal forms for the work may be examined at the office of the City Clerk or Rowat-Murray, Engineers, Belmond, Iowa. Copies may be secured at the office of the Engineers by bonafide bidders for a deposit of $15.00, all of which will be returned to contractors submitting a complete bid. To those not submitting a complete bid, ten dollars ($10.00) will be returned upon the return of the plans and specifications.

All proposals filed shall be on the forms furnished by the City of Belmond, sealed and plainly marked. Proposals containing any reservations not provided for therein may be rejected. The Council reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any or all bids.

By virtue of statutory authority, preference will be given to Iowa domestic labor and products or materials produced in the State of Iowa.

Published by order of the City Council of Belmond, Iowa, this 21st day of February, 1956.

Hampton Win Advances Broncs to District Tourney

Hampton was able to provide little opposition to the improving Broncos' tournament advance last Saturday night at the Franklin Consolidated gym as the Purple and White swept to a 77-50 victory in the sectional finals. Although a brief spell of tournament jitters on the part of the Belmond boys permitted the Bulldogs to keep in contention for the first four minutes or so, a 10-point barrage by Larry Schimp helped the Broncos pull away as the period progressed and by the buzzer the winners were in front 23-14.

Dale Caquelin and Tom Lowenberg took over the brunt of the scoring for Belmond in the second stanza, with six and seven points respectively, to keep the Broncos' momentum going till halftime. At the intermission, Belmond enjoyed a 42-25 advantage and was safely in command of the proceedings. Hampton came the closest to holding the Broncos to a standoff in the third quarter, tallying 10 points to Belmond's 14.

Caquelin Collects 19 Points

What was already a rough and ragged game became more so in the final quarter, in which both coaches made generous use of reserves. The Bronco subs more than held their own, racking up 10 points compared to five by the Hampton second-string.

Caquelin turned in another impressive performance, getting a lion's share of the rebounds off of both boards and topping the Belmond scorers with 19 points. Jerry Chandler put on a display of aggressiveness that at times had the crowd gasping as he snaked in for "impossible" lay-ups. But he collected four fouls in only 9½ minutes of play and sat out much of the game, so his point total was held to 10, tying that of Schimp.

Bronc Freethrow Mark Good

Lowenberg did well on defense, hit seven out of eight freethrows and garnered 13 points altogether. Though he didn't score heavily, "Joe" Smith also played a commendable brand of ball. He tallied six points, as did Dave Long and Roland Jenison. Larry Kinseth, in his brief appearance, picked up four points; Bill Murray notched a couple and Kenny Langlitz one. The Bulldogs' Marvin Carstens, thanks in part to Belmond's loose defense near the end of the game, led all scorers with 25 points.

Belmond hit a nifty 70 per cent on its freethrows, netting 19 out of 27 chances. Hampton was unable to hit even 50 per cent from the charity line, converting only 14 of 30 tries

Belmond's Broncos weathered a third-quarter rally by the scrappy Dows Tigers in the sectional tournament first-round game at Franklin Consolidated on Wednesday night of last week to advance to the finals with a 61-47 win. Belmond rooters were given some anxious moments as they saw a 36-22 halftime lead fade to six points, 40-34, in the first three minutes of the third period; but Larry Schimp led a Bronco surge during the last five minutes of the stanza that padded the margin to 51-38 by the period's end.

Except for ties at 2-all and 4-all early in the fray, Dows trailed all the way. The Broncos were paced during the first half by some phenominal shooting on the part of Jerry Chandler, who up to the intermission buzzer took 11 shots at the hoop and scored on 10 of them. This gave the bespectacled guard six fielders and four freethrows for 16 points. He was able to add only two points on a single basket in the last half but still wound up as top scorer for the game with his ership. Playing in 14 games, Tom 18-point total.

During most of the first half, the Broncos showed as classy an offense as they have exhibited all season. They were passing off well to set up many close-in shots and would have led at the half by a much larger margin except that a good share of these easy opportunities were "blown." But sharp-eyed out-shooting made up for the missed lay-ups and the Broncs held a lead of from eight to 14 points throughout the second quarter.

Several defensive lapses, plus some fast breaking on the part of the Tigers, enabled Dows to take up a good deal of slack in the early stages of the second half. Then Belmond got a fast break of its own going and the Purple and White surged back to a 51-36 lead shortly before the close of the third quarter. Midway in the final canto the Broncs led 57-40, before Dows closed in a bit during the helter-skelter finish.

Following Chandler in scoring, Schimp tallied 12 points, Dale Caquelin 11, Tom Lowenberg nine and Joe Smith eight. Dave Long accounted for two points and Larry Kinseth, one. Larry Brannick and lanky Carlyn Schweiger were the losers' big guns with 15 apiece.

March Dates Set For Pin Tourney

Sixth annual tournament of the Belmond Bowling association will be held at the Bowl-Mor Lanes beginning Sunday, March 26, and continuing on the 28th, 29th and 30th. Tournament Secretary George Sharp says that bowlers are restricted to competing only once in each event, with the exception that pinmen who are regular members of more than one team may participate with each of the teams he bowls with regularly.

Entries will close at midnight on Sunday, March 11. Fees for the various events will be: team, $11.25, doubles $4.50, singles $2.25 and all-events, $1.00.

Dr. Ralph Muhm of Kanawha is defending champion in both the singles and all-events, in which he posted totals of 687 and 1,965. The 1955 doubles champions will not be on hand as one member, Gary Gartz, is now in service. He and Art Sime of Dows had a 1,298 total. Tip Top won the team title with 3,167.

McNULTY BEST "SOPH" PROSPECT FOR VARSITY BERTH NEXT SEASON

There should be some pretty fair prospects advancing from freshman-sophomore to the BHS varsity basketball ranks, if the Junior Broncos' 1955-56 mark is any indication of things to come. Although the froshmores' record of 10 wins against six losses was not particularly impressive, some analysis of those losses makes it clear that their campaign came close to being much more successful from a victory standpoint.

In their only outing against the Eagle Grove froshmores, the Junior Broncs were soundly whipped 42 to 28. But after losing to Lake Mills 32-24 with several "regulars" out of action, they avenged this defeat by drubbing the Bullpups 77 to 17.

Lost Twice to Two Foes

Only Northwood and Forest City, among their North Iowa conference foes, swept both games against the Junior Broncs. One of the Northwood defeats was by only a 40-38 count and at Forest City a 16-point ead was squandered in the last 10 minutes of the game to give the Papooses a 40-39 decision.

The Belmond boys trimmed Algona 31-21, downed Britt 46-44 and 35-28, handled Garner 40-27 and 37-20, tumbled Buffalo Center 35-26 and 38-26, and chalked up single wins over Clarion and Holy Family of Mason City by margins of 31-26 and 42-34, respectively.

McNulty Averages 12

Tom McNulty stamped himself as ready to contend for a varsity berth next season not only by his scoring ability but also by his lead-averaged better than 12 points per tilt. He had a high game of 21 points, hit 15 or better five times and counted in double figures nine times. Considering that the froshmores play six rather than eight-minute quarters, this was pretty fair scoring.

Bill Kaufman, who shows some signs of developing into a center of the calibre of Kenny Loats and Ron Hansen, just missed a 10-point average over the full 16-game campaign. While not the fiery competitor that McNulty is, Kaufman's height could be a real asset to the Broncos if he continues to develop — as it seems reasonable he will.

Hawley, Freshman Starter

Jon Mehus and DaDean Obrecht may not be ready to vie for starting positions with the varsity next year, but both should be valuable members of the squad. Jon was a consistent, though not a heavy scorer and ended the season with 101 points to his credit. Dadean was hampered by illness during mid-season but showed flashes of considerable promise and always gave a scrappy performance.

Freshman Kenny Hawley will likely be key man of next year's Junior Broncs. He won a spot as a "regular" toward the end of the campaign and was one of the most improved players on the squad. Larry Stadtlander and Ronnie Courson are another pair of sophs who may prove useful varsity reserves during the 1956-57 season. Others who saw periodic action with the froshmores were Douglas Nodland, Bob Smith, Charles Hanson, John Studebaker and Dean Pruisman.

Scoring Cummary

Following is the season's scoring summary for the Junior Bronco squad — showing, in order, field goals, freethrows made and missed, personal fouls and game score totals:

McNulty	66	40	26	31	172

Schimp Tops Bronco Varsity Scorers During 16 Games on Season Schedule

Wind-up of the BHS varsity basketball season found three Broncos with scoring totals that gave them double-figure averages for the regular schedule. Topping the list was Larry Schimp with a 13.7 average, followed closely by Jerry Chandler with 12.6. Then came Dale Caquelin with 10.

Tom Lowenberg had an eight-point average, for the 14 games in which he saw action, and Bill Murray had the same for the half dozen in which he got in an appreciable amount of floor time. "Joe" Smith, used sparingly during the middle of the season, shot only rarely but managed to average 4.5 points per game in the 10 which provided him fair amounts of action.

Top scoring honors were liberally divided, with six men sharing that distinction at one time or another during the regular season. Schimp was high scorer six time and tied for top total on another occasion, while Chandler was high man five times and tied once. Lowenberg led the way in two games, Caquelin once and tied for high twice, and Murray once plus a tie.

If Smith had drawn more fouls, he could have added materially to his scoring total as he proved by far the best freethrow marksman on the squad. He converted on 14 out of 19 opportunities for 73 per cent. Next came Schimp with 27 out of 42 tries for 64 per cent, followed closely by Lowenberg with 62 per cent on 57 hits out of 92 attempts.

Jerry Chandler was a shade under the 50-50 mark on freethrows, making 39 and missing 40. Murray converted on only seven of 20 chances for 35 per cent. The average for the entire squad was a rather mediocre 55 per cent on 220 conversions on 398 shots.

Following is the varsity scoring summary prior to the start of tournament play last week and including just the 16 regularly-scheduled games. The columns represent, in order, field goals, freethrows made and missed, personal fouls and game score totals:

Schimp	96	27	15	36	219
Chandler	81	39	40	57	201
Caquelin	55	51	40	43	161
Lowenberg	28	57	35	40	113

● OBITUARY

JOHANN STADTLANDER

Johann Stadtlander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stadtlander, was born on April 18, 1873, at Dieler Heide, Oestfriesland, Germany. When 15 years of age he came with his parents to America, arriving at Belmond. On Dec. 23 1897, he was married to Fannie Kielman. The couple engaged in farming in Hancock and Kranklin counties and later bought a farm two miles west of Meservey.

In 1924 they discontinued farming and moved to the town of Meservey. During the time the deceased lived in Meservey he served as janitor of the Meservey public school for 18 years and of his church for 19 years.

Mr. Stadtlander was a charter member of the First Reformed church of Meservey, joining Sept. 17, 1907, the date when the new church was established. He was devoted to his church and faithful in attendance to the services. He served as deacon for nine years.

On Dec. 23, 1947, Mr. and Mrs. Stadtlander were privileged to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. The deceased experienced failing health during the last four years of his life. At various times he placed himself under hospital care at Iowa City, Belmond and Mason City in hope of gradual recovery. He again entered the hospital at Mason City on Saturday, Feb. 11. It was there he quietly passed away in the early morning hours on Monday Feb. 13, at the age of 82 years, nine months and 25 days.

He leaves his wife, who so faithfully assisted him during the time of his illness; and a daughter by adoption, Mrs. Harm Meints of Sheffield. Also, he left two brothers, Carl Stadtlander of Mountain Lake, Minn. and Bert of Meservey; one sister, Mrs. Eko Bekker of Belmond; four grandsons and a 9 grandchildren. There preceded him in death his parents, four brothers — John, Ben, Christ and Earnest Stadtlander; and two sisters, Mrs. Annie Freesman in Germany and Mrs. Jake Dorenkamp.

Sunday dinner guests at the Fred Blau home were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blau and daughter, Aeiko Blau and children, Henry Koenen and Herman Watermiller, the latter from Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Harm Meints from Sheffield were Sunday visitors at the parental Mrs. Fannie Stadtlander home.

Larry Suntken from Pella spent the weekend with his mother and brother in Meservey.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Loux of Eagle Grove visited at the Mrs. Mary Thomas home Sunday. Mrs. Loux is the former Bernice Jensen, a former teacher in the Meservey school.

Sunday dinner guests at the George Kuhlers home were Ruth Boelman of Belmond, Dena Kuhlers and Gary Dunton.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nananga and girls of Klemme were Saturday evening visitors at the Mrs. Mary Thomas home.

Mr. and Mrs. Halverson of Clear Lake were Tuesday evening visitors at the Dena Kuhlers home.

Sunday evening visitors at the Fred Weide home were Mr. and Mrs. Harm Gruis and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ter Hark and children of Belmond.

Nelson Eberle of Dows and Barbara Johnson visited at the Genevieve Suntken home Saturday.

VOL. 36 NO. 22 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA—THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Rev. William Schorman and family expect to be settled in the new Congregational parsonage in the near future, and the move will be followed by a series of open houses not long afterward to give members and friends of the church an opportunity to look over the new home.

In his weekly news letter dated March 4, the pastor urged members to "register early for the drawing that will be held" in conjunction with the house-warming open houses.

Mr. Schorman assures that the "lucky winners" will be appropriately rewarded. First prize, he says, will be a front row pew at church for three months; second prize will be a place in the choir for the same period. We presume in case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

Last month's official magazine of the Iowa Junior Chamber of Commerce states that the Belmond Jaycees owe Clarion's JCC a stag entertainment for losing a membership contest to them in 1955. The county-seaters doubled their membership—from 26 to 52. But Ex-President Duane Anderson of the local Junior Chamber says he has no recollection of any agreement that it was "a bet." Looks to us, though, that if all 52 Clarion Jaycees come over looking for a settlement, the local boys had better be prepared to do the honors. Or isn't "might, right"?

Mrs. Roy Hammond recently made a couple of recipes pay off in mighty handsome style. They were humble dishes—a "salmonburger" and a salmon roll; but there was nothing modest about the rewards they brought their author. Mrs. H. entered them in a contest sponsored by the firm for which her husband works, C. F. Emling company, a food specialty concern that caters to schools, institutions, restaurants, etc.

Called the "Cinderella's Slipper" contest, its purpose was to obtain recipes adaptable to school lunch programs and institutional use. In a similar contest a year ago Mrs. Hammond won second prize of $25. This time she took first—and hit the jackpot.

Her boodle included a four-day expense-paid trip to Chicago by air for herself and her husband, $50 in cash and a silver music box of Swiss make that offers a choice of 10 airs, supplied by tiny, interchangeable "records." A-top the music box, appropriately enough, is a glass slipper. The contest is open to wives of Emling employees. Mrs. Hammond is already making plans to have a couple of "red hot" recipes ready to enter in next year's contest. Sounds like a good idea.

Talk about theater attractions being a good "draw," the Lions' minstrel show might stake a claim in that regard. Present in the audience for one of the performances were two spectators who had come all the way from Minneapolis expressly to witness the show. They were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy. Mrs. Murphy is a sister-in-law of Wesquire Calendar Girl Daisy June (Claire) Hildman. We understand that they regard that the misty beauty of Daisy June, alone, made the trip worthwhile.

—M-S—

Two tots made their debut at Belmond Community hospital last week who face the prospect of enjoying only 34 birthdays between them during their lifetimes if they are allotted the Biblical three score years and 10. Yes, it was their luck to be born on Leap Year Day. They are the 8-lb. 8½-oz. son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Thompson of Belmond and the 7-lb. 7-oz. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hartwig of Kanawha.

Probably Julia Hartwig, in feminine fashion, will find the situation more adaptable to practical use than Leslie Alan Thompson. Think of the number of years she can coyly declare that she hasn't yet reached her 20th birthday!

From the birthday present standpoint, we'd say that having Leap Year Day as one's natal day would be much more desirable than a Christmas birthday. There's really no good excuse for not adopting Feb. 29th as a near-enough anniversary date on the off years. But the poor tyke with a Christmas birthday is bound to run into this "something EXTRA nice" gag when the gifts are passed out. Julia and Leslie could have been unluckier.

12TH HERD ACCREDITED

Kenneth Tausch of Eagle Grove recently became the twelfth Wright county purebred swine producer to receive a certificate showing his herd is accredited free from brucellosis. Tausch raises purebred Yorkshire hogs. His accrediting certificate, which he just recently received from the State Bureau of Animal Industry, is No. 206 in the state.

$100 Award Picked Off

Edward Pals was the lone Cash Gift Day winner Tuesday afternoon. He turned in No. 1,851 and received $100 for his trouble. No. 2,940 would have been worth a similar reward, but didn't show up. Numbers good for $25 apiece at 2:00 p. m. were 1,419, 2,268, 3,527 and 4,184; but they "stayed home," too. Next Tuesday's CGD offering will be the same as this week's—four $25's at 2:00 o'clock and a pair of [illegible] at 2:30 p. m.

Whisker Growers Meet Sunday

Hear ye! Hear ye! Brethren of the Brush are asked to assemble at the city hall this coming Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'cock for the purpose of organizing as the Belmond Centennial Whisker club.

Eldon Boyd, chairman of the whisker committee, says that an earlier effort to set up the club did not pan out. He believes, though, that the steadily growing number of beards is evidence that the time is ripe for the Whisker club to set up in business.

Among the purposes of the meeting will be to elect officers to assure that the club will be a "going concern" when the dealine for "lettin' 'em grow" arrives on April Fool's Day.

As of that date there should be an effective policing organization to see that the manhood of Belmond either sprouts whiskers or is able to show a Shaver's Permit, Boyd declares.

As he sees it, a vigilante committee will be needed to enforce the "whisker laws." The whisker committee will also be happy to pass on to the proposed club responsibility for conducting the centennial whisker contest, which will be one of the highlights of the August celebration.

HIGH PRAISE for the Belmond Lions club's record of extensive activity was expressed Tuesday by L. T. "Roy" Menke of Clarion, governor of District 9-E of Lions International. He was honored guest at the Lion's regular meeting at Jones cafe.

Meeting to Take Up Farm Outlook, Records Analysis

The analysis of actual farm records for 1955 of approximately 150 central Iowa farmers will be given at a public meeting to be held next Monday evening in the district courtroom at Clarion, starting at 8:00 o'clock. The analysis of records, plus some information on outlook, will be given by Gordon E. Bivens, farm manager specialist for the Central Iowa Farm Business association.

Included in the analysis will be records from 15 Wright county farms whose owners are members of the Central Iowa association. All of the other farms are in the same general farming area as Wright.

"What Farmers Plan to Do in 1956" is the topic a panel will discuss after the analysis and outlook information is presented. This panel will be composed of two farmers, a banker and a farm manager. The group will consider farm adjustment, cost cutting, and credit as among the topics to be discussed.

This farm management and analysis meeting is being sponsored by the Wright county extension service and is open to anyone faced with making decisions in farming for 1956.

Jury List Draws 8 from Belmond

Eight persons from Belmond or living on one of its rural routes were drawn on the jury list for the March term of court, which opens Monday at Clarion with Judge H. C. Nichol of Ames on the bench.

The Belmond jurors are Avis Howell, Gordon Kessler, Dorothea White, Hazel Rolfke, Glen Thayer, Luther Proeger, Ann Geoman and Margaret Hunst. Others on the list from this general vicinity are: Bernard Toftey, Ed Christians and Avonelle Olson, Kanawha; and Don Burt, Rowan.

Petit jurors have been instructed to report at 10:00 a. m. on Monday, March 19.

WATER-DRAINAGE MEETING TOMORROW AT FORT DODGE

The seventh of eight district water and drainage meetings is to be held in Fort Dodge in the federal court room on the second floor of the post office this Friday at 1:30 p.m. Wendell Pendleton of Storm Lake, chairman of the state Water Rights and Drainage Law Study committee, advises that the public is invited to attend.

Purpose of the hearing is to determine the needs of Iowa in the area of water and drainage problems and to come up with a recommendation to the legislature to achieve that goal.

Henry Steenblock Dies at 74 Years

Funeral services were held a week ago last Friday at Chapel of the Redwoods, Eureka, Calif., for Henry Steenblock, Sr., 74, who lived the greater part of his life in Belmond and vicinity. He died Feb. 21 at the Eureka hospital after a brief illness.

Final rites were officiated over by Rev. Russell Van Alen and Tom C. Fields of the Chapel of the Redwoods was in charge of the burial in Greenwood cemetery, Arcata, Calif. Pallbearers included the deceased's eldest grandson, Terry Steenblock.

Mr. Steenblock was born Dec. 9, 1881, in Ostfriesland, Germany, son of Peter and Nettie Steenblock. When he was nine years old, the family emigrated to America and settled on a farm seven miles northeast of Belmond. On Feb. 10, 1906, he was married to Ada Galloway. Three children were born to them, two of whom survive.

Mr. Steenblock and his wife left Belmond in 1951 to make their home at Arcata, Calif., where on the 10th of last month they observed their Golden Wedding anniversary. Mr. Steenblock was in the hospital at the time.

Surviving besides his widow are two sons, Murland of Arcata, Calif., and Henry A. Steenblock, Jr., of Belmond; also a granddaughter, Mrs. Lee (LaVene) Coleman of Kansas City, Mo., whom they raised as a daughter after the death of her mother, Mrs. Garnett Cunningham.

Other survivors include six other grandchildren and three great grandchildren; one brother, Elso, of Belmond; and two sisters, Mrs. Will (Jennie) Bohning and Mrs. Ben (Martha) Daniels, also of Belmond.

The deceased was preceded in death by the one daughter, Garnett.

Caucus Deadline Friday for GOP

C. C. Christie, chairman of the Wright county Republican central committee, offers a reminder that all precinct caucuses are to be held by tomorrow (Friday) evening and names of county convention delegates turned in to him.

The Belmond Ward 2 caucus will be held at Chairman Christie's home Friday night at 8:00 o'clock. Ward 3 caucus was held Monday evening at the home of Roy Henderson. No Ward 1 caucus is being held. Delegates are being named by the committeemen.

Republican caucus for Belmond township will be held tomorrow (Friday) night at 8:00 o'clock at the L. B. Oberhauser farm home.

Matt Followwill Fatally Stricken On Sunday Night

Death came very unexpectedly to Matthew E. "Matt" Followwill, 66, at Belmond Community hospital Sunday evening after suffering a heart attack a few hours earlier. Although he had been a resident of Belmond for only five years, he had made a great many friends and was a highly respected member of the business community.

Funeral services were to be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church, Rev. M. L. Jones officiating. Johnston Funeral home was in charge of arrangements and burial was to be made in Belmond cemetery. A. C. Lieuwen, Wilmer Burk, Clarence Kirkendall, Roy McClure, Hio Goeman and Bernhard Koenen were to serve as pallbearers.

Born March 22, 1889, in Putnam county, Missouri, Mr. Followwill was married Oct. 20, 1912, to Olah Martin at Numa, Ia. They farmed for a number of years near Centerville and Mr. Followwill later conducted a bulk oil business there. He had operated the Followwill Implement and Feed company here the past five years.

Surviving, in addition to his widow, are nine children: Mrs. Olen (Zelma) Whitacer of Bakersfield, Calif., Neil of Kanawha, Dorwin of Lamont, Calif., Mrs. Harold (Margaret) Hawk of Moravia, Lowell of East Moline, Ill., Winfred, Mrs. Floyd (Carol) Broshar and Milton of Belmond, and Mrs. Ronald (Patricia) Bivins of Los Angeles, Calif.

Also surviving are two brothers —James of Numa and Fred of Independence, Mo.; and twin sisters —Mrs. Madi Testo of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Mani Lowe of Seymour.

COMING EVENTS—
SATURDAY, MARCH 10—

Belmond Busy Bees will meet at the club house at 1:00 p. m. Bring two sheets typing paper, scissors, ruler, pencil and "My Wish Book."

TUESDAY, MARCH 13—

Progress club will meet at R. H. Gowdy home for 1:00 o'clock luncheon.

WISCONSIN VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rietz of West Salem, Wis., spent from Sunday until Tuesday in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Burdsal.

Rally Fails; Broncos Beaten 42 to 48

One bad quarter spelled defeat for the Belmond Broncos in the first round of the district Class A tournament at Mason City against Charles City, Tuesday night. The Purple and White cagers made as heroic a try at redeeming themselves as could possibly have been asked for—but after they had slashed a 15-point deficit to only two points, their taller foes went into a stall that produced a 48-42 victory for the Comets.

Belmond led most of the first quarter, but the score was knotted at 14-all as the period ended. During the next stanza the Broncs floundered helplessly as Charles City used its height advantage to maximum benefit and monopolized rebounds off of both boards. The halftime buzzer found the Comets in front 32-19 and it appeared the Broncos were due to be swamped.

It was a new Belmond team that took the floor after intermission, however. Charles City scored first to make it 34-19—then the determined Broncos outscrapped the opposition thoroughly, bagging 12 points to only four for the Comets during the remainder of the quarter. The rally continued through the final canto and with little more than two minutes remaining Charles City's margin was pared to 44-42.

From there on, the Comets desperately resorted to control ball to stave off the rampaging Broncs and Charles City salvaged its victory with a basket and a pair of freethrows. But the meager 16-point total to which the winners were held in the final half bespeaks one of the finest defensive performances any Belmond team has put on in a long time and certainly provided a closing flash of glory to the Broncos' season.

Dale Caquelin, after being consistently out-positioned in the fatal second period, was a rebounding demon in the final half. In addition, he peppered the hoop for 10 points to net an even dozen for the evening. Jerry Chandler matched that total and played stellar ball from every other standpoint. Tom Lowenberg and Bill Murray also committed themselves most commendably.

Lowenberg tallied nine points, Larry Schimp six and Murray three to complete Belmond's scoring. Dennis Cordel, the Comets' 6-2½ center, was high-point man with 15. Little Orville Sietsema hit for nine, Turp North and Jim Larsh for eight apiece.

Coach Dick Hobbs did a masterful job of straightening out the Broncs' second-quarter faults during the halftime break. It was truly an inspired team that played the rest of the way and one that did credit to itself even in defeat.

Irate Citizens Post $200 Reward For Apprehension of Dog Killer

Indignant residents of Belmond had posted reward money Monday in excess of $200 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the individual responsible for a number of dog poisonings last weekend and the early part of this week. Deputy Sheriff Dale Walrod was called in to aid local police in investigating the case, which at mid-week found the authorities still fruitlessly seeking clues.

While confirmation has not been received from the University of Iowa laboratory where several dog stomachs and poison specimens were sent for analysis, the police and Dr. H. J. Classick — whom the authorities called upon for consultation — are satisfied that strychnine has been responsible for the deaths.

Recalls 1953 Poisonings

Deputy Walrod says that the poisoner's mode of operation was similar to that followed when some two or three dozen dogs were poisoned here in late February and early March of 1953. Pieces of wiener were used as bait. On that occasion, an epidemic of virulent distemper broke out among the community's canines almost simultaneous with the poisonings so the exact number of deaths caused by strychnine was never ascertained.

Up to Monday evening, the toll of the current siege of poisonings was estimated at about a dozen and a half dogs. Police Chief Art Awe said he was certain that not all casualties had been reported to him so an accurate count had not been possible.

Threat to Children

Persons who had reported the loss of pets were: Don McCoy, Lloyd Cunningham, Merle Obrecht, Grant Chapman, Clarence Fleener, Joe Kaufman, Leo Dorr, Jr., Jim O'Connor and Duane Anderson.

Center of the poisoner's activities seemed to be the south part of town, east of River avenue. Chief Awe found three pieces of poisoned wiener in that area and several residents of that part of Belmond also found pieces of the poisoned meat on their lawns or near their homes. Many independent searches were conducted to discover and dispose of the deadly bait but there was no assurance that enough hadn't still been overlooked to represent a continuing hazard to dogs and small children.

Mayor Promises Prosecution

Mayor Henry Hokel said, "Every effort will be made to bring the fiend responsible for these poisonings to justice. Not only have many beloved pets been senselessly killed, but scattering of the poisoned wieners has constituted a deadly threat to little tots playing in the area where the meat was distributed. If the guilty party is discovered, he will most certainly be prosecuted to the full limit of the law."

Deputy Walrod says the poisoner apparently cut wieners into thirds, made a hole in the meat with a pencil or similar instrument and then shook several crystals of strychnine into the hole. Some of the dogs died only a few feet from where they gobbled down the meat. In a few instances, though, their bodies were found a number of blocks from the area where the specimens of poisoned meat were found.

Dubious Poison Purchase

Investigation of the case included examination of the registries of poison sales by Nolan Drug store and the former Belmond Drug. One suspicious sale was discovered at Nolan's, but it took place last October. The name signed in the register was "G. E. Duthardge" and the purchaser's address was listed as Belmond. The sale was made by J. A. Adams, who said he had no recollection of the individual and that no evidence of personal identity had been demanded.

According to the deputy sheriff, no person of that name has been known to live in Belmond. An inquiry directed to the state driver's license bureau brought a report that it has no name resembling "Duthardge" in its records, so it seems unlikely it could be the authentic name of a person who happened to be stopping here temporarily. Deputy Walrod is satisfied that the name is fictitious but says there is obviously no way of telling whether this sale of strychnine has any bearing on the dog poisionings.

Reward Donors Listed

Poison registries of drug stores throughout this geographical area will be examined for possible leads, but the sheriff's office and local officers are not optimistic that this phase of the investigation will produce any useful clues.

On Monday, persons pledged to the reward fund as follows: $25—Larry Murray, R. W. Courson, Clark McNeal, George Hansen, Iowa Electric Light and Power company; $15—Duane Anderson; $10—Harold Aigley, Roy Henderson, C. C. Christie, Clair Dorr; $5.00—George Jenison, Carroll Bamford, Luin Cox, Henry Hokel, Jim Mariga, L. P. Gilligan; $2.00—Elmer Jacobson; $1.00—Gordon Kessler.

BACK FROM JAUNT

Mr. and Mrs. Bernold Kinseth returned Sunday from a five-week auto trip through the south. During their jaunt they visited his brother Reynold and family at St. Petersburg, Fla.; his sister, Mrs. Clarence (Sylvia) Bohlen, and husband at Brownsville, Tex.; and their son Roland and wife at Shreveport, La.

FARM SALE MARCH 15

Joe Dana advertises in this issue that he has sold his farm and as a consequence will conduct a public sale of his livestock and farm machinery on Thursday of next week, March 15. The Dana farm is located two miles north, one west and a quarter mile south of Belmond.

Only Incumbents Seeking Election To School Board

Nomination papers for candidacy in next Monday's election of the Belmond Community School district were filed by only the incumbents prior to last Friday's deadline, so they will be unopposed for re-election next Monday.

Seeking new, three-year terms as directors will be Mrs. Lee Mussell, who is currently president of the board, and Robert Garms. Treasurer C. C. Benson will be running for a two-year term, ending June of 1958.

Re-election of Mr. Garms and Mrs. Mussell will leave membership of the board the same as it was when first set up in 1952. The other members are Carl Green of Goodell, Gerald McNulty and Harold Simerson.

Supt. Don Faris is hopeful that a more representative volume of votes than customary will be cast in the election, as a public expression of approval for the competent and progressive manner in which the whole existing board has administered affairs of the school district.

He points out that the directors have shown themselves alert to crucial need of the district for expansion in its facilities. They took the lead in calling the election last year that made available finances for building the new school at Goodell and the new bus barn and shop building here, plus purchase of the land in northeast Belmand for a new athletic field and space for further building.

There will be two polling places Monday, the city hall in Belmond and Goodell's community hall. Ballots may be cast between the hours of 12:00 noon and 7:00 p. m.

DALE HULL

HARVEY THOMPSON

ANNUAL FORAGE SHOW AND CLINIC SLATED AT CLARION WEDNESDAY

"Emergency Pastures and Hays" and "Forages for Silage" will be emphasized at the annual Forage Show and Clinic to be held at the Clarion IOOF hall on Wednesday of next week. Harvey Thompson, extension agronomist, and Dale Hull, extension agricultural engineer, both from Iowa State college, will judge the forage show samples in the forenoon at 10:00 o'clock and will discuss growing and harvesting of forages at the afternoon meeting, starting at 1:30 p. m.

A special feature of the afternoon program will be a panel discussion featuring farmers from Wright county who have had forage in various types of temporary and permanent silos. They will tell their experiences in harvesting and feeding silage.

The Forage Show and Clinic is sponsored jointly by the Wright county extension service and the Soil Conservation District of Wright county.

The Forage Show is held in the morning with all entries to be in place by 10:00 a. m. Entries may be made by anyone in Wright county in any of the following four divisions: corn or sorghum silage; grass or legume silage; loose or baled hay; and chopped hay. Samples should be approximately one peck in size and brought in a heavy paper sack. Baled or loose hay should be a 12-inch slice or a 12-inch roll

All show samples must have been produced in Wright county in 1955. A valuable first prize will be given in each class, with ribbons for 2nd and 3rd place winners.

Kalkwarf Funeral Held on Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at St. John Evangelical Lutheran church for George D Kalkwarf, retired farmer, who died Wednesday at Belmond Community hospital. Mr. Kalkwarf had been enjoying reasonably good health considering his age of 82 years until suffering a stroke just three weeks prior to his death.

Final rites were conducted by Rev. William Heinzig, pastor of the St. John church, and Johnston Funeral Home was in charge. Burial was in Belmond cemetery. Pallbearers were C. C. Benson, J. A. Adams, Elmer Johnson, L. M. Helland, Adolph Wenzel and Ray Frye.

Mr. Kalkwarf was born at Flanagan, Ill., July 6, 1873, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kalkwarf. He obtained his education in the schools there and on March 8, 1897 married Anna Wuebbens of Flanagan. They made their home in the Illinois community until 1920, when they and their children moved to Iowa. The Kalkwarfs first lived near Wesley for four years and then moved just east of Belmond to a farm they operated until they retired in 1937 and moved into town.

Survivors include the deceased's widow and five children, all living in the Belmond vicinity—four sons, Peter, Dick, Bert and Ernest; and one daughter, Mrs. Dick D. L. Pals. Mr. Kalkwarf also leaves 18 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Other survivors include two brothers, Dick of Pontiac, Ill., and Dave of Flanagan, Ill.; and a sister, Mrs. William Vissering, Minonk, Ill.

Preceding Mr. Kalkwarf in death, in addition to his parents, were six brothers, four sisters and a son, who died in infancy.

JOINS HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Dr. William J. Peterson, superintendent of the State Historical Society of Iowa, announced last week that C. C. Christie of Belmond was among 66 persons elected to membership in the society last month. One or more members were acquired from 44 different towns in the state, located in 35 counties. New members were also listed from the District of Columbia, New York and Virginia.

Half of Easter Seals' Proceeds Spent In County

Half of the money received from the annual sale of Easter Sales, to be launched on Saturday of this week, will be used in direct aid for crippled children and adults in Wright county, according to Mrs. William Fisher of Goldfield. She is secretary-treasurer of the Wright county chapter of the Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Forty per cent of the proceeds from the campaign will go to the state society, much of the amount to go toward support of the organization's treatment center at Des Moines, which serves all of Iowa. Remainder of the seal money will go to the national society for use in the educational and research program of the Easter Seal Fundation.

Mrs. Fisher says that homes throughout Wright county will be receiving their allotments of Easter Seals within a very few days of the campaign's start. She urges that contributions be mailed back promptly and the seals used freely on correspondence to help publicize the drive.

"Your donations will be used to give vitally needed care and treatment to many crippled persons who could not otherwise obtain it," Mrs. Fisher emphasizes.

SMORGASBORD TUESDAY

Annual smorgasbord of the Trinity Lutheran church will be held next Tuesday, with serving to start at 5:00 p. m. As usual, a wide choice of Norwegian dishes will be a feature of the feast.

TALKS ON REORGANIZATION

Harold Simerson, member of the Belmond Community School district board of education, recently appeared at Belle Plaine at a meeting to discuss the feasibility of setting up a reorganized district in the Belle Plaine vicinity. The Belle Plaine Union devoted more than a column of space to the meeting and Mr. Simerson's comments and illustrated the story with a three-column picture of Mr. Simerson and the president of the Belle Plaine school board, Earl Palmer.

GOING TO SERVICE SCHOOL

Marvin Meinders and Merle Bonte of the Meinders and Bonte Plumbing and Heating firm will be attending the Armstrong Furnace company's 1956 "Service Master" air conditioning school at Kansas City, Mo., on March 19-23. They will "learn by doing" the work of sizing, installing and servicing air conditioning units.

Fort Dodge Man Wins First; Don Bunnell Places Third In Area Toastmasters Speaking Contest Here Saturday

Don Bunnell, representative of the Belmond club, won third place in the Area II speech contest of Toastmasters International that was conducted at the Congregational church here last Saturday night. Speakers from nine clubs took part in the competition, which was attended by a group of more than 100 Toastmasters, wives and special guests. Winner of the contest was John Billings of Fort Dodge and second place was awarded to Ray Clough of Mason City.

Mr. Billings is sales manager for the Burch Manufacturing company, which until recently was the Fort Dodge Tent and Awning company. His topic was, "There's No Place Like Home." Mr. Clough, who is an attorney, had as his subject, "Drive Safely." Mr. Bunnell, who is sales manager for the Northern Division of Tomahawk Hybrid Corn company, spoke on "Remedies for the Major Causes of Delinquency."

Other contestants were: Russell Buchanan, Algona; Millard Curtis, Charles City; Herman Schug, Hampton; Tom Quinlan, Iowa Falls; Lewis Lauterbach, Osage; and Floyd Woodard, Webster City. Each of the clubs had one representative on the judging panel, who rated all speakers but the one from his own town. Walt Aman of Webster City was head judge and R. Sawyer of Mason City was chief teller.

Awards to the winners were made by Martin Seltzer of Des Moines, lieutenant governor of Toastmaster District 19, which encompasses all of Iowa. Al Mueller, president of the Belmond club, presided over the program and toastmaster for the occasion was Bob Rosene of Belmond, Area II governor.

Ross Baumann of Ames, governor of Area VI and a guest at the affair here Saturday, announced that the Iowa District contest will be held at Ames on May 5. Mr. Billings will compete against the other area winners at that time.

The dinner was served by the Congregational Women's Fellowship and special entertainment was provided by the BHS boys quartet, with Maryellen Johnson as accompanist.

TOASTMASTERS who played prominent roles at the Area II speech contest held here Saturday night included the men pictured below: Don Bunnell of Belmond, winner of third place in the speaking competition; Martin Seltzer of Des Moines, lieutenant governor of District 19, who presented the speakers' awards; John Billings of Fort Dodge, first-place winner; Ray Clough of Mason City, winner of second place.

Ford Wins at Stock Car Racing "Olympics"

HERE'S FORD'S RECORD AT NASCAR'S DAYTONA BEACH NATIONAL SPEED WEEKS

FIRST In Sports Car Acceleration
A Ford Thunderbird set a new record for American production sports cars.

FIRST In top speed—class 4
A Ford "Six" took top honors in the Flying Mile for Class 4 American production passenger cars!

FIRST in 160-mile Convertible race
Ford V-8's took 1st and 2nd place in the National Convertible Championship Race.

FIRST in over-all performance
Ford won the Pure Oil Manufacturer's Award for the most consistent performance.

The Ford V-8 again showed its taillight to all competitors in the "Olympics" of stock car racing at Daytona Beach, Florida.

In blazing across the finish line Ford demonstrated once more the sizzling performance that keeps it the largest-selling V-8 in the world. No other car in the field could match Ford for getaway "git" . . . for straightaway acceleration . . . for all-around roadability. To see exactly how the other cars trailed behind Ford, see the chart at the top of this page.

One of the secrets of Ford's performance is the tremendous torque (wheel turning power) developed by Ford engines. For example, Ford's new 225-h.p. Thunderbird engine develops more torque than any other engine in the low-price field. This means quicker response, smoother running in the kind of driving you do! Just nudge Ford's accelerator and whoosh! You pass in instants when instants count!

Ford now offers this mighty 225-h.p. engine with any Ford Fairlane or Station Wagon model with Fordomatic. What's more, these engines are coming off the assembly lines right now! So why wait? Come in today for a Test Drive. Find out for yourself about Ford performance. Find out why Ford is the V-8 with the biggest following!

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF HEARING AND LETTING

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the City Clerk, Belmond, Iowa, until 8:00 P. M. on March 26, 1956, for the construction of sanitary sewer extensions.

Bids will be opened and publicly read and recorded in the Council Chambers shortly after the time for receiving same has closed.

Each proposal shall be accompanied, in a separate envelope, by a certified check or cashier's check drawn on an Iowa bank, payable to the City of Belmond in the amount of not less than 10 per cent of the total bid. This check may be cashed and the proceeds retained by the City of Belmond as liquidated damages if the bidder fails to execute a contract and file an approved bond for faithful performance thereof within ten (10) days after acceptance of his bid.

The proposed work consists of approximately 9,550 lineal feet of 12-inch, 10-inch, and 8-inch clay sewer pipe, 21 manholes, and related items at the following locations.

Line R-1 Commencing at the inlet sewer manhole at the intersection of Fifth Stree SE and the entrance road to the sewage treatment plant, thence East in the middle of Fifth Street SE approximately 920 ft., thence Northeasterly approximately 710 feet to a point 43 feet from the tracks of the M. & St. L. Railroad, thence East to the intersection with the tracks of the C. R. I. & P. Railroad, thence North along the Western edge of the right of way of the C. R. I. & P. Railroad to the South edge of Seventh Street NE.

Line S-1 Commencing at the manhole on line R-1 at First Street NE thence East approximately 390 feet, thence North in the easment in Block 1 of Kirkendall Addition to the North end of said easement, thence East to the middle of Sunset Drive.

Line L-1 Commencing at the manhole on Line S-1 between lots 18 and 19, Kirkendall Addition, thence East through the easements in Blocks 1 and 3 to the NE corner of lot 9, Block 3, thence Southeasterly to the middle of First Street NE.

Line L-2 Commencing at the manhole on line S-1 at the middle of Sunset Drive, thence East through the easment in Block 2 to lot 9, Block 2, thence North to the right of way Third Street NE.

Line L-3 Commencing at the manhole on line R-1 at 4th Street NE, thence West approximately 700 feet to the outlet sewer of the High school building.

Payment of the contractor will be made in cash from money raised by sale of general obligation bonds all as prescribed by Chapter 396, Code of Iowa. Payments will be made monthly as provided in the Specifications.

The work shall be started within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract and be completed on or before September 1, 1956.

Plans, specifications and Proposal forms for the work may be examined at the office of the City Clerk or Rowat-Murray, Engineers, Belmond, Iowa. Copies may be secured at the office of the Engineers by bonafide bidders for a deposit of $15.00, all of which will be returned to contractors submitting a complete bid. To those not submitting a complete bid, ten dollars ($10.00) will be returned upon the return of the plans and specifications.

All proposals filed shall be on the forms furnished by the City of Belmond, sealed and plainly marked. Proposals containing any reservations not provided for therein may be rejected. The Council reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any or all bids.

By virtue of statutory authority, preference will be given to Iowa domestic labor and products or materials produced in the State of Iowa.

Published by order of the City Council of Belmond, Iowa, this 21st day of February, 1956.

Caquelin on 1st All-NIC Cage Team; Chandler, 2nd

SPORTS

Coaches of the North Iowa conference last week released their selections of all-conference players for the 1955-56 basketball season, with the champion Northwood Vikings and runner-up Lake Mills Bulldogs each represented by two men. The mentors named two players for each position and Dale Caquelin, Belmond's hard-working pivot, was one of the pair chosen at center.

While there was no "understanding" among the coaches that team choices should be limited to senior cagers, 6-foot 5-inch Loren Moen — key man of the Lake Mills team — was ignored. The big boy is a junior.

Big Moen Overlooked

No statistics were provided with the selections, but it is quite probable that Moen established an all-time high scoring mark for the NIC during the loop campaign just ended. He barraged the hoop for 52 points in the Bulldogs' two clashes with Belmond; and he did better than that against some other league opponents.

With Caquelin on the all-star team were Dick Halland (6-1) of Northwood and Tom Bartleson (5-9) of Forest City at forwards; Jim Brosdahl (6-1) of Lake Mills — actually a guard, who tallied only 16 points against Belmond — as the alternate pivot; Darrell Belville (5-7) of Lake Mills and DuWayne Carnes (6-1) of Northwood at the guard posts.

Caquelin Fine Rebounder

Caquelin was unquestionably one of the most improved players in NIC ranks this season. While all of the first team players but Brosdahl won honorable mention on last year's all-conference selections and, including the Bulldog guard, were "regulars" on their respective teams, Dale saw very little varsity service. But this year he stamped himself as one of the loop's finest rebounders and defensive men. He also scored an average of more than 11 points per game in league competition.

Halland and Carnes — though both heavily outscored by teammate Bruce Lee in the two Northwood-Belmond battles — were sparkplugs of the title-winning Viking crew. Against the Broncos, Lee poured in 40 points and played excellent defensive ball; Halland was good for only 23 points and Carnes for 13. Lee, like the other pair, is a senior.

Bartleson A Standout

Bartleson looked good throughout the season, although playing with a losing team. Despite his height, he was a good man on defense and he rated as one of the loop's best scorers. Against Belmond he was good for 37 points and his work against other conference opponents was on a similarly high level.

Belville, while being one of the shortest first-stringers in the loop, was a deadly marksman and as a spitfire guard was definitely one of the NIC's best defensive players.

Chandler on Second Team

Jerry Chandler, junior guard, was Belmond's lone representative on the second team. The Bronco play-maker's backcourt partner on the second six was Ed Hrubes, high-scoring Garner senior.

Moen got one of the two pivot berths on the second-string, along with Gordon West of Buffalo Center. West is a senior. Awarded the forward positions were Dale Nielson of Britt and Jerry Forde of Northwood, both seniors. Nielson was among the loop's top point-getters; against Belmond he racked up a total of 36 in the two goes. Forde was a versatile performer and was used at all positions on the Viking team, from time to time.

Lowenberg, Schimp Cited

Tom Lowenberg, senior, and Larry Schimp, junior, were the Broncos given honorable mention. Juniors rather predominated the honor roll. Players listed, who have another year of competition ahead of them, included: Mace Ryerson (Northwood), Craig Neimeyer (Garner), Gary Godden (Forest City), Darrell Kinden (Buffalo Center) and Roger Clark (Britt).

Besides Lowenberg, seniors on the honor list were: Don Albers (Buffalo Center), Jim Martinsdale and Allen Baskerville (Garner).

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

Belmond experienced its first "labor walk-out" in history on Tuesday night of last week when the pin boys at Bowl-Mor alleys deserted the pits as teams of the women's league were just finishing up their first game. As a consequence, there are no "results" for that league in the paper this week. As a further consequence, there are no jobs for the ex-pin boys at the maple emporium. Although one pair of teams had already completed the first line, the others were about in the 10th frame. It was decided that the replay of the matches would be started completely from scratch this week.

—PSS—

There's never been a year since the Bowl-Mor began operation in 1949 that bowling league competition has been so close as this season. With the campaign well past its mid-point, there isn't a single team that has anything resembling a strangle-hold on first place in its league.

This week a year ago, the General Mills leader was 16 games ahead of the next nearest rival; this week one game separated the top two. After 25 rounds of pay last year, Tip Top was six games ahead in the Mainstreeters league; last week a half-game separated Dutch's Clothiers and Tip Top. In the Women's league a year back, Rowat-Murray had built up a four-game lead; last week the FIFTH-PLACE team was only FIVE games out of 1st.

Three and a half games is the biggest margin any league leader held last week (VFW in the Kanawha league). The Northwestern five was three ahead in the Boardsplitters league, but three other teams remained definitely in the running. And two teams shared the Tri-City lead!

—PSS—

We wouldn't go so far as to say that a bit of sand-bagging has been going on in the men's leagues (kinda fattening up those state tournament handicaps?), but there has been a very noticeable drop-off in the level of bowling in the past few weeks.

Maybe it marks back to when the Bowl-Mor held its invitational handicap tournament — and a bunch of middlin' handicap bowlers ran off with all the boddle by practically taking the alleys apart!

Understand, we don't claim the local pin-busters HAVE been indulging in a bot of "defensive" kegling; but IF they have been, we can't say that we blame them. All we know is that a 600 series was no rarity during mid-season; but lately they've been scarer'n hen's teeth.

—PSS—

Ex-Belmondite Rod Kickbush played a major role in advancing the Algona Bulldogs past Buffalo Center in the sectional basketball finals at Titonka, we note by the Algona Advance. The Bison concentrated on Algona's star center, Doug Meyer, at the start of the game and left Rod relatively unguarded. But when Kickbush hit for seven points in the first quarter, BC decided THAT had to stop and gave Rod more attention. He was held to 14 points for the game — but Meyer got loose for 27.

—PSS—

Here we thought that the Ohio State-Illinois shocker at Columbus (won by the Buckeyes 87-84) came as a surprise to EVERYODY. Then we noted in the Sporting News — which is s'posed to know more about BASEBALL than anybody — that the fellow who's been picking 'em for that sheet HAD OSU over the Illini by seven points. The guy could have retired if he'd backed THAT one with cash!

—PSS—

With the basketball season about wound up, Coach Dick Hobbs will soon have his thinclads out pounding the cinders again. We predict that the coming spring will see BHS enjoying its best track season ever — or close to it.

We'll get a bit more specific than that and prophesy that, barring injury or other unforeseen complications, Joe Smith will be a cinch placewinner in state competition — and maybe a champion.

Remember that he ran a half-mile leg for the Bronco two-mile team at the Class B state meet last spring in 2:05. And until it was broken with a 2:03 effort during the afternoon, the state Class B open 880 record was 2:05.5!

Hobbs Will Head Coaches of Loop

Dick Hobbs, Belmond High school athletic director, was elected president of the North Iowa conference coaches' organization at a meeting of the league mentors held at Forest City Thursday evening of last week. John Anderson, Forest City basketball coach, was chosen as vice president; and Ed Lyons, Forest City football coach, as secretary-treasurer.

A major matter of business at the meeting was selection of all-conference basketball teams for the NIC season just ended. Prior to reorganization of the coaches' group late last fall, these selections had been made by sports writers for papers in the seven conference towns.

The coaches also set dates for the annual conference track meet and for the Bison Relays, Buffalo Center's yearly cinder classic. The NIC meet will be held May 4 and the relays on May 8. Buffalo Center was also chosen as site of the conference meet.

A full schedule of freshman-sophomore and junior high football games was drafted for next fall. It was decided that the froshmores and junior high elevens will play on the same fields as the varsity games, the games to be carded for the Monday following the regular high school contests.

Coach Hobbs reports that the Belmond froshmores and junior high teams will play a complete round of games, except for Northwood. The Northwood coaches did not want to travel so far away as Belmond for the purpose of filling the schedules of their teams.

Loats' 307 Total Most Ever Scored By Central Soph'

PELLA (Special) — Ken Loats and Eldon Schulte, Central college sophomores, each broke school basketball records this season.

Loats, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Loats of Belmond, scored 307 points, the best performance ever recorded by a Central sophomore. He eclipses the mark of 277 set by Central's all-time scoring great, Arnie Ver Hoef, in 1952-53. Ver Hoef went on to set a career scoring mark of 1,135 points, with 742 points in his last two years.

Loats was Central's second leading scorer for the season, an outstanding rebounder, and a sure-handed defensive player. He was particularly effective from the foul-line, looping in 107 in 142 tries for a 75.4 percentage. From the field he hit 43 per cent of his attempts.

Eldon Schulte, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schulte of Alexander, fractured the school record of 48.8 for percentage shooting, set in 1952-53 by Bob Graham. Taking a thrifty average of six shots a game, Schulte stuffed through 70 of 125 attempts for a sparkling 56 per cent. From the foul-line, Schulte scored 75 per cent. All in all, he wound up with 194 points for the season, the third best total on the team.

Next year Central's prospects are good. This year the Dutchmen wound up in sixth place in the Iowa conference with a mark of six wins and 10 losses. But the losses came by an average of only five points, and Central dumped two of the title contenders, Wartburg and Wesleyan. Scoring leader Gus Youngberg and reserve forward Don Van Hemert will be the only players lost by graduation.

EVERYTHING WILL WORK OUT BETTER IF THAT ROAD PROGRAM'S LEFT ALONE

A week ago last Friday a sizeable delegation from Holmes and way-points on the "Holmes road" met with the county board and proceeded to give the supervisors a healthy helping of what-for because of the project-scheduling under the board's 10-year road program. As the plan is currently outlined, seven miles of County P from Holmes north is to be surfaced with Portland cement concrete in 1960 and six miles to the south in 1962.

It might be said that the Holmes folks put up a pretty good case—if the proposed program is to be completely knocked apart and then reassembled on the basis of debate. On the other hand, we're inclined to question the advisability of re-drafting the program on the strength of what parts of the county can yell the loudest to get "theirs" first.

Major among the points presented by the Holmes delegation was a contention that that community had been promised construction work on County P in 1956. We know nothing of the merits of that claim, but it does strike us that a few auxiliary "facts" might be given consideration in deciding whether the program is to be followed as it was set up. For if ONE exception is made, every part of the county is going to feel that construction in its area deserves first consideration.

It should be borne in mind that in the TWO years preceding this one, only 5.8 miles of road in the county were hard-surfaced; and in the five-year period covering 1951 through 1955 slightly less than eight miles were surfaced. Morever, a good share of this mileage was actually urban or suburban and did relatively little for rural road users . . . . Which brings up the question of just WHAT the Holmes community had been promised in the way of 1956 construction. Certainly it was nothing of a scope resembling the 13 miles of concrete that they're scheduled to enjoy under the 10-year program—for before the supervisors were sold on this 10-year plan, their thinking simply wasn't done in such ambitious terms.

Now that the county administration is committed to a road program that shows some imagination, ambition and a will to economize on wasteful maintenance practices that have so long prevailed, wouldn't it be a good idea to give the supervisors a chance to carry it out as they see fit?

Goodness knows, District No. 1—with which Belmond is logically the most concerned—has not been getting a proportionate share of farm-to-market road money. If memory serves us right, the Third street paving here, a couple of bridges down toward Rowan, and the work to be done on the cemetery road this summer is about all our district has benefited by in the past six years or so. However, we sincerely hope that residents of this district will willingly accept the supervisors' judgment in the matter of timing and gladly accept the benefits they will derive from the program WHEN they come.

At the same time, we'd like to point out to the Holmes partisans that their 13-mile stretch IS scheduled for completion by 1962. That many hard-surfaced miles represents more than eight years of road building at the rate of construction they had been meekly accepting before the board was stirred into undertaking a construction program worthy of the name.

COUNTY BOARD'S "LOSING" ITS POSITION AS ONE OF THE FRONT-RUNNERS ON COST

It might be noted that in 1954 the Wright county board of supervisors was again absent from the top bracket of county governing bodies in the state in regard to high cost of administration. For several years, The Independent was dismayed to find Wright's board one of the very most expensive in Iowa; but the practice of obtaining virtually "all the traffic will bear" seems clearly to have been abandonned by our supervisors.

A table of costs for county boards in 1954 released last week by the Iowa Taxpayers association shows that 14 boards are now paid on an annual salary basis. Half of those had total expenses in excess of the Wright board's $15,067.44 and half were under that total.

Of the remaining 85 boards, the members of eight claimed more in per diem pay, mileage and miscellaneous expense than did Wright's supervisors. That still leaves our board well up in the top 10 per cent, but nonetheless indicates a restraint that was not apparent for some little period of time. And a step in the right direction is always to be commended.

It might be observed that if all of the supervisors had found that their jobs required no more time and travel than Carl Kelling of District No. 2 found adequate, the board's expenses would have come to only $12,989.30 (Kelling was defeated for re-election by Roland Trotter in the 1954 election.) On the other hand, District No. 4's George Trowbridge invariably has the biggest "tab" in the bunch. Had all drawn expense money at his rate, the board's total would have come to $16,949.30 — or $3,960 more than with Mr. Kelling setting the example.

Political scientists are well nigh unanimous in their agreement that the existing supervisor form of county government is both archaic and inefficient and recommend a county manager plan as the desireable alternative. But meanwhile, it's gratifying to see Wright county's position in the scale of extravagance dropping. Of course, four or five years ago there was hardly any room for it to CLIMB.

The HIGHWAY STORY

By Bob Hullihan

Ten times in two years Roy stood in front of that desk of local authority. Ten times in two years the official looked at Roy and shook his finger in routine warning.

First it was, "Now get out of here before I change my mind and watch that speeding from now on." Then it was, "You ought to be ashamed plowing through a school zone like that." Finally, "That stunt's going to cost you ten dollars, Roy. Too many people saw how you were driving."

When Roy's visits to the desk started costing him a few dollars each time, he lost the hangdog attitude with which he once listened to the little lectures and started paying up briskly like a regular cash customer.

Seven times he was convicted of traffic violations and seven times he strolled away to drive as he had always driven — with habitual recklessness.

There is no reason to doubt that Roy would have made the eleventh visit to the desk except that he was killed one night while driving on the wrong side of the highway at high speed with only his parking lights burning. A 17-year-old girl died with him.

Frankly, no one in the community was too much troubled by the loss of Roy, though many were disturbed by the death of the girl.

Especially disturbed was the local official who knew that by simply mailing a record of Roy's convictions to the state safety department, Roy would have had his driver's license suspended or revoked.

Maybe he was waiting for the eleventh visit.

AHS Alumna On Tour With Band

DECORAH (Special) — Sharon Schulte of Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schulte and a junior at Luther college, is a member of the 71-piece Luther concert band that concludes a two week midwestern concert tour this Thursday with a home appearance at 8:15 p. m. at C. K. Preus auditorium.

A 1953 graduate of Alexander High school, Miss Schulte plays a snare drum in the percussion section of the band. She is an elementary education major and plans to enter the teaching profession.

During its 13 days on the road, the Luther college band gave concerts in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota, with the climax of its tour being a performance at Minneapolis on Tuesday. Currently under the direction of Prof. Weston H. Noble, the band is now in its 78th season.

Mrs. Melinda Hopkey of Latimer, Mr. and Mrs. Gaehart Hopkey and girls and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hopkey and family were Sunday evening visitors in the Leslie Hopkey home in Thornton in honor of Sally Hopkey's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldinger left Monday morning for Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Aldinger entered the Mayo clinic for examination and possibly surgery.

ALEXANDER HUSTLERS

On Monday of last week the boys of the Alexander Hustlers 4-H club went to the Hampton fair grounds for a swine judging workout. There were three groups of swine: fall gilts, bred gilts and boars. Bob Latham, who belongs to the Scotts Sportsmen and who rode along, took third place. John Rodecap, Steven Greenfield and Ronnie Dirksen tied for fifth place. A gilt was given to the boy winning first place.

On Wednesday the Hustlers went to Iowa Falls for the Franklin County swine judging contest. Fall gilts, market barrows and boars were judged. Steven Greenfield, John Rodecap and Ronnie Dirksen were chosen as the third-place group and each was given 100 pounds of feed. In individual ratings, John Rodecap was in ninth place, Ronnie Dirksen tenth place, and Steven Greenfield eleventh place.

VOL. 36 NO. 23 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Hospital's Income from Services Up 10 Per Cent During Year '55

Report of Auditor Shows Institution Doing Excellently

Recent completion of an audit of the Belmond Community hospital's books for 1955 revealed that the hospital during the past year enjoyed remarkable business success. It was by a considerable margin the best 12-month period the hospital has experienced since opening its doors in June of 1951.

Several figures from the audit serve to demonstrate the sound financial status that the hospital is achieving as its volume of patronage steadily rises. One such figure is the $125,470 in net income from hospital services that was attained last year. In 1954, the corresponding figure was $114,427. The $11,043 difference represents very close to a 10 per cent gain.

Gain in Assets

Another item that is pointed out by Administrator Stuart Kutz as significant is the hospital's net worth of $245,377 at the end of last year — despite accumulated depreciation of $25,439. This net worth very closely approximates that which the hospital possessed at the time it opened for business, which indicates a gain in assets of about $25,000 in the intervening 4½ years. These assets are reflected in new equipment and increased inventories of drugs and supplies, mainly.

Although the 1955 statement of income and expense sets forth a net loss of $1,778 this loss is theoretical rather than actual. It is true that purely on the basis of operational income, the hospital would have ended the year in the red. But with $9,735 received in tax aid from the city, $1,645 in purchases financed by the Luick Trust Fund and $128 received in memorials, the hospital can be considered to have ended its year with a favorable balance.

Some Debts Written Off

Accepted auditing procedures require that a deduction from income be made for building depreciation (it amounts to $4,110.35 annually), whereas it is doubtful that any of the hospital's patrons actually expect it to re-build itself at the end of 50 years out of income. Also deducted from the year's income was $1,670 in overdue accounts, accumulated since the hospital's establishment.

This is the first time that a general write-off of "bad debts" has been made by the hospital, and it distorts the 1955 income picture to have the whole sum charged against the single year's business. Administrator Kutz says that actually he does not regard all of the written-off debts as uncollectible and has, in fact, gotten some money in on them since the first of the year.

Rate of Occupancy Up

If the building depreciation and debt write-off had not been deducted from the hospital's income for the year, a favorable balance of slightly over $4,000 would have been left at the year's end. Largely accounting for this pleasing state of affairs, Mr. Kutz observes, was an increase of average occupancy from 59 per cent in 1954 to 64 per cent during 1955.

While administrative expenses for the year were only $1,072 more than the year before, coming to $15,752, the sizeable increase in patronage produced correspondingly higher expenses in several categories. For example, nursing expense was up $7,638, to $55,819; dietary expense increased $3,292, to $18,320; laundry costs went up $[illegible], to $5,517; and x-ray expense was up $1,264, to $6,677.

The auditor's report showed $3,939.86 in new equipment added during the year, of which $2.707.32 came in the form of gifts. The other $1,232.45 in equipment was purchased out of income.

Roy G. Duff of the firm of Edgar S. Gage and company, certified public accountants, performed the audit.

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

The best laid plans of mice and men "gang aft a-gley," so Bobbie Burns once knowingly observed. And George Keleher will vouch for the aptness of the statement. Last Saturday was the 10th wedding anniversary of the Kelehers, and George well in advance planned a fitting observance of the occasion.

Daughter Georgia was "farmed out" to relatives out-of-town for the weekend, the Governor's Suite at Hotel Kirkwood in Des Moines—where George and Helen had [illegible] following their wedding in '44, was reserved and flowers ordered for the room. Then came the blizzard!

By now, of course, you're taking for granted that the Kelehers gave up the trip and spent a quiet weekend at home. But the pioneer spirit is NOT dead. By golly, they made it! George says the only cold water tossed on the celebration derived from the fact that the price of the room had gone up from [illegible] to $14.

—M-S—

Don Olson of the Coast-to-Coast store says you never know when a ray of sunshine will break through the murkiest sky. Last Saturday night, after keeping the store open to small avail, Don was about to close up early when a stalwart customer entered the door. The purchase made by said customer gave Don a great lift, recalling to him the inevitable truth that "if winter comes, can spring be far behind?" . . . That purchase? A picnic basket!

—M-S—

Last weekend's unwelcome snowfalls at least had the saving grace of providing cover over whatever undiscovered, poison-laden wieners might have still been lying around town. We've heard of no more dog poisonings since the middle of last week. On the other hand, the snow simultaneously served as means of refrigeration to keep the wieners "appetising," if any are still around—so the danger can't be considered entirely passed. The sheriff's office reports no headway in the effort to discover identity of the dog-poisoner.

—M-S—

Received a note from R. E. (Earl) Ferguson, down Miami-way, asking that we publish a card of thanks in behalf of his wife. Mention in The Independent that she'd recently fallen and broken a hip produced a flood of cards and letters that brightened Mrs. Ferguson's stay in the hospital. He writes, "[illegible] is home now and getting along nicely, but will be unable to walk for some time."

WHISKER MUSINGS

From the way the gang at General Mills is supporting the whisker-growing contest, you'd suspect that the whole bunch of 'em have long regarded razor chores as a [illegible] bother in the first place.

Some in the hirsute ranks look like they'd been lost in the woods for weeks after they have skipped three shaves.

Then there are those like YE [illegible] who, being shy on quality, have to set their sights at quantity to make any sort of a showing at all and who seem to be older on the chin than anywhere else. All those white ones!

We felt that the whisker crusade had attained "official" status this week when we observed Gus Ziska blossoming out with a goatee.

For the benefit of the uninitiated, let us observe that they really don't itch too much after the crucial one-week to 10-day stage has been passed. Of course, hot weather might change matters.

—M-S—

If Assessor Ross Henry didn't already wear a billiard ball coiffure, this is the time of year he'd be tearing his hair out by tufts. We urge you to pay heed to his weekly pleadings for some attention to those tax assessment blanks. They're really not TOO tough to fill out, and in these days of governmental free-spending it [illegible] save a tidy sum if the assessor isn't required to chase down each and every one of us individually. Give the guy—AND yourself—a break, huh?

GOP Convention Slated Tomorrow

Friday at 10:00 a. m. the presidential convention of Wright county Republicans will be called to order by C. C. Christie, central committee chairman, at the district courtroom in Clarion. Primary purpose of the meeting will be to choose party delegates to the state presidential convention at Des Moines on April 6.

Mr. Christie stated Tuesday that all but six of the county's 29 precincts had reported to him on their selection of county convention delegates. He anticipated that all would have delegations at the parley tomorrow.

Wright county Republicans will be entitled to 27 delegates at the state convention. In addition, they may send 10 junior delegates—young people 17 and 18 years of age. The latter will have no voting privileges but will be entitled to [illegible] the Des Moines convention [illegible] have an opportunity to see [illegible] in action."

In 1952 the Republicans first adopted the practice of sending junior delegates to their convention. At that time, three high school students from Belmond and [illegible] from Clarion attended the state convention. Mr. Christie hopes that the county's full quota will be filled this time.

Four Men Experienced in Zoning To Speak at Open Forum Meeting

Clair Hugh, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee on city zoning and planning, announces that an open meeting on the subject is to be held next Tuesday at the high school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. The city council at present has under advisement a Chamber recommendation that Belmond adopt a city zoning ordinance and that the councilmen appoint a zoning and planning commission.

Purpose of next week's meeting will be to acquaint the general public with the potential benefits and advantages of zoning so that individual citizens will have a basis for forming private opinions on the advisability of introducing zoning here.

ISC Authority to Speak

An outstanding authority on zoning and a man who has had first-hand experience with its application have been engaged to speak at the meeting. Prof. John R. Fitzsimmons, head of the landscape architecture department at Iowa State college, has made an extensive study of zoning and is one of Iowa's most enthusiastic proponents of city zoning and planning. He will tell how zoning has worked out in other communities in the state and will gladly answer any questions put to him on the subject.

In addition to Professor Fitzsimmons, three other men who have had considerable first-hand experience in city planning and zoning have agreed to take part in the meeting. All are from Iowa Falls, where planning and zoning are credited with having achieved much in the way of community improvement and progress in the past five or six years

Iowa Falls City Manager

These guest speakers will be: Angus Crawford. city manager; Bob Klove, clothier, who is a past member of the zoning and planning commission; and Carl Hamilton, editor-publisher of the Iowa Falls Citizen and Hardin County Times.

Mr. Crawford, although he has been Iowa Falls city manager for only some six months, has found the zoning ordinance an invaluable aid in planning systematically for community development. Iowa Falls was one of the first cities in Iowa to operate under a city manager and has had one since before World War I. Mr Crawford is currently utilizing the zoning ordinance to expedite planning of sewer and street improvements that are contemplated.

Mr. Klove is an ardent advocate of zoning and planning since serving on the commission after it was revitalized about six years ago. For some period of time earlier, Iowa Falls had had a zoning ordinance on its books but had done little to implement it.

Publisher Urged Zoning

When the commission was reactivated about 1950, the benefits of long-range planning were soon impressed upon the city council and the community alike. In the years since intervening the zoning ordinance has become a very real force for community development.

Mr. Hamilton, who is recognized as one of Iowa's outstanding weekly newspaper publishers, shared importantly in the move to make the zoning ordinance serve its intended purpose. He is a firm believer in the potentialities of sound city zoning and planning and believes that Iowa Falls effectively demonstrates what they can achieve.

Ample opportunity will be given persons in the audience to question the guest speakers at Tuesday night's meeting on specific points in regard to zoning. Forest City and Algona, among north Iowa "neighbors" of Belmond, have just lately set up zoning and planning commissions of their own and there is a very apparent trend over the state by progressive communities to employ this means of assuring steady and orderly growth and development.

FINAL SPEAKER on the Wright county extension service's series of public affairs meetings will be Carl Malone (above), internationally recognized farm management specialist and economist. The ISC expert will speak next Thursday at 8:00 p. m. at Clarion's Legion hall on "[illegible]"

Death of Young Farmwife Caused By Brain Tumor

Tragic death broke the family circle of Richard E. Ohden, young farmer of the Williams vicinity, when on March 3 his wife died at University hospital, Iowa City from the effects of a brain tumor. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks and was born at Belmond on March 15, 1932.

On Feb 29, Mrs. Ohden was delivered of a daughter at Iowa City by Caeserian section. About two weeks premature, little Judy Glee weighed 5 lbs. 6¾ oz. Though it was necessary to place her in an incubator, she has made good progress and it was thought her father would be permitted to bring her home this week.

Funeral at Williams

Funeral services for Mrs. Ohden were held at the Williams Presbyterian church on Tuesday of last week and were attended by many Belmond friends of the deceased and of the Brooks family. Burial was in a cemetery near Kamrar.

Wyllis Glee Brooks grew to womanhood on the family farm on the Lake Cornelia road and was educated in the rural schools until attendance at Clarion High school, of which she was a graduate. She was married to Richard Ohden on May 28, 1950. The following year they moved to a farm near Williams, which was her home at the time of her death.

Leaves Three Children

Besides her husband and newborn child, Mrs. Ohden leaves two other children—Barbara Jean, age three years and nine months; and Richard Kendall, two years old.

Also surviving are her parents; three sisters — Mrs. Tom (Jean) Harty of Belmond, Mrs. Paul (Janet) Alphs of Thompson and Ellen, living at home; two brothers, Richard and Ronald, also at home; and her aged grandfather, Harry Brooks.

Mrs. Ohden was a member of the Williams Presbyterian church and was a devoted wife and mother.

First knowledge of tumor which claimed her life was learned last fall in mid-October. Her condition became steadily worse and she entered the Iowa City hospital for surgery on Nov. 22. The advanced state that the fatal growth had attained doomed the operation to failure and she returned to her home, where she remained until her failing condition once more required her hospitalization on Jan. 30. She remained there to give birth to her child, dying just four days afterward.

C. M. Bunn Again To Head Clarmond

C. M. Bunn of Clarion was reelected president of Clarmond Country club at the recent annual meeting of the club's stockholders. Dwight Tyrrell of Belmond was elected vice president and Robert P. Hansen, Clarion, secretary-treasurer.

Named as directors were: C. C. Christie, R. W. Courson, B. C. Hewlett and W. P. Tyrrell, Belmond; C. R. Banwell, Ben Birdsall, R. L. Davison and B. A. Samson, Clarion.

Schedule of dues was set the same as last year and May 1 designated as opening date. Kenneth [illegible] was re-hired as groundskeeper.

AN EDITORIAL--

CIVIC-MINDED? THIS IS FOR YOU!

The Independent looks upon next Tuesday night's meeting on city zoning and planning as one that could prove of very major importance to Belmond. We have endeavored to keep our readers informed regarding the campaign of the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce to get a zoning ordinance established here and a zoning and planning commission appointed by the city council.

The wholehearted belief of the Civic Bureau in the advantages of zoning has been made clear by its willingness to finance a necessary, accompanying survey at a cost of $1,600. The council has plainly regarded the matter well worth study and has been giving it serious consideration.

However, zoning is quite a complex matter and its attributes and benefits can best be explained and evaluated by persons who've had first-hand experience with it. That is why all citizens of Belmond who pride themselves on being civic-minded should be out en force at the meeting Tuesday night.

We've heard it often remarked, "Belmond is about 25 years too late in zoning and planning." It may be that a zoning ordinance on the books a quarter century ago would have been greatly to our benefit, as of today. But we still have a future to contemplate — and the advocates of zoning feel sure it will be a brighter and better one if planned for systematically.

If YOU are interested in that future, it behooves you to be present Tuesday night to learn what zoning and planning might have to offer.

Legion, Auxiliary Meeting at Dows

Martial Holtzbauer, Wright county American Legion commander, says there will be a joint meeting of Legion posts and Auxiliary units of the county at the Dows American Legion hall next Tuesday at 7:00 p. m.

Meat, rolls and coffee will be furnished, but those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and table service. A business meeting will be held, followed by dancing.

District officers will be present, so Commander Holtzbauer urges as many local Legionnaires and Auxiliary members as possible to plan on attending.

Connie Hill First In Essay Contest

Connie Hall, BHS senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hill, was judged winner of the 1956 patriotic essay contest conducted by the Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Her essay on the topic, "America, Beacon of Hope," this week was sent in for judging in the state contest with the chance of gaining her still further honors.

Three judges examined the essays over the past weekend and were in unanimous agreement as to the best five. Serving as judges were Mrs. Harold Erdman, Rev. William Heinzig and Pat Gallagher, the latter substituting for Mrs. Clark McNeal, who had to leave town before having an opportunity to read the papers.

In an extremely close decision, second place was awarded to Maryellen Johnson and third to Corrine Davenport, both seniors. Two juniors were given special honorable mention, Sondra Kamm and Joan Kriens.

Prizes amounted to $10 for first place, $5.00 for second and $2.50 for third. Some 50 English students in the junior and senior classes of Margaret Lapitz submitted essays in the contest.

Although the judges agreed that there were a number of fine entries turned in, they regarded the five mentioned as particularly outstanding; and the entire judging panel concurred in selection of Miss Hill's essay as deserving of first place.

HELLAND AND LONG PLANS EXCURSION TO IHC PLANTS

Popularity of an excursion to the Rock Island-Moline plants of International Harvester company last year has prompted Helland and Long Implement store to expand plans for a similar trip this year. The tour is scheduled for Tuesday of next week.

Arrangements were made for only a small number to take the tour last year, but the IHC dealers will charter two busses this time if a sufficient number are interested in the excursion.

COMPLETES ARMY COURSE

Ernest A. Doeringsfeld, Belmond High school instructor, was recently awarded a certificate for completion of an Army extension course appropriate to his rank of 2nd Lieutenant.

Only 92 Ballots Cast in Election

Supt. Don Faris reports that Goodell patrons of Belmond Community School district rather put local patrons to shame in the school board election that was conducted Monday. Forty ballots were cast at the Goodell community hall compared to only 12 more than that number at the Belmond city hall.

No write-in votes of any consequence were cast, with the result that incumbent directors Mrs. Lee Mussell and Robert Garms were returned to office, as was Treasurer C. C. Benson.

Eighty-four votes apiece were polled by Mr. Garms and Mr. Benson and 82 were cast for Mrs. Mussell. Single votes for director were cast at Goodell for Wes Boller, Wilmer Gabrielson and Howard Dominy and one for George Rust as treasurer.

BIRDSALL CHAIRMAN

Ben Birdsall of Clarion has been appointed by the Iowa Good Roads association as chairman for Wright county.

E. Boyd President Of Whisker Club

Organization of the Belmond Centennial Whisker club was finally effected Sunday afternoon at a meeting held at the city hall. Eldon Boyd was elected president.

Three vice presidents were named: Jim Waddington, Ron Smith and Dave Sappenfield Three directors also were elected, to sit with the officers on the board: Dave Robertson, Don Thompson and Bob Watermiller.

President Boyd says that club membership buttons received recently had to be returned due to a printing error that dated the centennial Aug 9-12, 1959. A new supply with correct date is expected soon.

$200 Went That-a-way

A heavy raid was made on the Cash Gift Day cupboard this week—and while it wasn't left bare, the pickin's were getting a bit slim by the time a pair of lucky winners had walked off with $200. At 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Harman Frohling of Thornton and Mrs. Ed Pail of Belmond found Nos. 4,053 and 2,436 worth $100 apiece. Four perfectly good numbers worth $25 each went unused at 2:00 p. m.: 1,177, 1,730, 2,682 and 3,719. Next Tuesday there will again be four $25's at 2:00 p. m.; but 3:00 o'clock, just one $100.

Railroad Crossing Takes Second Life in Fatal Crash

For the second time in less than three months a life was claimed by a collision at the intersection of the M & St. L. railroad tracks and Highway 69 when a car driven by a Des Moines woman was struck by a diesel engine Tuesday about 1:45 p m.

Victim of the accident was Goldie Veronica Beasy, age 42, who was driving south in a 1956 Plymouth suburban station wagon She was taken to Belmond Community hospital, where chest injuries caused her death about 3:40 p m

Engineer Earl Flanagan, Marshalltown, told Deputy Sheriff Dale Walrod the 120-ton engine, which was hauling seven freight cars, was traveling at a slow rate of speed. He also stated that the engine's bell was ringing, the horn had been sounded for the crossing and that the headlight was lit.

Skid marks on the paving for some distance to the north of the tracks indicated that Mrs. Beasy had noticed the approach of the train but not soon enough to avoid the collision. The front, left corner of the engine struck the right, front corner of the car and did an estimated $500 damage to the station wagon.

The victim's fatal injuries were caused when impact of the collision hurled her against the steering wheel.

On Dec. 21 of last year, Kenneth Hennigar, 21, of Clarion was killed at the same crossing when he was crushed in the cab of the semi-trailer he was driving as it crashed into an M. & St. L. diesel.

HEALTH ASSN. TO MEET

Annual spring meeting of the Wright County Tuberculosis and Health association will be held Thursday of next week at the Church of Christ in Clarion, starting at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Swanson of Mason City will give a talk on heart research. The general public is welcome to attend.

Swine Producers Will Hear 2 Top Experts at Dinner

Two of Iowa's top swine specialists will speak at the Wright county Swine Producers' annual meeting and dinner, which will be held at the Veterans' Memorial Hall at Eagle Grove on Tuesday evening of next week.

Bernard Ebbing, a native of Eagle Grove now with Rath Packing company of Waterloo, will speak on "The Hog in a Changing Situation". Wilbur Plager, secretary of the Iowa Swine Producers association, will discuss "Activities of the Iowa Association".

Only 400 tickets are being sold for the dinner, which will feature roast smoked pork loin. The meat will be cooked and served by chefs from the Geo. A. Hormel Co. of Austin, Minn.

The winners of last year's price-guessing contest will be announced by Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director, after which the men attending the dinner will guess on hog prices for this year.

Two directors will be elected at the business session—one for the southeast quarter of the county, now represented by Wendell Swanson of Galt, and one for the northeast quarter section, from which Richard Eckhoff of Belmond is now the director.

A brief report will be given by Doyce Friedow on the activities in the purebred division of the Wright County Swine Producers association.

The Wright County Swine Producers association is in charge of the dinner and Chairman Don Spangler, Eagle Grove, will preside.

WILL SELL DAIRY STOCK

George Smith advertises in today's Independent that, due to recently suffering a back injury, he finds it necessary to hold a dispersal sale of his dairy herd. The sale will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 1:00 p. m.

Nurse Alta Smith Attends Workshop On Cancer Control

Alta Smith, Belmond school nurse, was one of eight Wright countians who attended a day-long workshop at Hotel Hanford, Mason City, last Friday under sponsorship of the Iowa division of the American Cancer Society.

Present at the meeting on "How Iowa Educators Can Help Control Cancer" were delegates from 90 public and parochial schools, junior colleges and colleges from 16 north Iowa counties, along with county Cancer Society officers.

Iowa is the first state to hold such workshops for the purpose of secondary school cancer education.

Besides Mrs. Smith, the workshop was attended by Mrs. Lynn Thompson of Clarion, Wright county ACS chapter chairman, and school staff members from Eagle Grove, Goldfield, Dows and Clarion.

GOP Cards Will Express "Thanks" to "Ike"

Belmond housewives and other women of the community may expect a rap on the door today or tomorrow that will represent an opportunity to express their appreciation to President Dwight D. Eisenhower for his services during the past three years.

The canvass will constitute Belmond's participation in the nationwide "Thank You, Mr. President" campaign that is being conducted by the National Council of Republican Women.

Plans for the campaign of the Belmond Republican Women's club were laid at a committee meeting held last Friday at the home of Mrs. Clark McNeal, who is president of the 6th District Council of Republican Women.

Also playing key roles in laying plans for the local canvass were Mrs. C. C. Christie, president of the Belmond Republican Women's club, and Mrs. Russell Schaal, finance chairman of the Republican Women's club of Wright county.

Mrs. McNeal offers the opinion that "women are not content only to cast their vote at election time, but want to have an active part in financing the national campaign. The 'Thank You, Mr. President' campaign gives them that opportunity.

"Each contributor will receive a card to be sent to President Eisenhower expressing the sender's appreciation for the admirable way he has performed his duties during his three years in office," Mrs. McNeal says.

The women in charge of the Belmond drive urge, "Please listen for that knock on the door or ring of your bell that will indicate one of your neighbors is calling with your card for President Eisenhower. It will both give you a chance to tell him how well you like the job he's been doing and to help in financing the important Republican election-year campaign that is coming up."

• • • • • •

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, assuming his renomination, will get the first vote it has been the privilege of Mrs. Richard McMurray to cast in a presidential election. She was too young to vote in the 1952 election. Her month-old son, Craig Richard, seemed a bit indifferent about the whole thing as Mrs. C. C. Christie (left) and Mrs. Russell Schaal called on his mother Monday to receive a contribution in exchange for a "Thank You, Mr. President" greeting card. The leaders of the Republican Women's club are hopefully expecting a lot of "first-voters" to get behind the campaign.

Community Chest To Pick Officers

Walt Hotvet, president of the Belmond Community Chest Council, announces that the annual business meeting of the Chest organization will be held tomorrow (Friday) night at the city hall at 8:00 o'clock.

He says that several of the local organizations that have representatives on the Council have been remiss in keeping up-to-date on their appointments and as a result the Council has been far below full strength. He hopes that all groups represented on the administrative body will have spokesmen on hand for tomorrow's meeting.

Election of officers is to be a major matter of business Friday night. Mr. Hotvet reports that Matilda Skovlin, who has been secretary of the Chest Council since it was first set up five years ago, has made known her intention of declining to serve longer in that capacity.

"Miss Skovlin has been a valuable and loyal servant of the Community Chest and we of the Council deeply regret her decision to withdraw," Mr Hotvet observed. 'All of Belmond owes her a vote of thanks for the five years of unselfish service she devoted to the job of secretary. Her efforts contributed materially to making the Community Chest a success — and keeping it success."

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

A bake sale will be conducted by the Ladies Aid of St. John Lutheran church this Saturday at the Tip Top grocery. Selling will start at 9:30 a. m.

High Scores Feature Bowl-Mor's Invitational Tourney; Ed Albers Has 671 Series, Lois Hafermann Game of 253

Belmond bowlers grabbed their share of glory in a combination men's singles and mixed doubles handicap tournament that drew to a close Sunday night at Bowl-Mor Alleys. In fact, the two most outstanding individual performances of the three-weekend event were turned in by local keglers. Lois Hafermann had the highest scratch game among the women with a sensational 253 and Ed Albers had the highest scratch series among the men with a 671.

Mrs. Hafermann' high game was good for first place in the women's jack-pot competition; but that was the only first place taken by a Belmond entry. She was followed by Jay Gotland, Albert Lea, 165; Louise Scholl, Osceola, 160; and Nadine Smith, Belmond, 155. That 253 was rolled the first weekend and, as a result, women's jack-pot entries were few in number.

709 Wins Singles

Harold Voight of Algona won the men's jack-pot 1st prize with a 264. He was followed by a pair of Belmond pinmen, Fred Gordon and Albers with 234 and 233, respectively. Fourth went to Jerry Gratton of Albert Lea with 232.

Excellent scratch scores were turned in by top place-winners in both the men's singles and mixed doubles. Darwin Vacha, Jefferson, led the singles with a 214-212-225—651 plus 58 handicap for a gross of 709. Then came: 2nd — Harold Voight, Algona, 192-194-264—33—686; 3rd — Gordon, Belmond, 234-214-172—22—642. Chan Dailey of Algona was 4th with a gross of 623; John Entermill, Titonka, 5th with 622; Hank Larson, Latimer, 6th with 612; and Cecil Mosiman, Belmond, 7th with 609. There were 55 singles entries.

Doubles Finish Close

A single pin separated the two top place winners in the mixed doubles. Louise Scholl and Cliff Low of Osceola, with a total of 108 handicap pins, nosed out Jay Gotland and Jerry Gratton, Albert Lea — with a total handicap of only 60 — 1,224 and 1,223. Scholl had 156-178-166—52—552 and Low 199-209-208—65—672. Gotland rolled 136-222-166—40—564 and Gratton 186-258-195—20—659.

The Belmond duo of Hafermann and Albers rolled the highest net series in the doubles, but carried only 46 pins handicap and finished 3rd with a gross of 1,214. Hafermann had 192-146-159—44—541 and Albers 223-215-233—2—673. Only other Belmond team in the money was Catherine Chapman and Jim Mariga, who placed 6th. Chapman had 435—94—529 and Mariga 610-26—636 for an aggregate of 1,165.

SK3/c Wm. Wilson Joins In 'Amphib" 14th Anniversary

ATLANTIC FLEET (FHTNS) — The 14th anniversary of the Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force was commemorated March 14 by 15,000 "amphibians" aboard the more than 60 Amphibious Force ships and shore stations.

Serving aboard the landing craft repair ship USS Krishna is William E. Wilson, storekeeper third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Wilson of Belmond, Ia.

The Amphibious Force, created at the outset of WWII, became a potent offensive force which carried out 61 major amphibious assault landings before the collapse of Japan in 1945. Since WWII, frequent large-scale training exercises have assured the preparedness of the force.

Recent exercises have employed troop-carrying assault helicopters in testing the "vertical envelopment" concept of amphibious warfare and the simulated employment of nuclear weapons.

RE SOCIAL SECURITY

To give the residents of Wright county more frequent service, the Fort Dodge Social Security district office now has a representative in Clarion twice a month. Mary Alice Coady, field representative of the Fort Dodge office, will be in the basement of the courthouse next Thursday from 9:30 a. m. until 2:00 p. m.

BELMOND COMMUNITY HOSPITAL STAFF CAN TAKE GREAT PRIDE IN PAST YEAR

A story that appeared in last week's issue of the Forest City Summit points up a matter in which we residents of Belmond and vicinity might take justifiable pride. The article was concerned with a report of the Forest City hospital's superintendent to the city council, revealing that the hospital has fallen into serious financial straits and that the loss from operation during the current year seems likely to average $1,000 per month.

The hospital official added that the Hancock county hospital at Britt is currently operating in the red at the rate of $1,500 a month. The unhappy positions of the Forest City and Britt hospitals are by no means exceptional. The fact of the matter is, only two per cent of the nation's hospitals managed to show a favorable operating balance in 1955.

However, a story that appears in this issue of The Independent regarding the Belmond Community hospital's operation in the past year reveals a much brighter picture. While the Forest City hospital was trying to make ends meet while averaging only 40 per cent occupancy of its 23 beds, the Belmond hospital boasted 64 per cent occupancy. That fact—attributable jointly to the hospital's fine facilities and exceptional medical staff, plus masterful administration on the part of Stuart Kutz, made the Belmond institution's year a highly successful one.

The auditor's report showed a net operational loss of $13,287.46. But included in this amount was $4,110.35 building depreciation—which is strictly a bookkeeping deduction from income, and an amount of $1,670.41 charged off as uncollectible accounts—which is not correctly assessable against the one year's business, and upon which collections are actually still being made. We therefore, believe it fair to regard the operational loss as only $7,506.70.

Against this amount, $9,735.38 was received in tax aid, $1,645.60 from the Luick Trust Fund and $128 in memorials, or a total of $11,508.98. That would leave the hospital, to all practical purposes, a "net income" from all sources of $4,002.28. That may not sound very impressive; but we'll warrant that the boards of the Britt and Forest City hospitals would be most delighted if they could match it. The sound condition of our hospital reflects credit upon all of its personnel, and we're mighty proud of that "hospital bunch."

SUPERVISOR TROWBRIDGE SAYS HE'S ALL FOR "ECONOMY" IN GOVERNMENT

We understand that at last Thursday's public affairs forum on county government, held at the Clarion Legion hall, Supervisor George Trowbridge came out four-square in favor of "economy in government." This was quite a revelation. Although the senior member of the county board, Mr. Trowbridge has not had the pleasure of seeing very much "economy" exercised during his lengthy period of service.

Checking back on the expense claims of Wright county supervisors over the past six years, we find that in each and every one of them the amounts paid out to Mr. Trowbridge have the largest received by any member of the board. It must make the Dows supervisor very unhappy that this has had to be the case. One shudders to think what the administration expense of District 4 might run to annually, were not Mr. Trowbridge economy-minded.

Typical of the "economies" that have prevailed under the influence of the gentleman from District 4 is the annual purchase of weed and brush killers by direct contract, rather than open bidding. Cerro Gordo county made its latest purchase of weed killer in the latter manner and obtained a year's supply at $3.71 per gallon. A couple of weeks ago the Wright county board awarded contracts for its 1956 purchase of these chemicals. By dealing "across the counter" they managed to get their weed killer at $4.18 per gallon—a bit over 12½ per cent more than the Cerro Gordo price.

Since this county last year required only 345 gallons of weed killer, the board's mode of buying cost the taxpayers only about $162. We regret to say we can offer no concrete figures on the price of brush killer by bid and by open purchase. We know that Wright county bought about $2,350 worth in 1955 and if it can be fairly assumed that this purchase price also ran about 12.5 per cent in excess of what was necessary, that would mean the amount was exhorbitant by about $294—which would place the composite "waste" on the two chemicals at approximately $454. Of course, maybe that's a potential "economy" too small to be worth bothering about.

Incidentally, we might note that Wright county was buying its brush killer at a per-gallon price of $6.57 last year—and the 1956 contract calls for a price of $8.81. Whether the price of herbicides has gone up 34 per cent in the past 12 months, whether the weed commissioner requested a more expensive product, or whether this is just another case of "small economies" not being worth the trouble we don't know.

Anyway, three cheers for economy in government. We're glad to hear Mr. Trowbridge is in favor of it.

WHY NO BHS CONTENDERS IN FIELD FOR HOMEMAKER OF TOMORROW TITLE?

Last week announcement was made of the selection of Iowa's 1956 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. The scholarship program on which "The General" spends $100,000 annually is one that has always caught our fancy. Each state winner receives a $1,500 educational scholarship to the college of her choice from GMI and the national winner is presented a $5,000 scholarship.

We've always felt that Belmond owes a certain amount of allegiance to General Mills due to our close association with this fine concern. Yet, to the best of our knowledge, BHS has never had a candidate for Homemaker of Tomorrow honors. It strikes us that it would be most fitting for the local domestic science department to give this program its support in coming years.

With all the competent, 4-H homemakers-to-be in our high school, it is by no means inconceivable that one might strike "pay dirt" some time and walk off with that scholarship. At any rate, we hope next year to be able to publish the picture of a Belmond Homemaker of Tomorrow who's contending for the prize. It will be doing "The General" a slight favor by lending our support to a worthy project—and, as we've noted, it just MIGHT even constitute "bread upon the waters."

Dallas Trager Tells of Experiences Aboard Navy Ship Near South Pole

MM3 Dallas Trager, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Trager, expected to be headed home by now after spending nearly two months in the neighborhood of the South Pole as a participant in the U. S. Navy's "Operation Deepfreeze." Mail connections not being too good from that part of the world, the Belmond sailor's parents haven't received very many letters from their wandering son — but below are some interesting bits of information that Dallas DID manage to pass along to them, en route to the Antarctic and after his arrival in the VERY deep south.

In a letter written on Dec. 21, Motor Machinist Trager said, "We have been gone from Norfolk for 37 days now and out of those we have only been in port five days. Made it down to Panama Nov. 20 and went through the canal the same day. Pulled out at 10:00 the next morning and it took us 21 days to get to New Zealand. That really got tiresome.

"Spent four days in N. Z. and the people there really went all out for us. Spent Thanksgiving just on the north side of the equator and really had a good feast. Don't know where we'll spend Christmas, but I suppose on the water, too. Got a few letters in N. Z., as they had mail call there, but could stand a few more.

"Down here it never gets dark and it sure seems funny. It isn't too cold yet, but in the next few days it's really supposed to drop. Right now we're in a blizzard and you can't see your hand in front of you. Also, we're in iceberg waters so they're taking it pretty easy."

Next of Dallas's letters was dated Jan. 4. He wrote, "We're down here at a place they call McMurdo Sound Bay and the ice is holding us back from getting in to shore, so we can't get this equipment unloaded we've got aboard. We've been in the Bay now for about a week and a half and the ice just doesn't seem to be breaking up.

"We're supposed to be on our way back to New Zealand by Feb. 9, but if they don't get this stuff unloaded it'll be the last of the month. I'm down in the engine room writing, because it's 10:30 and lights are out; but outside it's as light as 10:30 in the morning. It never gets dark down here and it sure doesn't seem right going to bed. I've got the graveyard shift anyway, so it doesn't make much difference.

"This sure is a lonely place down here, nothing but snow and ice anywhere you look. Not even any trees. Ha! They've got us on 12-hour shifts now and don't think a little sleep doesn't help out!

"You should see the crew on this tub now. Nobody's shaved for the last month. Have to take some pictures before we shave and send them. Well folks, this is it for this time. Hope everybody's OK. As for me, I'm fine. Tell the people to write, as I would enjoy the letters from home very much."

Dallas presumably is homeward bound at this time. For those who would like to respond to his request for letters, he should be addressed: Dallas J. Trager, MM3 3246204, USS Wyandot AKA 92, %FPO New York, N. Y.

(If "Del" is coming home on leave after his return to the States, he should hang onto that beard. He'd feel right in place would he not?)

The following resolution was introduced and read.

Whereas, Dewey LaRue and Helen LaRue, husband and wife of Eagle Grove, Wright County, Iowa, received county assistance in the years 1934 to 1939, inclusive in the total amount of approximately $700.00.

And whereas the said Dewey LaRue and Helen LaRue now offer to pay Wright County, Iowa, the sum of $100.00 for a full and complete release from any claim against them for such assistance.

Now therefore be it resolved that the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa for and on behalf of Wright County, Iowa, accept the sum of $100.00, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged as full and complete payment of all moneys due from Dewey LaRue and Helen LaRue as a result of county assistance issued them in the past.

Motion was made by John Greenlander, seconded by Harland E. Hill that the foregoing resolution be adopted. Thereupon the roll was called and the vote thereon was as follows:

Ayes: Albert Christopher, John Greenlander, Roland Trotter, Harland Hill and George Trowbridge. Nays: None.

Thereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

Motion was made by Hill to adjourn, seconded by Trowbridge. Motion carried.

Albert W. Christopher, Chairman
Myron Price, County Auditor

Claron, Iowa
February 20, 1956

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in adjourned session at the Courthouse in Clarion, Iowa, with the following members present: Albert W. Christopher, Geo. S. Trowbridge, Harland E. Hill. Absent John Greenlander and Roland Trotter with the County Auditor in attendance. Motion by Hill, seconded by Trowbridge to issue cigarette permit to Hilltop Cafe. Motion carried.

Motion by Trowbridge, seconded by Hill to appoint Joe Larson as Weed Commissioner beginning March 1, 1956 to March 1, 1957. Motion carried.

Motion by Hill, seconded by Trowbridge to appoint Mrs. Nicholas Bauman of Eagle Grove as Matron of Wright County Nursing. Motion carried.

Motion by Trowbridge, seconded by Hill to adopt the following Resolution.

RESOLUTION

Resolved that Albert Christopher, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, be and is hereby authorized and empowered to execute and acknowledge, for and on behalf of said county, under its corporate seal which the County Auditor is directed to affix and attest, a deed of conveyance from said county to Donald Knudsen for the following described real property, to-wit: Lots 12 and 13 Block 2, Broadway addition to the Town of Eagle Grove, Iowa. The deed shall recite a consideration of one dollar and other good and valuable consideration. On roll call the following voted Aye: Christopher, Hill, Trowbridge. Nays: None. Thereupon the chairman declared the Resolution duly adopted.

Resolved that the deed from Wright County, Iowa, to Donald Knudsen for the following described real estate, to wit: Lots 12 and 13, Block 2 Broadway Addition to the Town of Eagle Grove, Iowa, having been executed and acknowledged on this date and on behalf of said County by the Chairman of its Board of Supervisors, and said deed having been presented to this Board of Supervisors for approval, the same is hereby approved.

Motion by Hill, seconded by Trowbridge that the foregoing Resolution be adopted. On roll call the following voted "Aye": Christopher, Trowbridge, Hill. Nays None. Thereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

Motion by Trowbridge, seconded by Hill to approve the following Resolution.

Be it Resolved that the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, concurs in the Iowa Highway Commission recommendation that contract for work on project Number S-1516 (1) be awarded to low bidder. On roll call the following voted "Aye": Christopher, Trowbridge, Hill. "Nays" None.

Motion by Trowbridge, seconded by Hill to adjourn. Motion carried.

Albert W. Christopher, Chairman
Myron Price, County Auditor

MILLIONS MORE FOR IOWA PAYROLLS

WITH an Iowa payroll of over $30,000,000 per year, the brewing industry is a real contributor to employment in our state. The thousands upon thousands of Iowans who receive these paychecks live and work in every part of the state. Their purchases, in turn, help to further swell prosperity all over Iowa, pouring these millions into our channels of trade for everything from food to furniture, from cars to clothing.

The Brewing Industry Boosts our Prosperity

THIS huge payroll is only one part of the benefits Iowa receives from the brewing industry. For example, the industry pays more than $23,000,000 per year in taxes, reducing our own taxes by that much. It has invested over $62,000,000 in its business in Iowa. And it purchases millions of dollars worth of farm products every year. Yes, we can truly say that —

Farewell Party Honors B. Smit

A farewell courtesy was held at the Reformed church parlors Tuesday evening of last week for Bernard Smit from Germany, the father of Ben, Dick and Henry Smit. Rev. E. Kampmann gave a short talk and Simon Eckhoff showed slides, after which lunch was served to about 100 relatives and friends. A cash gift was presented to Mr. Smit.

He was taken to Chicago Wednesday by his three sons and one grandson by car. There he took a plane on the first leg of his return to Germany by air. He spent about three months here with his sons and their families. Mr. Smit liked the United States very well and wished his wife and the rest of his family were here.

Post Nuptial Shower Honors Mrs. William Grau

Mrs. William Grau was honored at a post nuptial shower Friday evening at the Reformed church basement. As Mrs. Grau just recently arrived from Germany and does not speak English, Mrs. Willie Beckmann of Belmond made the language translations and assisted with the gifts. Mrs. Leonard Pals was in charge of the gift book.

There were 85 guests present to make it a happy occasion, bringing gifts for the new bride. The program consisted of German songs and action stunts, that the honoree could understand.

Hostesses were Mrs. Clarence Wolters, Mrs. Willie Pals and Mrs. Clarence Pals of Alexander, Mrs. Eldon Wolters and Mrs. Junior Barkema of Belmond, Mrs. Henry Pals of Sheffield, Mrs. Henry Trager, Mrs. Engle Fekkers, Mrs. Joe Kaduce, Mrs. Rosie Lauen, Mrs. Daniel Pals, Mrs. Leslie Pals and Mrs. Theodore Pals.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braga and Bonnie of Wahkon, Minn., spent the weekend in the parental Walter Braga home after being snowbound here following the Saturday blizzard.

The ladies of the E. U. B. church have been quilting the past week at the church parlors.

Mrs. Lizzie Hopkey and her house guest, Mrs. George Hopkey of Latimer, visited at the Moody Quandt and Dena Kuhlers homes Monday afternoon.

EVANGELICAL UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH

P. W. Pfaltzgraff, Pastor
9:45 — Sunday school
10:45 — Morning worship—Rev. Paul Pfaltzgraff of Griswold, guest speaker.
7:30 — Evening worship — Rev. Paul Pfaltzgraff of Griswold, guest speaker.

Special Evangelistic services all week beginning at 7:45. All invited to attend these meetings. Rev. Paul Pfaltzgraff as guest speaker and also special music.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15—
2:00 — Helping Hand Society in the church parlors.
7:30 — Prayer Meeting and Bible Study.
4:00 — Junior choir practice at the church.

Officers Elected By EUB Church

The annual congregational meeting of the Meservey Salem EUB church was held Thursday evening in the church parlors, with the Rev. P. W. Pfaltzgraff presiding. Sunday school officers elected were: superintendent, 1st and 2nd assistant, respectively, Elmer Pals, Wayne Waddingham and Robert Raecker; secretary, Glen Janssen; treasurer, William Fisher; class leader and assistant, Mrs. Lewis Myers and Mrs. M. C. James.

Trustees elected were Dale Smith and Enno Ostendorf. Theodore Wendel was elected trustee emeritus because of his many years of service on the board.

It was also voted to again support Missionary Phyllis Ludwig with her cash salary while she is serving in Africa.

Lunch was served by the Trustees, Stewards, Minister and their wives.

Two Receive Top Ratings In Speech

Two of the three MHS students who were top-rated in the recent preliminary speech contest at Hampton again earned Division I ratings as the pre-district contest was held last Thursday at Thornton. As a result, Gary Dunton and Johnine Brown will advance to district competition, the locale and date for which has not yet been announced.

A humorous piece, "Little Red Hooding Ride," by G. Dunton was awarded a I, as was the interpretive reading of "Evangeline" by Johnine Brown. Gary is a senior and Johnine a junior.

Marlys Suntken, who is a freshman, also competed in the pre-district contest with her interpretive reading, "Death of the Hired Man." She received a II rating.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Strasburg of Minneapolis spent the weekend at the parental Otto Strasburg home, coming to see his father who is on the sick list.

Radio Broadcast Of Meservey Band Concert Monday

Meservey High school's band, under the direction of Alice Ruiter, will be featured Monday at 4:30 p.m. on the "Parade of Bands" program of radio station KSMN, Mason City. The musicians tape-recorded the 15-minute program on March 1.

Numbers that will be heard during the recorded concert are: "Washington Post" march, "Londonderry Air," "Blue Tango," "Meadowlands" and Melody of Love."

Broadcast of the MHS band's program is being sponsored by the following local firms: Meservey Hardware, Meservey Home Elevator, Raecker Chevrolet Garage and Meservey branch of the First State Bank of Thornton.

Snells Narrowly Escape Monoxide Gas Asphyxiation

[illegible] Herman C. Fischer [illegible] the [illegible] their daughter and her husband [illegible] Mrs. Bruce Snell, Jr., in an Iowa City hospital after they had been overcome by carbon monoxide gas. Source of the gas was an automobile running in a garage below their apartment. The gas seeped through the floor of the apartment.

Mr. Snell did not lose consciousness, but his wife did. He was able to reach the telephone and call the police, who arrived promptly and took them to the hospital.

Mrs. Snell had awakened her husband but lost consciousness shortly afterwards. The man in the car was also unconscious and was taken to the hospital. All were reported out of danger.

The Fischers spoke to their daughter by phone and were assured that after several days of recuperation in the hospital she and her husband would be in good health.

The Meservey American Legion Post sponsored a Father and Son banquet in the school auditorium Friday evening with a nice group attending. Master of Ceremonies was James Tucker of Hampton and Mrs. Tucker furnished the dinner music. Other guests on the program were Rev. Leingard of Dows and a unicyclist of Hampton.

Thursday evening supper guests at the Merlin Ruiter home were Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Ruiter of Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Koenen, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Enderson and Rodney, Shirley Ostendorf and Marian Wessels.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fischer of Waukon, Minn., visited their old friends, and relatives in and around Meservey this past week.

The minstrel show, "Georgie Jubilee," which was given by the school Tuesday evening, was enjoyed by the few people that could get there. But on account of bad weatther and no lights early in the evening not many came.

Mr. and Mrs. iVrgil Schluter took Mrs. Schluter's father, Otto Strasburg, to the Iowa City hospital Monday. Mrs. Schluter will remain with him for a few days. Mr. Strasburg has been ailing for several weeks and went to Iowa City for treatment and rest.

Leonard Hafermann of Thornton called at the Dena Kuhlers home Monday forenoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Stadtlander and children were Sunday visitors at the Carl Stadtlander home at Rockford.

Mrs. Mary Thomas spent the fore part of the past week at the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peters, at Swaledale. She returned home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Akermann of Mason City came Thursday evening for her mother, Mrs. Cora Ralston, and she visited them until Sunday. They all attended the funeral of Mrs. Ralston's sister, Mrs. Guy Booth, in Hampton Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Booth passed away suddenly Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hindman received word from their son Larrie from Iowa State college that he was one of ten representing his fraternity at the Alpha Tau Omega Founder's Day dinner at the Des Moines golf and country club. Others there were from Simpson, Iowa City, Drake and South Dakota colleges.

Monday evening visitors at the Moody Quandt home were Mr. and Mrs. Louie Dirks of Thornton and Henry Wendel.

Mrs. Lamfers of Kanawha spent the weekend at the Vern Schluter home. Mr. Lamfers and children came Sunday evening to visit at the Schluter home and she returned home with them.

No services were held in the Meservey churches Sunday due to the blizzard and the amounts of snow Saturday and Sunday evening. The roads were all opened Sunday morning including the streets and traffic is back to normal.

Sheryl Schluter is confined at home with illness, but reported getting along fine.

Moody Quandt is still confined to the house suffering with arthritis.

Mrs. Genevieve Suntken received a letter from Larry, who is attending college at Pella, that he was in a tulip time operetta "Call Me Madam".

Mrs. Genevieve Suntken accompanied Mrs. Henretta Wilkins and Mrs. Bert Lauen of Belmond to Mason City Friday where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Leroy McKee.

Mr. Eberle of Dows and Mrs. Genevieve Suntken and Jerry were Sunday afternoon viistors at the Edward Kuhlers home. Janice Waddingham was a dinner guest at the Kuhlers home Sunday. It was Marlyn's birthday.

VOL. 36 NO. 24 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET

BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

It doesn't seem it should be necessary to urge support of the Jaycee's for the Bronco basketball banquet next Wednesday, but we're told that tickets aren't moving as well as they might. Perhaps it should be pointed out that it's a [illegible] thing from a money-making [illegible]. Attendance of at least a couple of hundred paying customers is required for the Junior Chamber to so much as break even.

Bear in mind that it costs some money to obtain a really headline speaker like Iowa State's Coach Bill Strannigan— and that all the players and coaches are guests.

If the Jaycees should be so fortunate as to turn a few bucks on the deal, those dollars will be invested in good works of the organization — such as their ambitious [illegible] of Tyrrell park and their Hallowe'en party for kids of the community. So we urge, don't give those Jaycees the "we'll see" [illegible] when they call on you with banquet tickets. Buy! You'll get your money's worth.

—M-S—

Virginia Collinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Collinson, will be celebrating her seventh birthday on Wednesday of next week far from home. She and her parents live at 42 Rue [illegible], Ixelles, Brussels, Belgium. A card dispatched by air mail should still reach her by D-Day. . . . 'Nuff said?

—M-S—

Next to losing an elephant, it might seem almost as difficult to lose a hospital bed or a wheel chair, but the loan closet at the Veterans' Memorial hall has achieved the latter distinctions — and isn't at all happy about it. Right now an inventory of the closet equipment is being conducted and a report from all persons currently in possession of items from the closet would be greatly appreciated. If YOU have in your home some item on loan won't you phone one of the following and make certain that the whereabouts of the equipment you have is known? Call Veterans' Memorial hall (275), Mrs. Leroy Green (210), Mrs. Ted Behrends (1312) or Mrs Carroll Bamford ([illegible]).

—M-S—

Some anonymous reader of this column claims to have stolen a march on the Mainstreeters. Received a note stating simply: "Ha! Ha! Beat you to it. First green grass this year." and in the envelope was the evidence — several pinches of clipped, green grass . . . You win, brother. What's the prize?

—M-S—

The Mainstreeters and their wives were entertained last Friday at a [illegible] birthday dinner honoring the birthday (29th — again) of the middle Mainstreeter. Baking of the traditional birthday cake had been included in Ginny Cour[illegible] plans for the sumptuous repast, but an unanticipated crisis arose that caused the cake to be abandoned.

Seems that Mrs. C. some time ago had requested a piano tuner to do some plinking on the [illegible] pianos (two of them at present; one to be a gift to the new Methodist church when it is completed). When the first tuner was slow in making his appearance, Ginny negotiated with a second. Naturally, BOTH showed up while the birthday dinner preparations were underway, and Ginny had to interrupt her culinary pursuits to see if she couldn't find enough additional tuning [illegible] that she would not be charged with mileage [illegible].

But we might say, never underestimate the INGENUITY of a woman — either. When time for dessert arrived, a tasty gelatine concoction was delivered to the table with each serving topped off with [illegible]. Each diner participated in [illegible] in behalf of the [illegible] guest, who "got his wish" [illegible] guest extinguished [illegible] conflagration.

[illegible] HALL OPENS

[illegible] opening of Redmond's [illegible] hall, located in the quarters formerly occupied by Kennedy [illegible], is announced in this issue by [illegible] Redmond. He will [illegible] the opening next Tuesday.

[illegible] PRICE ANNOUNCED

In a classified advertisement in [illegible] week's paper an error was made in the price that will be charged at the Rowan Congregational church's annual Easter supper scheduled for tonight. Adults will be charged only $1.00. Charge for children was correctly listed at [illegible].

Junior High Operetta Tuesday Evening

Climaxing over a month and a half of practice and preparation, the Belmond Junior High school chorus on Tuesday evening of next week will present its annual operetta. This year's production, under the direction of Donna Doeringsfeld, will be "The Magic Beanstalk," based on the familiar fairy tale of "Jack and the Beanstalk." The operetta will be presented at the high school auditorium, curtain time being 7:30 o'clock.

Leading roles will be taken as follows: Jack, Dwight Mennenga; Captain Kid, Dale Gabrielson; Jack's mother, Carol Finn; Julianna, the cow, Kirk Cunningham; announcer, Richard McLaughlin; Gypsy Ann, Diane Fetrow; Foolemesi, the magician, Gary Ruka; Blunderbuss, the ogre, John Murray.

Cast as as villagers are Bonnie Nolan, Karen Shahan, Linda Bonte, Miriam Kalkwarf, Frank Mussell, Erwin Hill, Howard Pals and Jim Pals. Dutch dancers will be Nadine Johnson, Barbara Musselman, Janet Howell, Nancy Gabrielson, Richard Finn, Mike Taylor, Conrad Kraus and Russell Tendall. Chinese dancers — Ardith Pals, Connie O'Connor, Marcia Moore, Eloise Soma and Diane Kessler.

Whisker Club Meeting Sunday

President Eldon Boyd announces that the Centennial Whisker club will meet again this Sunday at 2:00 p. m. at the city hall. With the April 1 deadline for launching beards rapidly approaching, he hopes there will be a good turn-out as a considerable amount of business will be up for discussion. After a week from Sunday, face moss must be in evidence on all male jowls in the community—or a Shaver's Permit possessed by the sleek-cheeked rebels. All currently bearded gents are automatically members of the Whisker club . . . upon payment of the $1.00 membership fee.

CUB SCOUT DEN ENJOYS D. M. SIGHT-SEEING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Flanagan last Saturday took members of Cub Scout Den 3 to Des Moines, where they visited the state house, historical building, airport and Veterans Memorial auditorium.

Boys who made the trip were Bob Flanagan, Larry Ackerman, Dudley Bonte, Jon Hruska, Bruce Haugland and Dennis McNulty, Cub Scouts; and Jeff Hanson, Boy Scout Den Chief. Mrs Flanagan is Den Mother.

SIMERSON NEW PRESIDENT

At the reorganization meeting of the Belmond Community School district's directors held Monday night, Harold Simerson was elected to succeed Mrs. Lee Mussell as president of the board of education.

Mrs. G. Sandmann Dies at 86 Years

Funeral services for Mrs. Garrelt Sandman, 86, will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Baptist church and tomorrow afternoon at Chancellor, S. D. Interment will be in the Germantown Presbyterian cemetery at Chancellor. Rev. A. T. Rollene will conduct the rites here and Johnston Funeral Home will be in charge of the services.

Mrs Sandman died early Monday evening at Belmond Community hospital after a lingering illness. Born in Germany Aug. 12, 1869, daughter of Peter and Elaine Brauer, she had been a Belmond resident for more than 50 years.

She was married to Elzo Meyer, who passed away in 1928. Seven children were born to them. John and Ole Meyer, Sioux Falls, S.D.; Mrs. Martin (Rose) Bunjer, and Ted Meyer, Belmond; and Pete Meyer of Lennox, S.D., survive. A daughter Mamie preceded her in death and another daughter died in infancy.

The deceased was wed to Garrelt Sandman in 1930. Surviving besides her husband and the children named above are nine stepchildren, including Harm Sandman and Mrs. John Pals of Belmond. Twenty-three grandchildren and four great grandchildren are numbered among the survivors; also a large number of step-grandchildren.

AT SEROLOGY WORKSHOP

Helen McNulty, laboratory technician for the Belmond Community hospital, is enrolled for a serology workshop being conducted yesterday and today at Iowa university.

Polio Fund Gets Just over $472 From JCC Drive

George Hinman, treasurer of the Belmond Junior Chamber of Commerce, reports that a total of $472.15 was collected by the Jaycees as sponsors of the 1956 March of Dimes campaign in Belmond. No organized campaign in behalf of the Polio Foundation was conducted here in 1955, but in the three years preceeding the fund had been guaranteed a minimum of $525 from the Belmond Community Chest.

Dime cards and coin boxes in Belmond business establishments yielded $253.08, Mr. Hinman says, and the Jaycees' Block-of-Dimes stunt produced $139.66. Individual donations, including $26.91 from the American Legion Auxiliary, came to $49.41 and a collection taken at a high school basketball game added $30.

When the Polio Fund was a Community Chest affiliate, $450 was budgeted for the March of Dimes agency and the Chest Council agreed to make up the difference if less than $75 additional was collected from coin boxes.

County FB Plans Policy Discussion

Farm Bureau President "Cap" Hahn announces that a discussion meeting on Farm Bureau policy will be held Tuesday evening of next week at the Clarion American Legion hall, starting at 8:00 o'clock.

Ken Thatcher of Des Moines, secretary of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, will be the guest speaker.

Top Interest at Forage Show-Clinic Shown in Silo-Storage of Forages

Information on the storing of forages in different types of silos proved to be the highlight of the Forage Clinic meeting held at Clarion on Wednesday of last week. A panel of Wright county farmers told of their experiences with and cost of constructing silos varying in capacity from 65 to 1,000 tons.

Farm operators on the panel were: Elmer Brandt, Clarion, using a temporary upright silo constructed of baled straw; Richard Campbell, Clarion, using upright silo filled with oat silage; Ronald Kennedy, Belmond, using a surface silo constructed into a hillside and filled with corn silage; Dick Wasson, Dows, using a surface silo of 1000-ton capacity with wooden sides and filled with sorghum; and Everett Wagner, Dows, using a cement slab surface silo of 600-ton capacity filled with corn and sorghum.

There was a large number of entries of all kinds of forage in the Forage Show. First prize winner in each class was awarded a gallon picnic thermos jug by Hubert Hiemstra, chairman of the Wright County Soil Conservation district, which supplied the prizes. Winners were: corn silage — Elmer Brandt of Clarion, Richard Campbell of Clarion and Darwyne Jacobson, Dows; grass silage — Rolland Riemann of Clarion, Lauren Kalkwarf of Belmond and Kenny Tillman, Clarion; chopped hay — Herman Hiemstra of Clarion, Edwin Box of Rowan and Richard Campbell, Clarion; baled and loose hay — Donald Moore of Belmond, Ray Stevens of Clarion and Richard Hocraffer, Clarion.

Harvey Thompson, extension agronomist, gave information on the production of forage and stressed the use of oats for temporary pasture. Thompson also recommended the use of afalfa in legume seeding because of its high yield per acre.

Gene Shove, agricultural engineer, explained different kinds of silo construction, particularly self-feeding types.

The meeting was sponsored by the Wright County Extension Service and Wright County Soil Conservation District.

DANCER SUFFERS MISHAP

He again emphasizes that feminine players will be most welcome to compete. All contestants are asked to bring a cribbage board and deck of cards. An entry fee of one dollar will be charged. Cash prizes will be awarded to the tourney winners and lunch will be served at the end of the evening.

[illegible] Seal Chairman Tells About How County's Share [illegible] Campaign Proceeds Have Aided Handicapped Persons

[illegible] in Belmond last week[illegible] received sheets of colorful [illegible] seals and an invitation to [illegible] part in the work of the [illegible] for Crippled Children and [illegible] that is financed by annual [illegible] of these stickers. R. W. Gib[illegible] of Eagle Grove, chairman of [illegible] Wright county unit, [illegible] a report to make on how pro[illegible] from earlier seal sales have [illegible] spent as he urged households [illegible] prompt return of their [illegible].

[illegible] that 50 per cent of [illegible] seal money is spent "at [illegible]," he told of actual cases in [illegible] county that benefited from [illegible] during the past year. [illegible] he cited the 19 chil[illegible] for whom glasses had been [illegible] at a cost of $278 and another 17 who received needed [illegible] that cost $142.

[illegible] school girl whose appear[illegible] from a badly deform[illegible] [illegible] treat[illegible] [illegible] about; and another girl, crippled by polio, was provided a walker so she can attend high school. Expense of taking a handicapped girl to Rochester for examination was footed by the Wright county unit and $49 spent on dressings and medicine for her.

Four youngsters were sent to a special camp for crippled children for a 10-day stay and another hospital bed was added to the loan pool maintained by the county organization. The society has for loan in the county several wheel chairs, hospital beds, sets of crutches, a walker and other sick room aids for free use of any persons who need them, available through Mrs. Grace McNaughton at Eagle Grove.

Forty per cent of the annual fund-drive proceeds go into work of the society at the state level. Among other things, this money maintains the Easter Seal Treatment Center at Des Moines, a new, specially designed building where patients are treated and the society's offices are housed.

A day school for children with cerebral palsy is conducted, in which 36 boys and girls are currently enrolled. Clinics are held twice each month, where handicapped children may be examined by specialists, who recommend treatment and tell parents what treatment can be carried on at home. In the center's basement is a workshop where severely handicapped adults are employed under the supervision of trained therapists. The camping program is also under state direction.

Education and research on a national scale is carried on with the final 10 per cent of each individual donation toward the Easter seal campaign.

In stressing the need for wide public support of the annual sale of seals, Mr. Gibson said, "Remember that the handicapped ask only what the rest of us take for granted — to be able to bear and see, to walk and talk, and to use their hands. We who enjoy these God-given privileges should certainly be more than willing to help those who don't."

Big Turnout Attends GOP Convention; Eight Women Named State Delegates

Enthusiastic endorsement of President Eisenhower's administration and confidence that the GOP will come up with the best possible solution to the farm problem keynoted the Wright county presidential convention of the Republican party that was held last Friday morning at the district courtroom at Clarion. Although not all precincts were represented, the courtroom was well filled for the convention, over which C. C. Christie of Belmond presided as chairman of the county central committee.

Mr. Christie was named chairman of the county delegation of 27 members that will attend the state presidential convention at Des Moines on April 6.

Eight Women Named

This year's list of delegates includes a considerably larger number of women than has been customary in the past, reflecting the increasingly important part that the county's Council of Republican Women has been taking in party activities. Nine women were named. One withdrew and was replaced by a man, still leaving eight.

Those from Belmond and general vicinity, in addition to Chairman Christie, who have places in the state delegation include Mr. and Mrs. Clark McNeil, Mrs. John Greenlander, Friend Bras, R. B. Thompson and Gerhard Thompson.

Other State Delegates

Others who will attend the state convention are: Ray Hagie, Ben Birdsall, Robert D Blue, M. B. Crabbe, Frank Champlin, A. W. Christopher, Ellen Samson, Albert Moellering, H. L. Larson, R. J. Bjornson, Earl Watts, Kathryn Ihm, A. M. Otteros, Lucille Patterson, F. M. Wooster, Eleanor Woodley, Grace Buchan, Marvin Kjellberg and Mary Louise Smith.

Resolutions of the convention were drafted by a committee headed by M B Crabbe of Eagle Grove, which included Paul Ramsay and Ray Hagie of Clarion, Rolland Trotter of Goldfield, Mrs. F. E. Newburn of Woolstock and Pat Gallagher of Belmond. The following resolutions were submitted to and approved by the convention.

Eisenhower Endorsed

"Be it resolved that we, the delegates to the Wright county Republican convention meeting in Clarion, Iowa, on March 16, 1956, wholeheartedly and enthusiastically endorse the administration of our President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and pledge our support to continue his administration.

"We commend our President for his world leadership and for restoring dignity and integrity to government.

"We assert our faith in the Eisenhower administration and our legislative representatives that they will promptly effect the best possible solution to the farm problem.

Hagie Finance Chairman

"The Republican Party in its renewed strength and vigor is offering as fine a slate of candidates from the local to the national level as has ever been offered to the voters. By electing Republicans to these offices, the citizens will assure themselves of continued good government."

Mrs. Ben Birdsall, who for the past two years has been the Republicans' county finance chairman, resigned from that post and Ray Hagie was appointed her successor.

Russell Schaal of Belmond served as temporary chairman of the convention, relinquishing the chair to Mr. Christie upon the latter's selection as permanent chairman. Leona Bras of Belmond served as convention secretary.

All CGD Money Stayed Put

For the first time in a good many weeks, no one came up with a prize-winning Cash Gift Day number Tuesday afternoon. No. 2,938 would have picked off $100 at 3:00 o'clock and the 2:00 p. m. numbers that would have brought their holders $25 each were 1,566, 2,381, 3,647 and 4,312. Hoping to get some corn in circulation to help out with last-minute Easter shopping the CGD committee is jacking up next Tuesday's 3:00 p. m. ante to two $100's. Again the draw at 2:00 o'clock will be for four $25's.

Guest Speakers Describe Zoning, Planning Benefits

Although Tuesday night's open meeting on city zoning and planning brought a rather small crowd to the high school auditorium to hear four guest speakers comment on the subject, the occasion was regarded as a success by Chamber of Commerce leaders who planned it.

On the speakers panel that was introduced by L. A. Collier were: Prof. J. R. Fitzsimmons, head of Iowa State college's architectural landscaping department; Angus Crawford, Iowa Falls city manager; Carl Hamilton, Iowa Falls newspaper publisher and member of the city planning board; and Bob Klove, a former member of the Iowa Falls planning board.

Safeguard General Good

It was emphasized by the speakers that the purpose of zoning is to safeguard property values, assure against infringement by a few individuals upon the best interests of the general public, and to promote the orderly growth and development of a community.

It was emphasized by the men from Iowa Falls that zoning of their city was achieved in almost complete absence of ill feeling and that such compromises as were required were amicably arrived at. Once a city is zoned, they pointed out, the value of a zoning and planning ordinance lies in the long-range planning that it inspires.

Council Kept Busy

They stressed that the mayor and council are kept so fully occupied by the demands of current business and that they simply have not time to study future needs of their community in adequate detail.

Members of the audience were given assurance that zoning does not require that established businesses be removed from restricted areas; and they were also told that the cost of setting up and maintaining a zoning and planning commission is modest.

The visitors from Iowa Falls were enthusiastic about the manner in which city planning has paid off there in the past five years. They observed that one of its major benefits consists in avoiding costly mistakes in future planning, while at the same time encouraging a program of steady improvement.

Expert to Give Talk on Silage

This evening at 8:00 o'clock a meeting on "How to Make Good Silage" will be held at Veterans' Memorial hall under sponsorship of Meints Produce. Jack Meints says a special speaker has been obtained and he believes that all farmers will find the meeting very worthwhile.

Reed Merrick of Des Moines, cattle feed specialist for Sargent and company, will review recent recommendations of college specialists in regard to making maximum use of silage. A film on harvesting grass silages will accompany his talk.

Coffee and lunch will be served at the close of the meeting.

Belmond Delegate To Hawkeye Girls State—Carol Pals

Carol Pals, daughter of Mr and Mrs Joe Pals, has been chosen by Eimbrink Post's unit of the American Legion Auxiliary to represent Belmond at Annual Hawkeye Girls State at Iowa State Teachers college in June. Joan Kriens, daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Kriens, was named as alternate. Both girls are BHS juniors.

During her three years as a student at Belmond High, Miss Pals has engaged in a wide variety of extra-curricular activities. She is a member of and has held offices in the Pep club, Future Homemakers of American and the Girls Athletic association.

Work on the staffs of the student newspaper, Hoofbeats, and the senior yearbook won her membership in Quill and Scroll, honorary interscholastic journalism society. She has also been active in music. She sings in both the girls glee club and mixed chorus and for two years was a member of the marching band.

Miss Kriens has been president of her class and its representative on the student council. She, too, has been a participant in journalistic activities and is a member of the Quill and Scroll; sings with the glee club and mixed chorus; has been drum major of the marching band and plays flute in the concert band.

Alexander's New PO, 2 New Firms Set for Openings

This weekend is a significant one in neighboring Alexander, with a fine new post office being put into use for the first time and two new firms joining the ranks of Alexander's business enterprises.

Replacing the elderly frame building that has for so many years been the home of the community's postal service is a handsome, modern building constructed by George and Hilda Blau.

Bernie Karstens, recent purchaser of the blacksmith shop of Elias Klinefelter upon the latter's retirement, is holding open house to introduce to the public the repair and welding shop he is opening in the former Klinefelter building.

Open house is also being held Saturday by H.B. Janssen to launch the leather and canvas repair shop that he is establishing in the former Peters restaurant building.

ERIK LARSEN DEPARTS

Henry Larsen went to Omaha last week to bid farewell to a nephew, Erik Larsen, who is now en route to Denmark after 18 months in the U. S. as an exchange student. Erik made the acquaintance of a number of Belmond people during a visit here last year. Henry also visited friends in Omaha who were originally from the same Danish town that he and Erick call "home."

Merle Bonte Will Head VFW; Mrs. Eccles, Auxiliary

VFW Auxiliary officers for the new year were elected at a meeting of that organization on Wednesday of last week with Edna Eccles being chosen to succeed Edna Green as president of the Belmond unit. She and the other new officers will be intalled at a meeting April 5, jointly with the new VFW officers.

To take office at that time, along with Mrs Eccles, will be: Wilma Korthas, senior vice president; Alva Davis, junior vice president; Edna Green, treasurer; Jackie Albers, chaplain.

Lorenna Skinner, conductress; Myrtle Trager, guard, and Eleanor Zeiger, who was elected to a three-year term as trustee.

Earlier, annual election of Pierce-Zeiger post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars had been conducted, with Merle Bonte being elected as successor to Earl Cronk as commander.

Other Veterans named to offices were Frank Retleff, senior vice commander; Ted Behrends, junior vice commander, Earl Cronk, judge advocate, Martial Holtzbauer, chaplain; Robert Reynolds, quartermaster; Cleo Wilson adjutant; Earl Cronk, officer of the day, Keith Chandler, sergeant-at-arms, and Dr R E Misner surgeon.

Elected as trustees were Gene Skinner, one-year term, Joe Dana, two-year term; Marvin Meinders, three-year term.

Installing officers for the April 5 joint installation will be Bob Churchouse for the VFW and Mrs. Arlo (Lucille) Stoltenberg for the Auxiliary. Lunch will be served following the ceremonies.

Local FFA Gets Four Top Ratings

Future Farmers of Belmond High school brought home four gold medal ratings from the sub-district FFA contest held Monday at Clarion and earned the right to send five entries on to the district competition which is to be held Saturday at Eldora.

Fifteen FFA chapters were represented at Clarion and a maximum of three entries in each division could be selected to compete in the district. Francis Kelly, the Belmond chapter's advisor, was highly pleased that all of the local entries were accorded the privilege of advancing to district competition.

Gold medal ratings were awarded to the Belmond parliamentary procedure team, Freshman Creed speaker, to the treasurer's book and reporter's scrapbook. And although the secretary's book received only a silver rating, it ranked third in the judging and will be sent on to Eldora.

Members of the parliamentary procedure team are John Studebaker, Larry Stadtlander, Terrill Baker, Wayne Pals and Donovan Goeman. Alternate members are Ronnie Vanness, Loren Payne and Paul Kalkwarf. All of the eight boys are sophomores.

Tommy Hill competed as Freshman Creed speaker. Charles Didio is his alternate. Vernon McLaughlin is the chapter treasurer, John Studebaker the reporter and Gary Ersland, secretary.

Mr. Kelly is hoping to see at least some of the local entries end up as gold medal winners at the state level. In the past five years, since the chapter became eligible to take part in FFA competition, Belmond has not once failed to earn one or more gold medals in the state contest.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

Mary Circle of the Methodist church will hold a bake sale at the P&G grocery this Saturday, with selling to start at 10:00 a. m.

Happy, Happy Day! No School Friday

Students enrolled in the Belmond Community School district will enjoy a day's vacation tomorrow (Friday) while their teachers are attending a convention of the North Central district of the Iowa Educational association. The meeting will be held at Mason City High school.

One of the headline speakers of the convention will be Ralph E. Lapp of Washington, D. C., head of Nuclear Science Service, who will speak on "Man and the Modern World."

Strannigan Speaker at Banquet Feting BHS Cagers

Coach Bill Strannigan, who in two season's time has elevated Iowa State college into something of a basketball power and who will be speaker at the Junior Chamber of Commerce basketball banquet next Wednesday evening, is one mentor who can demonstrate with complete authority the right and wrong ways to play the cage game. He was an All-American player himself while a member of the team at the University of Wyoming, where he was graduated in 1942.

His athletic skill during the years he was actively participating in sports was by no means limited to basketball, however. While a high school star at Rock Springs, Wyo., he was an all stater in football as well as basketball. In addition, he was state champion in the pole vault.

Although only 37 years old (his age is belied by hair turned prematurely white) he has already established a reputation as one of the nation's most capable cage coaches. His rejuvenation of the game at ISC is not his first experience in that line. At Colorado A & M, where he coached from 1949 until coming to Iowa in 1954, he took over a team that had had a record of only five wins against 26 losses the year before. Just four years later, his quintet won the championship of the Skyline conference.

Although a native of Scotland, Bill came to this country with his parents when he was only two years old and possesses no shade of a Scottish brogue. He is remembered in Wyoming as one of the finest high school athletes the state ever produced, and at Wyoming U. he acquired a reputation that was national in scope.

Immediately after his graduation from college he entered military service and was in uniform until 1945. He played with and coached a Navy basketball team during much of his service time. In 1946 he was hired as high school coach at Loveland, Colo., and his success there won him advancement to the college ranks three years later.

After an 11-10 season at Iowa State last year, he guided the Cyclones to their most successful season ever during the campaign lately ended. Ending up with an 18-5 mark, the Cyclones won national ranking for the first time in history. They were rated as high as 5th by International News Service, 6th by United Press and 8th by Associated Press during January. In the final INS poll, they still ranked among the top 20 teams in the nation, being No. 19.

• • •

BILL STRANNIGAN
Was All-American, Himself

Injuries to a couple of key players hampered the Cyclones in the closing stages of the Big Seven championship race and possibly kept them from gaining a share of the title. They still finished in a tie for second with an 8-4 record, just a game behind Kansas State's champs.

Strannigan has won praise as a speaker, as well as for his coaching skill, and Jaycee President Dwight Tyrrell says the Junior Chamber deems itself very fortunate in being able to obtain him as banquet speaker.

Rev. Ralph Meyer will be master of ceremonies for the program accompanying the banquet, which will be held at the school hot lunch room starting at 6:30 p. m. The Swiss steak dinner will be prepared by the Jaycees and their wives under the direction of Mattie Farmer.

Coach Dick Hobbs will present letters to members of the Bronco varsity and freshman-sophomore squads who earned them during the past season and all the personnel of both squads will be honored guests at the banquet.

The Jaycees plan to canvass the town with tickets Friday night.

MESERVEY NEWS

BY MRS. MOODY QUANDT

Mrs. Morris Will Again Head EUB Women's Society

Barbara Morris was re-elected as president of the Helping Hand society of the Meservey EUB church at a meeting held last Thursday afternoon at the church parlors. Rev. P. W Pfaltzgraff conducted the election.

Also elected to offices were: Audre Nissen, vice president; Sylvia Raecker, secretary; Maxine Morris, treasurer; Virginia Halfpap, assistant secretary.

The following will serve as committee chairmen: fellowship — Anna Faaborg and Grace Nissen; membership — Miriam Sprau; program — Jane Jurgenson; courtesy — Johanna Quandt and Esther Wendel.

The fellowship committee reported having completed a quilt for Mrs. Lester Gobeli and it was decided to quilt two more, with all members assisting. Mrs. Dale Lage led devotions. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Barbara Morris, Sylvia Raecker and Dorothy Dunton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nissen entertained at dinner Thursday in honor of the birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Richard Halfpap. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Nissen and boys and the Richard Halfpaps of Thornton were the guests.

Celebrate Birthdays Of Two Kuhlers Boys

Two birthdays were honored Wednesday evening at the Harry Kuhlers home. The Kuhlers' two sons, Dennis and Darwin, were celebrating their third and first birthdays respectively. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ostendorf and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Muhlenbruck of Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kuhlers and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oltman and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuhlers and son Milton of Thornton visited Tuesday afternoon at the home of their son to help the boys celebrate their birthdays.

The boys received many nice gifts and cards.

Tuesday evening visitors at the Harry Kuhlers home were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pals of Kanawha and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Peil of Belmond. They helped Darwin and Dennis Kuhlers celebrate their birthdays.

Henry Tragers Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trager, farmers living northeast of Meservey, celebrated their Silver Wedding anniversary this past week at the Veterans Memorial hall at Belmond with a dinner and openhouse. They have three children, Duane, Mrs. Larry Braga and Dennis, the latter at home.

WSWS Members Again Pick Sylvia Raecker, Leader

Sylvia Raecker was re-elected president of the Women's Society of World Service of the Meservey EUB church at a meeting of the group held Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Ralph James.

Other women re-named to offices they have held during the past year were: Clara James, vice president; Clara Guth, secretary; Voral Schluter, treasurer; and Nita Pfaltzgraff, pianist.

Committee chairmen who will continue in the same capacities are: Gladys Schluter, mission education; Irene Ostendorf, social relations; Mary Koehler, children's work; Youth Fellowship, Elizabeth Fischer; and Esther Wendel, spiritual life.

The lesson was given and devotions led by Frances Basener. Plans were made for the leaders' school of instruction to be held in Meservey on April 3

GRIMES CLOVER BELLES

Grimes Clover Belles 4-H club met in the home of Susanna Vierkant with Vice President Sharon Morris in charge. Roll call was answered by eight members. Lana Van Dusseldorf gave a talk on "Emergencies and First Aid" and Kathleen Diddy gave a demonstration on "Matting a Picture." During activity period the girls matted pictures for their rooms. Janice Meinders gave a picture study of "Stone City" by Grant Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stadtlander and grandsons, Mike and Stevie of Rockford visited at the Herman Stadtlander and Grandma Dirks home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Groen and girls visited Sunday afternoon at the Maynard Bertilson home at Clarion.

Sunday visitors at the Fred Weide home were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steenhard and children of Eldora and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wessels.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nolte of Ackley and Rev. Paul Pfaltzgraff were Sunday guests at the Rev. P. W. Pfaltzgraff home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Pals of Belmond visited Sunday at the John Weintjes and Mrs. Fannie Stadtlander home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stadtlander and children went to Rockford Saturday and were overnight guests at the parental Carl Stadtlander home, returning home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Steenhard and children of Rockwell were Sunday guests at the parental Carl Hopkey home and attended the morning services at the E. U. B. church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harm Meints of Sheffield were Sunday visitors at the Mrs. Joe Stadtlander home.

Virgil Schluter accompanied by Mrs. Otto Strasburg and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Groesbeck of Garner went to Iowa City Sunday to see Mr. Strasburg, who is in the hospital there, and Mrs. Schluter who is staying with him. Mrs. Strasburg stayed there Sunday for a few days as Mr. Strasburg was going to have surgery on Monday or Tuesday morning. They reported that he was very weak.

Daughter Born March 13 To Mr. and Mrs. C. Morris

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Morris are the parents of a baby girl born March 13 at the Belmond hospital. They have named her Lea Ann. K.

MRS. RAECKER WILL HEAD WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Robert Raecker was elected as president as the Meservey Woman's club chose officers for the next two years at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Elmer Dorenkamp. Mrs. John Brown is the retiring president.

Others elected to office were: Mrs. Vic Nordman, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Schmidt, secretary; Mrs. Richard Halfpap; Mrs. Elmer Dorenkamp, treasurer. These officers will not assume their duties until next fall.

The meeting program was featured by special music provided in the form of several duets, with Mrs. Dorenkamp at the organ and Mrs. Andrew Boelman at the piano.

Following the meeting, a dessert luncheon in the St. Patrick motif was served by the hostess. Mrs. Clarence Stadtlander was a guest.

Della Mae Avery To Head YF Group

Della Mae Avery was elected president of the Youth Fellowship of the Meservey EUB church at the group's regular monthly meeting held Friday evening at the church. Twenty-five members were present.

Also elected to offices were: Joyce Nordman, vice president; Karen Younker, secretary; and Kathleen James, treasurer. Larry Lauen is the retiring president.

Business at the meeting included a decision to purchase two road signs for the church and appropriation of $10 to be forwarded in support of the branch Self Denial project.

Lunch was served by Larry Lauen and Leola Lacey.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Zerbel and boys of Mason City were visitors at the Frank Nissen home Sunday. They went from here to Belmond to see Lyle's sister, Mrs. Carroll Morris, and baby at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Behrends and Allen were Sunday afternoon visitors at the parental Mrs. Tena Behrends home at Bristow.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braga and Bonnie of Wahkon, Minn., spent the past week in the parental Walter Braga home and visiting with other friends and relatives. The Bragas are former Meservey residents and owned and operated the local cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Willand, Pamela and Penny of Joice visited Wednesday evening in the parental William Morris home and also visited Mrs. Carroll Morris and infant daughter in the Belmond hospital.

FLASHER SIGNAL SHOULD BE PUT UP AT THAT M. & ST. L. CROSSING — NOW

When the M. & St. L. crossing on Highway 69 last Tuesday for the second time in less than three months was the scene of a fatal train-car collision, it prompted the recounting of a number of "near misses" in which local drivers have been involved. Even though aware of the danger this crossing presents, it seems that Belmond motorists periodically find themselves scrambling to avoid accidents there. It would seem the better part of wisdom that the city urge that the state highway commission erect a flasher warning signal before any more lives are lost.

The view of the tracks that a motorist can obtain when approaching the crossing from the north is much too limited for safety; and the amount of transfer hauling that is one on the M. & St. L. multiplies the hazards that the crossing creates.

Since autos have for some years been protected from the danger of accidents at the Great Western crossing on No. 69, where less risk prevails, there would appear to be no good reason why the M. & St. L. should not be willing to cooperate fully. One costly suit due to inadequate warning of cars negotiating the south crossing could make the expense of maintaining a flasher signal an obvious economy.

—o—

JUST TALKING AND THINKING ABOUT IT WON'T KEEP BELMOND GOING AHEAD

We heard a local contractor admit the other day that the number of people competing for builders' services during the current year does not figure to be nearly so great in Belmond as for several years preceding. Which signifies that we're beginning to catch up with ourselves in the matter of housing. Actually, the situation may have a bit more significance than that. After a post-war period of steady growth, perhaps we're "leveling off" in general.

Beyond much question, Belmond's population today is the largest ever. State sales tax figures indicate our merchants are presently doing a larger volume of business than ever before. And while building HAS slackened off, there are still more new homes in the planning stage and it's been pleasing to note a continuing trend towards improving and expanding Main street business structures.

All of this testifies to the fact that we're still a dynamic community — one that's steadily developing into a BETTER community. But the momentum provided by the war, by establishment of the General Mills feed mill here and other factors that have provided a welcome "shot in the arm" has about been used up. If we continue in the direction in which we've been headed — if we're to continue to develop civic-wise — it will soon have to be by design.

The current interest in zoning and planning testifies to the fact that there is an appreciable number of our citizens unwilling to see Belmond slip back into a static state. They feel, actually, that a town CANNOT remain static. It goes forward or backward; and they want to see Belmond continue forward.

It's a problem ALL Iowa towns face today. We've been interested to note that one of our neighbors — Forest City — has been tackling the problem in a typically aggressive manner. They have recently set up a zoning and planning commission, such as contemplated here. And to capitalize on the improved climate for new industry that has thus been created, the Forest City Chamber of Commerce is going "all out" by forming a $75,000 development corporation with a view to enticing new industry to their community.

Forest City is alert to the needs of the day and is doing something about it. There is ample evidence that we too recognize those needs. We've been talking about them and thinking about them. But talk and thought need to be translated into action; and at the present stage it behooves us to keep that continually in mind.

—o—

THAT A-B STATE TOURNAMENT SET-UP ROBS CAGE CLASSIC OF MUCH DRAMA

Looking back on the 1956 boys high school basketball tournament played last week at Des Moines, we suspect that many ardent followers of the sport will feel that the yeast was left out of this year's meet. It just didn't have the popular appeal of previous years. This was clearly evidenced by the relatively meager crowds that attended all but the final night's session.

There's nothing like the battle of an underdog to capture the fancy of the American sports fan, and the division of this year's tournament into A and B classifications robbed it of this aspect. The general attitude of the sporting public seemed to be "So what?" as the A's (actually AA's by previous years' standards) and B's battled it out separately.

Although the new set-up was created at least theoretically at the behest of the small schools, we've more than a half-way notion that not even they will be too pleased with the bargain. Excepting for the trophy that is concrete evidence of having won a Class B championship, we doubt that the satisfaction that accompanies the achievement can match that which a Class B giant-killer got out of lowering the boom on a Double-A aggregation in the "good old days." Even if the giant-killer didn't get much farther, the boys went home heroes all and received the adulation of not only their own followers but of all the non-partisan fans who took glee in seeing a big-school favorite rolled in the dust.

We hope that the Iowa State High School Athletic association will take a second look at the twin-tournament set-up with an eye to determining if it's REALLY what the majority of the contending teams want. As for us, we consider it a bust — and will always wonder just how those B champs would have stacked up with the A title-winners if they'd gotten a crack at 'em.

SPORTS

—PAT'S— SPORTS SHORTS

After our remarks last week about an apparent decline in the quality of local league bowling, the pin-busters really went on a spree. Only two season records toppled, but there were some amazingly good performances. Alice Busick racked up a new single-game high for the women's league with a 221 — seven pins better than Lorraine Seim's previous "best."

Alice's effort, good though it was, remains greatly overshadowed by an exhibition put on by Lois Hafermann a couple of Sundays ago. Rolling in the Bowl-Mor's mixed doubles tournament, the Rowat-Murray maple-wolloper keeled 'em over for a 253! ! That's an all-time all-timer for local women's bowling.

Other standout league scores last week included a game by Belmand Hardware that produced 1,005 ACTUAL pins — and a gross of 1,133. The net total surpassed the previous top mark of 996 and the gross was just a shade under an earlier 1,155 by the Mainstreeters' Thompson Office quintet. And the Thompson Office gang, themselves, crashed through will a gross series of 3,141 — which we believe trails only their own 3,195.

—PSS—

Note that Bill Shirer harvested 611 pins — including one game of 235—in leading the hybrid crew in it's fine performance. The entire team averaged 555 net pins per series, or 185 per game, in putting together that 3,141 total. . . . . Even so, Bill didn't have the week's high series. Oscar Jenison finally cracked the 600 barrier with a 617 to garner THAT glory.

—PSS—

All of these outbursts took place week before last. And last week the massacre of the maples continued. Jim Mariga was the bell wether this time, with a high game of 277! That's tops for this season by a comfortable margin — and we don't recall, off hand, of that total ever having been exceeded in local league play.

Two more keglers hit the 600 circle for the first time this season. Anson Avery did it in the Boardsplitters league with a 607 (246 high game) and Mel McMannus thumped 'em for a 636 in Mainstreeters' loop. He led off with a 171 but followed with 232-233!

There were two other 600's in the Main Street league, playing second fiddle to Mel's performance. Ed Albers had a 625 and Mariga finished with a 615, thanks to that 277. One other bowler — George Sharp — missed 600 by only an eyelash. After a 204-210 start he needed only a 186 to do the job — but got a 183.

—PSS—

Your scribe had the pleasure of a halftime conversation with ISC Coach Bill Strannigan at the state tournament Saturday night. There is as modest, friendly and "regular" a fellow as you'd ever want to meet. We asked him if he was on hand to take his pick of the tournament hot-shots for his Cyclone squad, and he answered with a rather wry smile which suggested he would certainly LIKE to have that privilege.

"The fellow who'll get first pick isn't here. He's got a game tonight," Bill replied — meaning, of course, that the Hawkeyes' "Bucky" O'Connor still enjoys the strongest pull where attracting the choicest Iowa cage talent is concerned.

Strannigan was not too impressed with most of the tournament stars as potential college timber. He said the best center he'd seen all year was a 6-7 boy playing for Ida Grove. St. Mary's (Iowa City) Dennis Walljasper and little Dave Maher, a junior and sophomore, respectively, rather caught his eye; and he thought Davenport's jump-shot expert, Lee Frandsen, could make the grade if he has the stamina. Frandsen's 6-1 but weighs only 135!

—PSS—

In addition to his unassuming friendliness, Strannigan struck us as being about the most neatly dressed and handsomest coach we have seen. He could pose for a collar ad and knock the ladies' eyes out. At the same time, there isn't an ounce of stuffiness in his make-up! He's quite a guy, and any local sports fan who misses the opportunity to hear him speak at the up-coming basketball banquet will be making a bad mistake.

Bowlers Compete In State Tourney

Seven Belmond bowling teams went to Mason City on Sunday to compete in the state men's tournament at Lee's Lanes. Quintets that had a try at the prize money were Tip Top, Woodward's, Belmond Hardware, Kinseth's Hot-Pointers, Thompsen's Clothiers and Thompson Hybrid Office.

In general, the local keglers didn't have very good luck. Louie Mennenga copped most of the glory, having the high game to date with a 252 effort.

The Tip Top five — Ed Albers, Jack Crosby, Jack Lobdell, Fred Gordon and Jim Mariga — went into second place in the open team division with a scratch 2,699. However, few open teams had bowled and this score might not even be good for a money spot by the end of the tourney.

Several of the Belmond pinmen competed in a tournament at Dick's Bowling Center prior to their appearance at Lee's Lanes and did better than they were able to in the state meet. Albers and Crosby had a fine 1,214 scratch in the open doubles and Gordon managed a respectable 578 in the singles.

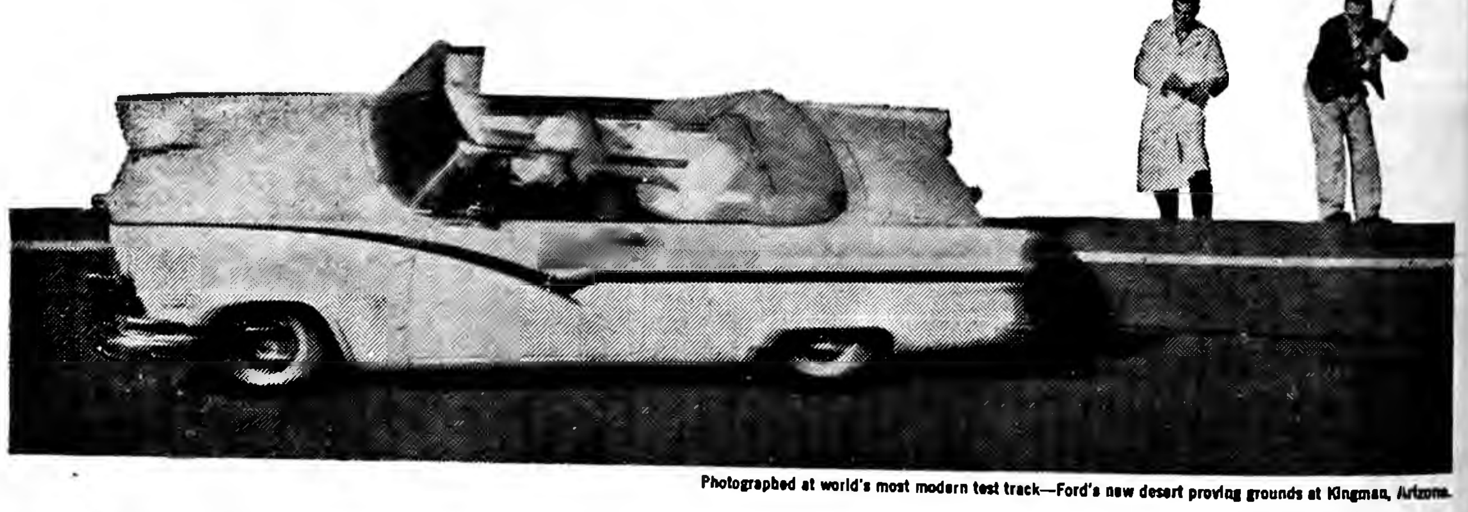
Discover what happened at the thrilling Kingman, Arizona performance run! Try this Ford yourself . . . for pick-up . . . for passing . . . for hill-leveling! You'll love what you experience!



Photographed at world's most modern test track—Ford's new desert proving grounds at Kingman, Arizona

It's the 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8 you can have now in Ford!

At 6 p.m. on Saturday, February 25, a '56 Ford set out to re-write the record book at the new Ford Proving Grounds, Kingman, Ariz. Just a little over one hour later, this 225-h.p. Ford had set 30 new world marks—ranging from short runs to 100-mile performance! To you this record-breaking performance promises the most exciting response ever delivered for so little money. Hills you've long known will disappear. Stop lights will be fast fading memories within instants after your foot nudges the throttle. And when it comes to passing, you'll pass in a wink with plenty of "whoosh" in reserve.

Thunderbird looks, too

But you get more than record-breaking performance when you drive a Ford V-8. You get the long, low look of the Ford Thunderbird. It's the kind of sleek, years-ahead styling for which Ford is famous.

Let Lifeguard Design Start Protecting You

And, of course, you get Ford's exclusive Lifeguard Design. Among all cars in the low-price field, only Ford gives you this extra protection. Doesn't your family deserve this extra safety in the event of an accident?

More real economy, real stand-up

So whether you judge a car on performance . . . or safety . . . or styling, it's easy to see that your best buy is a Ford V-8. And as an added benefit, you get the economical upkeep and built-in value that are part of the Ford tradition. So . . . come in today, won't you? Slide behind the wheel of this 225-h.p. Ford that set 30 world performance records! Take it out on the road . . . and let it whisk you from "whoa" to GO as you've never gone before! When you return you'll understand why Ford is the V-8 with the world's biggest following.

Margo Gowdy Will Give Song Recital

Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock the music department of Cottey college, Nevada, Mo., will present Margo Gowdy of Belmond and a classmate, Jana Woodrum, in a joint vocal-piano recital. The recital is to be held at the school's Rosemary auditorium. Miss Gowdy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gowdy, plan to be present.

Miss Gowdy will offer two groups of vocal numbers. The first will include: "Oh, Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" by Handel; "Bist Du Bei Mir," Bach; "Beau Coir," Debussy; and "Porgi Amor, Qualche Ristoro (Le Nozze de Figaro)," Mozart.

In the second group will be: Three Chinese Songs, Dukelsky; "I Love All Graceful Things," Thiman; and "Let All My Life Be Music," Spross.

A second-year student, Miss Gowdy will be graduated from Cottey college this spring and plans to continue her college studies at Cornell, Mount Vernon, next fall.

She was recently elevated to the rank of associate in Alpha chapter of Mu Sigma Epsilon, honorary music sorority at Cottey.

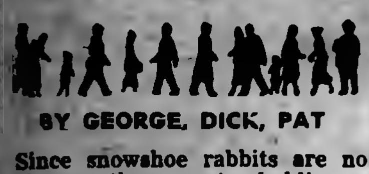
VOL. 36 NO. 25 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA— THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1956 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

MAIN STREET



BY GEORGE, DICK, PAT

Since snowshoe rabbits are not native to these parts, holding of Beta Sigma Phi sorority's annual Easter egg hunt will as usual depend on cooperation of the weatherman. If the Easter Bunny is able to make his way around, the hunt will be conducted Sunday morning starting at 7:45 o'clock.

All children through the age of eight are invited to participate and are instructed to gather on the city library lawn at the appointed hour.

Mrs. Gail Thayer, president of Beta Sigma Phi, says that close to 50 pounds of candy eggs will be hid around an undisclosed hunting grounds — plus something like 175 colored eggs of the henyard variety. There will be prizes for the finders of lucky eggs. Be on hand, kids. The hunt is always good fun.

Jean Bamford tells us that our plea last week for borrowers from the Veterans' Memorial hall loan closet to acknowledge possession of articles obtained from that source brought sparse response. Out of some 50 or 60 items on loan, only three were accounted for by phone calls.

It can be plainly seen that this wasn't very helpful in preparations being made to take inventory of loan closet articles.

Of course, the whereabouts of most of the items is known. But some are—frankly—lost. So if you have something borrowed from the loan closet, won't you phone Vets' Memorial hall (275). Mrs. Leroy Green (210), Mrs. Ted Behrends (7312) or Mrs. Bamford (6697) and "report in"? Please?

—M-S—

Belmond's physicians will all be wearing red carnations on their coat lapels tomorrow. It will NOT signify that they've felt a mutual urge to spruce up, with the advent of spring (they're a neat looking bunch, all the time).

Rather, the posies will be presented to them in recognition of "Doctors' Day," which is intended to become a day of annual recognition for doctors throughout the land.

Mrs. Arlo Pitcher tells us that the boutonnieres are being provided by the Wright County Women's Medical Auxiliary, the distaff side of the County Medical Society. The whole thing strikes us as a very fine idea.

—M-S—

Seems that last week we lost half a cow. Worse yet, it was the back half that was missing — which would leave a cow "lost as a ship without a rudder" . . . or something. It came about when the source that supplied us with names of the cast members for the junior high operetta proved a bit shy of adequate. So we herewith ask that it be known that Kenny Johnson animated the rear end of Jack's (the beanstalk fellow's) cow; and that four "Villagers" went unmentioned: Linda Hauge, Nancy Gallagher, Gary Porter and Larry Kramer.

—M-S—

Also overlooked were "Pirates" Curt Trager, Gordon Johnson, Charles Soma, Michael Hunst and David Steenblock—AND "Magic Beans" John Dannewitz, Robbie Courson, Paul Thompson; Jay Mennenga and George Wilson. Entre act entertainment by Gailen Vaness and Merrill Kalkwarf (cornet duo) and Clark McNeal (pianist) should be mentioned, too.

Having had the pleasure of witnessing the show, we can vouch that it was most capably done. . . . Bravissimos for all!

Donna Doeringsfeld's skillful direction and help of the junior high chorus no doubt played a major part in the operetta's success; but the very appropriate scenery designed by Thaeron Doolittle and the dances originated by Mildred [illegible] contributed, also. Stage [illegible] Bruce Leinbach and Jeff [illegible]. (Guess that does it.)

—M-S—

That Easter lily plant of Mary Smith's is still at it. After blooming in approved manner after she received it as a gift at Easter time last year, it cut loose with blossoms again in October. Now it has four more on it, recognizing the approach of another Easter. THAT plant was a GOOD buy!

—M-S—

A word of warning comes to the Mainstreeters from Madagascar that if you use DDT spray around the house when the bug season returns, take due precautions to protect your pet crocodile. That is, if you happen to HAVE a pet crocodile. Rev. and Mrs. Arvild Jacobson — who, as you know, are serving in Madagascar as missionaries — offer this useful word of advice.

It seems that the Jacobsons DO have a pet crocodile; AND that their home was recently subjected to a heavy infiltration of mosquitos. When they administered a generous dose of bug juice to the insect horde, their pet very nearly succumbed, too. The situation was pretty grim for a day or so.

There's no shortage of crocodiles in Madagascar and a replacement COULD have been obtained, had the Grim Reaper and DDT taken their toll. But the Jacobsons' two adopted children have become attached to their pet although it DOES have to be kept caged. Anyway, we hope our readers will take this lesson to heart and not jeopardize THEIR crocodiles.

Belmond '55 3rd Quarter Trade Again Over Million

Sales tax figures for the third quarter of 1955, released this week by the state tax commission, revealed that Belmond continued to show a gain in taxable retail sales other communities in Wright county and most of the other shopping centers in this general vicinity could not match.

Total taxable sales in Belmond for the quarter ending Sept. 30 of last year surpassed a million dollars for the third time in four quarters — after having first hit the million mark in the final quarter of 1954. Sales here came to $1,048,800, compared to $954,950 in the same quarter in 1954. This represented a gain of better than 9.8 per cent.

Clarion Increase Only 1.2%

Clarion's sales increased only $16,720 — from $1,423,400 to $1,440,120 — for a percentage gain of less than 1.2. Eagle Grove enjoyed a 4.5 per cent gain over the third quarter of '54, its retail trade total going up from $1,371,500 to $1,432,680.

Rural Wright county, which includes all retail sales outlets except those in the three, larger communities, slipped by 5.7 per cent and barely surpassed the total sales in Belmond alone. The rural business in the third quarter of 1955 came to only $1,059,360, compared to $1,123,100 the year before.

Garner Shows Loss

Belmond failed to outstrip Garner's third quarter retail sales last year by $24,200; but the Hancock county seat's total of $1,073,000 represented a drop of $62,600 — or 5.5 per cent — from the $1,135,600 business enjoyed in the corresponding quarter of 1954.

Forest City barely held its own, comparing the third quarters of 1954 and 1955. Its total retail trade of $1,292,760 constituted a gain of only 1.3 per cent over the year before. Whereas Forest City's trade volume was nearly $355,500 more than Belmond's in the third quarter of '54, it surpassed ours by less than $244,000 in the same quarter last year.

Hampton was the only trade center nearby that showed a business gain on a par with Belmond's. It's $2,576,400 volume in the third quarter of '55 represented an 11 per cent gain — or $289,100 — over 1954.

SWENSON, MEHL ON TOUR

Billy Swenson and Gene Mehl are members of the Waldorf Junior college choir, which will leave Forest City April 4 on a spring concert tour of western and midwestern states. The musical group will return to the campus on April 22. Both of the Belmond singers are first-year students at Waldorf.

League of Voters To Pick Officers

Annual business meeting of the Belmond League of Women Voters will be held Wednesday of next week at the Methodist church, during which election of officers will be held. Paula Robinson of Des Moines, executive director of the Iowa Mental Health association, will speak at 2:00 p. m. This portion of the program will be open to the public, and all persons having interest in the problem of mental health are cordially invited.

The luncheon at 1:00 p. m. and short business meeting following will be attended by members of the local League and women belonging to its rural unit. Three new officers and two directors are to be voted upon.

Retiring from office are: Mrs. Robert Dawson of Clarion, 2nd vice president; Mrs. James Burt of Rowan, secretary; Mrs. Robert Garms, treasurer; Mrs. Jay Knuths of Galt and Mrs. Alre Watts, Clarion, directors. Continuing in office for another year are: Mrs. G. J. Hruska, president; Mrs. Lee Mussell, 1st vice president; Mrs. Lloyd Drury of Clarion and Mrs. Harold Johnson, directors.

Members of the nominating committee are Mrs. Ora White of Galt, Mrs. Walt Hotvet and Mrs. Arlo Pitcher.

Other items of business in addition to election of officers will include consideration of some proposed changes in the by-laws of the local League, adoption of a budget for the new year and selection of a study item for the next 12-month period.

Wright Purchases Of Bonds Above Quota — As Usual

Purchases of series E and H savings bonds in Iowa during February exceeded 15 million dollars, an increase of 1¼ million dollars over February of 1955. Total sales for the first two months of the year were $37,264,000, or 22 per cent of the 1956 goal. National average for the period was 18.6 per cent of annual quota.

Wright county banks reported savings bonds sales for the two months of $359,884 for 23 per cent of quota.

Charles Kramer of Clarion, who serves as volunteer savings bonds chairman for the county, said that Iowa's record is exceptionally good because 84 counties equalled or exceeded the national average for quota attainment.

"That means that citizens of every community are investing in guaranteed United States savings bonds," the chairman said, "and that's much healthier for those communities and the nation than having the purchases concentrated in small areas."

January-February purchases by individuals, and per cent of quotas reached, are shown below for counties in this area: Franklin county, $216,334 for 21 per cent; Hancock, $292,335 for 28 per cent; Hamilton, $331,743 for 22 per cent; Kossuth, $359,690 for 21 per cent.

Ronald Ketchum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ketchum, has been named general chairman of the forestry open house to be held in conjunction with the 1956 Veishea.

CHOSED NOW IN KOREA

Word was received last week by Mrs. Albert Chosed that her husband, a U. S. Army Master Sergeant, had arrived safely in Korea. He is serving there with the Medical Company of the 34th Infantry Regiment.

Four Supervisors Seek Re-election

Four of the incumbent members of the county board of supervisors will be up for renomination this year, and with recent announcement by John Greenlander that he will be a candidate for another term all of the four had their hats in the ring. All will be unopposed as matters stand at present, as no other candidates have announced for the board.

Only George Trowbridge of Dows, representing District 4, will not be running for renomination in the June primary. He was re-elected in 1954, as was A. W. Christopher of District 3. Also in the last primary, Rolland Trotter defeated Carl Kelling as Republican nominee from District 2 and was voted into office in the November election; and Supervisor Hill was renominated then re-elected.

Besides Greenlander, Trotter and Christopher, Harland Hill from District 5 will also be seeking renomination.

Mr. Greenlander will be running for his third term as supervisor. He was first appointed to the board in 1950, following the death of Alex Smith. He was duely elected to the office in November of 1950 and then re-elected in 1952.

ZONING QUESTIONS? ASK 'EM!

In order that residents of Belmond may become as well informed as possible on the city zoning and planning proposal, the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce has asked The Independent to serve as a clearing house for questions on the matter.

Answers will be provided not by the newspaper, but by the C-of-C zoning and planning committee, based on state law governing zoning and planning ordinances and on the experience of small cities in Iowa that have such ordinances on their books.

Not only are questions welcomed, but criticisms are solicited, also. A number of criticisms have gained considerable circulation that are based on either misunderstanding or false information, and the Civic Bureau would like the opportunity to correct such misapprehensions as exist.

Just address letters of inquiry or criticism to: Zoning and Planning, % The Belmond Independent, City. The answers of the Chamber committee will be published in The Independent's columns. It is requested that ALL letters be signed. The senders will not be identified in the newspaper. Letters sent anonymously will not be given attention.

The Chamber's zoning and planning committee invites attention to the editorial on the subject that appears in this issue of The Independent.

The group's hopes for early action on the part of the city council in the way of establishment of a city zoning and planning ordinance. Meanwhile, the committee hopes to familiarize the public as well as possible with the purposes of the proposed action.

Pair of "Golds" To FFA Entries

Two Belmond entries seeking honors at the district FFA contest held last Saturday at Eldora earned Gold Medal ratings and the right to enter state competition at Waterloo on April 19-21. They were John Studebaker's reporter's scrapbook and Vernon McLaughlin's treasurer's book.

Advisor Francis Kelly was told by the men who judged the parliamentary procedure teams that Belmond's was doing an excellent job until the boys got involved in an error late in their presentation. They were unable to recover in time to save being graded down to a silver rating.

This development was a deep disappointment to the team members and to Mr. Kelly, but all members of the team were only sophomores and will be eligible to compete as a unit again next spring.

A silver medal rating was awarded to the secretary's book of Gary Ersland and Tommy Hill got a bronze rating on his presentation of the Freshman's Creed.

Girls' 4-H Plans Drafted for Year

Plans for 4-H girls' events for the coming summer were laid of recent date at Clarion at a meeting of 29 club leaders and county girls committeewomen at which all but two clubs were represented. The group met with Marie Bishop of Ames, assistant state 4-H girls' leader, and Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county home economist.

Mrs. Steele offers a reminder that any girl in the county — regardless of whether she lives in country or town — is eligible to enroll in 4-H club work if she had reached her 10th birthday by Jan. 1. No enrollments are accepted after May 15.

June 2 has been set for the annual, county Rally Day. It will be held at Clarion High school. The state 4-H girls' convention, to which each club may send a delegate, will be June 13-16. District camp will be at Clear Lake, June 5-8. Each club may send two girls to camp.

BARRY CLUB CHAIRMAN

Robert J. Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Barry of Belmond, was recently selected as co-chairman of a new Literary club being formed on the campus of Loras college, Dubuque. The club's main purpose will be to discuss all forms of literature. During the year it plans to have guest speakers at the meetings. Barry is a sophomore.

Close to Double Land Tax Credit Payable for '55

State funds in the amount of $68,160.32 were received at the Wright county treasurer's office last week in payment of 1955 agricultural land tax credit claims from Wright county. In spite of the fact that the appropriation of the last general assembly for this purpose was boosted to $10,500,000, compared to the five million appropriated for each of the preceding six years, the amount was not sufficient to settle claims in full.

Claims from Wright county totaled $73,407.14 and settlement was made on the basis of 92.85 cents on the dollar. Nevertheless, this was close to double the 48.59 basis of settlement that was possible on 1954 taxes payable last year. Claims for the previous year had come to $54,162.32 and only $26,321.30 was forthcoming from the state.

School reorganizations have lately thrown much more land into relatively high-levy districts, resulting in much larger claims for rural taxes in excess of 15 mills. By intent, the agricultural land tax credit appropriation should be sufficient to relieve farm properties of 10 acres or more from paying more than 15 mills in general school tax.

Allocations from the current land tax credit fund are based on 1954 levies and applicable on 1955 taxes that are payable this year. Originally, in 1946, just $500,000 was appropriated for agricultural land tax credit purposes when the law was first passed. The trend towards consolidation of school districts was largely responsible for the fund having to be increased to two million in 1947 and then to five million in 1949.

Four Men to Anamosa, 2 on Parole; All Plead Guilty on Morals Charges

Two young men from Belmond were in a group of four sentenced in district court at Clarion on Monday of this week to serve terms in the state reformatory at Anamosa. All were charged with committing lascivious acts with minors, stemming from misconduct involving three Belmond girls 17, 15 and 14 years of age. Two other men were given reformatory sentences but then received bench paroles and were released.

Gary Dippel, 20, of Belmond who served time at the Eldora state training school as a juvenile, faced a double charge and was given two terms of up to three years at Anamosa, the sentences to run concurrently. Carol McVey, 21, of Belmond drew a similar, single term. Judge H. C. Nichol of Ames heard theirs and the other cases.

Belmond Soldier Paroled

Terms of not more than three years in the reformatory were also handed down to Victor Dale Poncin, 27, of Garner and Raymond Dean Rushby, 21, Lemon, S. D. Also heard Monday on the same charge was Roger Wieman, 19, of Alexander. Like the others, he pleaded guilty but due to a previously clean record he was given a bench parole.

A parole was also granted Larry Nelson, 19, of Belmond, who was home on furlough from the Army and was heard by Judge Nichol last Saturday. He was released to return to his Army base. The terms from which Nelson and Wieman were paroled, on good behavior, were also of not more than three years.

Girls Found Delinquent

Since being hailed before Judge G. R. Hill in juvenile court last week, the three girls have been held at the Webster county detention home, Fort Dodge. They were found guilty of delinquency and will be returned to Clarion this Saturday for sentencing.

Eldest of the girls was free on parole following hearing two months ago in mayor's court at Clarion on a charge of drinking beer on a public highway. This charge, being under the motor vehicle code, did not call for hearing in juvenile court.

"Peeping Tom" Arrested

Deputy Sheriff Dale Walrod informed The Independent that incidents involved in the counts against the men extended back over a period of six months.

Another Belmond juvenile, a 16-year-old youth, was also heard before Judge Hill last Saturday. He was charged with window-peeping, an offense on which he had been arrested last summer, also. His latest arrest occurred in January. Judge Hill ordered him to the University hospital at Iowa City to undergo psychiatric treatment. Sentencing was delayed until after the period of treatment has been completed.

ON BUSINESS TRIP

L. P. Gilligan is in Des Moines this week on business.

BHS THIRD QUARTER HONOR ROLL TWO STRAIGHT-A STUDENTS HEAD

Only two students out of Belmond High school's total enrollment of 258 earned straight-A averages during the third quarter of the current school year. Topping the quarterly honor roll released last weekend by Principal Clair Hugh were Loretta Fuller, a senior, and Daryl Bohning, freshman. Close behind with A-minus averages were another senior and freshman, respectively, Corrine Davenport and Linda Bonte.

Seniors led the way in scholarship insofar as classes were concerned. 15 out of their class membership of 54 earning honor roll recognition with B averages or better, representing 28 per cent. About 21.5 per cent of the juniors, or 14 out of 64, made the honor list; 19.7 per cent of the sophomores, 15 out of 76; and 12.7 per per cent of the freshmen, eight out of 63.

In addition to Misses Fuller and Davenport, seniors recognized for scholarship were: Karen Bohning, Beverly DeMerritt, Marcia Henn, Connie Hill, Elna Jenison, Charles Johnson, Maryellen Johnson, Monica Jones, Mary Luick, Shirley Soma, Annette Swenson, Sharon Thompsen and Larry Wolters.

Juniors on the honor roll were: Karon Bohning, Roland Jenison, Marjorie Johnson, Janis Kalkwarf, Sondra Kamm, Joan Kriens, Mary Larson, Dave Long, Bill Murray, Paul Nassen, Shirley Pals, Leonard Steenblock, Mary Alice Studebaker and Sandra Swenson.

Sophomore scholars were: Eddie Anderson, Velma Beenken, Ronald Courson, Bill Halfwassen, Paul Kalkwarf, Marvin Katuin, Ruth McLaughlin, Douglas Nodland, Judy Oberhauser, DaDean Obrecht, Marlin Pals, Sara Simerson, Sandra Soma, John Studebaker and Sharon Swearinger.

In addition to the two A-students, the freshman list included: Donna Barkema, Karen Chapman, John Henn, Jr., Howard Mussell, Cynthia Saunders and Dennis Vanness.

The third quarter honor roll was rather unusual in that boys constituted 60 per cent of the sophomore scholarship list and 50 per cent of the freshman. Ordinarily girls predominate the lists by quite a margin.

Sewer Extension Job Let Monday

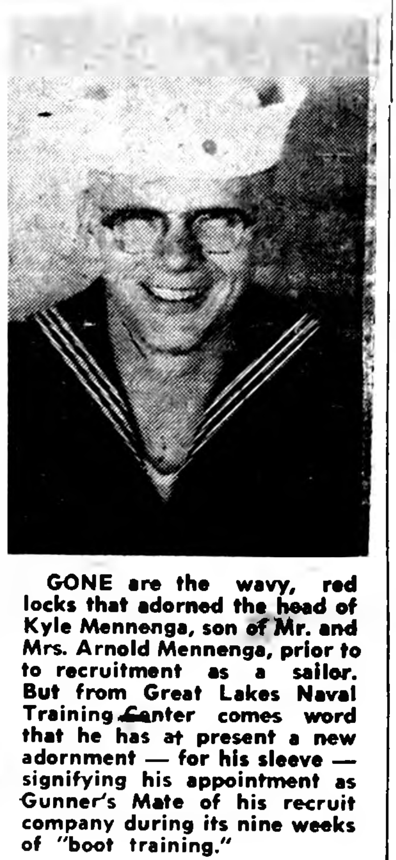
Contract for construction of the sanitary sewer extension to the east part of Belmond was let Monday night at a special session of the city council. Only one bid was received—from Gjellefald Associates, Inc., of Forest City—but it was $1,215 less than the low bid submitted when bids were received on Dec. 20 of last year and rejected.

The Forest City firm was a bidder at that time, too, but its figure was more than $8,000 higher than that submitted this week. All of the lines included in the earlier proposal were covered by the contract let Monday except for a lateral that was to cross under the Rock Island tracks at Fourth street NE.

It is regarded by the council that the new school property north of Third street can, when necessary, link up with the line to be laid in Kirkendall addition so abandonment of the lateral will make little difference.

It was also disclosed at the Monday meeting that Chief of Police Art Awe has submitted his resignation, as of May 1, and a search is presently on for a new policeman.

Mayor Henry Hokel says that Night Officer Gilford Paxton will be advanced to the chief's job and put on the day shift. Mr. Awe plans to move back to Mason City. This was the Awes' home before he joined the force here in 1953.



GONE are the wavy, red locks that adorned the head of Kyle Mennenga, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mennenga, prior to to recruitment as a sailor. But from Great Lakes Naval Training Center comes word that he has at present a new adornment — for his sleeve — signifying his appointment as Gunner's Mate of his recruit company during its nine weeks of "boot training."

39TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs Lloyd Green spent three days in Emmetsburg last week in the Ray Kinseth home, and while there celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary.

High State FHA Office to Belmond Girl

Mary Alice Studebaker, BHS junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., last Friday at the state FHA convention at Des Moines was elected vice president of the Iowa Association of Future Homemakers of America. She is the third candidate of the Belmond FHA chapter to be honored with a state position but none has held so high an office in the past.

Previously, Carole Thompsen and Carol Ann Leinbach has served as chairmen of state FHA committees.

Will Direct Work Program

Carol Pals and Karen Bohning were Belmond's delegates to the state convention, which extended from last Thursday noon to Saturday noon. Miss Studebaker accompanied them as candidate for state office and DeOn Nelson, BHS homemaking instructor, went with the girls as FHA advisor.

As vice president of the state organization, Miss Studebaker will be responsible for direction of the state FHA program of work next year. Projects adopted by the convention included: learning about civil defense and cooperating with local CD work; working on home and school beautification and clean-up programs; and promoting family and inter-family social affairs.

Outstanding in 4-H

Winning honors in homemaking work is nothing new for Miss Studebaker, though most of her previous recognition has come in 4-H activity. She has been one of Wright county's outstanding 4-H girls. Last summer she placed second in the county better-grooming contest, behind Beth Robie, the ultimate state winner.

Also, she shared with Marjorie Johnson and Janis Kalkwarf of the Belmond Busy Bees club in planning and supervising what was judged the best 4-H exhibit at the 1955 Iowa State Fair. She is secretary of the Wright county 4-H girls' organization.

As one of the top officers of the Iowa FHA association, she will be a state delegate to the national convention of Future Homemakers to be held at Chicago early in July.

Tomahawk Hybrid Promotions Given To 5 Individuals

R. B. Thompson, president of Tomahawk Hybrid Corn company, this week made announcement of several promotions within the firm that have been made since the first of the year. Latest of the advancements finds Don Bunnell assuming the post of General Sales Manager. He also will continue as divisional sales manager for the company's northern division.

Mr. Bunnell on Monday through yesterday of this week was attending a seminar of the American Management association in Chicago on "Training the Sales Supervisor" and in April will attend another three-day sales training course in Minneapolis.

Trafford's Job Expanded

L. T. Trafford's job assignment has been expanded to entail the entire field of public relations and advertising. He previously held the title of Public Relations Director and to that has been added that of Advertising Manager.

Oscar Lunstrum, who has been engineer at Tomahawk's Belmond production plant, as of April 1 becomes manager of the Tomahawk Seed company's production plant at Lexington, Ill. Mr. Lunstrum has also been inventory control manager of all Tomahawk's plants and quality control manager of the Belmond plant. Mrs. Lunstrum and their two children will join her husband at Lexington in the near future.

Griffen, Office Manager

W. H. Trafford, who has been serving as treasurer of both Tomahawk Hybrid Corn company and Thompson Hybrid Corn Co., Inc., has added to his duties those of Credit Manager.

Gene Griffen, who has been a member of the Tomahawk bookkeeping force since the consolidation of Tomahawk with Carlson Hybrids of Audubon, has been made Office Manager of Tomahawk Hybrid Corn company.

Mr. Thompson, in making public the job changes, emphasized, "All of the new assignments are deserved promotions for the individuals involved."

Supervisors Set Up Road Program

First year's program under the proposed 10-year plan of secondary road construction in Wright county was approved by the board of supervisors at Clarion last Thursday. It calls for 7.5 miles of Portland cement concrete pavement and 3.5 miles of grading at an estimated cost of $279,500.

This work is much the same as suggested when the 10-year plan was drafted in January. It includes 4.25 miles of paving on County K south of Clarion, 2.25 miles from just west of Eagle Grove to the Humboldt county line and grading of 3.5 miles on County K north of Clarion.

However, in deference to complaints received from residents of the Holmes vicinity, a mile of road from Highway 3 through that community will also be paved. This was to be part of a larger project scheduled for a later date and necessitated striking 2.25 miles of grading in Vernon township from the year's program.

According to County Engineer P. T. Struck, it is expected that approximately $140,000 will be available from state and federal farm-to-market funds toward the total expense of the year's work. This will require that $139,000 from the county construction fund be applied on expense of the surfacing program.

COURSONS MEET NOTABLE

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Courson of Belmond were guests at a dinner party at the Cedar Rapids Country club last Saturday honoring President Charles Dow of The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U.S. Mr. Dow, formerly of Marion, Ia., and a graduate of Iowa State college, was only recently elevated to the presidency of the third largest life insurance company in America.

ATTENDS GAS MEETING

Cecil Carstens, Belmond manager for the Iowa Electric Light and Power company, spent from Sunday through Wednesday of last week at Omaha attending a meeting of the Northern Natural Gas company, natural gas supplier for the IEL&P.

No Green Showed

Although spring came officially a week earlier, hardly a sign of green was visible Tuesday afternoon — and NONE of the "long green" that is offered weekly on Cash Gift Day. But the robins forecast a spreading of the green is imminent, so the CGD committee is entering into the spirit of the thing and adding 50 greenbacks to the kitty for next week. That will make six $25's trying to burst into circulation at 2:00 p. m. next Tuesday and two $100's at 3:00 o'clock. What missed this week? No's. 2,496 and 3,540 at 3:00 p. m.; 1,168, 1,703, 2,831 and 3,927 at 2:00 o'clock.

County Hog Raisers Predict Market Won't Drop So Far During This Year

Hog raisers and their friends who attended last year's annual dinner of the Wright County Swine Producers association were almost unanimously over-optimistic in prophesying the low market price for hogs that would be attained between April 1, 1955, and Feb. 1, 1956. In fact, only two of more than 300 producers and "experts" who entered guesses put down a figure below the $11.75 bottom that the market actually attained on Dec. 7 and on Dec. 12.

As guesses were registered for the coming year at the 1956 dinner, held Tuesday night of last week at Eagle Grove, the prophets dropped their sights considerably. The predictions ranged from a high of $18.20 to a low of $5.99 and averaged $13.86. This at least indicated a belief that last year's drop about reached "rock bottom."

1955 Guessing Winners

Winners of last year's contest were: Harlan Lewis of Goldfield first, with a guess of $14.75; 2nd, Kenneth Holmes of Goldfield, $16.25; 3rd, Lizmore Maland of Kanawha; 4th, Richard Tesdahl, Clarion. Prizes were awarded to all four men.

Extension Director Aaron Bowman, secretary of the county swine producers group, announces that approximately one-third of the county's entire crop of hogs was raised by 233 farmers who reported on their hog marketings at the dinner. They marketed 52,460 head, compared to the 1954 hog census of 149,000 hogs raised in Wright county. Those reporting averaged 225 head apiece.

This year's banquet was attended by 388 men. They heard remarks on the hog outlook from Wilbur Plager of Des Moines, secretary of the Iowa Swine Producers association, and Bernard Ebbing of Waterloo, former Eagle Grove resident who is now engaged in public relations for Rath Packing company.

Both men emphasized that swine raisers must abide by the public demand for leaner, meatier hogs to recapture their former share of the market. It was also recommended that farrowings be distributed more evenly over the year to avoid the customary winter glut; and that a more active effort must be made to "sell" the public on pork.

Richard Eckhoff of Belmond was again elected to the swine association's board of directors from the northeast quarter of the county, and Maurice White of Galt was chosen to succeed Wendell Swanson of the same community as director from the southeast district.
